63	I feel some teachers are great in dealing with children who have learning disabilities, but on the the other hand, I feel some teachers don't have the patience/understanding to be supportive of children with learning disabilities. I feel some teachers can't distinguish between challenging behaviors and disabilities behaviors. So more training on disabilities.	2/20/2022 8:15 PM
64	Teachers should not allow a student to FAIL with zero parental contact. I reached out to a teacher to inquire about my Childs grade. She put nothing in IC until grades were due and he is failing. That is not okay with me. It is lazy and unprofessional. I could have intervened if given the chance. Give parents a chance. His self esteem is low, he is shy and a failing grade with zero contact is not okay. An older child of mine who is in high school now had this same science teacher and she was the same back then. I am looking to move to a different middle school. The office staff and administrators are great with everything but the teachers seem mad and hateful more than anything.	2/20/2022 5:08 PM
