¹ The 5 full days is a minimum and only applies to the general population which does not include healthcare personnel or certain special populations.

² "Improving" requires absence of fever for 24 hours or more without fever relieving medications and at least a 50 percent improvement in all other symptoms with the exception of loss of taste and smell which may persist for weeks or months.

This guidance does not apply to immunosuppressed persons. Guidance for immunosuppressed persons is addressed in the link below.
