

Ventnor Middle School Falcon Code of Conduct - 2022-2023

DISCIPLINE: Discipline is everyone's responsibility. Any disciplinary action taken by a school official is intended to affect a favorable change in student behavior. We provide an atmosphere that is conducive to learning and one which encourages proper conduct – in other words, “Students are here to learn.”

This Student Code of Conduct will be equitably applied without regard to race color, religion, ancestry, national origin, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, or a mental, physical, or sensory disability or by any other distinguishing characteristic. Teachers should review the Red Flag and Yellow Flag infractions and consequences with their classes during the first week of school. These guidelines are to be used as a tool to solve the problems that may occur on any given school day. Teachers should remember that the students are children learning to function in society and will be fair with each student as an individual.

Our Code of Conduct outlines the basic expectations of each student and includes the following:

Yellow Flag Offense (1-Letter): At the start of the school year, the teacher will attempt the following interventions prior to sending an initial yellow flag referral to the office:

Violation-

- a. The teacher will instruct the student about the code of conduct that was violated and how the student can correct the behavior in the future. The student will also be informed by the teacher at this time that his/her parent/guardian will be notified the next time a yellow flag code of conduct is violated.

Second Violation-

- b. The teacher will again instruct the student about which code of conduct was violated and what is expected with future behavior
- c. To the best of the teacher's ability, he/she will make an attempt to contact the parent/guardian by phone to inform him/her that a yellow flag code of conduct has been violated. At this time, the teacher will also inform the parent/guardian that any future yellow flag code of conduct violation will result in a yellow flag referral to the office
 - Any Exemptions from this parent/guardian phone requirements are listed below
 - This parent/guardian phone call attempt only applies from the start of the year.
- d. A copy/summary of the above parent/guardian notification will be forwarded to the middle school principal by email. This will be used as supporting documentation in any future communication with the parent/guardian in the event that a yellow flag referral is submitted later in the year.

I will act appropriately so teachers can teach, and students can learn.

Essential Question: Does what I am about to do affect the teacher's ability to teach or the ability of the other students to learn?

Students demonstrate this code of conduct by:

- a. Arriving to school on time at 8:15am.

- b. Being where they're supposed to be, when they're supposed to be there, and with the materials they're supposed to have (books, notebooks, pencil/pen, binders, being on time to class, etc.).
- c. Being quiet, cooperative, and productive (i.e., making an effort to complete class work) in class while politely contributing to discussions when appropriate. Chronic failure to complete classwork will result in a yellow flag warning.

- e. Computer is present and fully charged.

- f. Keeping hands, feet, and objects away from other students even when playing.
- g. Students who are absent for an extended period of time must make up their assignments in an appropriate amount of time. - h. Acting appropriately in the hallway, at lunch, at recess, in assemblies, class trips, and anything else that occurs outside of the classroom.

Chronic Referrals and SIRS (Student Intervention and Referral Services)

Despite the best efforts of teachers, our FCC policy and administration, some students continue to engage in unproductive behavior. The Ventnor Middle School possesses a SIRS committee in order to develop a plan for students’ success and refocuses on learning. Teachers are encouraged to use the SIRS team whenever possible. A teacher who writes up the same child three times is required to complete a referral to the VMS SIRS team.

Chronic Absences:

- At 5 unexcused absences in the school year- warning letter sent home
- At 10 unexcused absences in the school year – parent/student meeting with the principal
- At 15 unexcused absences in the school year- parent/student meeting with the principal
- At 20 unexcused absences in the school year - truancy papers will be filed with the courts

Unexcused Detention Absences:

Students are expected to attend the detention assigned. In the event that a student is absent for a detention without prior notification, that student will need to make-up that unexcused detention and will be assigned an additional detention.

Behavioral Ineligibility Rules:

Students who become behaviorally ineligible will be so for a period of 1 month from the day they lost their last letter. These students will not be allowed to attend the extravaganza for the marking period in which they become behaviorally ineligible, regardless of when that extravaganza takes place. During their ineligible period they will not be allowed to participate in any activities, attend non-academic assemblies or go on any class/club field trips during the school day.

If a student becomes behaviorally ineligible during a marking period and receives additional write-ups, each subsequent write-up during that marking period would add additional time of ineligibility at a rate of 10-days per letter offense (Yellow Flag = 10 days, Red Flag = 20 days, etc)

At the start of the next marking period the process starts over and the student gets 4 more letters. The student, however, may still be behaviorally ineligible at the start of the next marking period if his/her 1 month of ineligibility dictates.

Being Behaviorally Ineligible Means:

- The student cannot attend the extravaganza for the marking period in which they are ineligible regardless of when that extravaganza takes place. For example, if an extravaganza takes place prior to the official end of a marking period and/or before teachers officially enter their grades, the parent portal will be used to determine eligibility prior to this extravaganza
- The student cannot participate in activities and is immediately removed from the activity's roster.
- The student cannot attend non-academic events.
- The student cannot go on any class/club field trips during the school day.
- The student may not be on school property after school hours without a parent.

Academic Ineligibility Rules:

A student will be considered academically ineligible if he/she receives:

- 1 or more F's in any subject at the end of the marking period.
- 3 or more D's in any one marking period in any subject.
- 3 scores of 74 or below on his or her mid-marking period interim.

All Academically Ineligible students will be reevaluated at the next marking period's interim. A student who is Academically Ineligible can regain eligibility by have a grade of 75 or better in that subject(s) that caused ineligibility.

Being Academically Ineligible Means:

- The student cannot attend the extravaganza for the marking period in which he/she is ineligible regardless of when that extravaganza takes place. For example, if an extravaganza takes place prior to the official end of a marking period and/or before teachers officially enter their grades, the parent portal will be used to determine eligibility prior to this extravaganza
- The student cannot begin any activities (sports, clubs, play, etc.)
- The student cannot attend non-academic events.
- The student cannot go on any non-academic class/club field trips during the school day. The grade level teachers will determine if the trip is academic.
- Academically ineligible students, involved in an activity at the time of the interim or report card, may continue with their activity as long as he or she attends 3 academic afterschool sessions per week and 3 morning math sessions. The students will be monitored by the grade level SIRS representative. A proof of attendance form will be kept by the teacher in charge of the activity.
- For those students who become academically ineligible and involved in sports, they must attend academic afterschool on days when their games are played at home/Ventnor.

EXCEPTIONS ACADEMIC INELIGIBILITY:

- During certain occasions, by administrative approval, academically ineligible students who go “above and beyond” or engage in “Exemplary activities” can be exempt from ineligibility for a particular event. Such exemptions should occur no more than once per school year for a particular ineligible student. This administrative exemption is limited to academic eligibility only, not behavior eligibility.
- The 8th Grade end-of-the-year activities will be governed by a separate policy regarding academic eligibility due to the unique nature of these activities (see below).

Academic Eligibility in the 4th Marking Period:

A student who is academically ineligible in the 4th Marking Period would continue to be Academically Ineligible until the Interim of the 1st Marking Period of the following school year and will be required to attend academic afterschool and 3 morning math sessions per week. At the Interim, academically ineligible students will be reevaluated using the same criteria mentioned above.

Academic/Non-Academic Assemblies:

Our population of behaviorally ineligible students should attend certain assemblies/programs (gang/drug/motivational/etc.) and while at these assemblies/programs will be seated in an open/visible area of the auditorium so that they may be better supervised.

Non-Academic Assemblies:

Behaviorally ineligible students may not attend non-academic assemblies as determined by administration.

Activities and Absences:

In order to be eligible for any after school activity a student must be present in school on that day. Such after school related activities can include: school sponsored sporting events, music/band performances, school play, school dance and class/group after school trips.

Administration would need to grant prior approval for a student to attend any of the above activities in the event that the student was absent with a legitimate reason (doctor’s appointment, for example).

Super Extravaganza: Students may qualify for the end of year Super Extravaganza by-

1. Students must not have an external suspension from school.
2. Students must remain discipline eligible for the entire year.
3. Students must be referral free either marking periods 1 and 2 (1st half of the year) or marking periods 3 and 4 (2nd half).
4. Student with referrals in both MP 1/2 and MP 3/4 will not qualify.

3 - Day Rule for Class Trips/Extravaganzas:

- The 3 - Day rule will be:
 - Written on the permission slip for any class trip/extravaganza
 - Signed by parent
 - Returned to school before the 3 - day period begins.
- The organizing teacher/grade level team will be responsible for keeping track of who can and who cannot go on a class trip/extravaganza.

Lunch and ID's:

- All students are required to have a school issued ID for the duration of the school day.
- ID's are to be with the student while on school grounds.
- Students will be checked for ID's prior to entering the lunchroom on a daily basis.
- Students who do not have the required ID at lunch will go to the back of the lunch line and will be served last.

Student of the Marking Period:

- Students who have received a discipline referral in a marking period cannot be selected as Student of the Marking Period for that marking period.

Homework/Practice - Assignment Forms:

- It is expected that Math Practice will be assigned and completed each school night.
- A parent/guardian can request that a teacher fill out a Homework/Practice Assignment Form only after the student has missed 3 days of school. It is expected that students who receive a Homework/Practice Assignment Form complete the assignments. If a Homework/Practice Assignment Form is completed, teachers will hold the students accountable for that work. Teachers will follow their normal classroom policy if the work is not turned in upon the student's return.
- A Homework/Practice Assignment Form will not be completed by the teacher for students who miss 2 days of school or less. These students will complete the work when they return to school. These students will also have the same number of days to complete work as they were absent.
- If a student is going on vacation lasting 5 or more days, a parent/guardian may request a Homework/Practice Assignment Form to be completed by the teachers of that student provided at least one week's notice is given.
- If a student misses class, for any reason (absence, activities, school play, etc.), the student is responsible for making up the work that was covered. By law, any students suspended from school will have work provided for them.

Checks and Balances for Discipline Policy:

Discipline Record Book: A Discipline Record Book will be created for each grade level each marking period. If a discrepancy appears in the administration of discipline, there are two remedies:

- The referring teacher can personally speak with the administrator to discuss the discrepancy and work out an acceptable compromise
- The referring teacher can ask a VCEA representative to speak to the administrator on his/her behalf.

Administrative Rights:

- Administration reserves the right to increase the consequences of any discipline consequence depending on the infraction, history of behavior, and communication with referring teacher. Consequences can increase from additional after school detentions to external suspensions at the discretion of the administration.
- Administration reserves the right to search and inspect student lockers at any time during the school year. Locker inspections and searches may be with or without reasonable suspicion.

DRESS AND GROOMING:

The Board of Education recognizes that each pupil's mode of dress and grooming is a manifestation of the pupil's personal style and individual preference. The Board will not interfere with the right of students and their parents to make decisions regarding their appearance, except when their choices affect the educational program of the schools. Inappropriate dress is that which may be disruptive to the educational process; that is, distracts students from their work or may be considered potentially dangerous or harmful. The following dress standards are designed to serve these purposes and are expected to be followed.

Clothing that is unacceptable and should not be worn to school include the following*:

- Shirts advertising alcoholic beverages, tobacco or those with obscene or questionable printing on them depicting violence or weapons.
- Outerwear such as coats, vests, jackets, gloves, hats, scarves, bandana headwear and sunglasses.
