HCHS FCCLA Officers Attend DISCOVERY Training and Celebrate Officer Installation

Houston County High School's Family, Career and Community Leaders of America (FCCLA) Chapter Officers attended DISCOVER Training at Camp John Hope in Fort Valley, Georgia. DISCOVER Training stands for Developing Individual School Chapter Officers with Vision, Energy, and Responsibility. This training allows FCCLA chapter officers to explore their roles as officers and collaborate as a team to develop strategies for executing unique and successful projects to promote membership, engage and recognize chapter members, strengthen the community through service projects, and excel in competitive events.

At this event, HCHS FCCLA officers had the opportunity to interact and network with other officers from FCCLA chapters across Georgia. Officers strengthened their leadership skills by attending this event and benefited by having chapter planning time to discuss the FCCLA Program of Work and collaborate on developing plans to engage with student members and the local community this year.

Playing a key role in the success and planning for DISCOVER Training was Madison Jones, Georgia FCCLA Region 7 Officer, who led an outstanding leadership development workshop. Madison's "Passport to Success: Navigating FCCLA Conferences" workshop was an engaging presentation that prepared officers to confidently guide fellow chapter members through FCCLA conferences. Participants explored the importance of teamwork and leadership while learning their roles as attendees, proper conference etiquette, and how to support members with event and competition guidance. The workshop encouraged students to not simply attend conferences this year, but to make the most of every opportunity and come away a stronger, more confident leader.

The chapter officers in attendance at the FCCLA DISCOVER Training event were inspired with ideas and empowered to lead within their roles as officers. Following this event, the 2026–2027 HCHS FCCLA Officer Team was officially installed through FCCLA's traditional Officer Installation Ceremony at the chapter's monthly meeting. Each officer accepted the responsibilities of their position and their commitment to lead, serve, and guide fellow members throughout the year. The lighting of each candle symbolized the unique role every officer plays while reminding the team that their greatest impact comes when they work together to strengthen their chapter, school, and community.

The 2026–2027 Houston County High School FCCLA Chapter Officer Team is led by Raelee Brown, President, along with Ryhem Hacena, Vice President; Drisana Biswas, Vice President of Membership; Ellie Jane Cunningham, Vice President of Community Service; Nishi Prajapati, Vice President of Competitive Events; Izzie Stuckey, Vice President of Public Relations; Hyunseo Kim, Secretary; and Myah Aguilar, Vice President of Outreach and Events. The chapter is also represented by Madison Jones, Georgia FCCLA Region 7 Officer, and advised by Dr. Brittany Tolleson and Sheryl Parks.

PHS FCCLA - Small Bookmarks, BIG Impact

The Perry High School FCCLA Chapter recently spread a little creativity and kindness through a special community service project designed to encourage a love of reading.

FCCLA members put their creativity to work by designing and making homemade bookmarks to donate to students at a local elementary school. Each bookmark was thoughtfully created by students and made with the hope of bringing a little extra joy to a young reader.

The bookmarks were shared with the school's students, giving each child the opportunity to choose a special bookmark to use with their favorite books. What may seem like a small gift can make a meaningful difference by encouraging children to read and reminding them that their community cares about them.

This project allowed Perry High FCCLA members to demonstrate the FCCLA values of service, creativity, leadership, and giving back to their community. Through simple acts of kindness, members were able to make a positive impact on younger students and promote the joy of reading.

Perry High FCCLA is proud to support their community and grateful for the opportunity to make a difference. Small bookmarks, BIG impact!

Perry High FCCLA officers recently attended Georgia FCCLA's DISCOVER Training at Camp John Hope in Fort Valley. The event provided FCCLA members with valuable leadership development, chapter training, and opportunities to connect with FCCLA members and leaders from across the state.

A special highlight of the day was an official officer pinning ceremony, where Perry High FCCLA President Emmagrace Goodman was pinned alongside Georgia FCCLA State and National President. This meaningful ceremony recognized her commitment to leadership and service within FCCLA.

All Perry High FCCLA chapter officers were in attendance and actively participated in the day's leadership training and activities. The experience helped prepare the officers for a successful year of leading, serving, and strengthening the Perry High FCCLA chapter.

Perry High FCCLA Creates a Kindness Wall

Perry High FCCLA is spreading kindness and positivity throughout Perry High School with the creation of a Kindness Wall located in the Vocational Building. The project was designed to inspire, encourage, and motivate students through simple messages of kindness and positivity.

Chloe Oglesby, Perry High FCCLA Vice President of Community Service, spearheaded the project, helping bring the vision of a wall dedicated to kindness and encouragement to life. FCCLA members created individual bulletin board tiles featuring kind, positive, and motivational quotes. Each tile serves as a reminder that words have the power to encourage others and make a difference in someone's day.

Perry High FCCLA officers brought the project together by carefully arranging and adding all of the tiles to the wall, creating a colorful and meaningful display for students to enjoy. The completed Kindness Wall serves as a daily reminder to choose kindness, encourage others, and spread positivity throughout the Perry High School community.

Through this project, Perry High FCCLA hopes to inspire students to not only read the messages on the wall, but to carry that kindness with them and share it with others.

PHS Touchdown into FCCLA Social

Perry High FCCLA members kicked off the year with a fun-filled “Touchdown into FCCLA” Social. Members brought their favorite tailgate foods to share and enjoyed an evening of fellowship, food, and sports-themed leadership activities.

Members competed in exciting team challenges, including sports trivia where they raced to grab the football and be the first to answer each question. Teams earned points throughout the evening, with the team earning the most points receiving a special cookie coupon.

The evening also included a service project supporting literacy in the community. Members created bookmarks to be shared with local elementary schools, encouraging young students to enjoy reading.

The Touchdown into FCCLA Social was a fun and meaningful night filled with friendship, teamwork, leadership, and service - a great way to bring Perry High FCCLA members together.

Veterans High School

VHS FCCLA Builds Leadership, Service and Community Connections

Veterans High School FCCLA had an impactful September filled with leadership development, community engagement, service, and opportunities for members to grow throughout the 2026–2027 school year.

The month began with the FCCLA officer team attending Discover Training on September 10th. The training provided officers with valuable opportunities to strengthen their leadership and teamwork skills while preparing to serve their chapter effectively. Officers participated in leadership workshops led by Georgia FCCLA state and region officers, and National FCCLA President Graham Mull, exploring topics such as communication, teamwork, and leadership. These workshops provided officers with new ideas and knowledge they can apply throughout the year to increase member engagement and promote FCCLA within the community. The experience also strengthened the connection among the chapter officer team and prepared officers for the year ahead.

On September 22nd, FCCLA held its first chapter meeting of the school year and welcomed Mayor LaRhonda Patrick of Warner Robins as a special guest speaker. Mayor Patrick's visit connected with FCCLA's Stand Up national program, which encourages members to assess, educate, and advocate for issues affecting their communities. Her presentation gave members the opportunity to learn more about community leadership and the importance of being informed and engaged citizens. Mayor Patrick emphasized the importance of student leadership, reminding members, "You all are the future and you all matter right now. You don't just matter when you are adults. You matter today."

Maggie Thomson, Chapter Vice President of Programs, reflected on the experience, saying, "Mayor Patrick really inspired me to be a stronger leader and to advocate for myself and my community. It made me realize that even as a student, my voice matters."

Following the presentation, members continued their chapter meeting where they discussed upcoming FCCLA events and ways to become involved throughout the year. The chapter also recognized Kayla Gaines as its September Member of the Month for her active involvement in the chapter. Kayla contributed canned goods to the chapter's August Pack the Pantry service initiative, signed up to attend the upcoming region meeting, and represented Veterans High School FCCLA at the National Leadership Conference this summer.

On September 29th, FCCLA held its STAR Event information session, giving members the opportunity to learn more about the various competitive events available through FCCLA and select an event that aligned with their interests and goals. The session had a strong turnout, with many members signing up to participate in STAR Events.

Service remained another important focus throughout September. As part of Georgia FCCLA's monthly service initiatives, the chapter participated in A Formula for Change, collecting baby formula, baby supplies, and household essentials to support families in the community. This initiative allowed members to put FCCLA's commitment to service into action while making a meaningful difference for others.

Through leadership development, community engagement, competitive event preparation, and service, Veterans High School FCCLA continues to create opportunities for members to lead, serve, and make a difference throughout the 2026–2027 school year.

Veterans High School is located at 340 Piney Grove Road in Kathleen, Georgia. Chad Simmons serves as Principal.

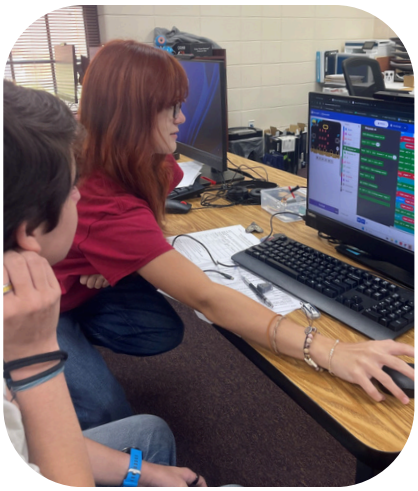
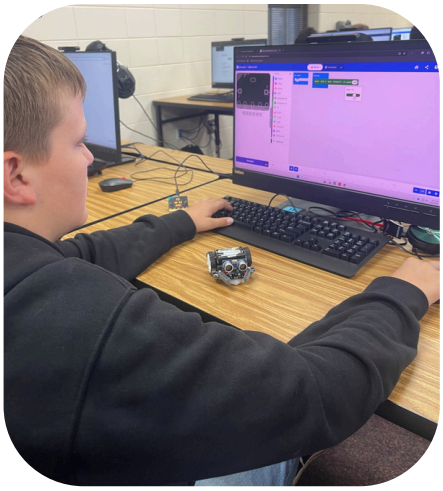
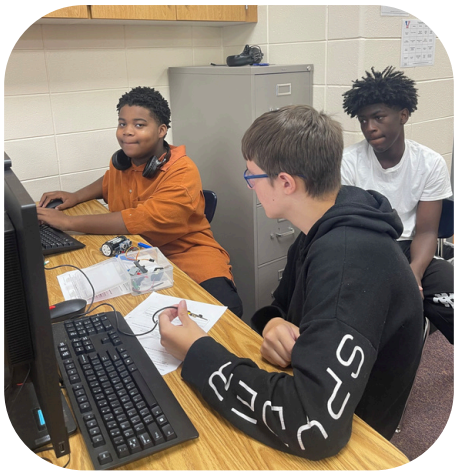
VHS Computer Science Students Put Coding Into Action

VHS Introduction to Software Technology students have been putting their coding skills into action through the Georgia Tech Computer Science Rural Initiative. Students participated in virtual sessions focused on Intro to Robotics, learning how programming can be used to control robots and solve real-world challenges.

The students are taking what they learned and putting it to the test by programming their own “Waymo-style” autonomous robot car. It’s been a great hands-on opportunity to connect coding, robotics, and technology of the future.







Northside High School

From NHS to HCHS - Sharing the FCCLA Experience

Leadership is even more meaningful when you have the opportunity to inspire others. On August 27th, Stuti Patel, Georgia FCCLA Vice President of Public Relations from Northside High School, joined Houston County High School FCCLA as they opened their 2026–2027 chapter year.

Stuti brought greetings from Georgia FCCLA and gave members a glimpse into her own journey within the organization. She spoke about the experiences that have shaped her, the opportunities that have come from getting involved, and the importance of making the most of every FCCLA experience.

More than simply attending a meeting, Stuti was able to connect with fellow members and offer encouragement as they prepared for the year ahead. Her visit served as a reminder that FCCLA extends far beyond an individual school chapter. It creates a network of student leaders who support, encourage, and learn from one another across Georgia.

Northside High School is located at 926 Green Street in Warner Robins, Georgia. Dr. Dustin Dykes serves as Principal.

NHS and HCHS Region 7 Officers Connect with PMS FCCLA

On September 1st, Georgia FCCLA Region 7 Officers Kyndall Horne of Northside High School and Madison Jones of Houston County High School had the opportunity to visit Perry Middle School and help facilitate the chapter's FCCLA meeting.

During the visit, Kyndall and Madison connected with new members, shared information about FCCLA, and encouraged students to become active and involved in the organization. Members also participated in fun team-building games designed to strengthen communication, build connections, and create excitement for the year ahead.

The visit provided Perry Middle School members with an opportunity to learn more about FCCLA while making new connections and memories with their Region 7 officers.

Discovering Leadership: NHS FCCLA Officers Grow and Lead

On September 10th, Northside High School FCCLA officers traveled to Camp John Hope in Fort Valley, Georgia, to participate in Georgia FCCLA's DISCOVER Training.

DISCOVER Training is a leadership development experience designed to help FCCLA chapter officers strengthen their leadership skills, understand their responsibilities, build stronger officer teams, and develop ideas they can take back to their local chapters. Through interactive sessions and activities, students gain tools to help them become more confident and effective leaders throughout the school year.

For Northside's officers, the day provided an opportunity to bond as a team, exchange ideas, and begin developing plans for their chapter. They returned with new perspectives and strategies to help make the 2026–2027 FCCLA year successful.

Northside High School's Kyndall Horne, Georgia FCCLA Region 7 Officer, also stepped into a leadership role during the training. Kyndall joined fellow Region 7 Officer Madison Jones of Houston County High School to present sessions to FCCLA members attending the Camp John Hope training. Their interactive presentations kept students engaged while providing valuable information they could take back to their own chapters.

Stuti Patel of Northside High School, Georgia FCCLA Vice President of Public Relations, also served as a presenter at Camp John Hope on September 10th. Her leadership continued the following day when she traveled to Covington, Georgia, on September 11th to present at another DISCOVER Training location.

Across both training locations, the student leaders created sessions that were engaging, informative, and interactive. Participants were not only involved throughout the presentations but left wanting to learn even more from their presenters.

For Northside High School FCCLA, DISCOVER Training was more than a day of learning. It was an opportunity for chapter officers to grow together as a team while watching two of their own lead and inspire FCCLA members from across Georgia.

NHS FCCLA Kicks Off the Year with a Luau

On September 17th, Northside High School FCCLA held its first official chapter meeting of the school year with a fun-filled luau theme centered around one of FCCLA's most important values; family.

During the meeting, members learned more about FCCLA and the many opportunities available to them throughout the year. Students were able to sign up for upcoming field trips and community service opportunities while learning how they can become actively involved in the chapter.

Of course, no luau is complete without a little fun. Members enjoyed games, snow cones, and time connecting with one another. The meeting was a great way to welcome new and returning members while beginning to build the sense of family and belonging that makes FCCLA special.

Northside High FCCLA is excited for a year filled with leadership, service, opportunities, and lasting memories.

NHS FCCLA Hosts Inaugural Career Speed Dating Event

Northside High School FCCLA recently hosted its inaugural Career Speed Dating event, giving students an opportunity to connect with professionals from a variety of career fields and explore the many pathways available after high school.

Throughout the event, students rotated between career professionals, where they were able to ask questions, hear personal career journeys, learn about education and training requirements, and receive advice about preparing for their futures. Professionals represented a wide range of industries and career pathways, allowing students to see that success can be achieved through four-year colleges, technical and trade schools, certifications, military service, entrepreneurship, on-the-job training, and more.

The event was a tremendous success, with students continuing to talk about their experiences days later. Career Professional Profiles were also created to spotlight participating professionals and give students an additional opportunity to learn from their experiences.

Northside High FCCLA hopes to make Career Speed Dating an annual event and expand it in the future to provide even more Northside High School students with the opportunity to participate.

Northside High FCCLA is doing big things as it continues to connect students with their community, careers, and future opportunities.
