Show and Tell Opposites! Friday is the day that your child can bring 2 things that are as different as can be. We will talk about words like in and out, up and down, heavy and light, big and small, sad and happy, open and shut, wide and narrow, day and night, sweet and sour, fast and slow, rough and smooth, few and many, full and empty, front and back, etc.

What could your child bring for Opposites?

We rested with our soft things today and our hard things we did not. No rock pillows for us!

My heart was black with sin until the Savior came in, His precious blood I know has washed me white as snow, And in God's Word I'm told I'll walk the streets of gold, to grow in Christ each day, I must read my Bible and pray. Just think, this little song, and rhyme tells the Gospel story. Your child can spread the good news with these words. We will learn this on Wednesday and all this week and next. With a wordless book in our hands we have a tool to be a little missionary right here.

Today we are bringing home our little gingerbread projects. Some made houses and others boats, and submarines. Notice your child's creativity and ask them about it. I took a picture of it, next to our big Gingerbread project before I sent it home.

red, yellow, blue, green, orange, purple, brown, black and white-We are reading these words by sight and using phonics clues to figure them out when we just have letters and no colors to help us. Look for a practice sheet in your child's folder later in the week.
