TK and Kindergarten

Mrs. Tinnin

We started the Read-a-thon! Please keep track of how many minutes you read to your child or they read to you. Minutes include any reading for homework, anyone reading to your child, or reading they do for fun. I will keep a reading log at school to keep track of each child's minutes for any reading done at school. I will send home a new reading log each week to keep track of any reading done at home. Please keep your child's reading log in their planner or folder (for TK) so I can keep track of their minutes. Every child has a goal of 870 minutes for the month.

Kindergarteners are learning tricky words. They should know the tricky words all, of, one, from, was, and a. TK is learning about woodland habitats. Next, they will learn about pond habitats.

Kindergarteners are learning teen numbers in math. TK finished learning about the numbers 1-10. Next, they will learn about comparing height using words like shorter than, taller than, and same as.

First and Second Grade Explorers

Mrs. Mittge

Students made adorable graphic organizers for March. These organizers categorized how a lion is similar to the beginning of March and how a lamb is like the end of March. We discussed: idioms, figurative language, similes, and metaphors. We then began diamante poems as a culminating project.

First grade students are identifying and counting coins in math. Second grade students are applying concepts of measurement. These are fun, engaging skills to practice at home! How many coins can your child find under the cushions of the couch, in the car, or in your purse? Can s/he count what s/he finds? Can s/he name the coins? If you have a couple rulers or tape measures at home, try a scavenger hunt. Identify things around the house, estimate how long or wide the object is and then measure them in inches and centimeters. Who came the closest to the exact measurement?

Please remember that Read-a-Thon logs are due, filled out and signed every Friday this month. I will place new logs in Boomerang Folders on Monday mornings.

Third and Fourth Grade Classroom

Mrs. Mars

Our class is excited to start the read-a-thon! In order for students to hit their individual goal they need to read 30 minutes each day of the month. This is a very attainable goal for all students who continue to do their nightly reading homework as reading in class can count towards their goal too!

Both grades have been spending each day focussed on a new type of figurative language. The ones we are learning include hyperboles, personification, alliteration, onomatopoeia, simile, and metaphor. Students are learning that these are all different forms of figurative language that can add to our writing.

Fifth and Sixth Grade Classroom

Mr. Burlingame

6th Grade Parents!

Cispus is just around the corner! Can you believe we leave in only three weeks!?

It's not too late to fill out a medication authorization form! If your student takes regular medication (even over the counter) they must have this form filled out and signed. The medical provider can use their own form or letterhead, as long as it includes the 9 components on the back of the form: date, name of student, drug name, reason for the medication, strength of medicine, how much to give, when to give, duration of order, side effects to watch for, the provider's signature, and the parent's signature to authorize staff to give.

Please deliver medication to the school as soon as possible and in its original container so that our nurse can verify the medication and deliver it to the nurse who will be going to Cispus with us.
