STUDENT LIFE

While participating in the parade junior John Lake says, "I had the time of my life riding on the FFA float."

12 — "After school there's no time to do anything except eat, sleep, and work. If only I could find the time to do my homework," said Chad Halford.

11 — "I would have more of a life if I didn't spend all of my free time doing homework," said Emily Stubbs.

10 — "After school I like to talk on the phone, but most of all, I like to watch Beavis & Butt-head," said Samantha Olson.

12 — "Outside of school, all I do is work, except when I'm hanging out with my friends," said Colleen McMahon.

11 — "There's no time after school because of work at McDonalds," said Melody Nobles.

"It is convenient when the student is in high school because our days start and end at the same time," said typing teacher Wilma Raper.

"It's sad that it's the last one we'll do," says senior Travis Isaacson.

Gawker OR Entrant

There were many games to play and rides to ride creating yet another exciting fall event that we have all come to love and know as "The Fair". The Crazy Dance, Mega Loop, Ferris Wheel, and Bumper Cars were a few of the exciting rides. Senior, Shannon Griffith said, "The activities were neat, but the rides were the best part of the fair." Most students enjoyed the rides the best. Junior, Jason Allred said, "The fair was very fun and exciting, I had a great time." Senior, Marcy Hall said, "I met the love of my life, Stu Ashburn, at the fair." Unlike everyone else, sophomore Misty Brown said, "The fair was fun this year, but I have had better times at other places."

Once again, there was the Fairest of the Fair padgent. Haley Hinch, Becky Bradley, Bobby Jo Garrison, Dena Parsons, Tara Whittenburg, and Melanie Napier were some that participated in the activity. Senior, Melanie Napier won the Fairest of the Fair.

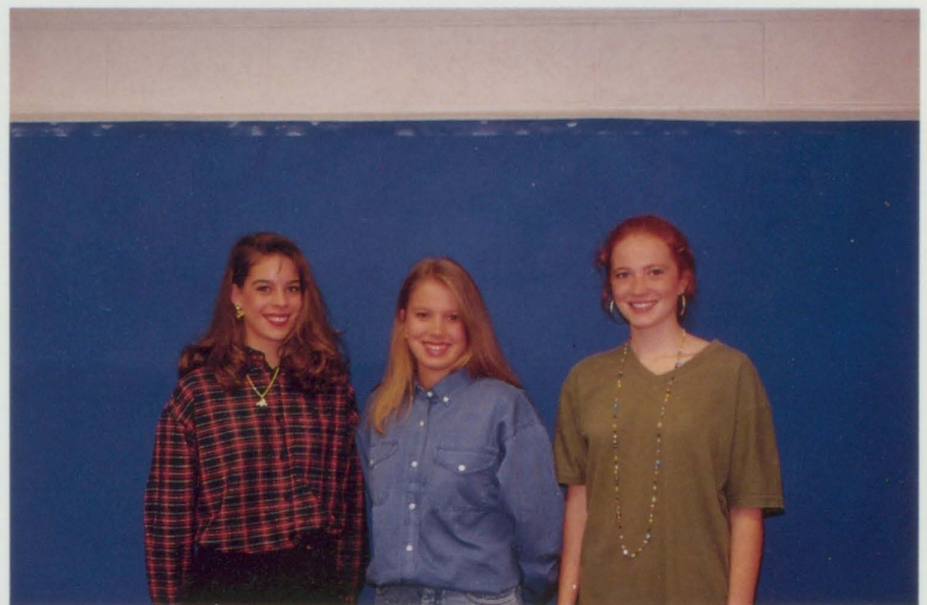

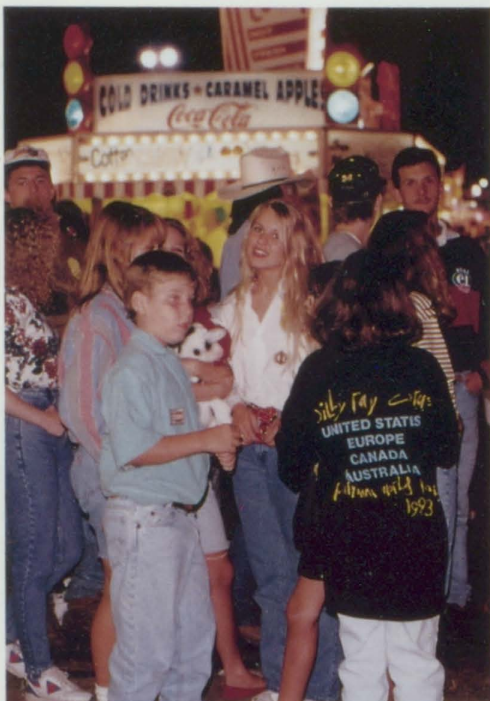

"The fair is a great place to make friends and win a lot of gum," says junior Matt Miller as he holds up his latest prize.

Selling pizza, senior Suzanne Bell says, "The booth was successful this year, even though it was almost closed for loudness."

While goofing off and having the time of his life with fellow students at the fair, senior Jeremy Cook says, "The fair was fun, I really enjoyed seeing all my friends there."

Making new friends that will last a lifetime at the fair and posing for a picture, sophomore Megan McMahon says, "Matt thought the Sonic guy was great, so we got our picture taken with him."

While in line, junior Lauren Price says, "The fair is a chance to have fun and spend the week with friends."

Fairest of the Fair entrants were Haley Hinch, 3rd runner-up, Melanie Napier, winner, Becky Bradley, 2nd runner-up.

While taking a ride on the wild side on the Beta float, senior Rhonda Leach says, "We ended up with more candy than we started with because everybody kept throwing it back."

"My favorite part of homecoming was the parade. The experience of riding down Main Street in the back of a truck was a once in a lifetime opportunity. It was really groovy," says senior Shannon Cox.

"There's lots of excitement and activities!" says sophomore Andy Daughtery riding the council float.

"The parade was an exciting time, I had lots of fun riding the fire engine," says senior Lori Dille.

Rider OR Walker

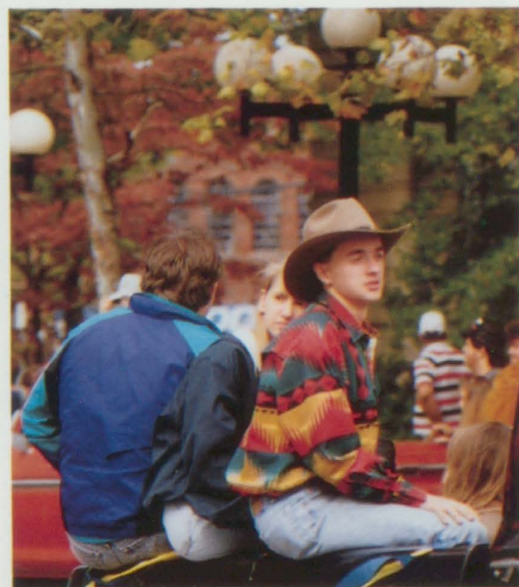

After the big day finally arrived, junior Jennifer Barnes says, "Riding on the FHA float was fun."

While riding instead of walking, senior Anthony Proffitt says, "I enjoyed the dress up days by making fun of underclassmen."

The traditional Friday activity of homecoming week was the parade. The fans were "wired" and the parade gave the rest of the county a chance to get "charged up" with "Jet Pride". Sophomore J.B. Selecman said, "I really enjoyed acting like a moron all week and at the game."

The theme of the parade was "We love to fly and it shows." Along with the band, floats, homecoming nominees, clubs, athletics, sponsors, and horses and buggies represented the many facets of school life. Seniors Jake Tollett and Patrick Guthrie said, "Homecoming is a lot of fun, we had a great time riding in the parade."

The juniors won first place in the float competition with a theme of "Blow up the Cougars," while the seniors took second with "Cremate the Cougars." Sophomores came in third with, "Burn the Cougars." Junior Christina Schubert said, "Homecoming was a very exciting week."

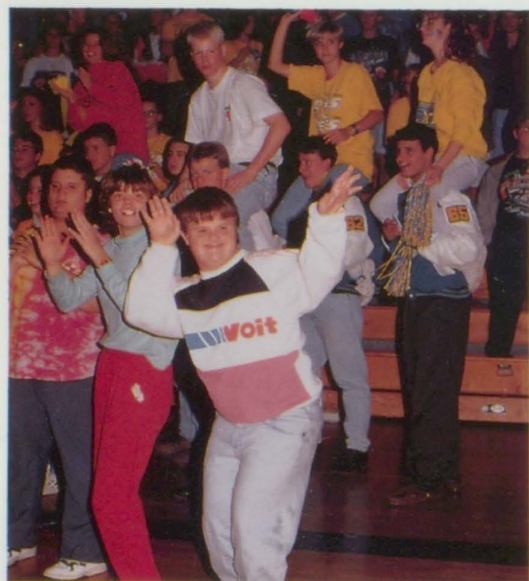

Fan OR Leader

Many students looked forward to the special events that took place at the pep-rallies. Junior Mary Schantz said, "I think they're pretty cool. They're a lot of fun, and they give us all a break!" Pie-eating contests were a favorite among students and faculty but some thought the races were better. Junior Billy Lewis said, "I look forward to pep-rallies to show my support for the teams, and what's going on."

Senior Annge Sidwell said, "I think the seniors are giving a lot of enthusiasm. I guess we're realizing what our senior year means." Some students were afraid of letting their school spirit show. Junior Kasey White said, "I think the pep rallies are fun and give everyone a chance to show school spirit."

Pep-rallies were usually full of excitement and response. The cheerleaders, band members, football players, coaches, student council and last but not least the fans were responsible for this.

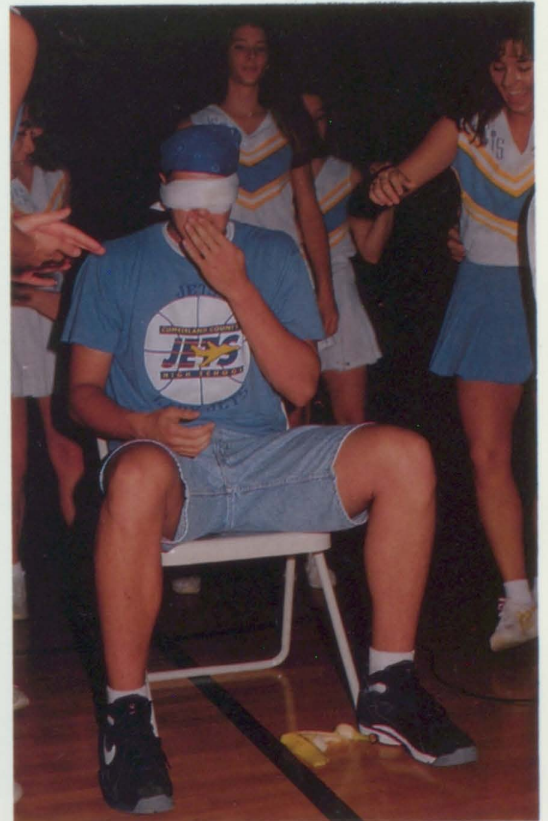

While at the pep-rally, junior John Looney says, "It was a great chance to release stress and have a good time with friends."

Enjoying the pep-rally, senior Sherry Webb says, "I had never participated at the homecoming pep-rally. It gets the spirit flowing."

"Participating in class competition was really cool," says sophomore Cassandra McCreary.

During the pep-rally, senior Will Foster says, "It was the best homecoming I ever had, although I have had my fill of bananas now."

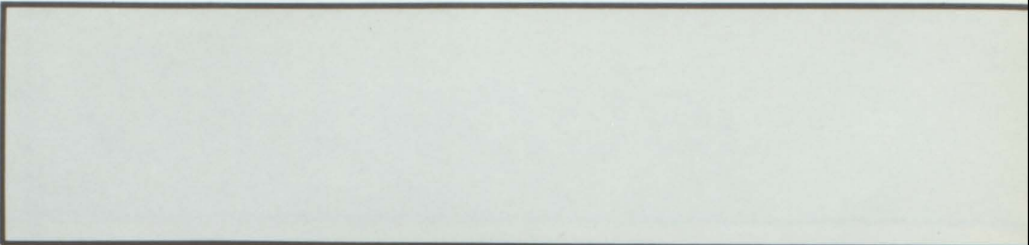

Coach Dan Schlafer says, "I'm certain it's a no fat, low cholesterol pie! I want a refund."

Standing at the pep-rally, senior Amber Hyder said, "Of all the homecomings, my senior one was the best."

"Our team has improved by determination and hard work from this summer for this year's season," says junior Chris Whittenburg.

"This homecoming we played harder and better than we ever have so we really deserved our win," says junior Eston Mayberry.

"Homecoming is the best because the seniors come together for one of their last games," says senior Trent Mullinex.

Junior Joe Gaynor says, "I think we did better than last year, but we didn't play up to our potential."

Passer OR Receiver

"I'm glad that we won because it was the last homecoming football game I will ever play," says senior Andy Burgess.

"This season has been great. The team has pulled together to help each other on and off the field," says senior Paul Norrod.

On the night of October 15, many students and parents cheered the Jets on with enthusiasm. The homecoming game against the Campbell County Cougars was the third victory of the season. Junior Lesley Holland said, "Homecoming was great this year. It was my first homecoming at CCHS and it was the best! Our football team works harder than any other and deserved the win."

Following a week full of school spirit and homecoming activities, the football players were determined to win. Sophomore Caroline Leggett said, "It's the excitement and participation during the pep-rallies makes you want to show your true school spirit."

All of the efforts were proven worthwhile. Senior Andy Burgess said, "All of our hard work during practices has definitely paid off." This night will always hold uncountable memories for the players, the fans, as well as the participants in the homecoming festivities.

Beauty OR "Beast"

"As I crossed the field, my memories of little league football drifted through my head," says senior Calvin Christopher.

Being escorted onto the field, senior Tim Stepp says, "It's not the most exciting, but I enjoyed every minute of it."

"I enjoyed being involved in homecoming activities and being able to pin Janie Smith's colors on," says senior Johnny Bass.

"Being Band Sweetheart was quite an honor. I couldn't believe that I got it. This made my senior year unforgettable," says senior Kelly Wyatt.

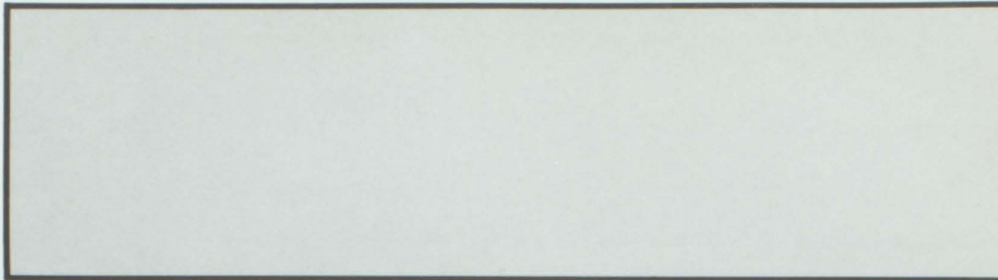

Freshman Brooke Adams-Mayfield says, "Being Homecoming Queen was the highest honor I could receive. Thanks."

"Homecoming was a special time because I was escorted by my best friend," says senior Glenn Thompson.

"Band is an expansion of the mind, body, and soul. It hurts to be so talented," says senior assistant drum major Becky Bradley.

While marching in her last homecoming parade senior flag corp member Tonya Sisco says, "Parades are nifty when you are not dodging the dung like we had to do last year."

Performing during a pep-rally, senior Darcy Tanner says, "Being the best player isn't easy well, yeah it is."

"Being drum major these past two years is something I'll never forget," says senior Angela Walter.

Player OR Listener

Marching in the annual parade, senior Tim Stepp says, "Where did all these dang people come from?"

Junior McKinley Tabor says, "Playing timpani is a passion. They are the thunder of the band."

Even though the band had gotten smaller, it was still a driving force on the field. The band went to two competitions. The Choo Choo Classic was held in Hixon, Tennessee, and The Volunteer Classic was held in Maryville, Tennessee. The band received excellent ratings at both. At the Volunteer Classic the drum majors took best in class. Senior drum major Becky Bradley said, "Winning the grand champion overall drum major was a shock, but it shows that hard work pays off."

It took hard work and dedication to become a member of the band. Band camp began two weeks before school. They practiced for five hours each day for a week. Sophomore Kelly Chewning was experiencing band camp for the first time. Chewning said, "Getting up that early to make it there by seven o'clock in the morning was a pain, but it was still fun." Most band members agreed that band was a great experience one not to be missed.

"Working on the music from 'Aladdin' was fun. The color guard will always remember a 'Friend Like Me'." — Band Director Steve Tinnel

"Being in the flag corps takes hard work and dedication. It also creates responsibility," says junior Cortney Wilson.

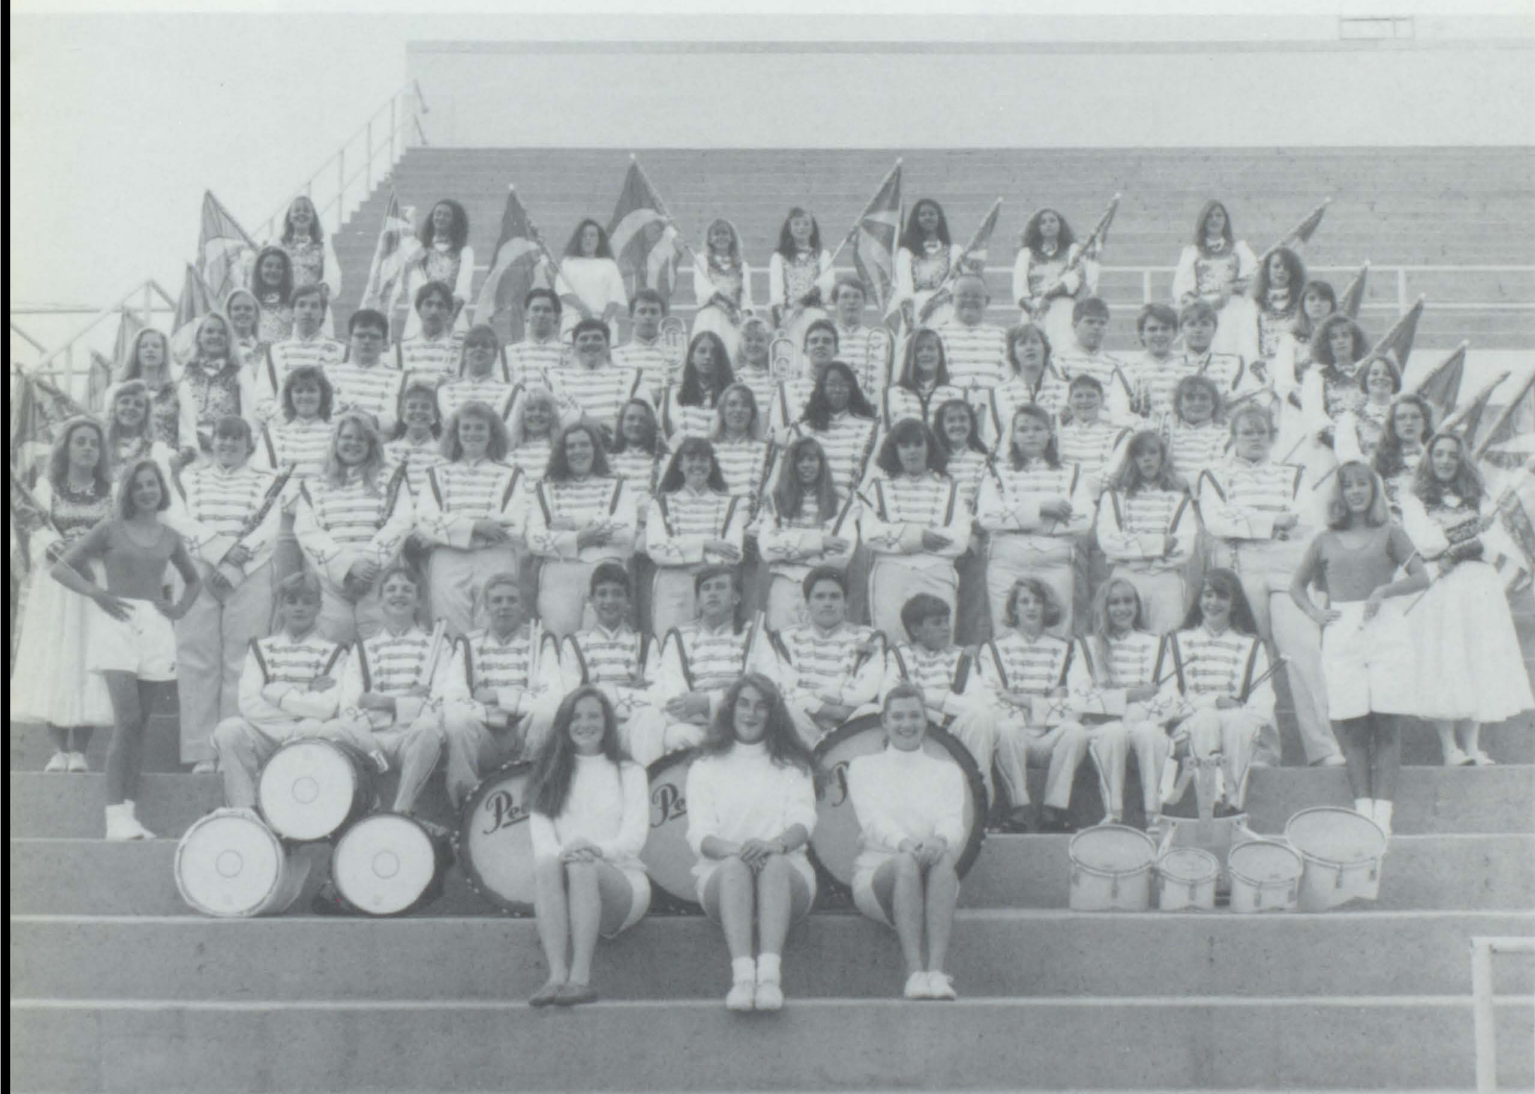

Band director Steve Tinnel yells support to the band during the halftime performance.

Marching onto the field, sophomore Wendy Dickens says, "It was o.k. when we weren't being yelled at."

Carrying the band banner, sophomore Erica Richmond says, "The band is twice as great this year."

Skirts OR Dresses

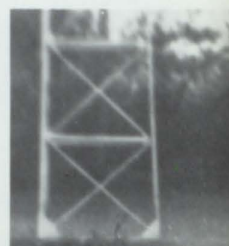

The annual powderpuff rivalry between the upper and the underclasswomen sounds like a non-action sport with no contact. Senior Annge Sidwell said, "Powderpuff is fun, but it is going to get rougher." Senior Heather Dixon said, "I enjoy knocking sophomores and juniors around without getting in trouble by Mr. Bolin."

Some would like the games to become even tougher. Junior Jessica Young said, "The rules are not fair, because we cannot tackle." Senior coach Glenn Thompson said "Coaching powderpuff was fun. It allowed me to see the rougher side of the girls."

While in pursuit of the ball, junior Emily Yaeger says, "It was fun, but we'll get 'em next year!"

During Sadie Hawkins week, seniors Michael Pape and Annge Sidwell were voted king and queen by their class.

During Sadie Hawkins week, juniors Chris Wilson and Nolene Upchurch were vote prince and princess by their class.

Preparing to take action on the line, senior Wendy Adams says, "It was rough, but the best team prevailed. THE SENIORS!"

Drink up! Junior Bill Cannon says, "Homecoming activities are lots of fun. You get to enjoy many different activities."

Let's get those Eagles! Senior Jeremy Cook says, "Homecoming activities kicked butt because the seniors won over the juniors and sophomores."

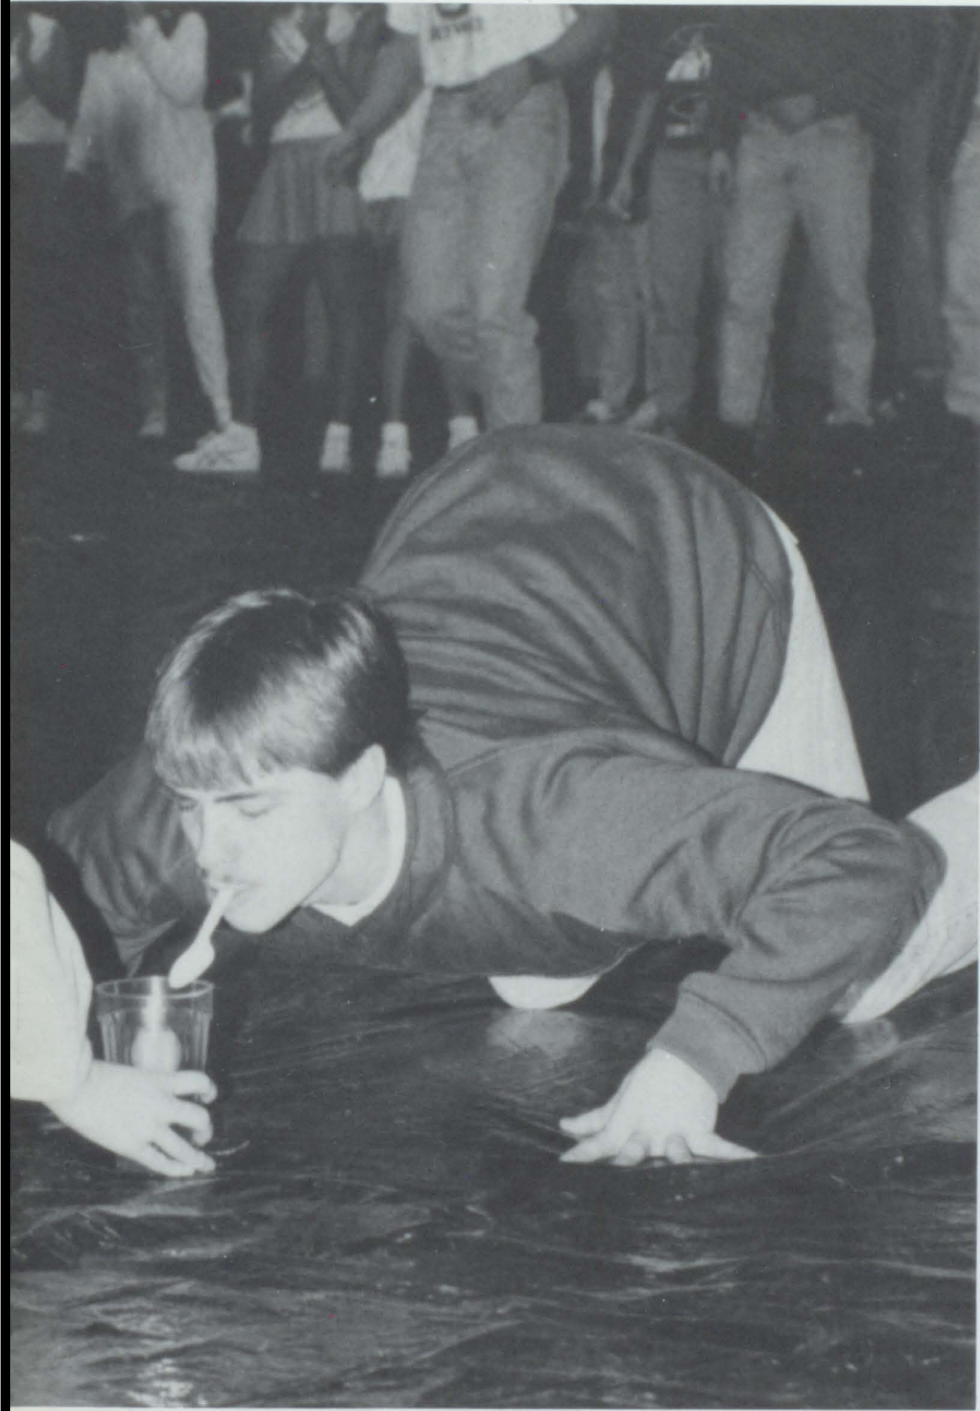

Through the hole and over the body. Sophomore Lee Strange says, "It was harder than I thought."

Standing tall. Senior Janie Smith says, "I was afraid Will would make me look short, but I did that myself."

Rally OR Game

I thought I already knew how to eat. Senior Trent Mullinax says, "The seniors of '94' are the best."

Basketball Coach Mark Bray receives a congratulatory handshake on his 300th win from Cumberland County Superintendent, Jim Hall.

Originally basketball homecoming was scheduled for January 21, but due to bad weather it was not held until February 4. The dress up days were western/hat day, gangster/hippy day, and the traditional color day which were held only on Wednesday through Friday.

In the class banner competition there was a tie between the senior banner, "Fowl Play", and the junior banner, "Spalt the Birds." The sophomore banner, "Seek and Destroy", placed second.

The senior players had their colors pinned between the boys and girls game. Seniors Will Foster and Janie Smith were named king and queen respectively.

The activities at the pep rally were kiwi rolling, drinking as much as you can from a two liter coke in a minute, searching for a jelly bean in whip cream, a baseball bat relay, ball-n-cup relay, and stepping through a hula-hoop. The seniors were the overall winners in class competition.

Forward OR Guard

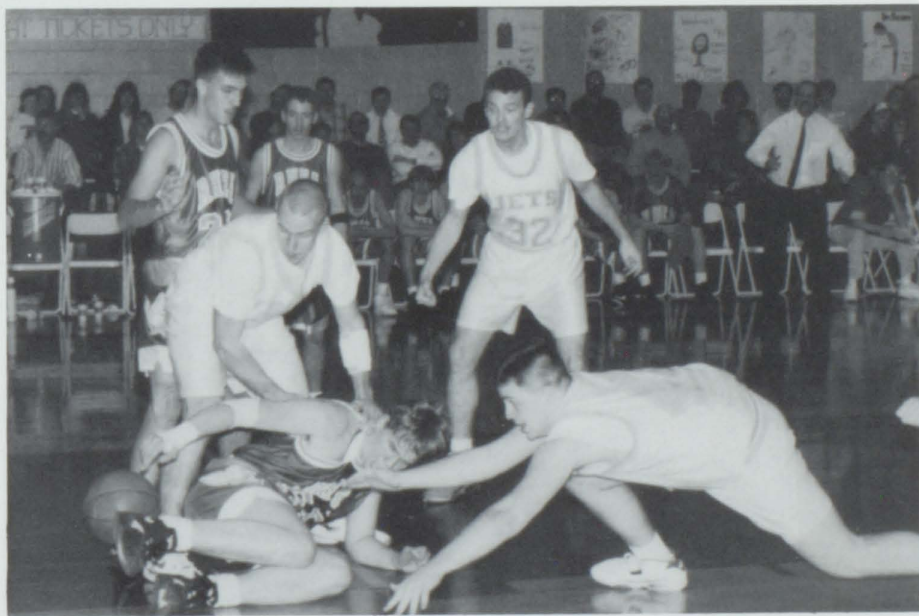

Up and away. Senior Calvin Christopher says, "This homecoming was special because it ended with a victory."

Stretching that last inch. Senior Colleen McMahon says, "The end was disappointing, but we still had fun."

Hold me back. Senior Will Foster says, "This year's team went through some tough times, but we learned to fight 'The Bull'".

Slam Dunker. Senior Wayne Henline says, "Homecoming is very exciting. I'm glad we won, especially since it was my last."

Move it woman. Senior Brenna Russell says, "This game was a challenge. We played hard."

I said "gimme" that ball. Senior J.L. Green says, "After the game I felt like I was shot and strapped to a car."

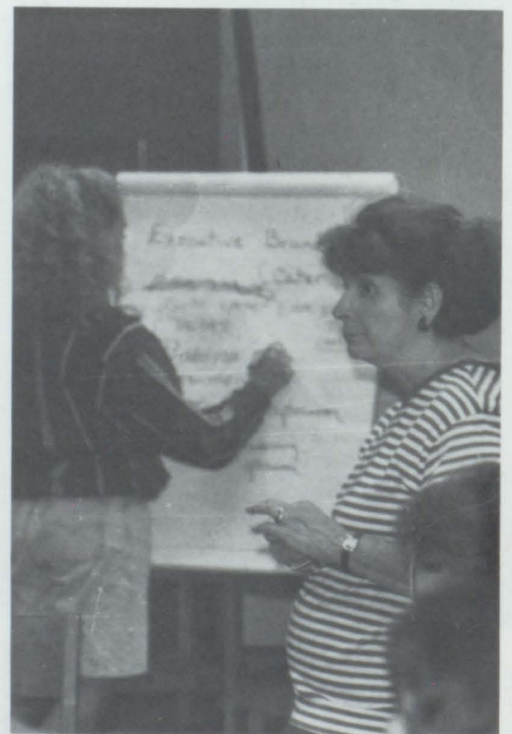

"Student Council is hard work despite what people think. We goof off to make the work fun," says senior Vickie Dial.

"It is an experience working with other students in order to make our school better," says sophomore Matt Daniels.

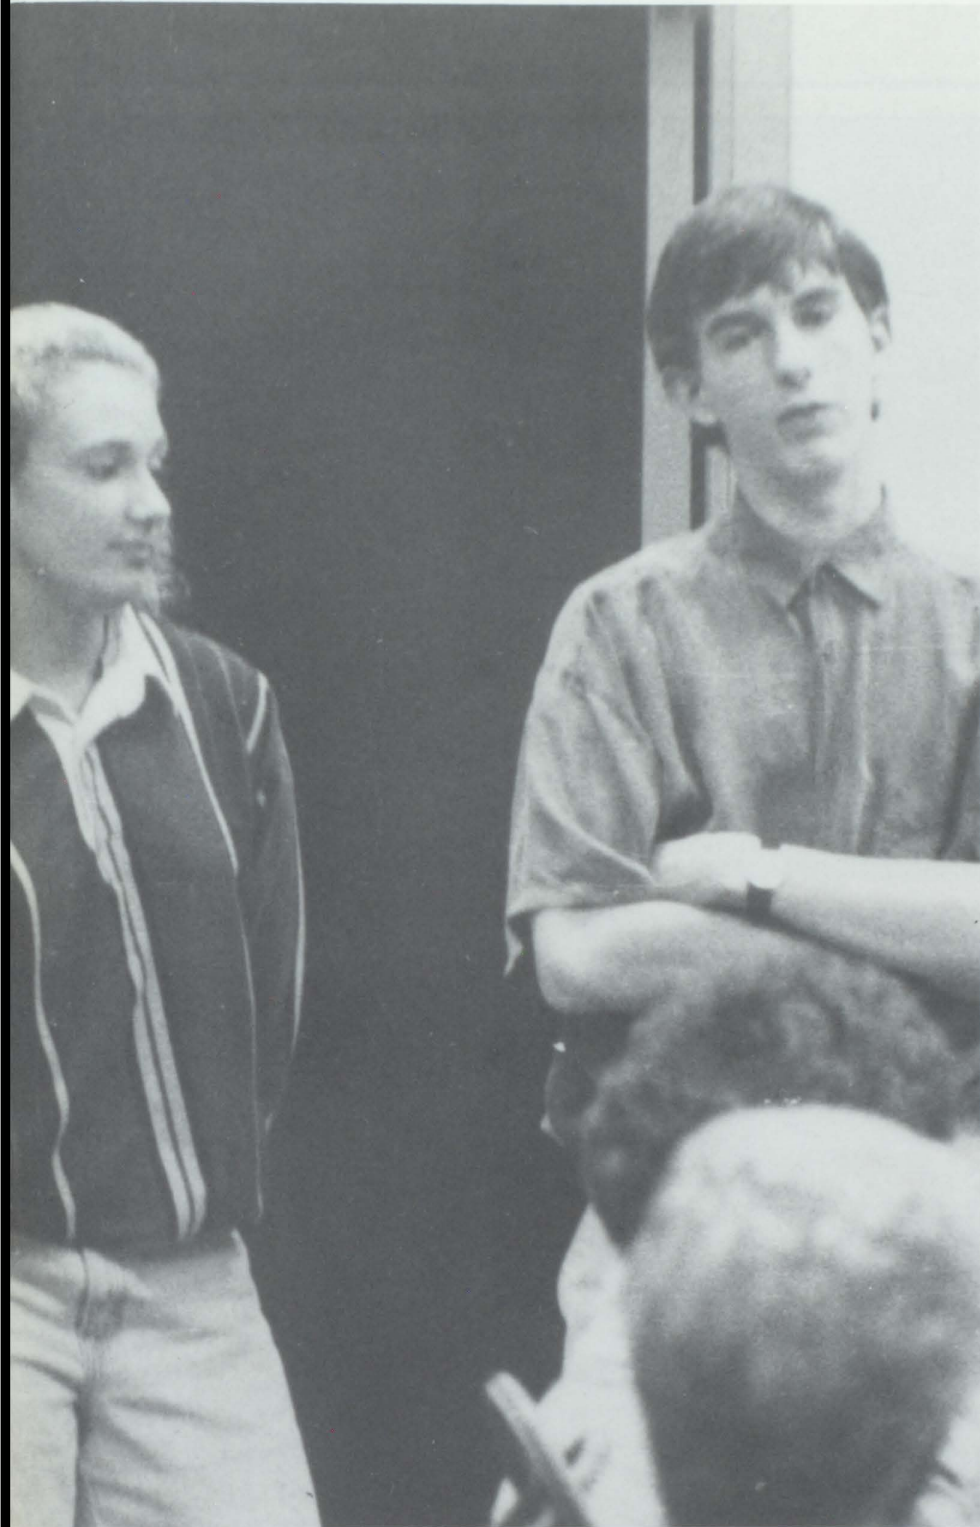

Junior Matt Miller says, "There's been conflicts this year over the state convention, but council has still been fun."

Working on the state convention, student council sponsor Florinda Dunnigan discusses it with her students.

Counsel OR Legislative

"Student council is hosting the state convention this year. It will be great," says senior Sherry Webb.

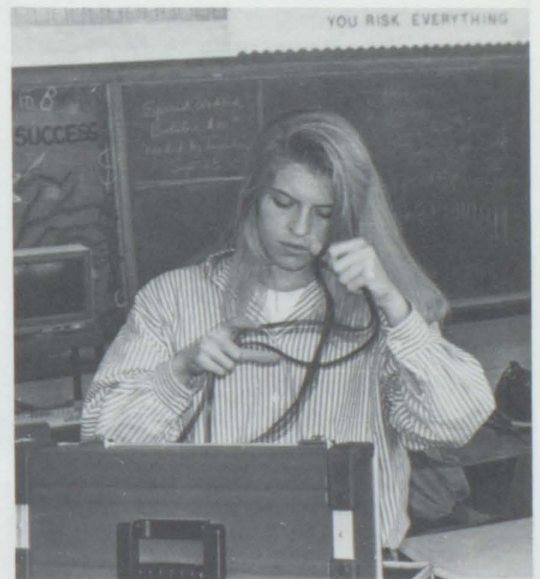

"Marty Woodlee passed down the job of taping morning announcements. They're right most of the time," says sophomore Carrie Hawn.

Whether or not we all realized it, Student Council was an important part of day to day life. The council prepared each morning's announcements, planned the events for activity periods, mediated all homecoming festivities, and prepared monthly bulletin boards throughout the school building.

School government was their main concern. Junior Marty Woodlee said, "Council can be lots of work, but it is rewarding to help the school and my fellow students."

Council will be hosting an important event this year. The TASC State Convention will be held here from April 21-23. There will be approximately 600 student leaders from other schools in Tennessee attending this event.

Council members are working many long hours and with much determination to make this a successful convention. Senior Sherry Webb said, "Council gives a leadership experience which will prepare me for the future. Convention has added an even greater responsibility this year. I hope our convention is a big success."

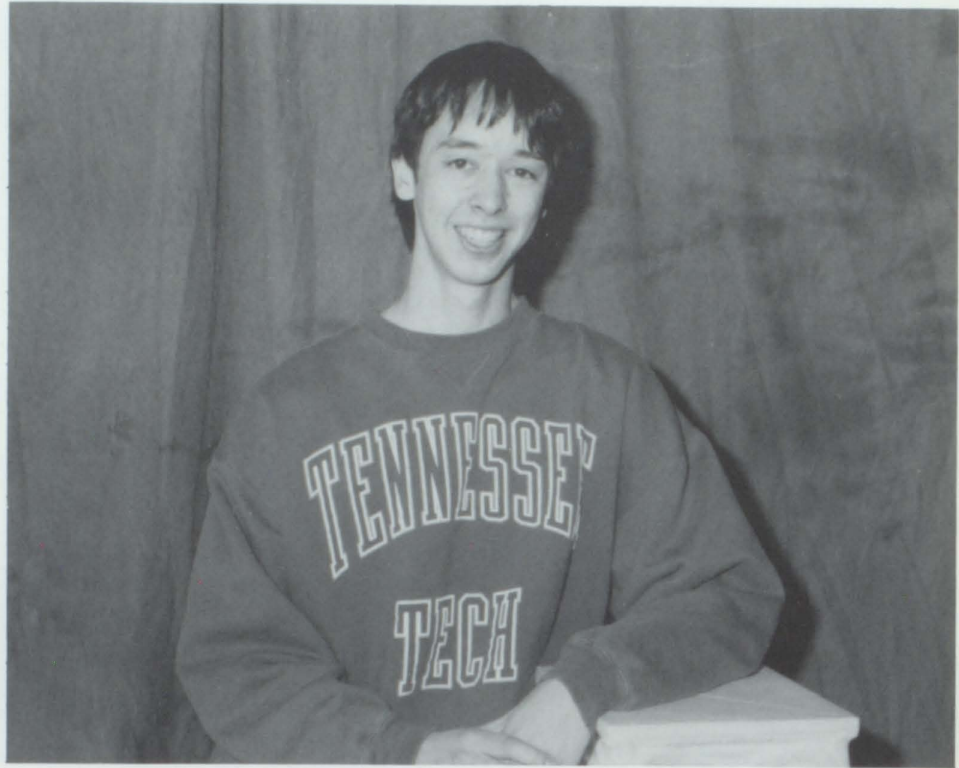

First, Second OR Honors

Valedictorian Tim Whiteaker says, "This trip has been more memorable than I would have ever expected. When I walked into the gym on my first day at Cumberland County High School, I thought to myself, "Man, is this gym crowded!" But I also saw new faces that I would come to know. Since then, I have said good-bye to some friends as they graduated, and I have met new friends in the undergraduate classes.

Now it is my turn to go. The friends and good times have made these years slip by in the blink of an eye. During this year, I have learned a lot about life and friendship as well as Calculus. I am relieved that all of this hard work and effort has finally paid off, and I know that if it was not for the support of my parents, teachers, and friends, I would have surely gone insane (maybe it is too late). Now I hope that with all of this experience and education, I can finally make enough money to pay for gas.

Salutatorian Kelly Wyatt says, "Finally, I've made it! All my life, I have looked forward to my high school graduation. Being named salutatorian is an honor that I am proud to receive. I never dreamed that anything like this could happen. I want to thank everyone for the support that they have given me since day one.

High school has been really great. These are the days that I will always remember. I'm going to miss everyone, but I suppose that I'm ready to move on. All the seniors deserve a pat on the back. Thirteen years of school is quite an accomplishment. I've come a long way baby!"

"Playing the part of Nora Watson was fun. She is a woman with lots of self-confidence and an attitude. May I be like her someday," says senior Tonya Elkins.

"Producing the play was hard work and a lot of fun, but it really paid off in the end," says sophomore Sara Phillips.

"The rehearsals were a total inconvenience for me until I stepped onto the stage," says junior Melissa Ellis.

Playing OR Working

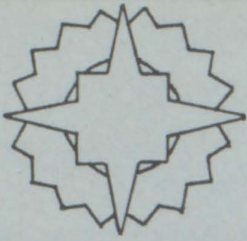

Junior Cortney Wilson says, "The play took up a lot of time, but I met new people that I normally wouldn't."

Junior Melissa Campbell says, "'Working' is an experience. You know you've done a good job after the first show is over."

Jet Theatrix performed an adaptation of the book "Working" by Studs Terkel. A cast of 20 including 2 backstage workers and the assistant stage manager were all students. Senior Amelia Carter said, "The play was a very good experience. I had never been in a high school production before. It was time consuming, but extremely fun. I'm glad I got a chance to participate." Being in the show was something few will forget. The Playhouse's support made the production possible. Senior Tonya Elkins said, "I'm glad the Playhouse has continued its support of Jet Theatrix. Performing in the show was a learning experience for everyone involved. It's a lot of hard work, especially Tech Week, but on opening night it pays off." Senior Edward Thornton said, "I have never worked backstage in a play, it's a lot different than being on stage and having to face the audience." Overall, the play was a good experience for everyone involved.

"The carwash helps to raise money for Beta. It also provides service for the community," says senior Becca Moon.

12 — "Clubs are a lot of fun. They give us a chance to do something on Friday when we don't have activity," said Travis Isaacson.

11 — "Clubs give us a chance to see Jim Dunnigan and our friends. It also gives us a chance to criticize Bill," said Robert Underwood.

10 — "I think they have some really good clubs and I enjoyed being in them," said Kristy Honeycutt.

11 — "I think clubs are a good way to spend time with my boyfriend," said Keri Miller.

10 — "I've really learned a lot from FCA. It's fun being with everyone too. This club also shows kids why to stay out of trouble," said Josh Hall.

"For the most part, club sponsorship is a hoot! Every afternoon in March and April is spent embroiled in bitter conflict over someone else's love poetry," said teacher/club sponsor Kathy Dooley.

"The math club helps us strive for knowledge," says senior Darlene Smith.

"Sports build character," said English teacher Steve Gunter.

Senior Edward Thornton says, "Soccer is exciting, but most don't know about it."

Yeah OR Rah

The cheerleaders began the year with competition at ICF camp. There they placed first in dancing, cheering, and chanting. Senior, Heather Dixon, said, "Cheerleading has been a lot of fun over the past four years. I am very sad that it is ending."

The Team American girls chosen at ICF camp were Lisa Tollett, Lori Tollett, Renee Thompson, Haley Hinch, Courtney Cecil and Janie Smith. Junior, Leslie Holland said, "Cheerleading is a great sport and very rewarding but hard work. People do not realize how much dedication is put forth just like in any other sport such as football."

Judy Mayberry served as team sponsor. Heather Dixon and Nolene Upchurch served as captain and co-captain respectively. The team held no fund raisers. Senior Janie Smith said, "We learned from each other since this was Judy's first year. She was understanding and helpful and made this year the best."

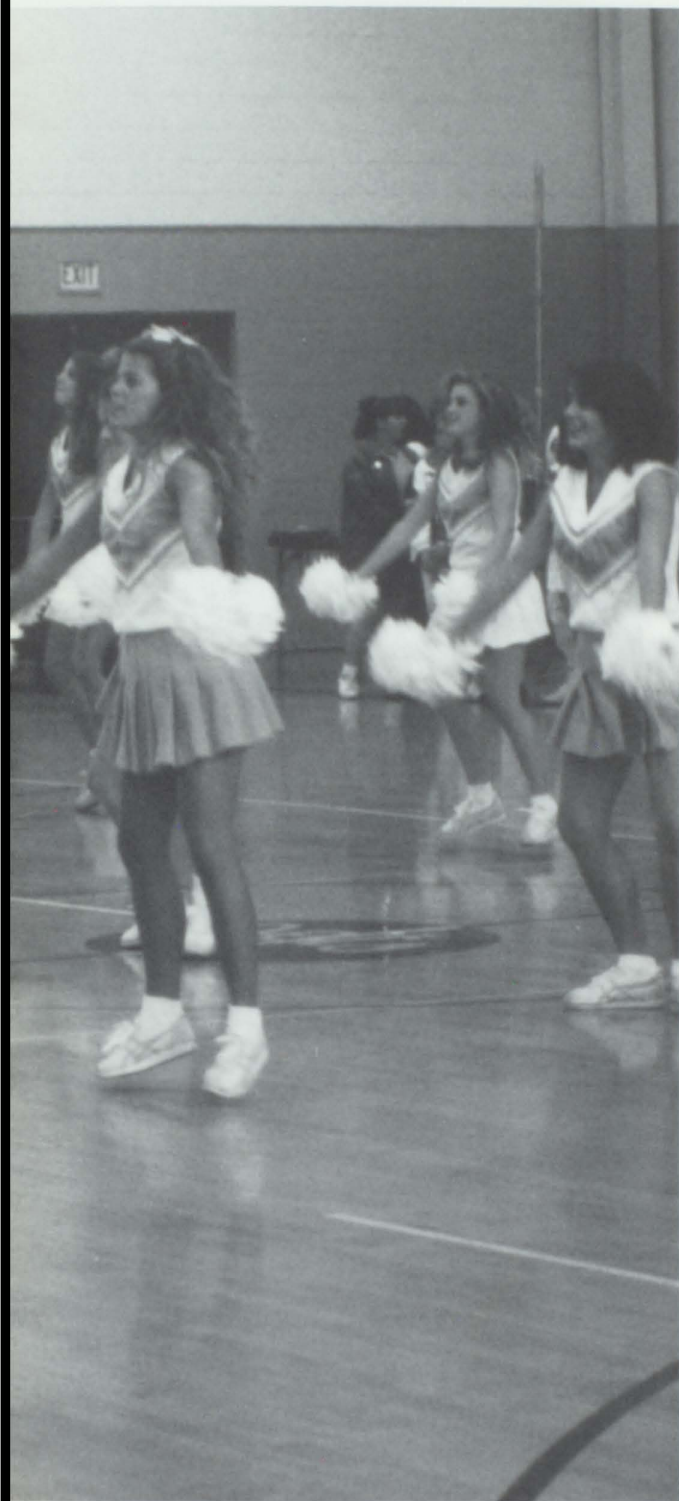

The cheerleaders qualified for nationals which were held at Opryland Hotel in Nashville but chose not to go because there was not enough time to prepare for competition. Sophomore, Mechalla Conanster said, "Cheerleading is great! I have had a lot of fun."

Coach Dan Schlafer is continuing to develop a promising new football program in his second year as head football coach.

Senior Tony Holt says, "Never give up. Always shoot for the moon. If you miss, at least you will land among the stars."

Passer OR Receiver

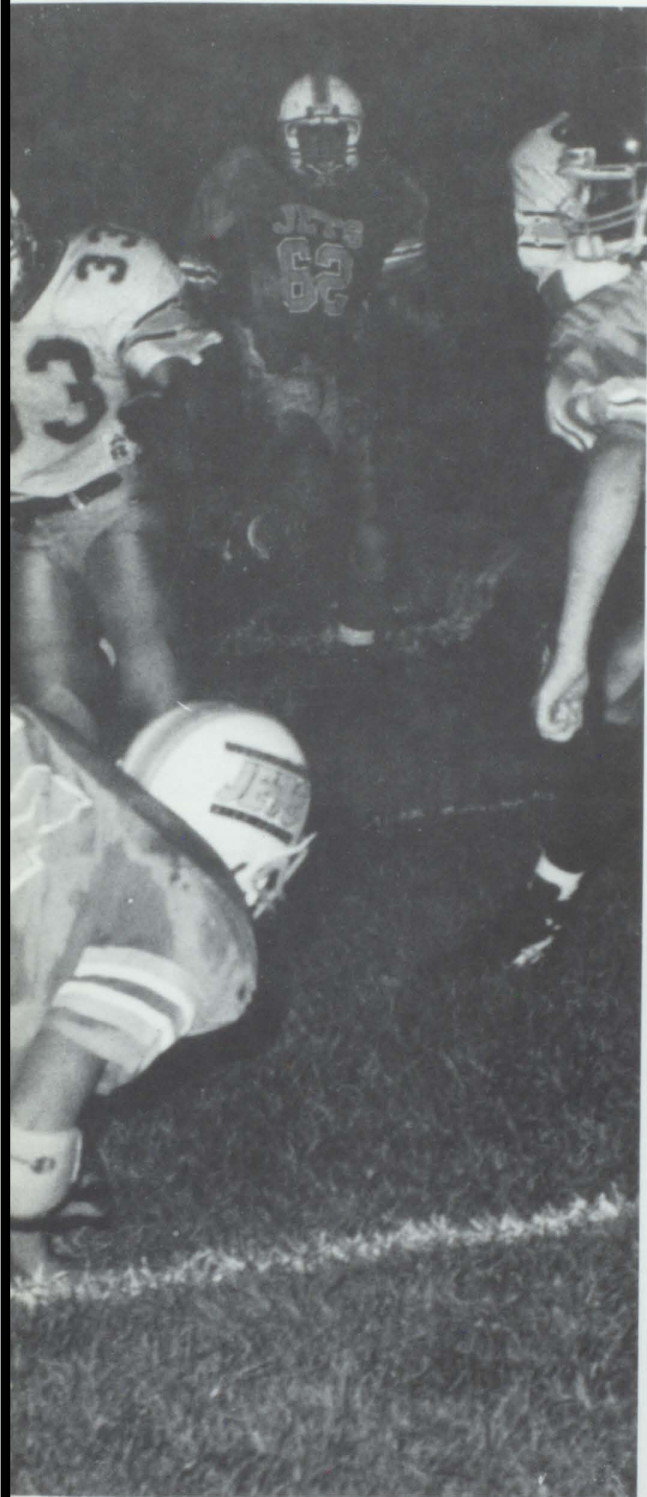

The positive attitude that second year head coach Dan Schlafer had tried to instill in the team was still thriving. The first game of the season the players came to school dressed in ties and ready for their first win. They were not disappointed. Senior Michael Pape said, "We knew that for the county to be behind us this year, we had to win that game. It felt incredible."

Senior Tony Holt said, "Last year we were defeating ourselves with our attitude, this year we won with our attitude." This spirit continued as the season progressed. Narrowly defeated by Central and Farragut, the team remained confident that their efforts during last winter and spring would pay off.

The team finished the season with a 7 and 3 record. Three senior players went to all district. Senior Andy Burgess said, "Making all district was a high for me. I just hate it that our games were a tougher district than last year, but in every game, you should see hard work, determination, and heart."

The junior varsity team went through their season undefeated. Senior J.V. member Eric Burgess said, "Playing J.V. was a rewarding part of my football career, I'm glad we had such a killer season!"

Senior Andy Burgess says, "Football is such a violent game so sometimes you get knocked down, but you have to learn how to get back up and make the play."

Huddling to hear the play, junior Eston Mayberry says, "We really played hard this year, but I think our record should have been better."

Field Goal OR Touchdown

Senior Dale Hargis says, "Breaking the paper was the light of the fuse to start the attitude we needed to play hard."

Awaiting the coin toss, junior Greg Bice says, "We'll beat 'em this time."

Receiving aid and instruction from the coaches, sophomore James Burgin says, "Next year we'll be awesome."

As the Jets take the field, they are in top shape to play their best game yet in order to defend their home field.

Senior Ed Barnwell says, "It took me a couple of times to get the hang of it."

Coach Lester Erwin says, "The baseball team began lifting weights and running immediately after football season. We started with a large number of young men working out and should begin regular practice with a large number. The work ethic and attitude of the players has been tremendous. I feel as though we have had an excellent start and I'm looking forward to beginning practice with our sights set on building a solid program that will be able to compete with anyone we play."

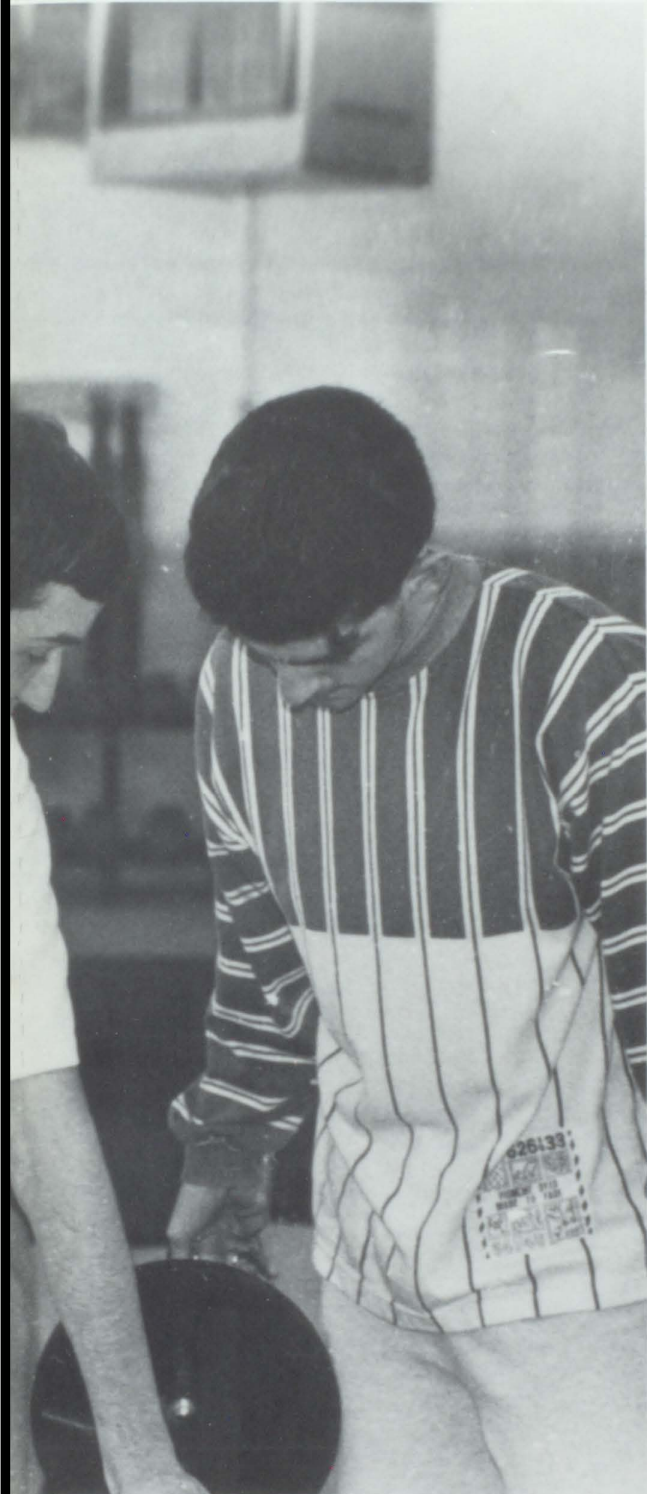

Sophomore Scott Calahan says, "Working out really helped me for the baseball season and if I don't make the team I'll still have all the friends I made."

Bat OR Run

Math teacher Lester Erwin is the newest coach arriving from Greenville, S.C. where he coached baseball. He has led two teams to state championship play with a win the second year. He has coached American Legion baseball and had a few players to make it to the majors, including the Texas Rangers. Many team members feel that Coach Erwin will be a great asset to the program. Erwin believes that a team should be disciplined and have a certain level of class about them. Senior Ed Barnwell said, "I think we will have a better season than we have had in the past because we have a strong, talented team and a new coach that knows the game." Junior Jeff Dyer said, "I think this season will be a lot better. We only lost a few starters.

The team will travel throughout the state to compete in the district 5-AAAAA games. Senior Brian Agne said, "I think the team has a good chance of winning in the district games." Workouts began early in September with official practice beginning on February 31. The practice sessions included lifting weights and outside exercises, such as jumping jacks, stretches, running track, and the ever-popular arm circles. Regular season play began on March 12.

Junior Keith Wyatt says, "The time working out has definitely made the team stronger and it will show when we take the field."

Hit OR Strike

The softball team has had several trying seasons. However, their record seems to be steadily improving each year. Senior Julie Keck said, "Our softball team improves every season, but this year we intend to work hard, have fun and win." The team began preparing for the season early in the year. They started with a daily workout and running session. When daily practice begins they usually lose several players. Many girls quit because they have jobs or their grades are not high enough to remain on the team.

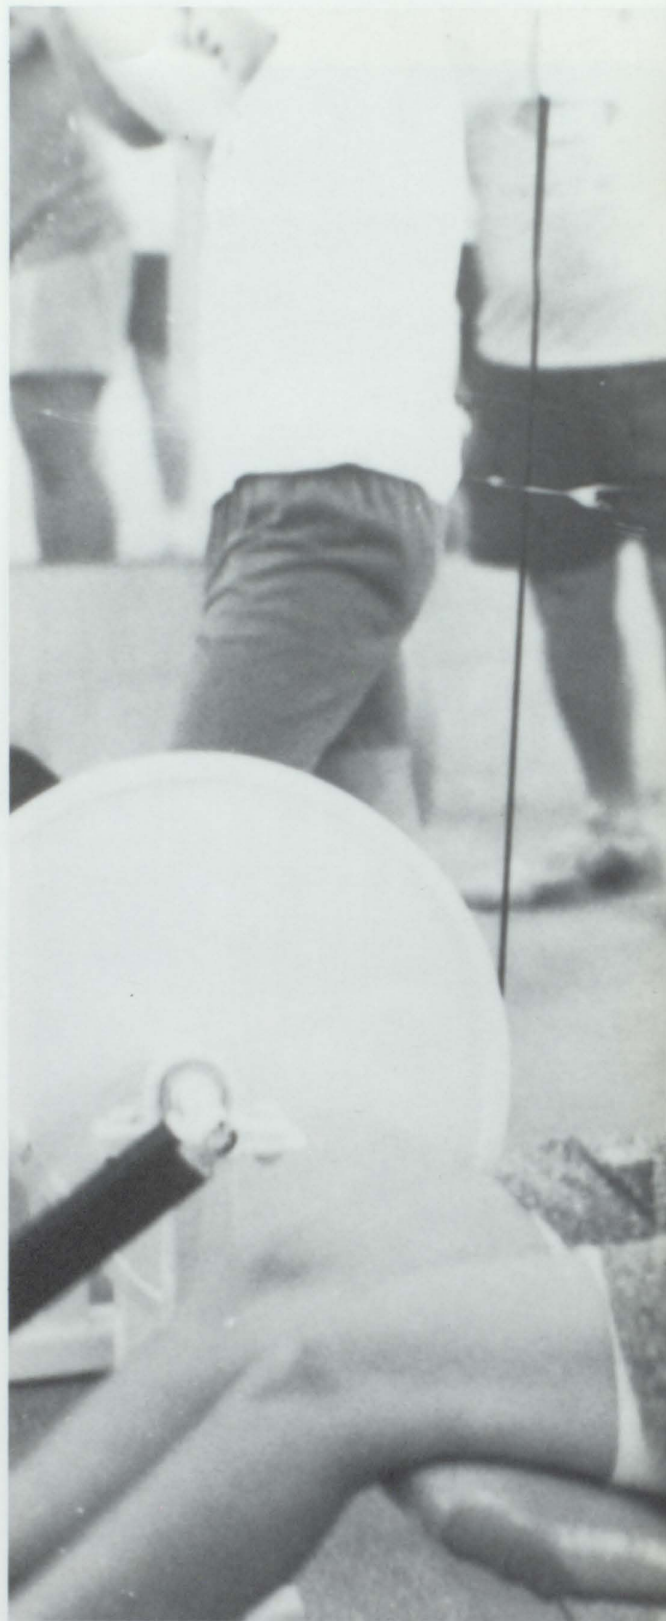

The team lost several seniors last year, but many freshman and returning players are ready to fill the vacant positions. Coach Jimmy Inman said, "This year should be a very interesting season, we lost several players to graduation and girls taking jobs so they can pay their car insurance, but we have several young athletes that I look forward to working with this year. We will improve and be a better team."

The record for last season was six wins and twelve losses. Many team members hope to continue their improvements until they come away with a trophy. Junior Pam Webb said, "We will keep getting better because of our workouts and practices."

I can't believe I'm doing this again! Junior Micah Sanderson says, "I enjoy playing softball because it gives me a sense of accomplishment and school spirit."

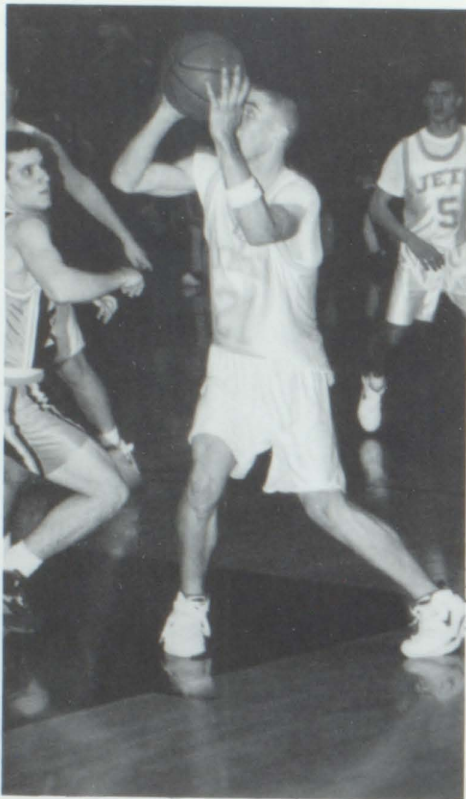

"This year, I think will be good. We're going to have a lot of tough competition and we'll have to work hard to get where we want to be. I feel we can do it ." says junior Mary Schantz.

"This year we will be young and inexperienced, but all the girls are working hard on the weights. Last year was the best season we have had in several years, and we hope to build on that success." says coach Jimmy Inman.

Making the play at first base, senior Colleen McMahon says, "This season was a lot of fun and Mr. Inman is the coolest bald man I know!"

Junior Brad Eldridge struggles to get inside in order to make the shot.

"Success may be the ability to hitch your ambitions to a star while keeping your feet on the ground," says coach Mark Bray.

Team members share a relaxed moment on the bench as they anxiously await the start of the game before a full house.

Offense OR Defense

Most players think the team has had a good season and another great year working together. Senior Jason Wyatt said, "We had a lot of great expectations coming into this year. We might not have made them all, but we had a great time trying. It is fun just having to play with so many great players." Most of the players have enjoyed the time they have spent together as friends and a team. Junior Brad Eldridge said, "Playing basketball is a great way to spend time with your friends and show your talents." On January 21, during the break between the boys and girls game against Sparta, head basketball coach Mark Bray was honored with a special recognition ceremony co-hosted by the science department and the Tip-Off Club from various community members for his 300th victory of his coaching career.

The team really showed their talents, close to the end of the season in late January, the boys were 10-7. Senior basketball trainer Sean Stephens said, "I've enjoyed spending time with fine players like J.L. Green and Calvin Christopher." Senior Wayne Henline said, "The lessons I have learned and the experiences I have accumulated in my years as a Jet are priceless and will never be forgotten."

Pass OR Shoot

The Lady Jets have been struggling hard. A season of ups and downs, some wins and some loses has dominated the season. Senior Colleen McMahon said, "This season was full of a lot of hard work, but I would not trade my senior year for anything!"

No matter how difficult the situation seemed, much time and effort has been put in to make this season the best that they could. Senior Brenna Russell said, "Basketball takes up a lot of my time and energy, but when all the girls work together and we win a game it all pays off. I have really enjoyed playing these last two years at C.C.H.S."

The team suffered the loss of several good players from last year. Several newcomers were added to the team. Hopefully these newcomers will stay with the team to serve as building blocks for the future. Junior Andrea Triplett said, "To be a Lady Jet it takes a lot of hard work and dedication and your running shoes better be laced tight." Most of the girls hate to see the season end the way it has. Sophomore Crystal Bohannon said, "Basketball was a great experience. I am really sorry to see it end this year." Most team members hoped to have a better start next year.

Aiming high is sophomore Crystal Bohannon. She says, "Next year will be better."

While on the field, senior Ben Sweeney was thinking of past memories. He says, "I enjoyed all of my years in soccer and wish it wasn't my last."

Run OR Kick

Coaching for her last year, science teacher Annell Shaffer and several determined players experienced a fun and satisfying 92-93 season. They had a great year with an eight and six record and made it to the finals, but lost. Senior Edward Thornton said, "I was really hoping we would make it to the finals, and we did! It was a great accomplishment, even if we did not win."

Practicing through the winter and early spring the team was definitely ready for the games to start. Senior Chad Halford said, "Working hard at practices really paid off. I feel I am a much better player than last year." The team showed their dedication to the game by playing through some rough weather. Senior Tim Stepp said, "It has been a blast this season, most of our games were played during the pouring rain, but that was okay, it made the game more challenging."

Starting a new season this spring the team has aquired a new coach, English teacher, Steve Gunter. Junior Sue Schroeder said, "Soccer is the only sport I know that is all action, it is never boring." With a new coach and new players the team is sure to be even better next year.

The golf season opened on August 17 at Lake Tansi with a match against Knox Halls. Throughout the season Nate Barss, Jason Wyatt, and Earnie Brown were medalists, Scott Calahan received High Honors.

The team was coached by English teacher Richard Fields and members were: senior Nate Barss, junior Earnie Brown, sophomores Troy Wheeler, Scott Calahan, Chris Hollingsworth, and Brad Spears, freshmen Jason Wyatt and Eric McCoy. Senior Nate Barss said, "This is the strongest team I have ever played for. I am glad to be a part of this team."

Regionals were played on October 11 at Willow Creek. Earnie Brown shot a 76 while Scott Calahan and Jason Wyatt both shot 83's. Earnie Brown said, "This year has been a great year, we have a team that is very enthusiastic. Some people have said that this is the best team we have ever had since Thump Delk played here. I am just glad we showed them that we were the best by finishing in the top four in the Regionals."

New uniforms were obtained with the help of the Cumberland County Golf Association. The association supports the team each year in many different ways. Each member received two shirts to wear as part of their uniform.

The tennis team participated enthusiastically in their informal workouts this fall. Actual practice for the spring season started late in February, with the season running from mid-March to early May.

The repair of the tennis courts was one of the teams main concerns this year. Coach Sam Holdsambeck said, "For over a year now we have been actively pursuing getting our courts resurfaced, which they need desperately. Money has been allocated by the City Commission for this purpose, but it is less than twenty-five percent of what is needed. We hope no later than the summer of 1994 to have this done." "It was a wonderful experience to play tennis. Thanks to outside contributors we were able to get some work done on the tennis courts. We are hoping to have an even better season this year. The team owes all of this to that great coach Sam Holdsambeck," said Senior Toby Patton.

Some think tennis is an individual sport, but junior Ashleigh Bean said, "Tennis takes a lot of hard work and teamwork is very important." Besides the competitive aspect of the sport, junior Ivan Hawn said, "We have more fun going out after the matches."

"Last year I was very pleased with the girls' season, though we still can't compete with the bigger schools such as Oak Ridge and Cookeville. I have high hopes for the '94 season, with the girls led by seniors Becca Moon and Mary Billbrey. The boys had a down year, though they fought hard every time out. We graduated four of our top six players, so '94 will be a rebuilding year," says Coach Sam Holdsambeck.

"Even though tennis is an individual sport, all of the players came together to play as a team and hoped to play better than last year," says senior Brenda Yoder.

Set OR Over

With the return of several star players as well as the addition of new team members, the Lady Jet Spikers had another successful and great year. Junior Emily Yeager said, "Volleyball was a lot of fun this year. We will have a more experienced team next year."

Besides many new team members, they also had a new coach. English teacher, Steve Gunter, served as cross country, soccer and volleyball coach. Along with a new coach the team purchased new uniforms with funds remaining from last year. Senior Jyl Parsons said, "Having a new coach, new members, and new uniforms made my last year even more fun."

The team raised money for new equipment, such as a whistle for the coach, because the old equipment was worn out. To raise money they held a car wash where they washed about one hundred different automobiles. During the car wash they also collected donations and many patrons pledged money for the team.

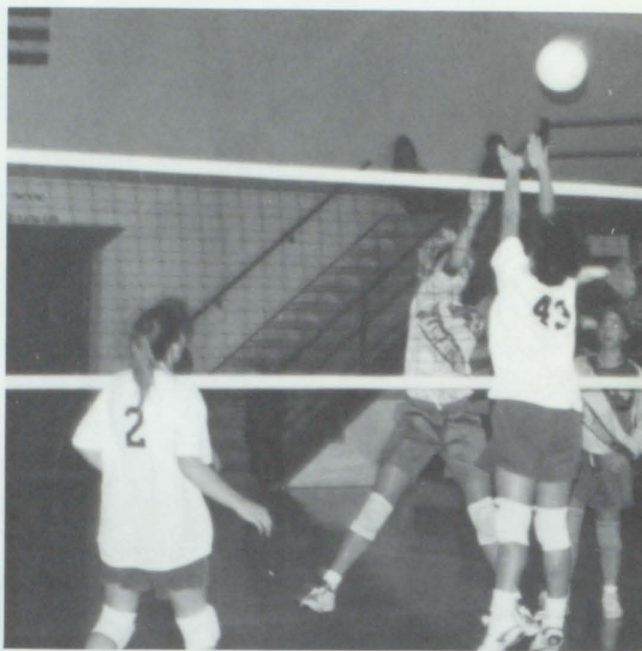

Most team members are looking forward to next year and hoping for improvements in their final record. Junior Jessica Young said, "I had a lot of fun playing."

Sophomore Kristy Honeycutt says, "Gee, I thought volleyball was great. Next year we'll have an even better team and hopefully we'll have more fans."

Junior Emily Yeager says, "This year was disappointing but fun. Next year will be better because we will be more experienced."

Jog OR Sprint

Senior Jeff Findley says, "Cross-country is a great sport. It conditions the mind and body and oh, yeah — it's fun!"

An additional official sanctioned sport added to the selection this fall was a Cross Country team, sponsored by English teacher Steve Gunter. Cross country is similar to a track team with the exception that they run on rough terrain. The practices consisted of an hour of hard, strenuous running. Approximately 30 members showed up for each practice. Senior Chad Halford said, "It is a lot of hard work, but it builds up my endurance." The first meet of the season was held on September 17th at St. Andrews in Swanee, Tennessee. They lost by a small margin but took five out of the top ten spots. Sophomore Crystal Cole placed third overall, first for CCHS; junior Mary Schantz placed fourth overall, second for CCHS. Senior Matt Benson placed fourth overall, first for CCHS; sophomore Seth KinCannon placed fifth overall, second for CCHS; senior Chad Halford placed seventh overall, third for CCHS. Senior Edward Thornton said, "I can't believe we did so well at our very first meet." Senior Tim Stepp said, "I am glad they added the cross country team to school."

Faculty and Staff

Askew OR Plumb

At the beginning of this school year, Alfred Gilliam's horticulture classes began construction on a hydroponics greenhouse. This greenhouse grew lettuce, tomatoes, and cucumbers without the aide of soil. The plants were grown in a water solution that would provide them with the same nutrients and minerals found in soil. This experiment was in cooperation with Barbara Mayfield's early bird Biology II class which met every Wednesday morning with Alfred Gilliam to discuss future plans. During this particular construction period, some students from the Horticulture I class were attempting to install a circuit box.

Equations OR Graphing

Romalina Thompson, who teaches Algebra I, II, and geometry, has been teaching at C.C.H.S. for nine years and during this time has seen many unusual occurrences. One event, according to Thompson, that occurs every time she gives a test is first one child begins sniffing and before long, almost everyone in the room is sniffing. Most teachers strive to find new methods to keep the attention of students. Thompson tries to find relationships between math and every day experiences that students might have, such as a dating relationship, in order to help them.

Drawing OR Painting

Many dedicated individuals are employed by the Cumberland County School Board one of which is art teacher Jane Armes. Some students took art to meet the performing arts requirement for graduation. One of the many sets of instructions she gave her students about art was to always be open-minded to different views.

Other words of wisdom included to always express ones opinion through what you have created, and to let your imagination be an unlimited resource. Art is not only painting, but also drawing, both of which students could do on a computer in the new lab.

Throughout the course of history, some individuals stand out in a persons mind more than others. One of these people was Kathy Hassler, who taught Economics and American Government. Hassler strived to teach her students that everyone is a consumer and that the economy affects their every day lives. She did this by using personal examples, such as the price of gas, in order to help the students to learn better. Not only did she try to stress the importance of the economy, she also strove to emphasize the need to remember the past so that the students might learn from it.

ACADEMICS

Junior Cecil Smith says, "Biology is fun because you learn about life. With chemistry, you learn how things work."

12 — "My favorite class is Advanced American History with Mrs. Akins. It's really interesting, but I hate being in there with a bunch of juniors," said Tonya Elkins.

11 — "When one is involved in many activities, it can be hard to find time for everything, but academics has to come first," said Matt Miller.

10 — "School is a lot like sports, you have to commit yourself into doing it in order to get it done," said Mike Tharp.

12 — "Physics is a trying, but fun subject. Be careful though. It can turn your brain to mush," said Christa Webb.

12 — "My favorite teacher is Ms. Parris. She's very tough, but she is on our level which is cool. Her teachings will help a lot in college," said Travis Isaacson.

"You are what you are able to perform. Increased knowledge is the gateway to better performance," said physics teacher Mark Bray.

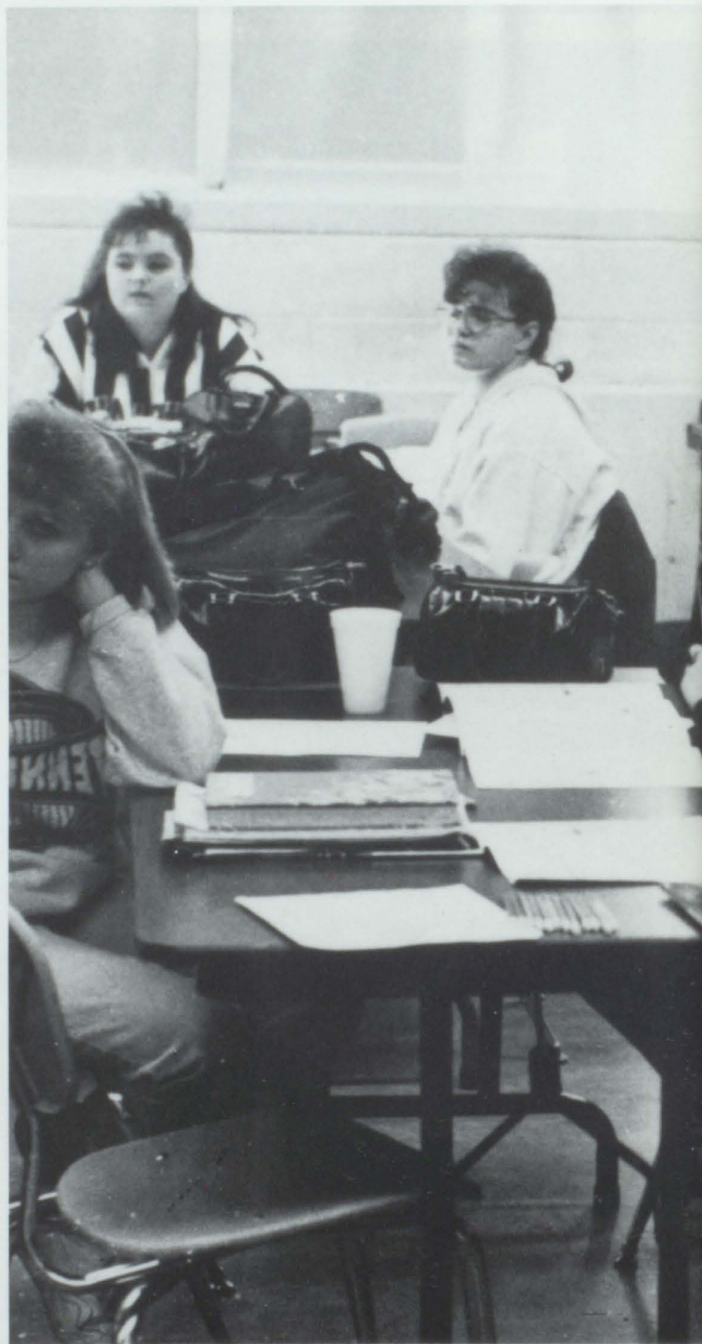

Teacher Carl Neely says, "The masonry experience was great for the students."

New OR Old

Many new classes were instituted to help students find their niche while enrolled at C.C.H.S. Health careers gave an overview of careers in health related fields. Senior Tonya Houston said, "Introduction to nursing is an exciting class to take, and I would advise anyone to take it who is interested in the nursing field." Sports medicine or exercise science gave students instructions in treating and avoiding sports injuries. Physical therapy was designed to teach students about rehabilitation techniques.

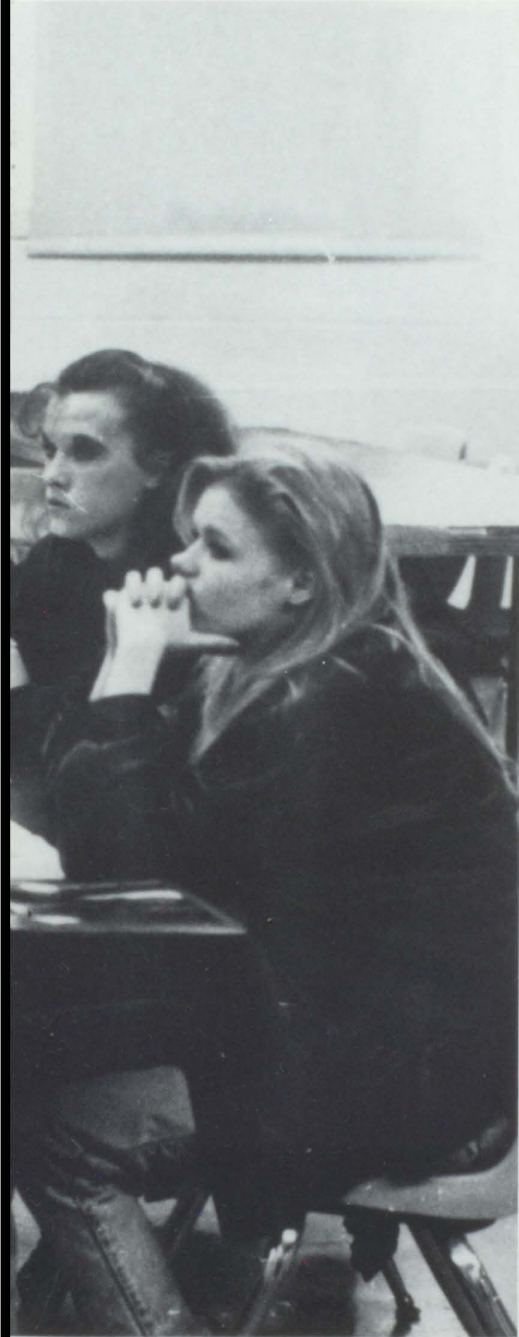

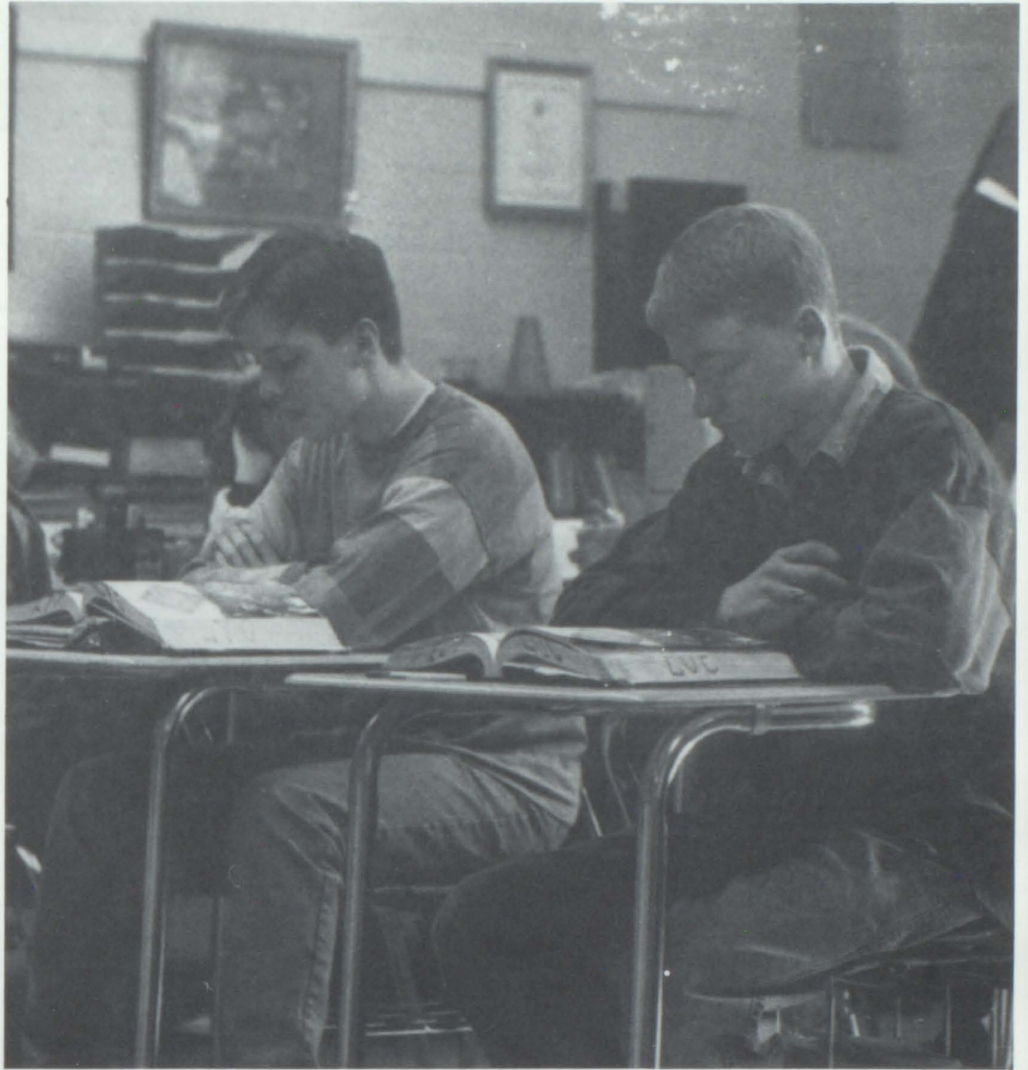

The art department started three beginning level courses: art, painting, drawing and computer art.

Senior Laura Fisher said, "Drawing has been an enjoyable course and has opened my mind for new career choices. I would definitely recommend an art class!" Drama was also restored as a class. Senior Frances Opfer said, "Drama is full of surprises and it really keeps you on your toes. From funny skits to Aristotle's "Poetics", drama is worth the effort." Students in dual enrollment calculus received 10 hours of college credit. Applied biology and chemistry were taught as part of a pilot program and was designed to raise expectations for vocational students.

You do your part and then I will do mine! Senior Tonya Elkins says, "Drama lets me be anyone that I choose to be — whatever character I imagine with whatever thoughts I conceive."

Striving to do his personal best in school, senior Joe Mitchell says, "American Government is very important for all students to take. It gives us a better understanding of our country and its government."

"Consumer and Homemaking II is fun because Mrs. Thornton is always giving you work. If you want a fun teacher go for Mrs. Thornton," says sophomore Tonya Dishman.

"Mr. Davis is a very interesting teacher. He makes class real to you and gets you involved. There's always something he does to catch your attention. Like slapping a cows tongue across my desk," says junior Andrea Triplett.

"Mrs. Armes is the best teacher I've ever had. She makes class very interesting because she contrasts her colored tights with our paintings," says junior Toby Whitson.

She said to go up, down, and around. Like this! See? Sophomore Chrissy Valence says, "Art class with Mrs. Armes is the best class I have this year."

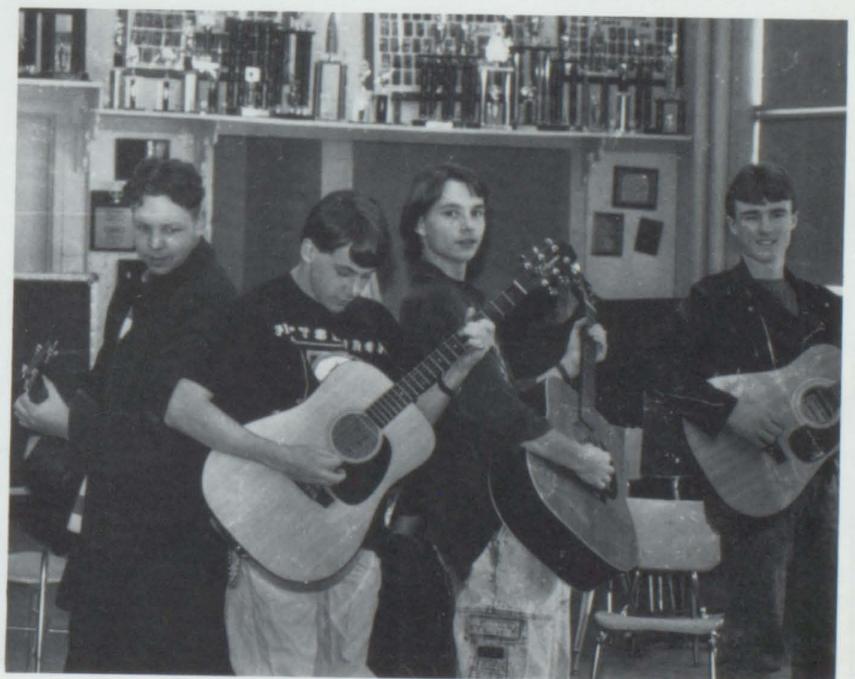

Singing her heart out, sophomore April Kirkpatrick says, "Choir with Mr. Gibson has been really interesting this year. Sometimes he gets really mad at us, but we know that we deserve it."

Written OR Vocal

The visual arts took a whole new turn this year. The institution of many new artistic classes such as drama, drawing, and art history gave students even more ways to express their creativity. Junior Augusta Hassler said, "I expected art history to be very interesting, because it was a new class." In the new drawing class some items were very confusing, even for the most advanced students. Some student's interpretations of the meaning of paintings or other artist's expressions sometimes clashed. Senior Derek Davis said, "What is this supposed to be? We never know what this is supposed to be."

Computer Art gave many students new insight on computers. Some students were not aware of the capabilities of a computer when it came to art. Art teacher Kim Whitson said, "I like being able to teach computer art. Students who do not feel comfortable trying to draw can create a picture or draw on the computer." Computer art exceeded the expectations of many students. Senior Kristy Miller said, "Class is a lot funner than I thought it would be, and it has taught me a lot about computers. I love putting my disk in the trash. Ha! Ha!" Visual arts gave some students a different way to be talented.

Just what I have always wanted to do! Play in a guitar band! Junior Roger Miller says, "Each string on the guitar is like a chance. I break the strings one at a time every time I play."

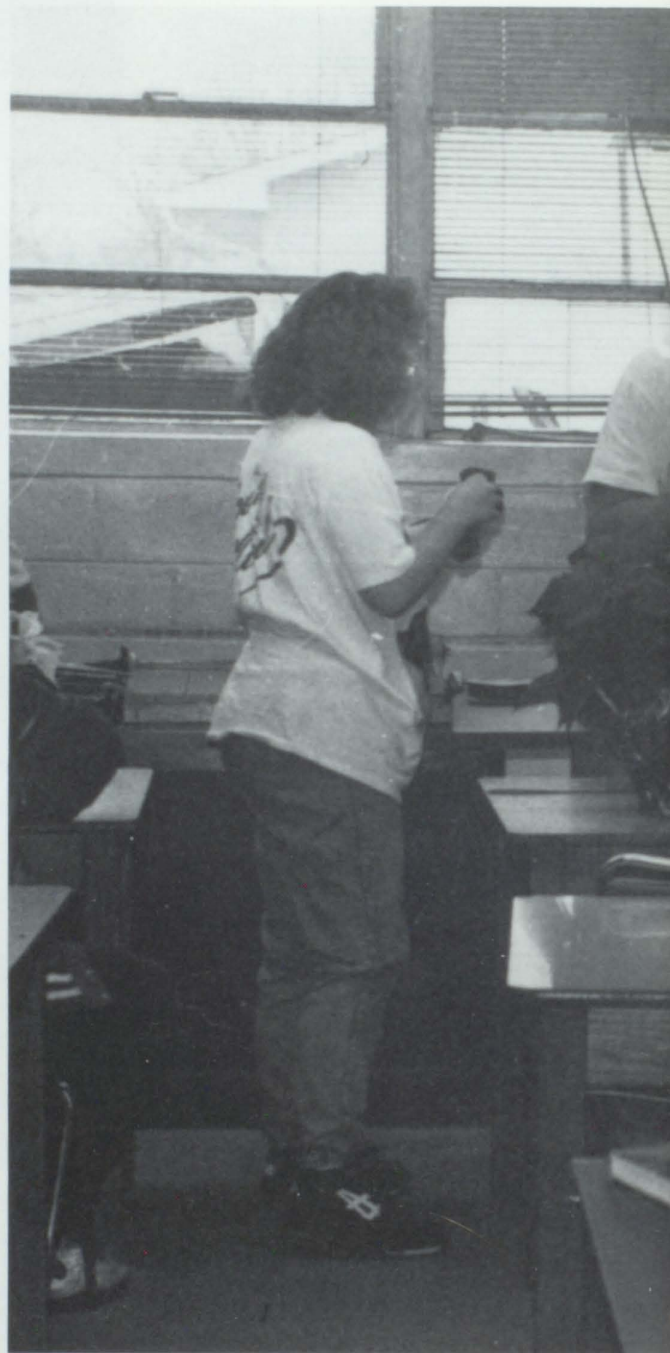

Hands On OR Hands Off

The vocational classes offered the students a chance to learn skills that would help them begin a career. The vocational department also provided students with hands-on experience that gave them more knowledge of job skills such as proper greenhouse methods.

The vocational department also offered courses that would help students adjust to the many aspects of adult life. These classes included family and parenting, adult living, and child development. Classes such as these, helped students prepare for family responsibilities. Many activities, such as mock weddings, were used to help illustrate real life situations. The students also made sand babies, Senior Holly Stover said, "Child development with Mrs. Nixon was lots of fun, especially carrying around our sand babies."

Vocational classes also allowed some students to leave early in order to report to their jobs. Senior Diane Selby said, "I had a lot of fun coming in late to VICA with Mary Ann and making fun of Jake. They would have never made it without me! If they make it!" These classes allowed students to work so they could save money for their future or gain experience in the job world.

Listening and concentrating to the point of pain, junior Shelly Thompson says, "The class of family and parenting was so fun didn't learn much, but I had fun trying to learn."

Helping in what is hoped to be a community restoration project of the Palace Theater in downtown Crossville, Roscoe Freeman's building trades class members are: Donnie Stone, Tim Jordan, Preston Sharp, James Brady, Troy Shaffer, John Hale, Dwayne Robinson, teacher Roscoe Freeman, Andy Pugh, Richard Gunter, Tad Oaks.

Creativity at its best, junior Jonathan Miller says, "Vocational classes offer a lot of opportunities to everyone. They can help you learn about other careers."

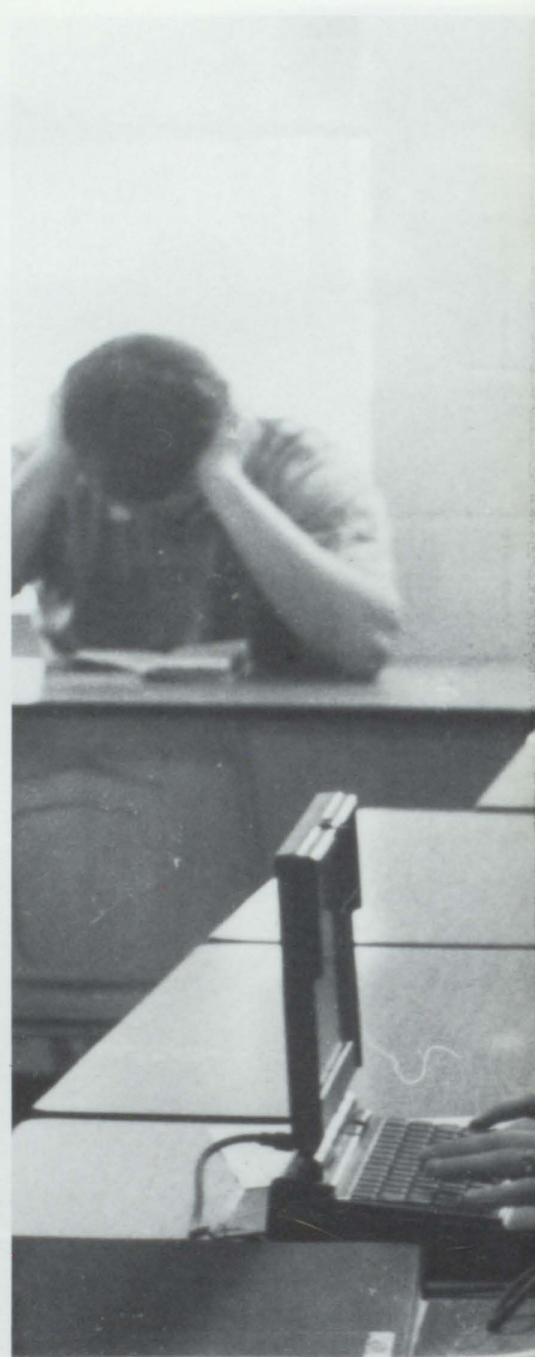

"Agriculture is a great learning experience which helps student to prepare for more activities in farming. It combines present agriculture knowledge with future technology," says sophomore Trever Galloway.

Smiling happily, senior Misty Tabor says, "I had a lot of fun in school. I really liked all of my teachers. I am sorry that this is my last year."

Winners of the food drive: 1st — Anita Bowman, Carol Landreth, Shire Smith, Jennifer Bass, Kim Davenport, Sherry Farris. 2nd—Shamus McMahan, Matthew Roberts, Amy Godsey, Becky Keyes, Paul Davis, Kristy Taylor, Rachel Brown, Angela Abner, Benny Gibbons, Boyd Flowers. 3rd — Glynda Ford, Jeremiah Woody, Nikki Wofe, Cheryl Coleman, Melissa Gingerich, Sam Coia.

Typing on the computer, senior Cheryl Coleman says, "School has been tough, but well worth the effort, and I have enjoyed being a part of it."

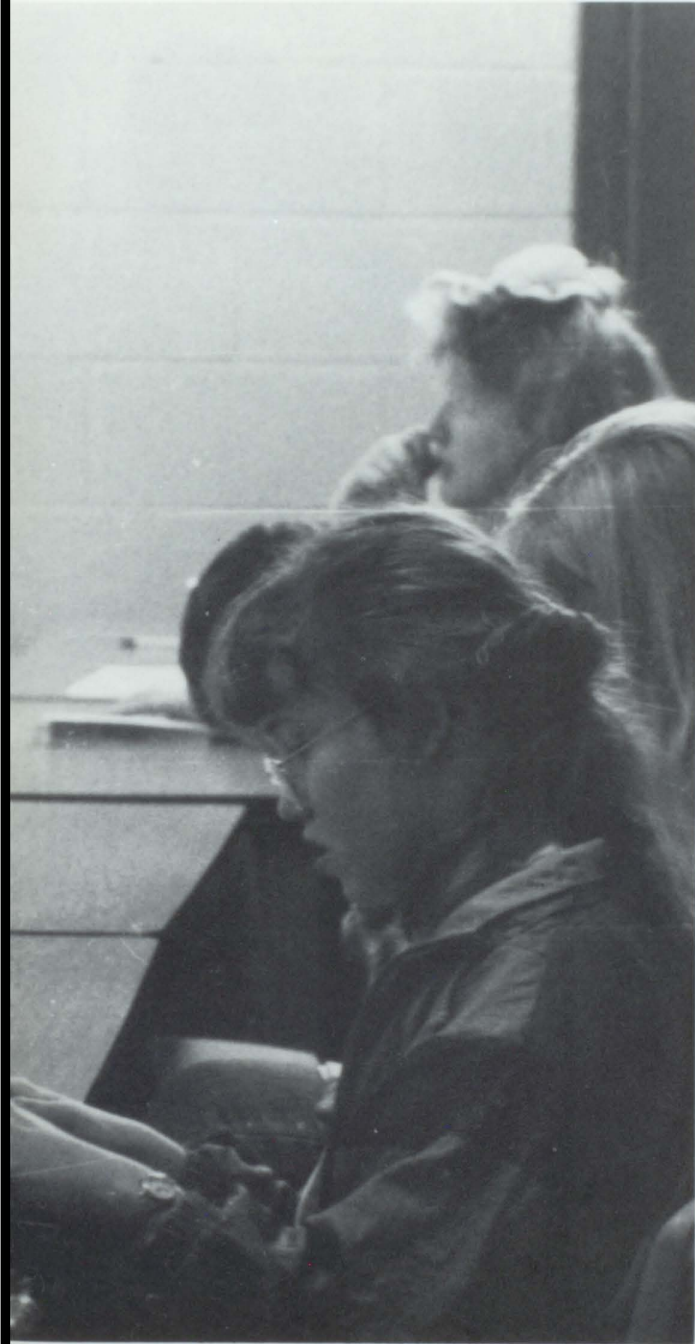

Caring OR Assisting

The Least Restrictive Environment program was a community-based project that integrated students into the work force and aided in preparing them for the real world. Some of the community worksites were: Food Lion, Show Case Video, Cumberland Medical Center, TAP Publishing, Crossville Ceramics, K-Mart, Dairy Queen, and Country Place Health Care Center. Students received work training at these sites where they worked during part of the school day. The class also made necklaces out of cloth and beads and sold them to faculty and students.

The remainder of their school day was spent in a classroom environment. Many adaptive students have been placed in general classes and the instructors are thankful. "A big thank you goes to all of the students and staff that have helped integrate our students into general education classes," said LRE instructor George Kington.

Another special service was adaptive physical education. Dr. Carolyn Landreth instructed this course. Landreth said, "With the help of the teacher assistants we have been able to provide a wide variety of activities for adaptive P.E. classes — from aerobics to special olympic basketball."

Amy Godsey is a junior who enjoys laughing and having fun while she is at school. She loves to spend time with her friends and says, "My friend is short, but I love her anyway."

Oral OR Written

Language classes begin even before students arrive at school. The art of talking is the first language lesson taught and learning to write is the second. After students reach high school some must learn a new language. For some this means learning Spanish or French, for others, such as foreign exchange students it means learning better English. English teacher Sandra Purcell says, "English is our basic tool of communication. We use it every day. Our lives can only be made better if we use this tool effectively." Junior Lesley Holland says, "Spanish is great. It's an easy language to learn."

New languages can be confusing, but two years of a foreign language are required for entrance into most colleges. Junior Carrie Spencer said, "Junior English is the hardest so far, but I am looking forward to senior English next year so I can goof off." Sophomore Carrie Hawn said, "After two years it's still Je ne comprends pas! Maybe that's why Ms. Parris tried to kill herself."

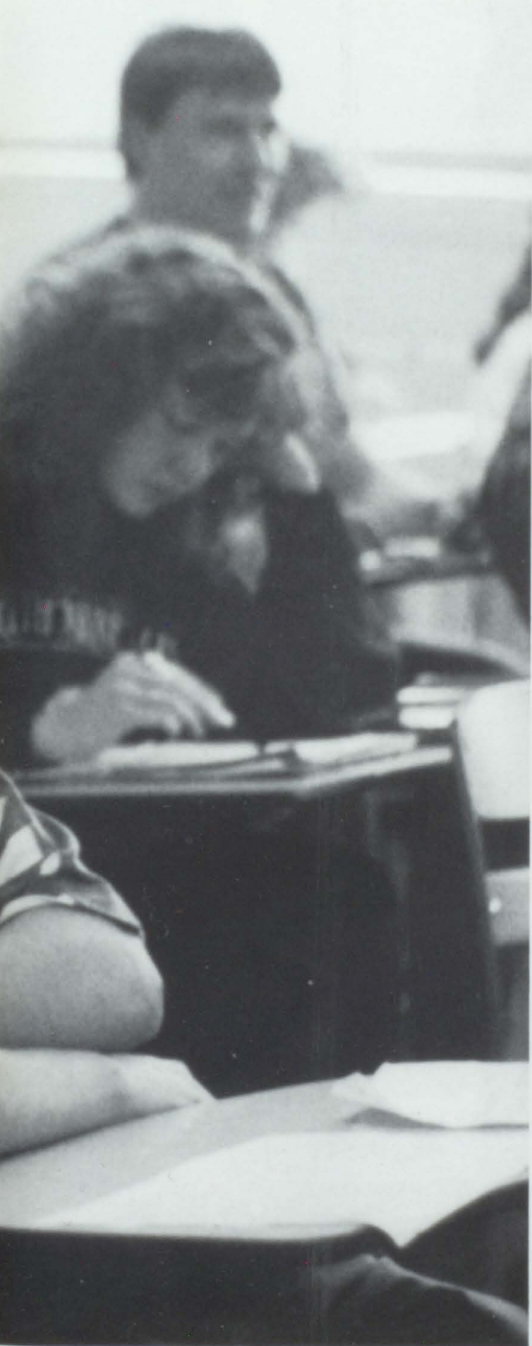

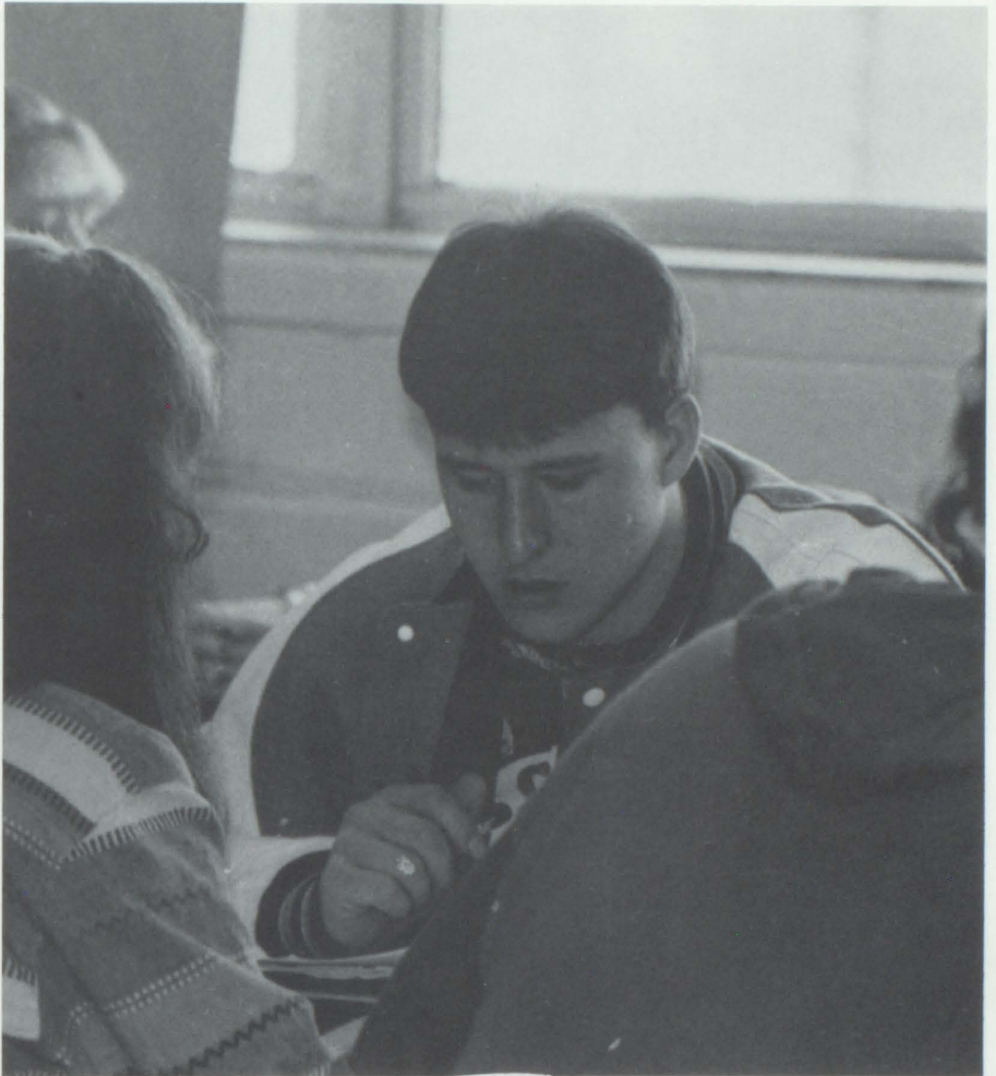

French teacher Jane Parris said her favorite quote from her students was, "How come those people don't talk the way we do?" Her answer, "Because we arrived later, they were here first."

Writing and researching a required paper on EAST OF EDEN, senior Travis Isaacson says, "English is a lot of fun. It will help a great deal in my college classes in the future."

Participating in a group discussion junior Bill Cannon says, "English is a subject that will expand your horizons and broaden your mind."

Trying to concentrate on his homework, junior Tim Roark says, "English class is the best time to remember the quotes and phrases from early times."

Working intently to finish his assignment, junior Shawn Hatfield says, " More and more it seems we as high school students fail to achieve what we should, a lot of times it is because of a communication gap."

Oh great! I forgot my calculator again! Sophomore Tammy Smith says, "Math class is fun because I like learning new things."

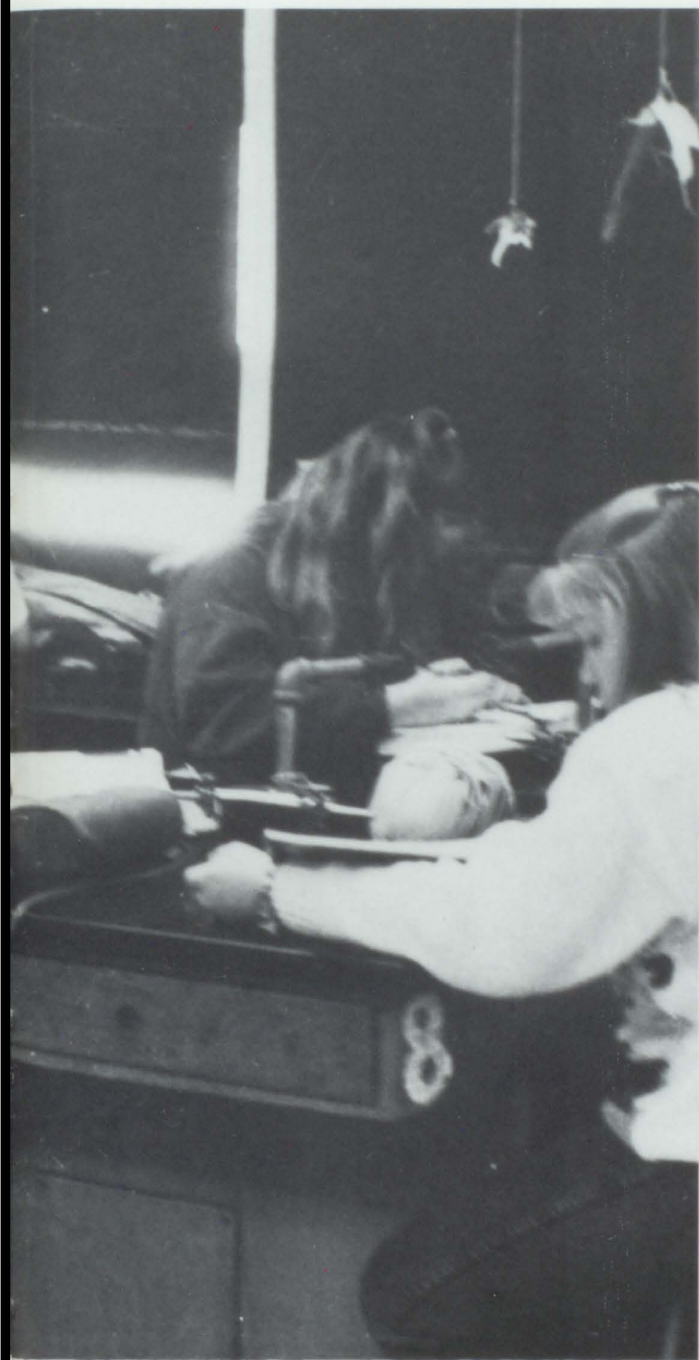

I wish we had cushioned seats! Sophomore Lisa Graham says, "I think that science is an interesting subject that provides a student with insight into life."

You can read that page and I will read this page! Sophomore Sabrina Bowman says, "If it were not for Mrs. Dunigan's constant chatter about chemistry, I would be asleep!"

Measurements OR Symbols

Math and science classes played an important role in everyone's high school education, like it or not! In order to graduate and receive a regular high school diploma, a student must have at least two credits in science, and at least two credits in math. If a student wants to receive an honors diploma, they must have three credits in math (Algebra I, II, and Geometry, or Algebra II, Geometry, and Adv. Math). A student must also have three credits in science, two credits of which must be a lab science (Biology II, Chemistry, or Physics). Fortunately, many students had a positive outlook in these courses. Senior Melanie Napier said, "Ms. Buck makes geometry easy, I enjoy it better than algebra." Sophomore students learned how to make the best of their math classes. Sophomore April Kirkpatrick said, "Math at the high school is a lot harder than at Martin, but my math class is fun." Positive words are also came from C-wing. Science teacher Colleen Wallace said, "The Science Department is trying to accommodate all student learning patterns by incorporating hands on labs in all classes, as well as the traditional lecture. Our rise in scores above the norm seem to indicate that this system is working."

I hope that she will repeat what she just said! Senior Jessica Netherton says, "Math replaces the problems of life with algebraic problems. Mrs. Keyes is a wonderful inspiration."

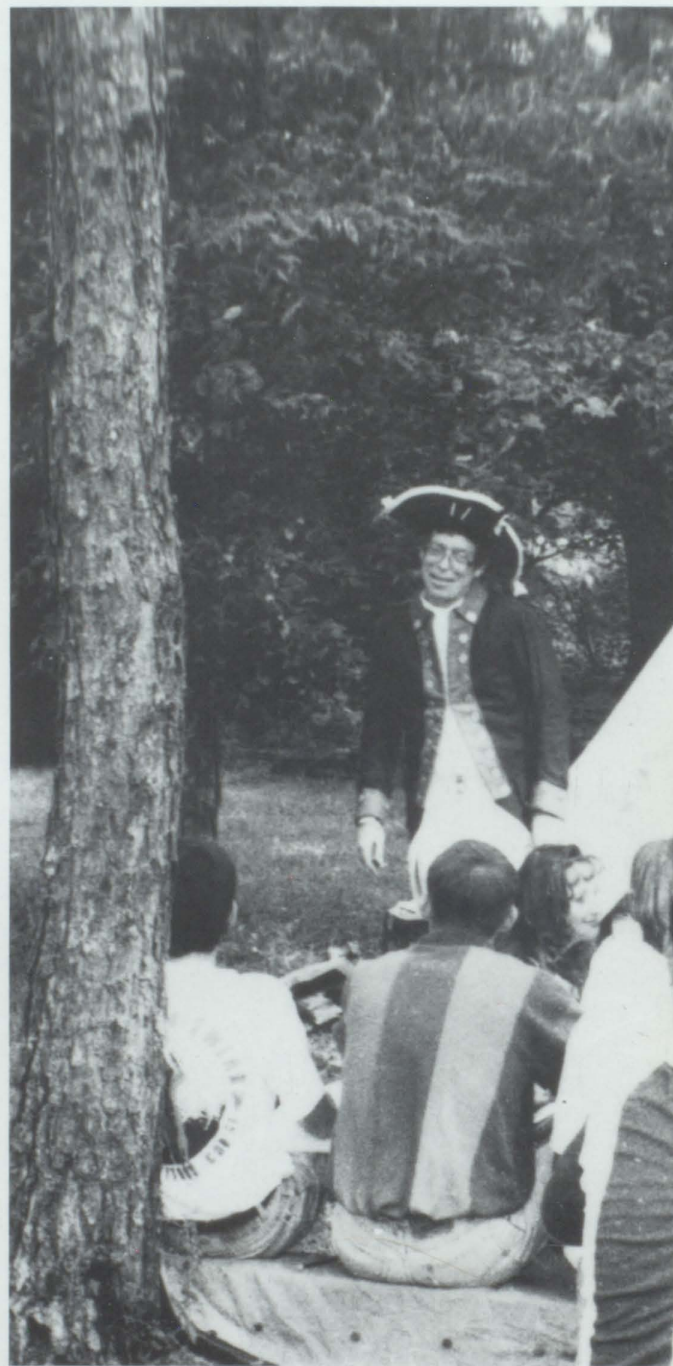

Past OR Present

History classes were a requirement for every student and played a large part in their academic career. In order for a student to receive a regular high school diploma, they must earn one credit in American history, one credit in a social studies elective, and one-half credit in economics. In order for a student to receive an honors diploma, they must have one credit in Advanced American history, one-half credit in economics, and one and one-half credits in social studies electives. Economics, world geography, modern history, world history, ancient history, European history, American history, and American government made up the history department.

Junior Eston Mayberry said "Mr Davis's class is great, he dresses up in uniforms and shows us different weapons in class. He is a great teacher." Many students had to arrange their schedule carefully to include their mandatory history course. Recently, American government has become a requirement for underclassmen to graduate.

American history teacher Evelyn Hargis made the historical quote, " 'For a people to be with history, or to be ignorant of their history is as a person to be without memory.' — by Henry S. Commager."

I need seven more words and I will done with this thing! Sophomore Jennifer Page says, "I sometimes become extremely exhausted after taking notes in government class all period long."

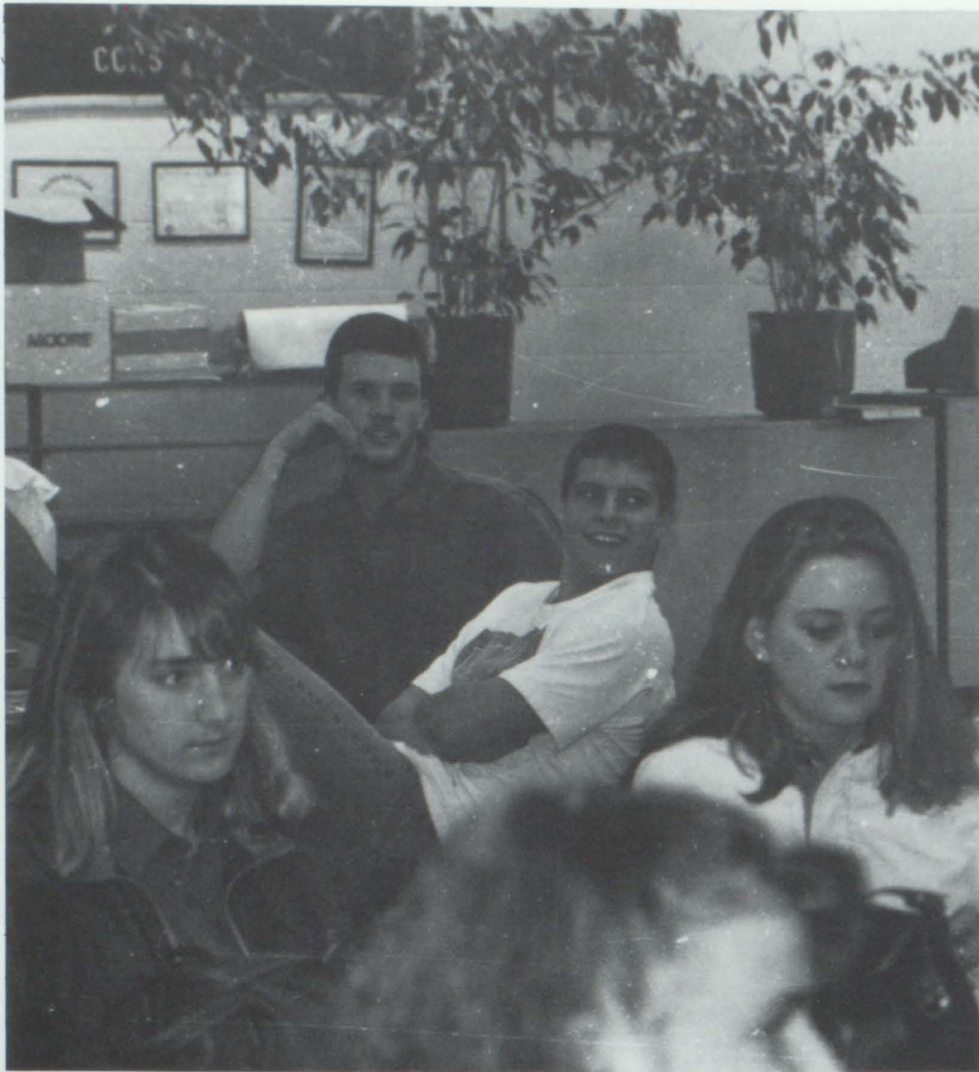

Did you say World War II was over? Senior Tim Hall says, "I think that Mr. Parson's world history class is one the most fun classes at this school."

Teaching history to students in the great outdoors! Teacher J.C. Davis says, "The people may be dead and gone, but history will always live on."

"Government class was really exciting. Ms. Hassler was a really inspiring person to work with and I am glad I had her as my teacher this year," says sophomore Kristy Honeycutt.

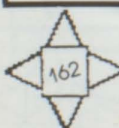

Taking a break from his academic studies, junior Josh Tollett says, "With J.D. Atkinson teaching, it makes the class a whole lot easier and a lot more fun."

Square dancing to the best of country music, senior Stephanie Wilson says, "Mr. Vanwinkle challenged and inspired his students. I felt honored for having him as my teacher."

Working hard to finish her assignments before the bell rings, junior Polly Collett says, "Business classes will help you in the work place by giving you experience in communication and business skills."

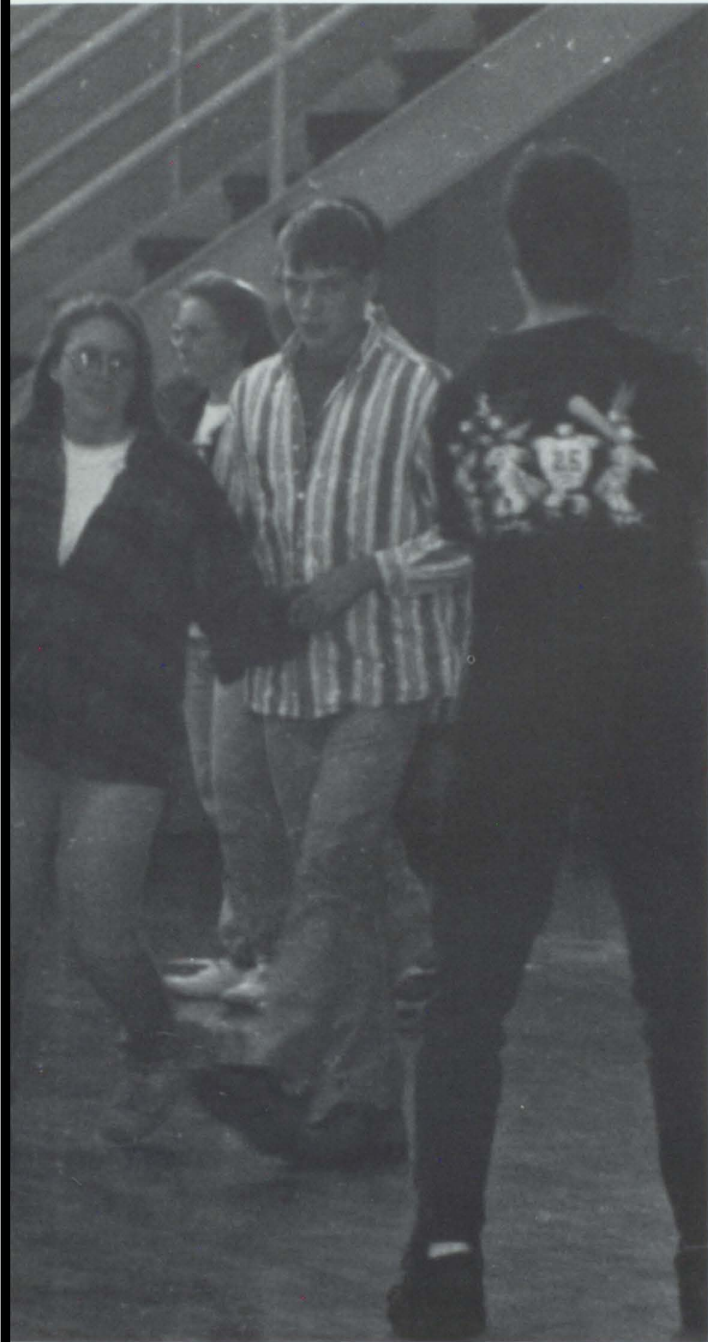

Necessary OR Elective

Business and required courses are not really as bad as some people may think. They provide students with information to keep them up to date with the world around them. Sophomore Chad Wallace says, "The beginning computers class is good for starting the learning process because it shows the student the many wonderful things a computer can do."

Although there are many teachers that a student will have while they are in school, some will remain in a student's mind more than others. Having good teachers in these courses can keep the students from going crazy while trying hard to learn. Junior Gary Winningham says, "Ms. Dooley is like a vein of English blood flowing into all of our teenage minds. Thanks to Ms. Dooley I have achieved all of my goals that I wanted to pursue my junior year in English class. I love you for everything."

All students must take four years of English and one year of American History. With the new requirements for students beginning in 1994, two years of science are necessary. The graduating class of 1998 will have to choose a technical or university pathway at the end of their eighth grade year to meet the new High Schools That Work program requirements.

Striving to achieve perfection in education, junior Alex Redwine says, "If it wasn't for all this dedication and hard work I would be having fun right now."

ADS

Admiring the fruit of their labors, sophomore Benny Gibbons says, "I always follow directions."

11 — "With most of last years players returning and all the pre-season training, we should have a competitive team this year," said Keith Wyatt.

11 — "I think student life consists of having to get up in the morning, getting ready for school, coming to school, getting out, going to work or coming home, and doing homework. A student's life is complicated," said Jessie Matthews.

11 — "I think Mr. Davis makes history come to life," said Jennifer Taylor.

11 — "Clubs are a great time to speak your mind or feelings on an agenda," said Shelley Thompson.

11 — "For the most part, everyone is really nice and ready to help when asked. Others could use some help in that department," said Mary Schantz.

"The environmental club is one of the largest and most active groups at CCHS. I'm really proud of the recognition we've received from the community," said science teacher/club sponsor Annell Shaffer.

Working in class, junior Kara Hassler says, "Education is the key to success."

Sid's Congratulates Annge Sidwell! (It's about time!)

Good luck in Texas!

Sid's (and the parents of the above) would like to sincerely thank Coach Schlafer and Coach Inman for making Annge believe in herself. Thank you — our support and love always.

And to senior Jets: you pulled together when things were tough; you hung in there through wins and losses, and for all of that, we are proud. You set an excellent, A.C.E. example. Good luck!

Pix OR Story

A letter from the editors,

For me, this year has been full of new experiences. I met my co-editor Ashlara Austin and my yearbook staff. With the help of Ms. Hemmati (my wonderful advisor) and Ashlara, we have put together a yearbook. This being my first year of editing, there were things that I was unsure of doing, but as the year progressed I have mastered the art of cropping, layout drawing, caption making, stress handling, and meeting every deadline on time. (Ha! Ha!) J.G.

As this year began, I was slightly apprehensive as to what my co-editor, Jennifer Gilliam, would be like and whether or not I would be able to produce a 216 page yearbook. I soon discovered that I had nothing to worry about, except maybe prank phone calls from small children and band-aid man. After having written copy, captions, and drawn layouts, I now know that it takes talent, dedication, and a true love of the arts to stick with this.

We hope that you enjoy this book as much as we have enjoyed putting it together and that everyone found "A Place To Fit In." A.A.

Editors: Ashlara Austin and Jennifer Gilliam.

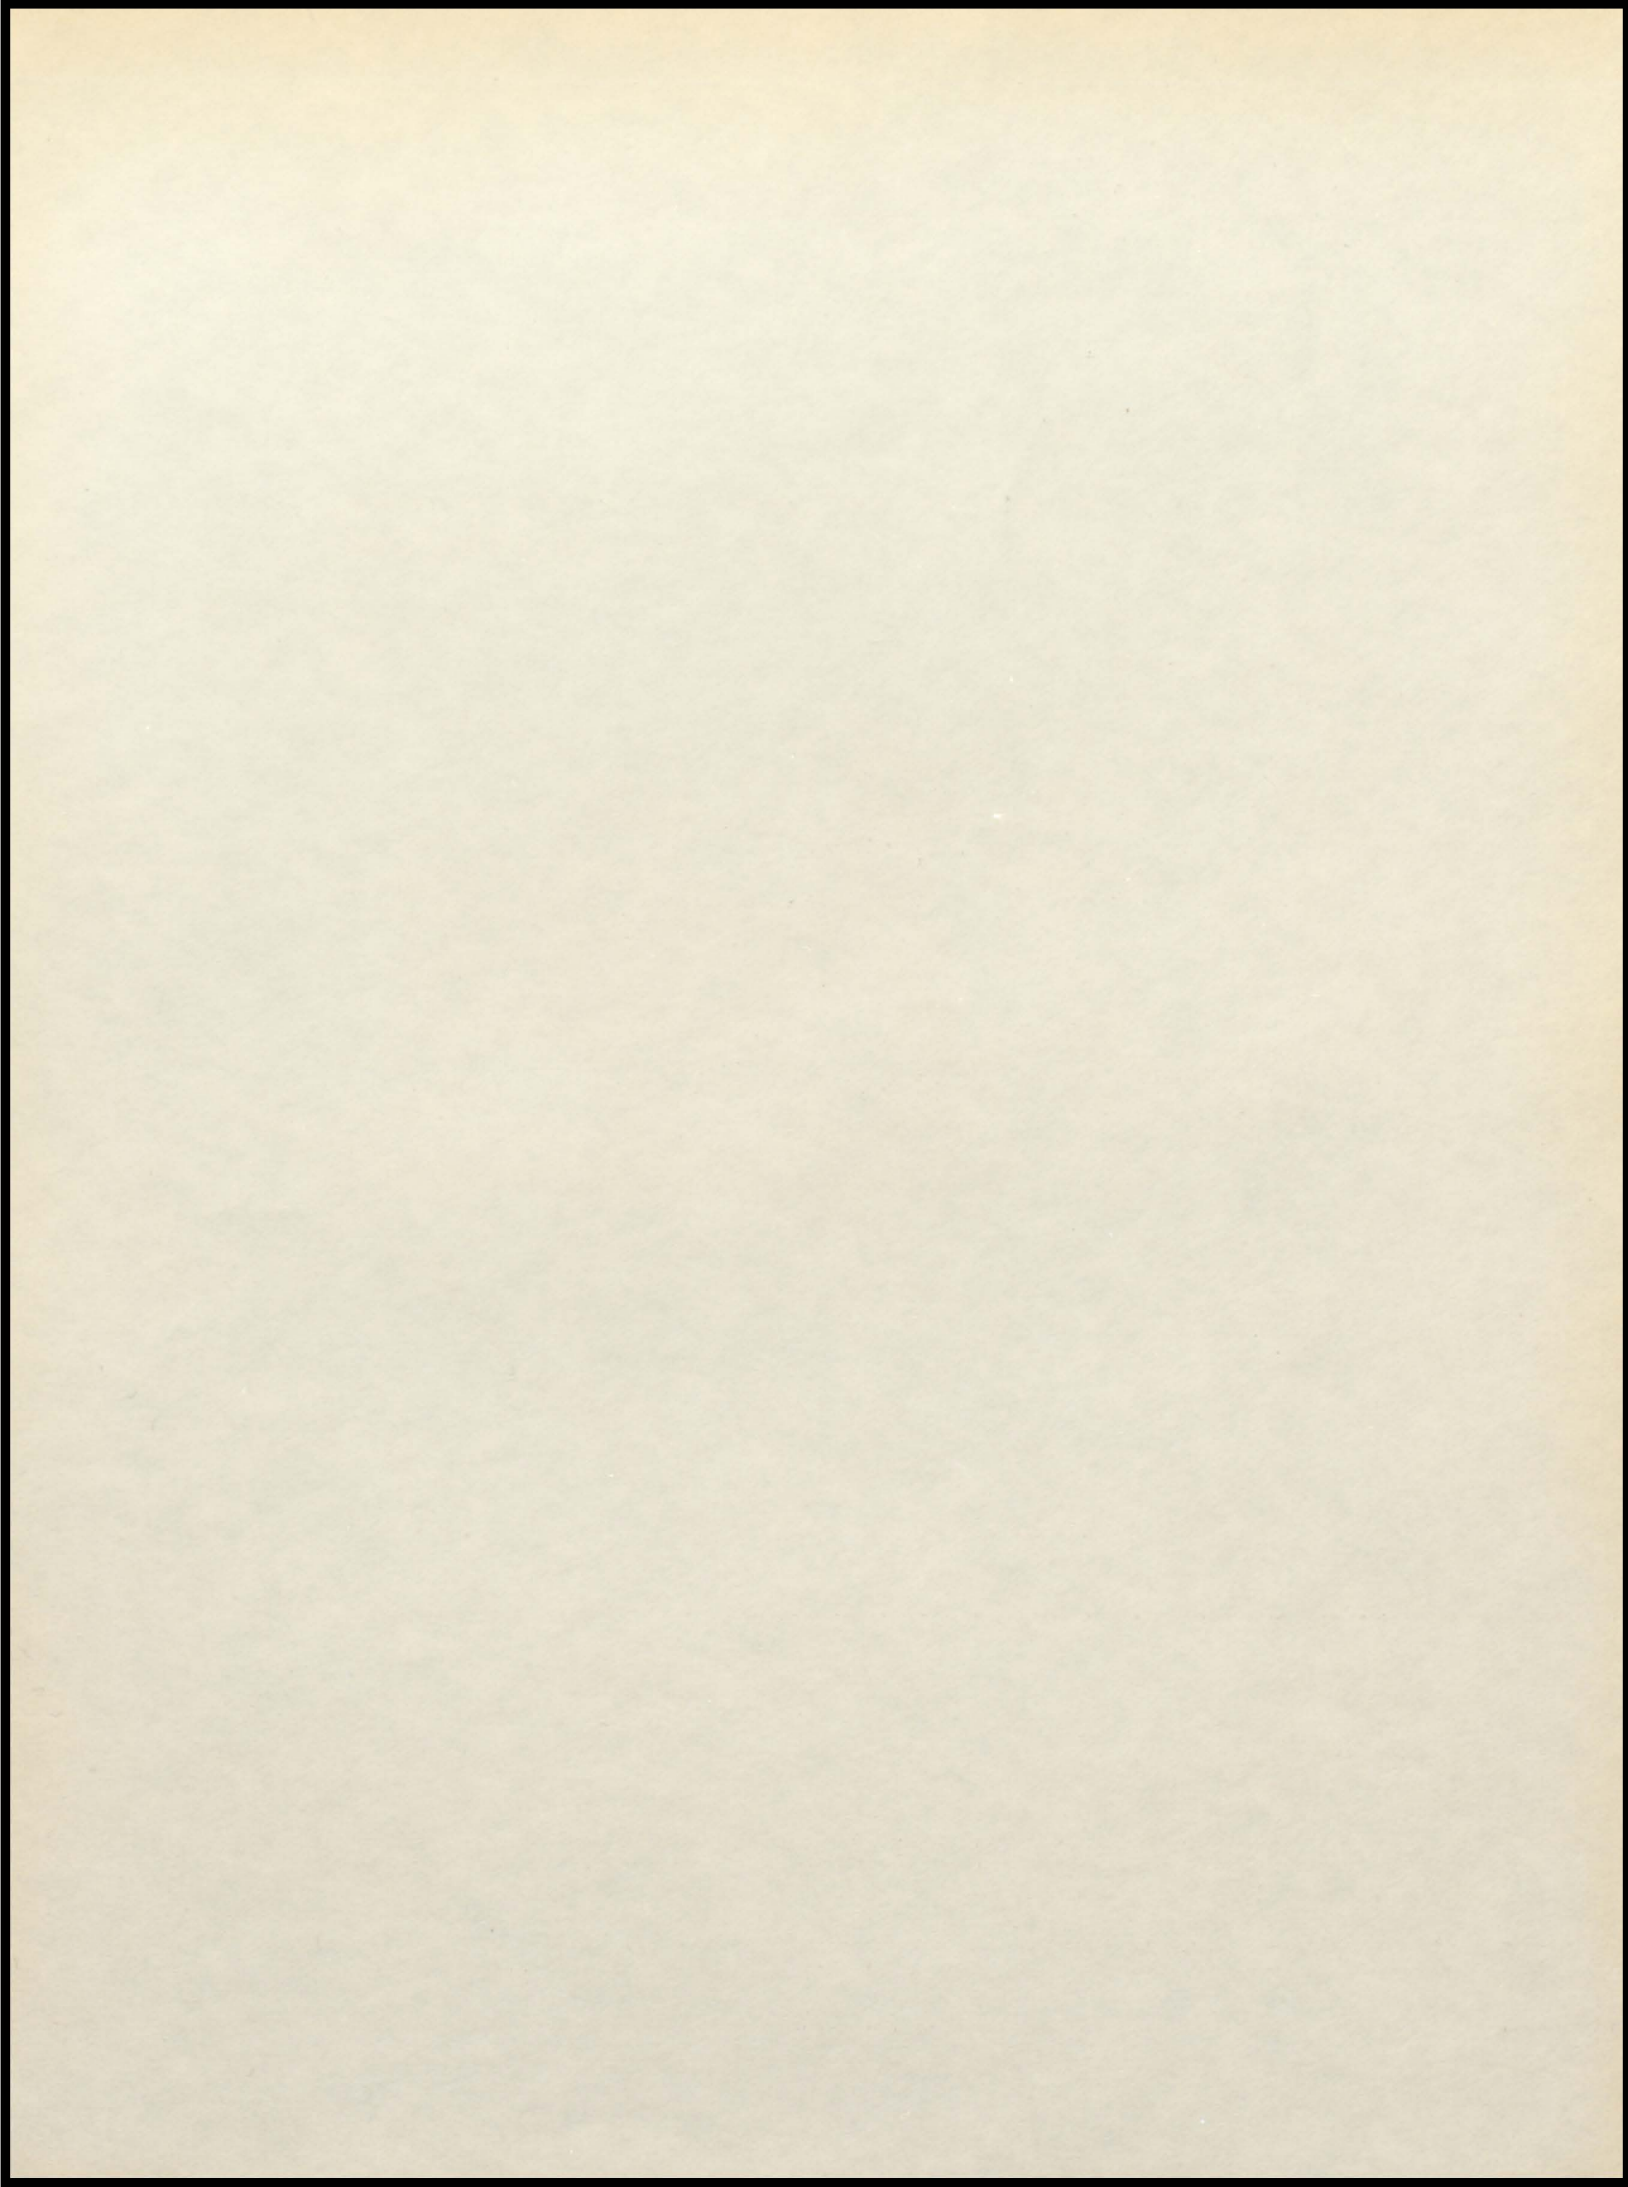

Senior Brent Irvin says, "Graduating is something that everyone looks forward to and it's finally here. Where I go, and what I do with my life is something else to think about. But when I go, I am not going to forget my friends or my teachers, and I hope the underclassmen have just as much fun as I did."

COLOPHON

The theme of the 1994 Plateau, volume 31, is "Where do you fit in?" The 800 books ordered were printed by Jostens Printing & Publishing Co. in Clarksville, Tennessee. Each book contained 216 pages. The custom designed cover and backbone were craft-line embossed, using Smoke 491 material, with flatscreen colors of Blue 349, and Yellow 339. A Cordova grain with a Black 326 rub was also applied. The cover typestyle was in various sizes 48 Benguiat Bold. The front and back endsheet were custom designed with a picture, logo, copy added in 13 Avant Garde, and senior names were in the design of the number 94.

The type was Style 13 Avant Garde, 37i Souvenir, 87 Ronda, and 74 Friz Quadrata. Optional typestyles included 52 University and 36i Serif Gothic Bold. Captions were set in 9 pt., body copy in 11 pt., main headlines in 42 pt., sub-headlines in 14 pt., folio tabs in 8 pt., and division page headlines in 42 pt. Special thanks to the C.C.H.S. faculty, advertisers, photographers Superior School Services, Jostens representatives Harold "Homer" McGeehee, and plant consultant Tanza Perry.
