Merry Christmas from Our Family to Yours

As I sit down to write this letter, I find it hard to fathom that 2023 is drawing to a close. It seems like just yesterday we welcomed the beginning of this year, and now we are looking at a new, exciting, not yet written chapter. Time flies when you're old, doesn't it? But what a remarkable year it has been, filled with blessings that have touched our hearts deeply.

Looking back on the past year, one monumental blessing stands out among the rest – the construction of the new dormitory for our ladies. It's amazing to think about how far we've come, and this achievement was made possible only through your kindness and generosity. The joy in their eyes is a testament to the love and care that you have showered upon them. This housing unit will be beneficial for years to come!

We have also been blessed by many of you who have come and volunteered here. Generously staying and working with our residents while taking time out of your regular routine. For that we are grateful.

With the residents singing Christmas carols and making beautiful crafts, it's beginning to look a lot like Christmas! Christmas at Galilean Home has always been a special time, although our celebrations might seem simple in comparison to the grandeur of the outside world. We've instilled in our children the true essence of this beautiful season – it's not about the lavish decorations or the abundance of gifts. With a group as large as ours, practicality is a way of life. Nevertheless, the day is filled with laughter, warmth, and an abundance of joy. And that's thanks to you, our dear donors. In recent years your kindness has brought Christmas to us through items from our Amazon list. It might seem like a simple gesture, but the impact it has on our residents is immeasurable. The shoes, coats, and pajamas and clothes mean the world to our folks and gives them what they need for the whole year. You can find the list on our Facebook page and Website.

In the midst of our everyday life, we see Butchie continuing to thrive, Rosie welcoming everyone with hugs and George, with his unyielding spirit, assists the UPS man with a smile on his face every single day. I guess you could say that through the lives of our residents who are overcoming challenges daily, we witness Christmas miracles unfold before our eyes every day. These miracles are not grandiose or flashy; they are subtle, heartwarming moments that remind us of the goodness of God. And you, our dear friends, are the ones who allow us to continue our work here at the Galilean Home.

As we look ahead, we are excited to see how God is going to move. He never ceases to cover us with his blessings and provision. Enclosed in every newsletter is an envelope to make it easy for you to give. Your continued support can help us provide resources and enhance the lives of our residents in the coming year.

I extend an open invitation to each one of you. Come, visit us anytime. Experience the magic of our home, witness the love that permeates every corner, and share in the joy that your kindness has bestowed upon us. You are not just donors; you are cherished members of our Galilean family, and we are profoundly grateful that you are in our lives.

Merry Christmas from our family to yours,
