Staff Spotlight: Mrs. Jarret Barnes, Computer Science Teacher

Mrs. Barnes began her teaching career in 1988 and taught for 16 years before taking a break to raise children. She returned to the classroom in 2018.

She credits her passion for education to her 4th grade teacher, Mrs. Fourth saying, “Her ability to truly connect with me and my classmates left a lasting impression. From that moment on, I knew I wanted to become a teacher and my goal has always been to create a classroom where students feel seen, supported, and inspired—just as I did in hers.”

She reports that her favorite part of her career choice is seeing a child “get it” or “catch on.” Those moments are just as priceless as the personal connections with the students.

Additionally, she reported that her “creative, hardworking, and imaginative” coworkers keep her growing, learning, and feeling young at heart.

As a Computer Science teacher, she expressed that coding is a particularly interesting part of her course. Coding challenges students to think critically and creatively at the same time. She explained, “I enjoy seeing students encounter a challenge that pushes them to dig deeper and problem-solve in new ways.”

As the world becomes increasingly dependent on technology, her goal is to continue expanding her knowledge in that field. “Technology plays a vital role in my students’ daily lives, and I want to ensure they build a strong foundation that empowers them to thrive in an ever-evolving digital world,” she expressed.

A fun fact that might surprise people is that she absolutely love watermelons! She’s from Cordele, Georgia—known as the watermelon capital of the world. She added, “In my younger years, I spent my summers traveling across the country promoting watermelons, visiting about 40 states! I like to joke that I bleed red and green.”

Some November Funnies:

- A1: Google, google.
- A2: with your incider voice.
- A3: with autumn-mobiles.
- A4: Lucky!

PRINCIPAL’S CORNER

Dear Family and Staff,

Thank you faculty and students for another great month of teaching and learning. Thank you parents and guardians for your continued support.

I would like to give a special PAW Shout Out to the students who received awards at our recent Honor’s Day. Keep up the good work! We are so proud you!
