

Sarah Rebmann Description

Recognized Teacher

How long have you been in education?

“5 years”

What is your current teaching position?

“Chemistry, OnRamps Chemistry, and Dual Credit Chemistry I & II
Instructor at Tom Moore High School”

Why are you an Educator?

“I am an educator because I want to be used by the Lord in the lives of my students. I desire for each student to leave my classroom having grown as an individual, feeling and knowing that they are loved, and to have moments that brought a smile to their face--hopefully through learning something cool, but it may also be from making fun of my corny jokes.”

Why is Ingram ISD a great place to work?

“The students are some of the best, and the staff is some of the most knowledgeable and caring people you will ever meet. I am humbled to be surrounded by the amazing people at this school.”

A Quote About him:

“Ms. Rebmann has a heart of gold. Her genuine care for her students shines through in every lesson, making science not just a subject, but an experience filled with warmth and encouragement.”

Brandie Guzman, Assistant Principal
