Virginia Denies Tuition Aid to Christian Student Pursuing Religious Major

A Liberty University student is taking legal action after Virginia revoked state tuition aid due to her religious major. On Tuesday, August 11, 2026 prominent legal groups petitioned the U.S. Supreme Court for equal treatment after Liberty University student Bethany Hall's Virginia state-funded scholarship was revoked because of her religious course of studies.

'I Was a Witch': Ex-Ghost Hunter Encountered Demons, Chaos Before 'Torment Stopped'

A former ghost hunter says her search for spirits ultimately led her to abandon the occult and cling to the Holy Spirit. Like many who find themselves enthralled by ghosts, ghouls, and the macabre, Kristina Costanza's interest in these subjects began fairly innocently and quickly grew into something diabolical.

A prisoner sues Indiana

The male inmate is living as a female and wants the state to foot the bill for a sex change operation. But Indiana has a law against that and now the man is going to court in hopes of overturning it. He is arguing that to deny him a taxpayer funded sex-change operation would violate the constitutional injunction against cruel and unusual punishment. A number of states are passing laws designed to eliminate such surgeries from the list of approved medical care for prisoners.

Colton Burpo describes meeting Jesus and hearing angels sing during near-death experience

"I had a ruptured appendix for five days before doctors caught it, and when I was in that emergency surgery, I lifted out of my body and I looked down and I could see the doctors — they were working on me," Colton Burpo, the central figure behind "Heaven Is for Real," told the "Hang Out with Sean Hannity" podcast.

Another look at religious persecution around the globe

Many are killed, beaten or jailed for their faith. But how many are forced into exile? The Pew Research Center has been adding up the number of people who have been driven from their homes because of their religious beliefs. In 2023, 58 countries saw some amount of displacement caused by persecution. It was the worst in the Middle East and North Africa where 60% of countries saw displacements. 44% in the Asia-Pacific region.

Highlights from Letters to Power 88

Thank you for playing Christian music. I try to listen to it at home and on my way to and from work. When my husband is shipped out, I play it at night.

When I wake up, the words of scripture in the songs keep my fears down and I sleep better knowing God is always with me and comforting me through this music. Praying Gods blessings over your radio station! To God be the Glory.

We are debtors, to proclaim the Gospel by the electronic media, as trustees of our stations. God has given us influence beyond anything our natural abilities or personal goals would suggest.
