Foreword

High school days are important days in our lives. Their joys and sorrows, their work and play are the factors that mold our lives into better and more useful manhood and womanhood.

"Learning is a tool for living."

Within these high school walls we have had the opportunity to receive as much of this tool as we were willing to take. Amid pleasant surroundings we spend our years in high school that we may prepare to go out into the world to continue our education and to lead useful happy lives. We have been encouraged and guided by an able, understanding faculty in our physical, social and mental development.

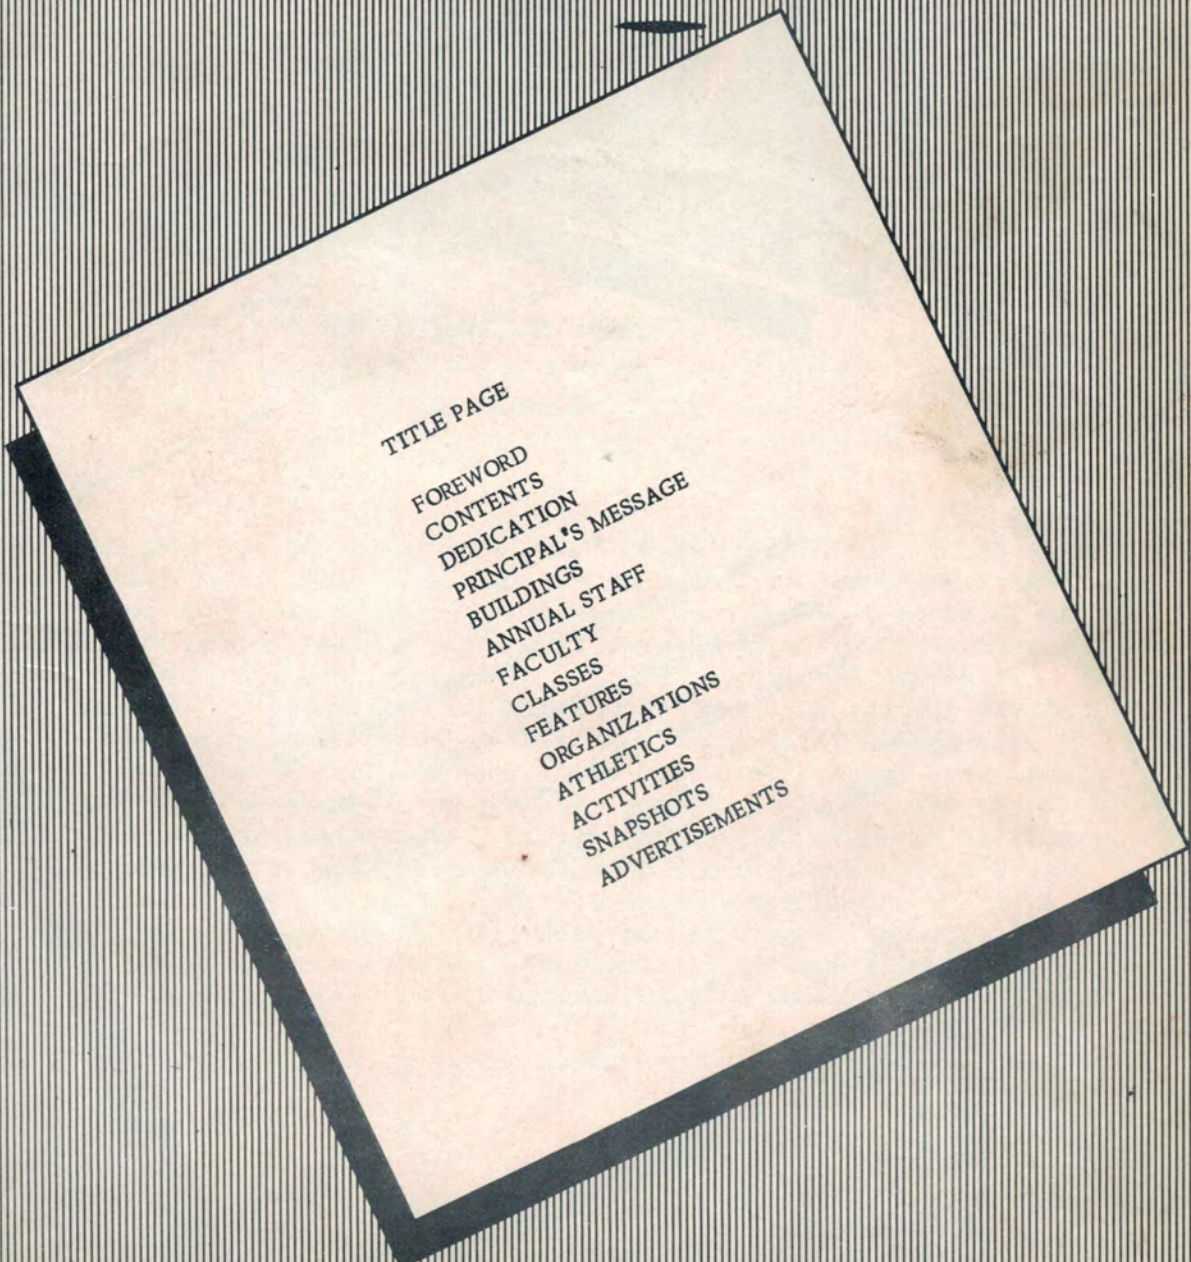

In this annual we have endeavored to present as completely as possible a picture of the school life. All departments and activities, all students and all the faculty are included so that the many memories of the year may not be forgotten.

"Hail to Thee, Days gone by,
Hail to Thee, Bunkie High."

Principal's Message

W. J. MASSEY
Principal

BUNKIE HIGH SCHOOL

W. J. MASSEY, Principal

BUNKIE, LA.

Dear Student:

"And the greatest of these" is a SENSE OF RESPONSIBILITY. It is often stated by business people that, though the graduates of high school are fast, alert and work well under close supervision and have a sense of humor, the lack of responsibility which all too many show for their work, the lack of respect for public property and the property of others is shocking. Among the undesirable traits shown by these individuals are carelessness in the performance of duty, talking, idling and impertinence.

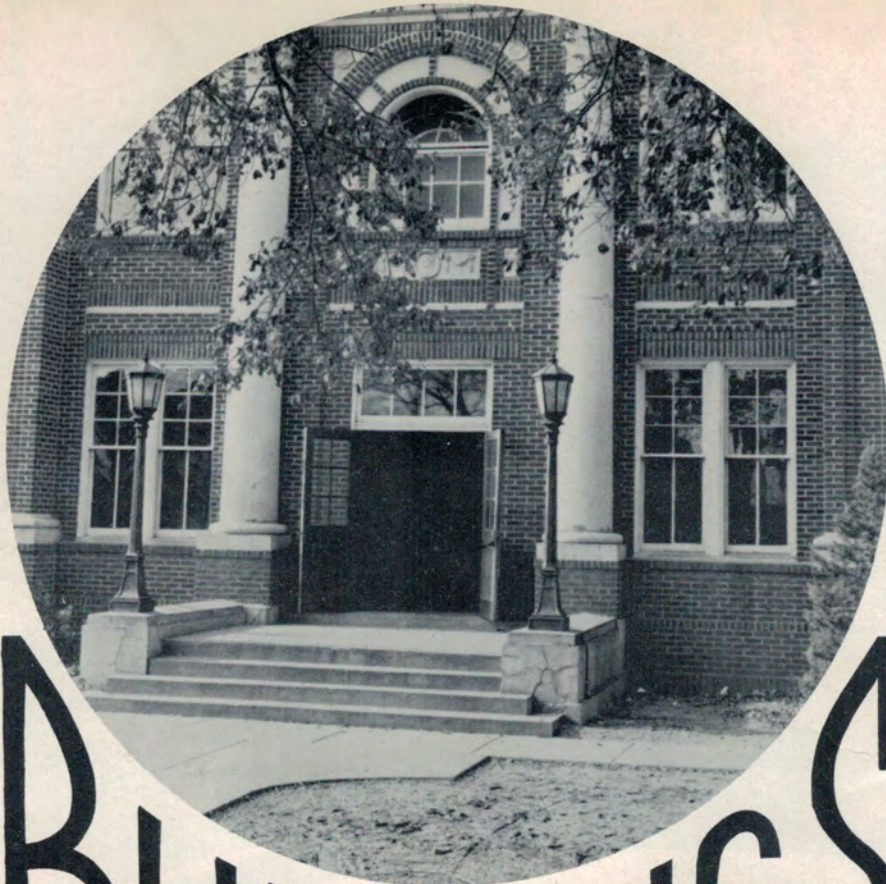

It is the desire of each teacher of our school to develop a sense of responsibility in each student. We consider our job to be not the preparation of students for citizenship, but the training of students in citizenship. The characteristics you show while in school are a good predictor of the characteristics you will carry with you throughout your life. Just so rapidly as you develop this feeling of responsibility, will you be given privileges commensurate with your ability to cope with them; for each privilege is accompanied by a responsibility to oneself and to his group.

May I wish you Godspeed on your journey to and through adulthood.

Sincerely,

W. J. Massey
