Foreword

Because a few forward-looking citizens saw visions of what could be achieved through sacrifice, effort, cooperation, and determination, Cumberland County now has its dream school. Our purpose is to tour the building with our readers, in order that they may see what our daily life here is like.

To those who cannot return to youth and school days may it bring back fond memories of the days when you, too, were a student in a building that was dear to you.

To those who have helped to bring about the realization of this dream, may it bring a justifiable pride and satisfaction.

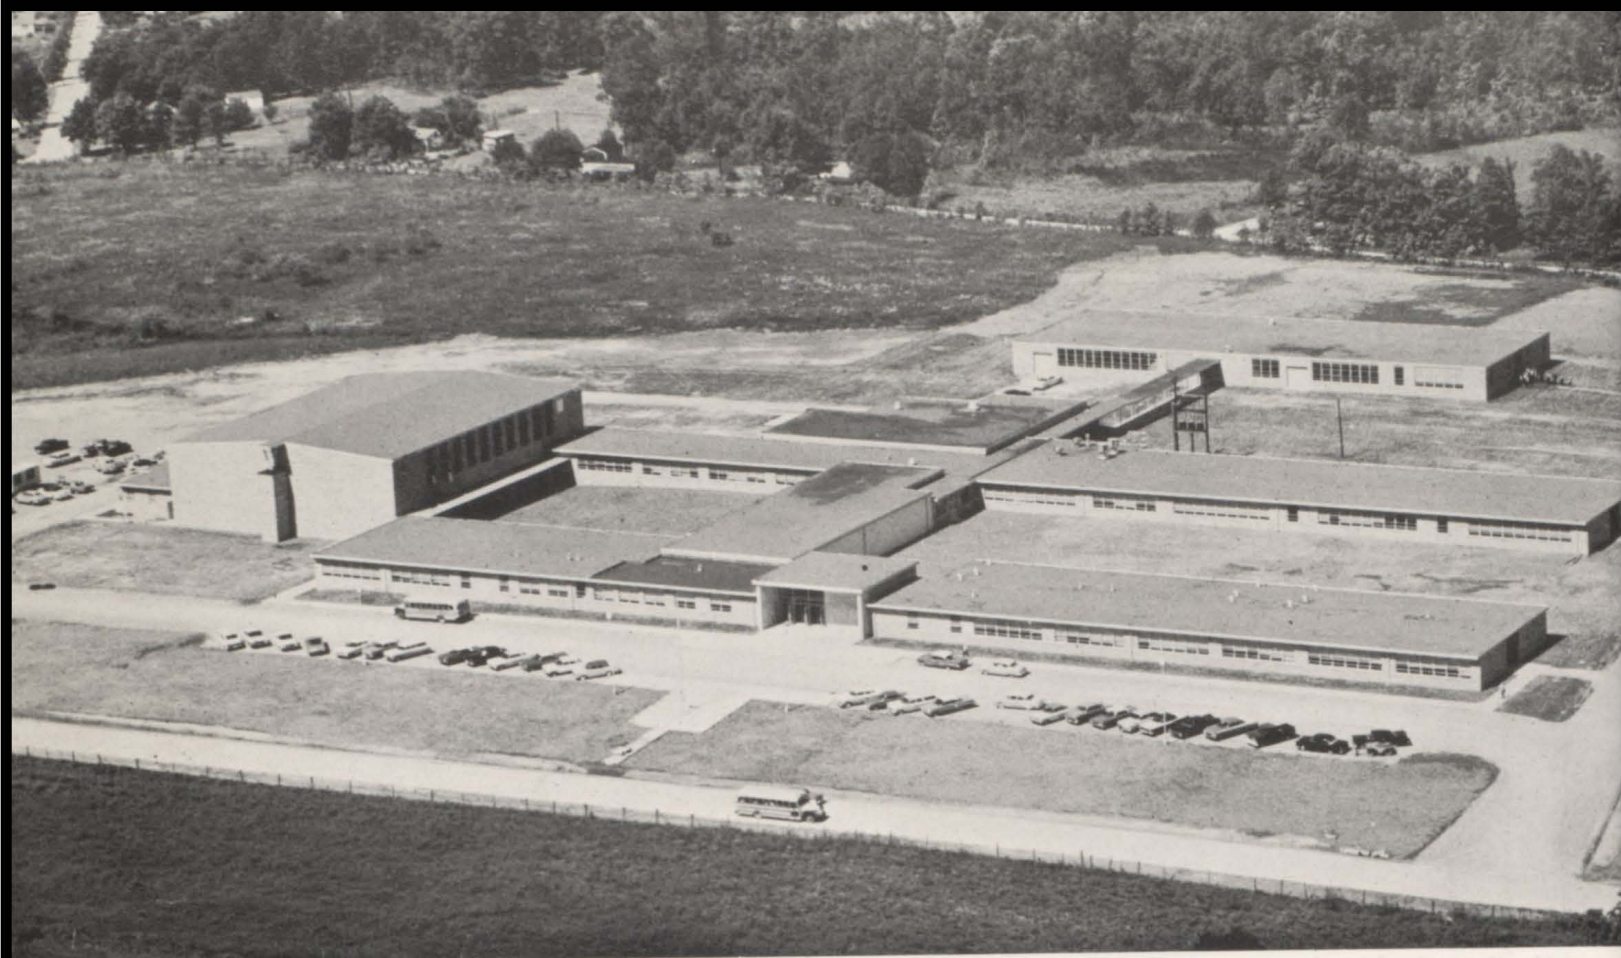

To those who have shared this year together, may this volume bring a sense of deep and abiding joy.

Cumberland County High School

Cumberland County's new million-dollar high school was dedicated October 18, 1962. Dr. Andrew D. Holt, President of the University of Tennessee, delivered the dedicatory address. He contrasted the schools of his own boyhood with the new, modern building of today. He stressed the many responsibilities faced by students, by teachers, by parents, and by boards of education in a modern world. "Above all," Dr. Holt concluded, "is our responsibility toward God and our fellow men. If we fail in this, we have failed to make the greatest use of such facilities as we here in this great county proudly and thankfully dedicate to our Youth today."

Dedicated to the Student Body

Many names and many organizations were suggested when the time came to dedicate this volume of The Plateau. All of those named have performed invaluable services and deserve recognition.

To our student body, however, more than to anyone else, we can credit the success of this undertaking. Our students have given up many things dear to them in former years. They have buried old prejudices. They have forgotten old rivalries and have centered their attention on the goal of making ours the best high school in the state. They have worked together, played together, laughed together, cried together. They have demonstrated that Cumberland County has something beyond price to give to the world: A generation of fine, fair-minded, hard-working, clean-playing cooperative young people. They have demonstrated to the world what can be accomplished when selfishness is replaced by good will.

To the rank and file of three student bodies blended into one upstanding unit, we proudly dedicate the 1963 Plateau.

The three boys pictured above are unnamed representatives of three student groups; but teachers from three schools have forgotten which were "theirs", and think of them all as "ours."

Dear Students:

With the completion of the new Cumberland County High School, a dream of many people, old and young, has finally come true. Whether this school will be "good" or "not-so-good", depends largely upon what we, as students and educators, do about it as individuals.

More than any other people, Americans have the Right to Choose. Through our own actions we can choose our own leaders, shape our own future, control our own destiny. Call it Freedom or Democracy or just plain Independence, it is a glorious privilege to enjoy!

The journey into education is a long one. The increased facilities in our new school hold much promise and offer many opportunities to each of you students to develop your potentialities to the fullest.

May each of us be wise enough to make the most of it!

O. C. Stewart

Principal's Message

Dear Students:

From the dawn of Creation man has inwardly longed for a better way of life, and has sought by many ways the means necessary to achieve this goal. Some have failed in the search because the way of self discipline became too demanding and the tinsel of soft living tarnished the vision of truth.

As a student of the new Cumberland County High School, you are to be congratulated on completing one more educational step up the long ladder of life. May the physical beauty of this school, the spirit of fellowship expressed by your classmates, and the devotion and sacrifices of your teachers, parents, and the citizens of Cumberland County become a very vital part of your life.

May your increased knowledge be tempered by the wisdom of the ages, and the strength of your youth be dedicated to your Creator, your Country, and to your true self.

Sincerely yours,

Everett L. Gibson

Principal

Mr. Lyndon Pippin
Assistant Principal

Assistant Principal's Message

Dear Students:

Allow me to congratulate you upon the successful completion of your first year at Cumberland County High School. It is my hope that here you have obtained every good thing for which you have been seeking, and that you will go away with excellent academic training and with a devotion for God and for your country.

In time of strife and misunderstanding and intolerance, high school is a short, but important, period in a person's preparation for future life. High school is full of varied experiences from which it is hoped that the outcome will be a lasting understanding of self and a broad outlook on life.

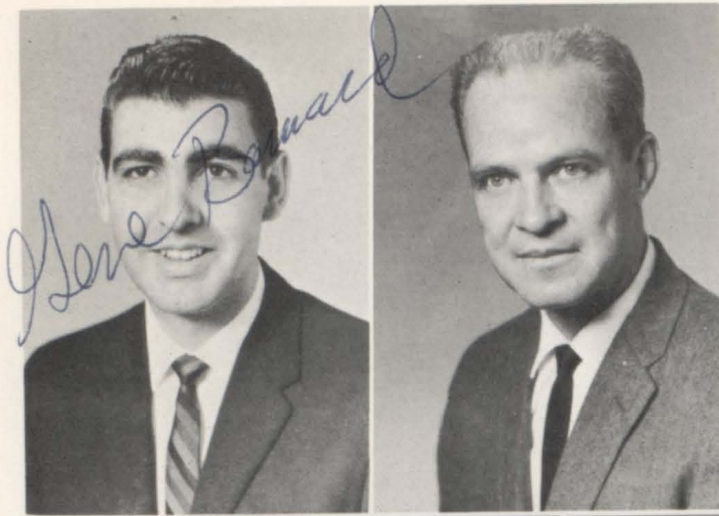

High school life is but a temporary experience, with hope and faith that future success will be the result of our time well spent.

Sincerely yours,

Lyndon Pippin

Modern education demands that an individual develop to the limit of his potentialities. This objective implies that each of our students needs to learn how to adjust to situations so that he achieves maximum satisfaction.

Mrs. Elmore and Mrs. Sims consider the individual student, his problems, his adjustments, and his progress their main concern. They try to help the student to understand himself, to make the most of his capacities, interests, and other qualities, to adjust himself satisfactorily to the varied situations within his total environment, to develop the ability to make his own decisions wisely and to solve his problems independently and finally to make his own unique contribution to society to the fullest extent possible.

Mrs. Sims is shown below with Janet Parker in a typical counselling situation as Janet seeks information on college.

"Out of Many, One."

They began their high school careers in three different schools. Some wore green and white jackets and called themselves "Hornets." Others wore black and white jackets with a square-jawed "Bull-dog" on the back. Still others wore maroon and white and sported a Red Devil as their emblem. The "Hornets" stung the "Bull-dogs"; the "Bull-dogs" bit the "Devils"; and the "Devils" prodded them all with their pitchforks.

Somewhere along the way, things began to happen, and one summer morning, ground-breaking ceremonies were held for the long-talked-of new, consolidated high school.

Some, at first, were bitter; some were sad; but most were glad that a forward step had been taken.

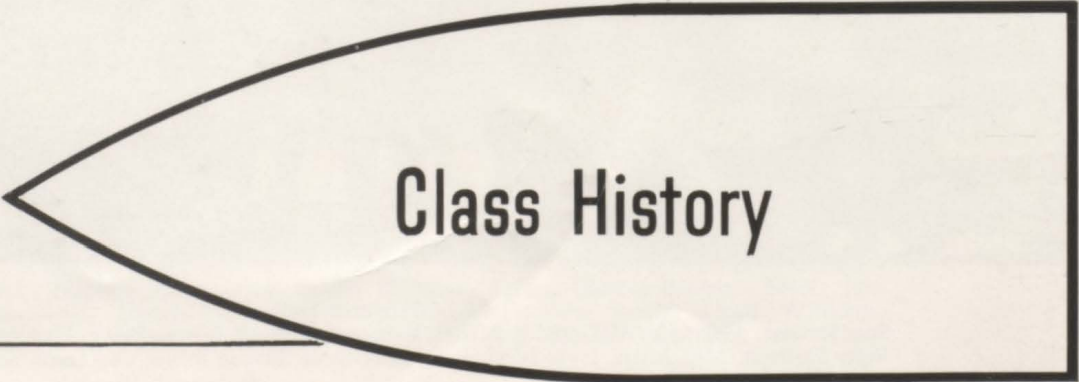

At times it seemed strange, but finally the building was completed, and there came a day when seniors who did not know each other's names or faces stood together and screamed for the boys in the unfamiliar blue uniform with the Jet emblem-and the Class of '63 became a unit.

Then came class meetings. Mrs. Edna Elmore, Mrs. Diane Brown, and Mr. Eugene Thurman were elected senior sponsors.

School elections were held. Class officers were chosen, and President Gene Bailey lost no time in putting everyone to work. After all, they had to raise money for that trip "to Florida"-or Florida-or Washington-or somewhere. Girls made and sold candy; the class sold fruitcakes that arrived too late for Christmas.

Seniors chose superlatives; they took tests; they wrote research papers. Although few came to know all their classmates, it no longer mattered whether the person in the next seat wore a hornet, a bull-dog, or a devil, because all around were people they knew and loved who wore blue jackets with a jet emblem.

And thus was born
the first class
to be graduated from the
New Cumberland
County High School.

"Your stone is bluer than mine."

Rings are not new to the world. They have been known in all ages. Ancient heroes have been described as wearing rings. Greek and Roman freemen were privileged to wear them. Babylonians and Assyrians treasured their signet rings, hundreds of years ago. The Etruscans introduced a swivel ring with a scarab. Rings have been used to seal friendships and marriages and treaties. Even poison rings have been used to make murder or suicide more convenient. But no ring, perhaps, is more treasured than the class ring which is such an important part of school life.

Faye Stout, Nancy Allred, Rhea Hembree, and Verna Hinds compare their newly acquired rings with that of Roy Nevils. Is it prettier with the crest or without it? Is the big stone bluer than the little stone? These are questions that are asked over and over until everyone has his ring and has had chance to admire everyone else's.

Senior Superlatives

Mr. and Miss CCHS

Mr. and Miss CCHS are symbolical of the highest type of high school students. They are popular, but they are more than popular; they are helpful, but they go the second mile. They stand for everything permanent and worthwhile that Youth admires and respects. John Saylor and Miss Carol Sue Cox were chosen for this superlative honor.

Daughters of the American Revolution, Citizenship Awards

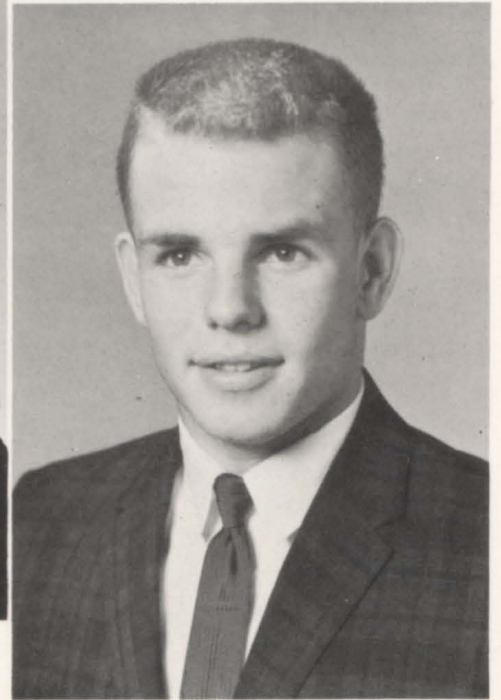

Roy Sneed Nevils

Sondra Kay Maddux

Sondra

Kenneth Jack Chadwell

No award given in our school is more meaningful than that of the Good Citizenship Pin or the Good Citizenship Medal. Sondra received the pin and the certificate for her outstanding qualities of dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism. Roy and Jack were awarded Good Citizenship Medals for qualities of honor, service, courage, leadership, and patriotism. The awards were made by "The Crab-Orchard" Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Jack, Sondra, and Roy stand for the highest type of American Youth. They represent our noblest and most cherished national ideals and traditions.

Billy Stevens and Carol Sue Cox

Friendliest

An ever-ready smile, a cheerful word, and a helping hand make Billy Stevens and Carol Sue Cox stand out in the minds of their classmates as the Friendliest couple. Good conversationalists, active in school affairs, they have no trouble in making and keeping friends for themselves or for CCHS.

Edward Hendley and Suzanne Suttle

Best Dressed

Being well-dressed is more than wearing specially tailored clothes. It means being neatly dressed in clothes suited to the occasion. Edward Hendley and Suzanne Suttle have that special gift for looking "right" for any occasion, whether it is a pep rally or a formal banquet.

Best All - Around

John Saylor and Helen Stubbs

No taint of delinquency would cling to the younger generation if all possessed the fine qualities and abilities of John Saylor and Helen Stubbs. Their names have been mentioned for every honor that has been given this year, including several superlative titles and other awards. They participate in sports, in social events, committee work, class activities, and, through it all, maintain praiseworthy grades. How "all-around" can one be?

Most Co-operative

Randy Hale and Linda Jenkins

In a world where "no man liveth unto himself," co-operation becomes increasingly important. What the group does may not be always the way Randy and Linda would like it; but if the class wants it that way, these generous hearted young people will go out of their way to help the plan succeed. Without grumbling they do their part in any undertaking. Among the first to volunteer, they set an example of cheerful and co-operative service for their schoolmates.

Most Studious

Randy Hale and Gale Brewer

Randy Hale and Gale Brewer were recognized by their classmates as the outstanding students of the Senior Class. Throughout the four years both have been able to maintain enviable averages. By placing first things first, they have earned more than the scant minimum required for graduation. Randy plans to further his education by attending Tennessee Tech in Cookeville, Tennessee, and Gale expects to enter the University of Tennessee for pre-medical training.

Most Talented

Janet Parker and Pete Graham

Janet Parker and Pete Graham were voted "Most Talented" by virtue of their ability in a number of different fields. Janet, for example, can sing, play, cook, sew, paint, preside over a meeting with grace and dignity. Pete, on the other hand, plays in the band, converses fluently, is a member of the 4-H Honor Club, belongs to a cattle-judging team with a successful record. Both readily use their talents in good causes. An amateur show, a benefit performance, or any good cause with a purpose could use their help.

Most Courteous

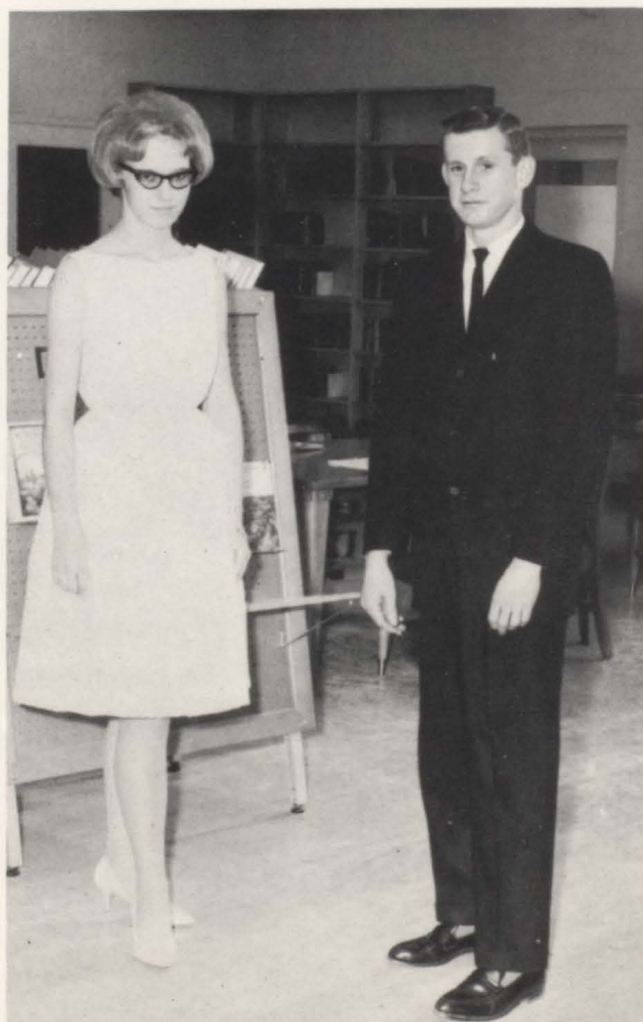

Gladys Nevils and Michael Hodge

Courtesy is more than manners, for manners can be acquired; but courtesy is an inward quality expressing itself in outward behavior. Courtesy causes one to treat others with respect and dignity, whether or not they are "worthy." Recognition of this innate respect for all mankind expresses itself in the conduct of Gladys and Michael. One senses instinctively that there are those who find no place in their lives for littleness and rudeness. Such people show not what someone is by the way they treat him, but what they themselves are. It is this quality which caused their classmates to recognize them and to bestow on them-Gladys and Michael-the title of Most Courteous Couple.

Most Likely To Succeed

Sharon O'Dell and Holman Evans

Those who are bound for eventual success in life must take into life's daily battles and struggles a certain will and determination to succeed. They refuse to accept the possibility of defeat, and therefore failure is impossible. They act as if they attract success. This quality of going straight ahead toward their goal, rather than sitting back in an attitude of wishful thinking begins early in life with most people. They set out to make good grades, to learn difficult subjects, to do the hard things. Success will come to Sharon and Holman, their classmates believe, because they are workers, achievers, doers, and believers in the adage, "The difficult takes a long time; the impossible takes a little longer."

Wittiest

Judy Lewis and Joseph Febuary

Wit is a rare quality. Often what passes for wit is merely warmed-over silliness. A few people in life are endowed with genuine wit. Such are Joe and Judy. It is not a conscious attempt at "being funny"; it is rather an outlook on life which enables them to see a point of view which is missed by many people endowed with less of the quality. One needs to know the truly witty person well or one may fail to appreciate his talent. Fortunate are people like these who have genuine wit and can share it with others to make life more pleasant.

Most Popular

David Hyder and Lynda Faye Stout

Popularity that is based on light or transient qualities is a fleeting thing. However, popularity that is rooted in personality traits such as the class has observed in David and Lynda Faye is abiding. Both meet the public with an easy grace which wins friends and influences people. Both shoulder their part of the load with good humor and willingness. David has wide contact through his work, as well as at school. Lynda's winning smile lures people to her. Their popularity need not wane.

Most Athletic

Bill Swafford and Paula Jean Edmunds

Standing before the case of trophies which they have helped their school to win, are Most Athletic Bill Swafford and Paula Jean Edmunds. They have given of themselves freely in their chosen fields, and many well view their athletic records with pride.

Handsomest

Linda Jenkins and Phil Dunaway

Pretty, winsome Linda Jenkins, and smiling, dark-eyed Phil Dunaway were selected Prettiest Girl and Handsomest Boy. If there is truth to the adage, "Pretty is as pretty does," they may well keep their crowns and titles.

Junior Class Favorites

Miss Mary Nina Gibson and Buster Lee Campbell

Lovely brunette Mary Nina Gibson and Buster Lee Campbell were the chosen favorites of the Junior Class.

Sophomore Class Favorites

Connie Lowe and Curtis Inman

Chosen by the Sophomore class as their favorites are charming Connie Lowe and robust Curtis (Butch) Inman. Selections are made on the basis of popularity, friendliness, cooperation, and personality.

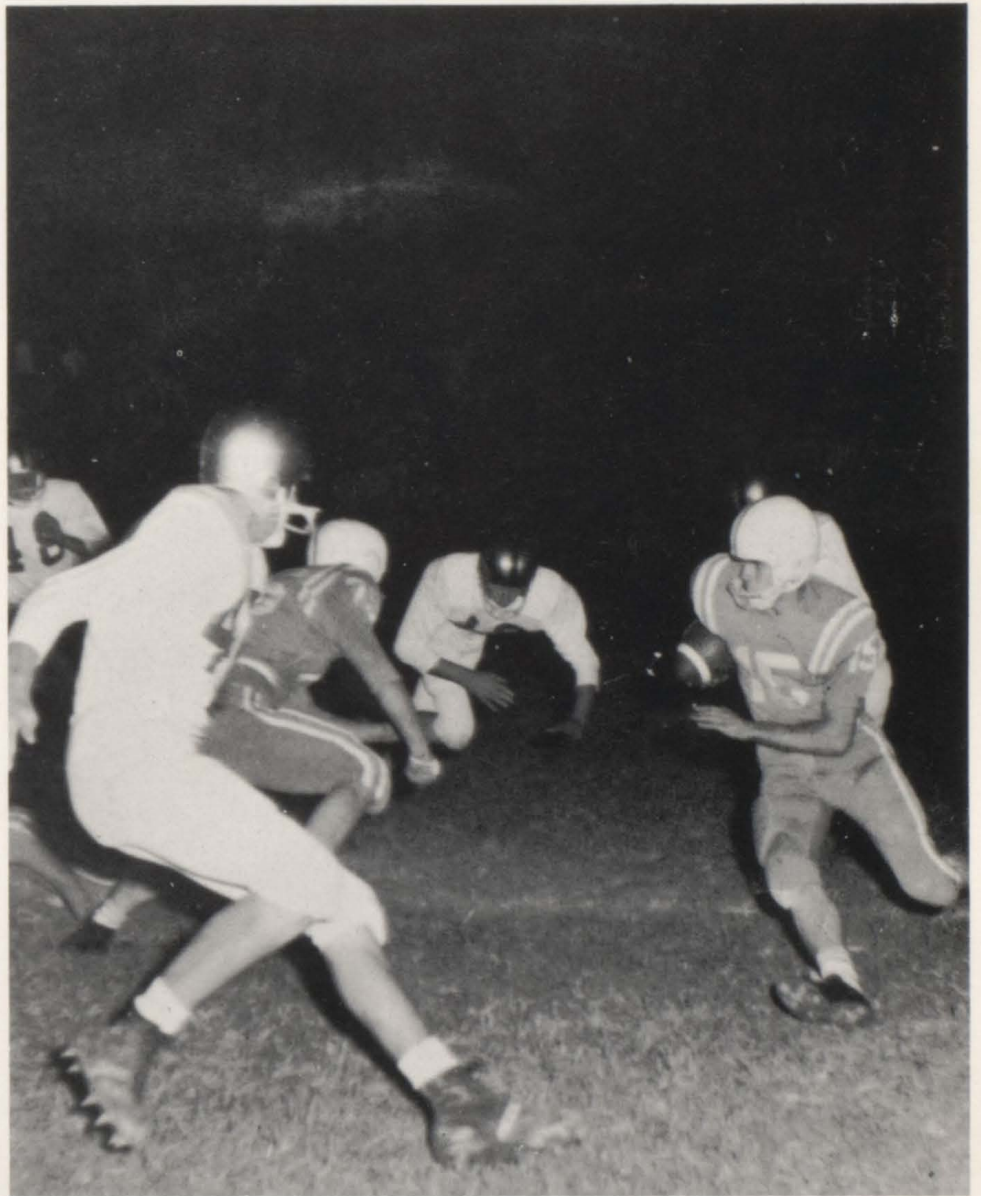

Freshman Class Favorites

Janice Stowers and Michael Lay

The Freshman choice was Janice Stowards and Mike Lay. The choice was difficult one because the freshmen had had no previous association with one another.

Athletics

Jack Chadwell and Roy Nevils elude Pikeville's Johnny Boynton.

The smile of pride and victory lights the face of Coach L. A. Fox as he thinks back over a highly successful football season. His Tri-County Conference Champions also won the strongly contested Civitan Bowl against Carthage.

The Civitan Bowl Trophy

Jets Edge Jackets

Collier is stung by a Yellowjacket tackler after a spectacular gain.

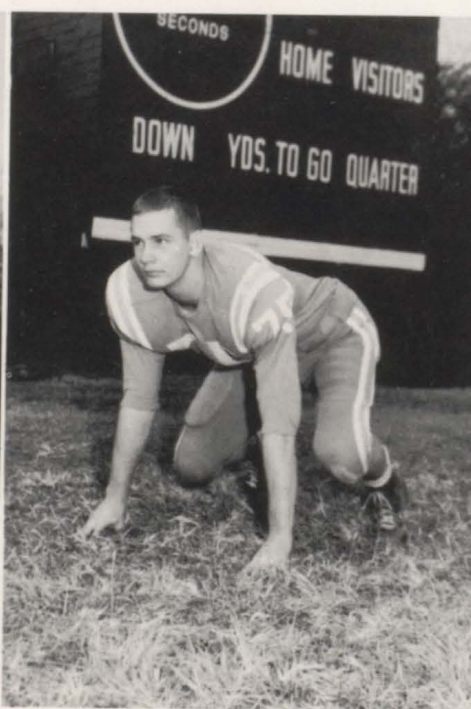

Cumberland County Jets posted their first victory by edging the powerful Kingston Yellowjackets by the score of 7-6. Playing a strong defensive game, both teams were scoreless until Bob Albott broke loose and scored on a 49-yard run. Jerry Guinne missed the extra point, and the score stood at an uncomfortable 6-0. The Jets staged a second-half comeback by sending Mike Collier around right end for seven yards and six points. Eddie Baird kicked the extra point, giving the Jets victory, and robbing the Yellowjackets of their power to sting.

Jets Surprise Warriors

For the first time in twenty-two years Cumberland County defeated the Sparta Warriors, 12-7. The Warriors' 7-0 lead early in the game fired the Jets to come back in the second half ready for action. Mike Collier picked off a Steve Girdley pass and raced to the 12-yard line where Swafford crashed over for the score. Baird's point was wide, and the score stood 7-6 in favor of Sparta. In the final minutes of the contest, Mike Collier found an opening and took off on a 50 yard jaunt for the winning touchdown. The final reading on the scoreboard was Jets, 12; Sparta, 7.

Jets Down Bulldogs

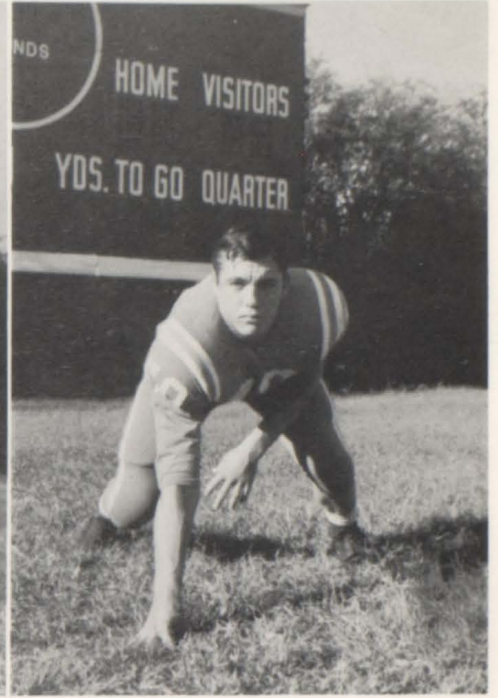

Riding the crest of a two-win wave, the Jets were in good form when they met Spring City Bulldogs in their own kennel. Quarterback Jack Chadwell engineered the Jets to the 20-yard line where he heaved a touchdown pass to his favorite target, Mike Collier, in the end zone. Swafford plunged over for the point, making the score 7-0. In the second half, Mike Collier broke away for an 83-yard sprint. Swafford plunged for the point and chalked up a 14-0 lead. Jack Chadwell added another TD and another 20-0 score went into the record book of Cumberland County's Jets.

Jet Bombers Hunt Tigers In Safari

Jet bombers swooped down on Rockwood's powerful Tigers in a grudge battle, intent on bagging Tigers. The Jet backs, behind a hard-hitting line, drove downfield for an early score on Chadwell's pass to Collier. Baird made the score 7-0 for the Jets. Swafford scored on a two-yard plunge, and Baird split the uprights, 14-0. Three times the Tiger threat was dangerous, but the Jets recovered a fumble and Chadwell threw to Fogg from the fifteen yard line for the final gain. Baird's point failed, and Rockwood, in a last minute do-or-die effort, scored. The safari ended as the final gun sounded, with the Jets in possession of a fine Tiger skin and a 20-7 score.

Wreath hangers "mourn" for Rockwood as Jets celebrate.

Jets Scuttle Pirates

Scuttling the South Harriman Pirates 20-0 was another impressive achievement. The Jets took an early lead on a three-yard touchdown run by Jack Chadwell. Ed Baird's extra point was good. The 7-0 score was not changed until third period when Swafford went up the middle for the TD, and Baird added the extra, 14-0. In the last quarter Swafford again broke loose on a 34-yard touchdown canter. When the game ended, the Jets had a comfortable 20; and the Pirates' treasure chest, a goose-egg.

Jets Bow to C.M.A. Might

Only the strong Columbia Military Academy eleven forced the Jets to settle for the short end of the score, 19-13. In spite of the statistics, many sports fans declared that this was "Their Finest Hour" for the hard-hitting Jets. Bill Swafford started the scoring when he took off on a 17-yard jaunt that ended 7-0. Ken Petty and Johnny Murrell put C.M.A. ahead on two drives late in the second quarter. The half ended 13-7 in C.M.A.'s favor. The thrill came when Chadwell recovered a fumble from the military and raced 80 yards to tie the score. The game ended 19-13.

Jets Blast Devils

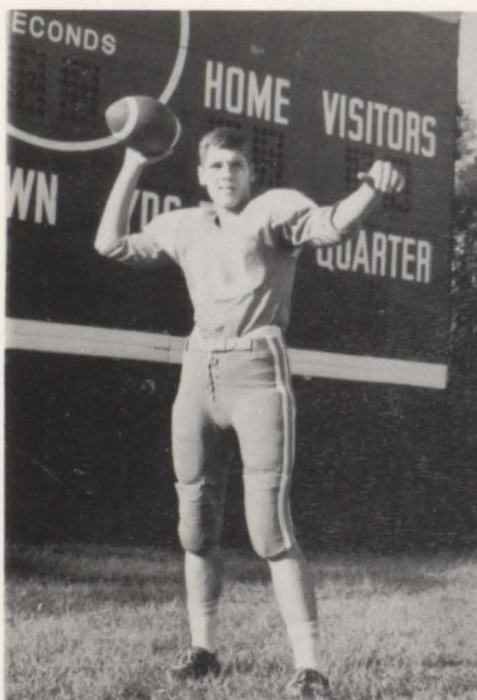

Although the Jets expected a close game with Harriman Blue Devils, the final score was 25-0 in the Jets' favor. Scoring on a twenty-five yard pass play from Collier to Fogg early in the game, they led by seven points when Baird kicked the extra point. Swafford's drive from the one-yard line upped the tally 13-0. At the final gun the scoreboard read Cumberland County Jets 25; Blue Devils, 0. Victory followed victory, and the same story was recorded against Dayton, Cookeville, and Pikeville. This record brought the Jets two bowl bids. They accepted the Civitan Bowl Game with Carthage, in Cookeville on the night of November 16.

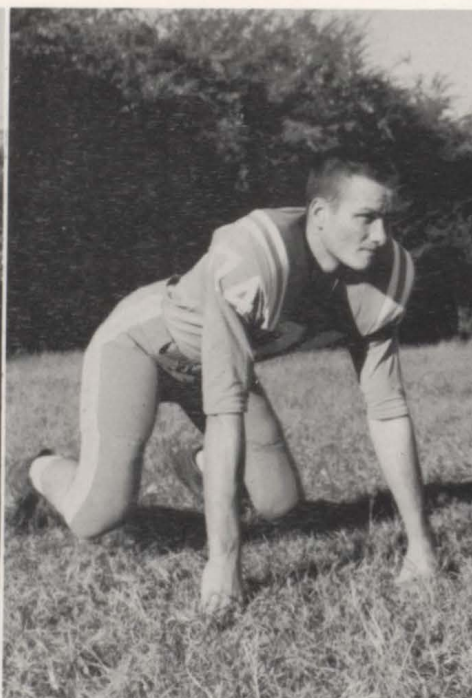

Collier carries the pigskin across Harriman goal line for the Jets.

Jets Take Civitan Bowl Classic

The fired-up Jets drew first blood when Mike Collier went off right tackle from the forty-yard line. Failure of the point left the score 6-0. A quick comeback brought a second TD; and a point by Baird raised the score to a lucky 13. A thrilling climax came near the end of the game when Baird kicked the first field goal in the school's history. Final score, 16-12. Thus ended a 10-1 season, the only loss going to a college prep military academy. Coaches L. A. Fox, T. E. Potts, and C. W. Pemberton scored a real triumph in blending once rival teams into a smooth-running machine. It is likewise a triumph for every man on the team and for the families and communities from which they came.

Off to the Heart of Texas

"Cotton Bowl Bound"

Interested business men of Cumberland County decided that the Jets deserved a reward for providing sports fans with as many thrills as the 1962 football season provided. Consequently, they made possible the trip to the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, Texas. The boys left Crossville on the morning of December 30, 1962 by Trailways bus.

Moments to Remember

One in a Lifetime . . .

Some of the great moments in life come once, and are gone forever, except as we treasure them in memory. The thrill of seeing your class ring on your finger for the first time is something that cannot be duplicated, relived, or forgotten. The new design, the new blue stone, and the knowledge that it is yours, make this a moment to cherish. And there are the moments when you win a contest, an award, or meet a world-famous person and shake hands with him. These are things that give a golden glint to our schooldays . . .

TO REGARD OUR EDUCATION SERIOUSLY IN ORDER TO PRESERVE AND STRENGTHEN OUR AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE.
TO HONOR OUR PARENTS, TEACHERS, AND FELLOW STUDENTS BY SHOWING RESPECT, CONSIDERATION, AND COURTESY.
TO DEVELOP AN ATTITUDE OF GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP AND FAIR PLAY IN EVERYTHING WE DO AND TO RESPECT THE RIGHTS OF OTHERS.
TO BE HONEST WITH OURSELVES AND OTHERS IN WHAT WE SAY AND DO.
THESE RESPONSIBILITIES WE BELIEVE TO BE WORTHWHILE AND WILL STRIVE TO BETTER OURSELVES BY THEM.

Moments to Remember

Finalists in the Valentine's Day Sweetheart Contest

Sweetheart Candidates

Moments to Remember

Good Citizenship Awards Are Presented

Jack Chadwell, Roy Nevils, and Sondra Maddox are presented the Good Citizenship awards given annually by the Daughters of the American Revolution. The presentations were made in assembly, January 21 and December 18, by the Chapter Regent, Miss Bertha Evelyn Wilson.

Mr. Gibson and Mr. Fox Receive Civitan Bowl Check

Mr. Everett Gibson and Mr. L. A. Fox proudly accept the Civitan Bowl check following the winning of the final game of a highly successful season. The check is presented by a Cookeville representative.

Senator Gore Addresses Students

During another of these memorable moments, United States Senator Albert Gore took the Student Body behind the scenes at the United Nations when he spoke in assembly on the morning of January 21. One of the five United States delegates, Senator Gore spoke with the authority of one who has been a participant in the affairs of this body.

After the address, a question period was held. Among the questions which aroused student interest was the one, "Senator Gore, what is your opinion of allowing eighteen-year-olds to vote?"

Students crowded around the Senator to discuss the question further. Ann Young, Janie Munro, Horace Wyatt, Paulette Graham, Linda Hixon, Michael Safdie, Ruth Clark, David Pugh and David Hayes are in the foreground.

Senator Gore was also asked by Nettie Stevens, "Senator, can you get us a used jet that we can keep on the campus and have as our emblem?" "I'll see what I can, do," the Senator promised.

The Drinking Fountain

Jim Goodwin, Joann Vaughn, Laura Blaylock, and Horace Wyatt do not appear to be interested in inscriptions on fountains as the photographer snapped their picture.

Among the moments to remember are the free ones during the noon hour when good friends got together for a tete-a-tete and on pretty days strolled to the drinking fountain with the inscription:

Wm. E. Clifton	Casto Norris
Andrew Hamby	Donald Rose
J. R. Hyder	Charles M. Smith

J. B. Redmond, Attorney

Woodmen of the World

When days were dreary, the halls were the meeting places where good friends got together. Paul West, David Hyder, Sandra Lewis, Gypsy Henry, Eddie Cox, Sue Wyatt, Butch Inman, Linda Metcalfe, Horace Wyatt, and Tim Griggs find plenty to talk about.

After four long years your turn comes to be measured for your cap and gown.

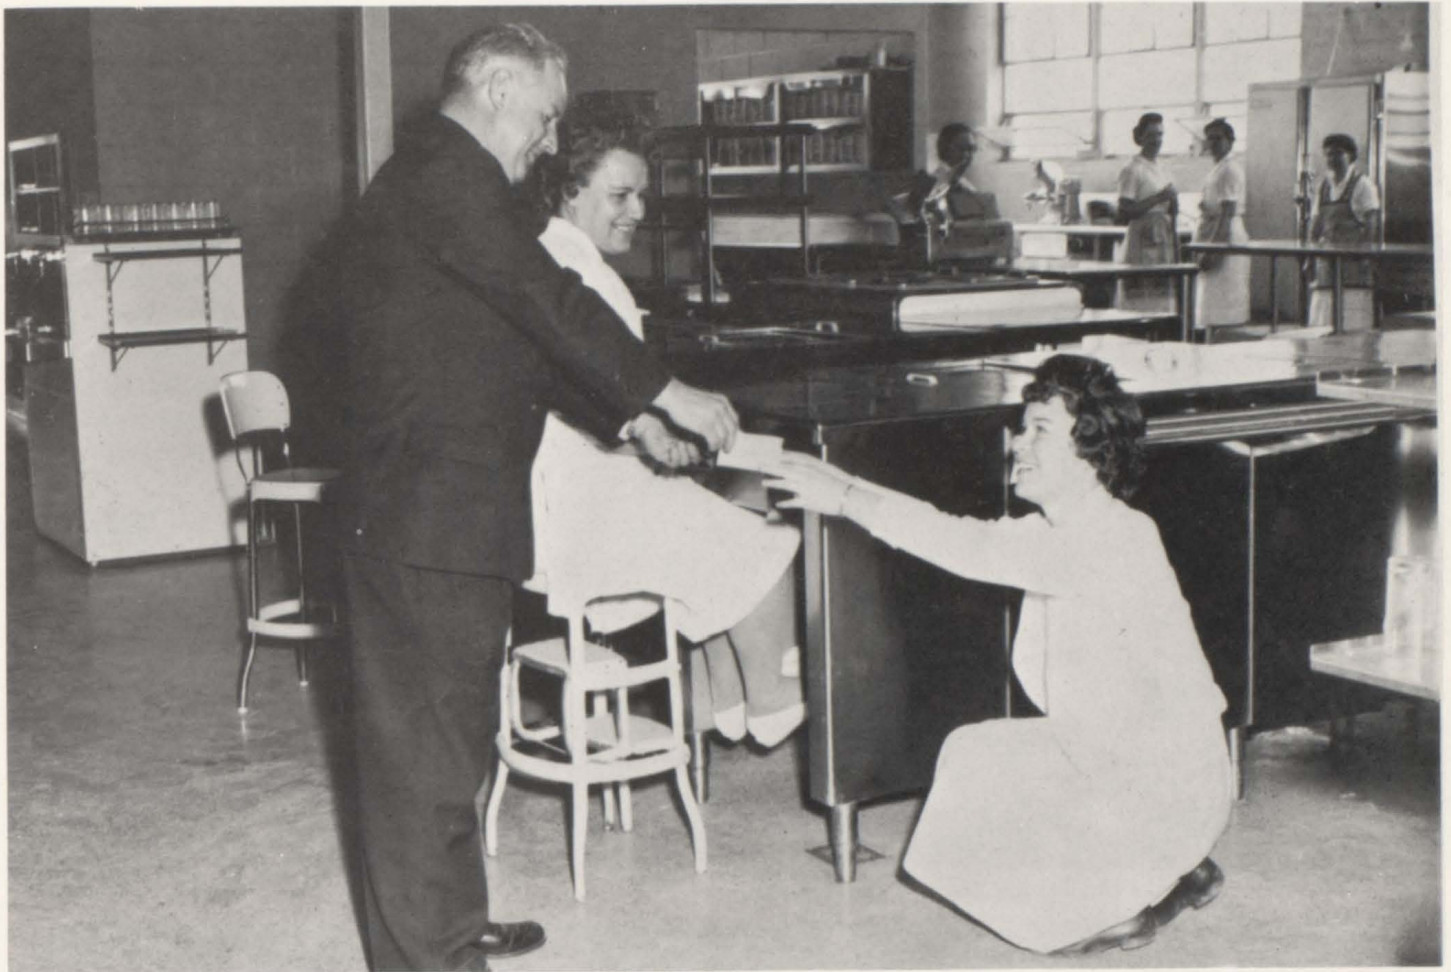

"Head Size, Please."

Betty Wattenbarger records head sizes as Gale Brewer measures Charles Raymond Pugh for his cap. Bill Stevens waits his turn while Linda Smith stands on a stool to measure David Hedgecoth for the gown. Ruby Hedgecoth records gown sizes as Linda Tabor stands by.

The Principal Tries an Experiment

...and Brenda wins a reward

Principal Everett Gibson has his own ways of checking on people's habits. He laid a spoon on the cafeteria floor and said nothing about it. Then he watched the lunch line file by it day after day. For several days the spoon lay undisturbed. Then Brenda Brown noticed, and picked it up. Mr. Gibson hurried across and presented her with a lunch ticket for one week's free lunches. The story is true, and there is a moral to it. . . something to remember.

Mike Lay, Patricia Shadder, Ronny Speich

Then there were those moments when you waited apprehensively in the Principal's office to request something that you feared "He" would not grant, and you used all your best arguments in favor of it

Perhaps you like the moments on icy mornings when your bus arrived too late for the class and since you didn't have your lesson, you got to the door and decided you should not disturb the teacher now.

and after what seemed like a long time, and carefully weighing all that you had said, "He" looked at you like this. . . . and said, "Yes, I think it's a good idea. Just conduct yourselves as responsible young men and young ladies should, and it will be fine."

Mr. Everett L. Gibson

Or maybe your best moment is when you leave the cafeteria after a turkey dinner, and feel that now that your hunger is appeased, it's a pretty good world after all.

Athletes Honored

Outstanding Athletes Receive Coveted Trophies In Assembly

Next Year's Football Prospects

For others, the moment they will remember is the day they went on record as candidates for the 1963-1964 Jets Football squad. Will they make the Varsity? Will they win a trophy? Every boy has his own dream, and will remember this moment in his own way.

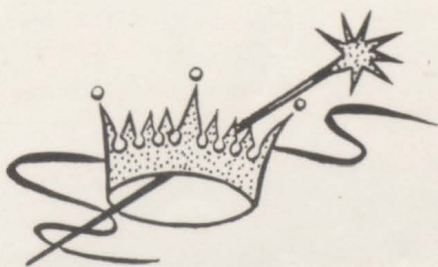

Helen Stubbs - Football Queen

"Long
Live
the Queen."

To many people one of the long-remembered moments is the crowning of the Queen, whether it be harvest, homecoming, or football queen. Miss Helen Stubbs was crowned Football Queen. She is pictured wearing her crown, and flanked by her attendants Faye Stout and Lou Ann Lambert. Jack Chadwell, Bill Fogg, Bill Swafford, and Wayne Mullins are also pictured.

Miss Carol Sue Cox was the Homecoming queen. She was crowned by Bill Fogg and Jack Chadwell, with whom she is pictured.

Majorettes Model Sparkling New Uniforms

In sparkling new uniforms that dazzle the eye, the Majorettes pause in their routine to pose for their pictures. Left to right the girls are Sharon Brandon, Carol Sue Cox, Sandra Lewis, and Sandra Harding. Their half-time performances at football games have been sensational and spectacular all season. Carol Sue and Sandra Harding are seniors and will not be with the group in '63-'64.

Drum Major Horace Wyatt

Exhibiting his natural flare for showmanship, Horace Wyatt had no trouble stepping into the drum-major's place. He has been a member of the band for several years, having started beginning band while still in grade school. Horace has held several other important positions during his high school career. He has been outstanding in dramatic performances, and will be remembered for his interesting characterization of "Sir Boss" in "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" during his Sophomore year.

Director

Chorus

The CCHS Chorus and their Director

The CCHS Chorus usually plans at least two annual concerts, besides furnishing music for Commencement activities. One of the highlights of the holidays season is the Christmas Concert. The Chorus has made steady progress under the direction of Mr. Gene Barnard, who is in his third year as their leader. Tommy Metcalfe is the accompanist.

The singers pictured above are members of this year's choral group. Left to right, first row, they are Lucille Brandstetter, Diane Looper, Brenda Barnwell, Jenneth Turner, Nancy Martin, Brenda Kirby, Helen Stubbs, Carolyn Parker, Gloria Cox, Brenda Hamby, Gail Presley, Barbara Anderson, Edna Alderman, Linda Binge, Linda Blaylock.

The background shows part of the spacious gymnasium, which also serves as an auditorium for concerts and special assemblies.

The Building

The Library

Library Reading Tables

In the spacious new library handsome new tables give students comfortable working space. Two styles of tables relieve the monotony of rows of tables. The room is always seasonably decorated with attractive posters and bulletin board displays. Fiberglass drapes at the windows shield the students' eyes from the glare of the afternoon sun.

New Book Shelves

New book shelves keep good books within easy reach of the students. Examining some of the new editions are Jim Selby, William Altum, Gary Gentry, Norman Helfer, and David Hedgecoth. "We are filling our new shelves as rapidly as possible," said Mrs. Ruth Looney. "This is something that benefits every person in school-not just a few-and is worthy of everything we can put into it. In today's world, we must read, and read widely."

Check-out Desk

Always tireless in her efforts to help students find the right book, a needed article, a required magazine, or material for a term paper, Librarian Ruth Looney is at her desk long before school opens in the morning and after it closes in the afternoon to help students with their reading problems.

Faculty Men's Lounge

Many physical improvements are to be found in the new building. Among these are comfortable and colorful lounges where teachers may relax in their rare moments of freedom from classroom activities. Caywood Pemberton, Neil Holloway, and Gene Bernard are enjoying such a moment in the men's lounge.

Lunchroom

The spacious new lunchroom easily serves an average of a thousand lunches a day. Two serving lines facilitate the process. Wholesome, attractive, and ample, the meals provide adequate nourishment for the unbelievable cost of twenty-five cents per meal. Grade-A standards are in effect here at all times. The lunch-room is also a meeting place for civic groups to hold banquets, in accord with School Board policies.

School Clinic

In a school as large as ours, minor cases of illness and accident are inevitable. The school clinic provides a place to care for such cases. Janet Parker brings a drink of water to a girl who finds the clinic a comfortable place in case of illness. The patient is Marjorie Ford.

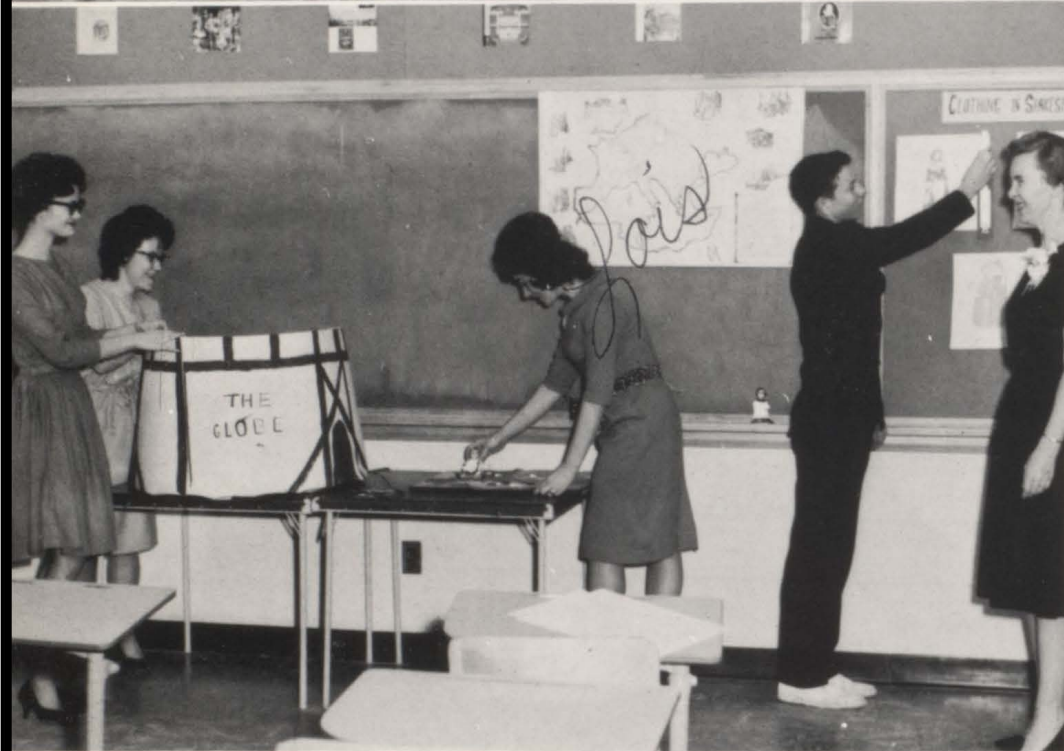

English I

Mrs. Hazel Parrott's classroom becomes the scene of a jolly Christmas party as the students present a Christmas play for their classmates. Students participating in this activity are Randy Marlow, Mark Featherstone, Steve Parsons, Carol Burnett, Paula Bingham, Maryanne Metcalfe, Nancy Davis, and Paula Lotridge.

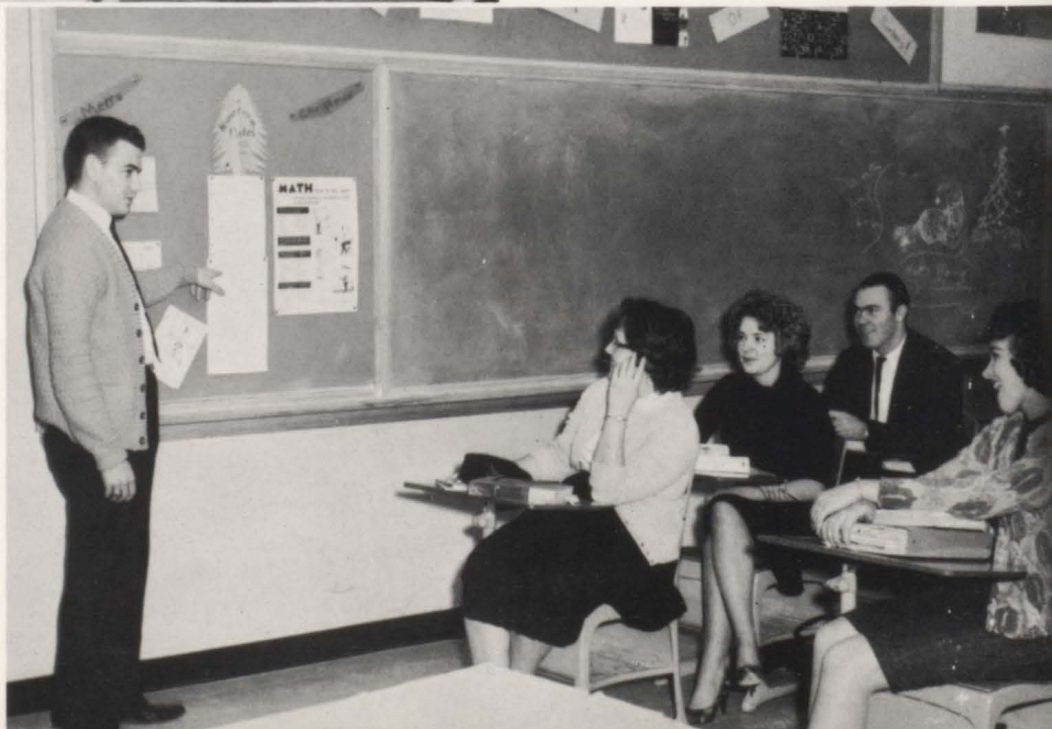

English II

Shakespeare lives again in Mrs. Euphemia Young's English II class as her students construct a miniature Globe Theatre from a hat box. Others make a relief map of the Julius Caesar area, and still other students have done research in the area of the Elizabethan Era, and have made colorful pictures of the costumes worn in the Shakespearean age. Barbara Hyder and Barbara Thompson build the theatre, Lois Safdie is at the map, and Roger Campbell, at the bulletin board by Mrs. Young.

English II

Mr. Arlon Way calls attention to some of the new books included on his reading list for English II. Mr. Way is a "classroom commuter", for when classrooms were assigned, there were not enough to go around. The heavy enrollment required extra teachers with no place to put them. Already those who know are saying that new rooms will soon have to be added.

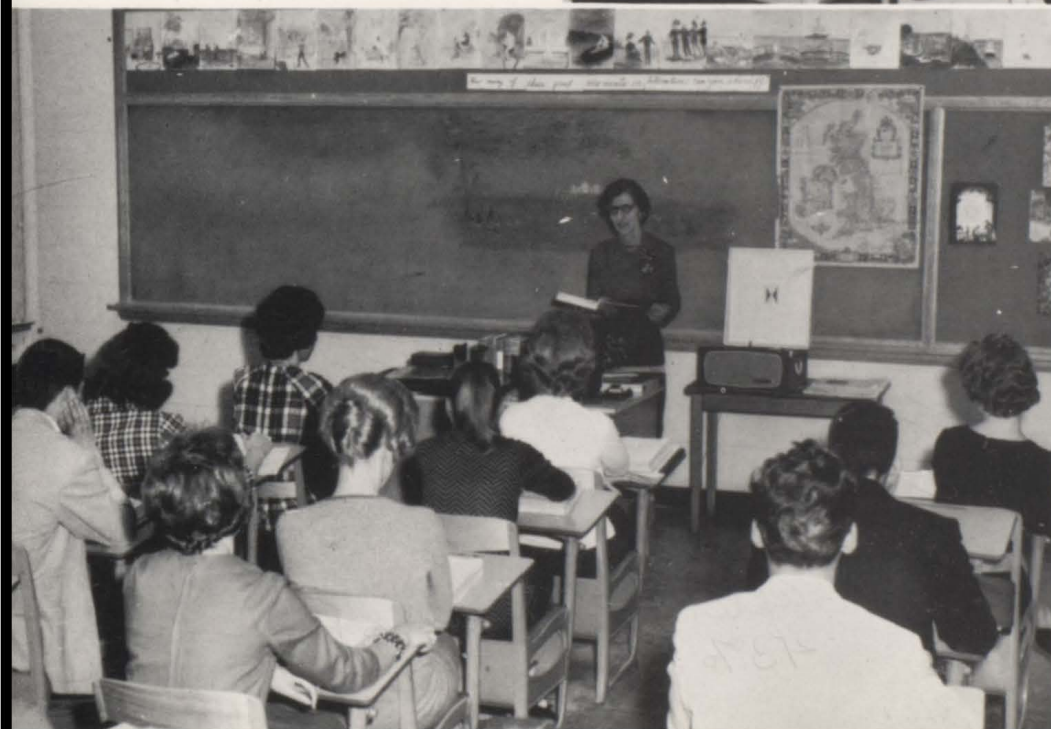

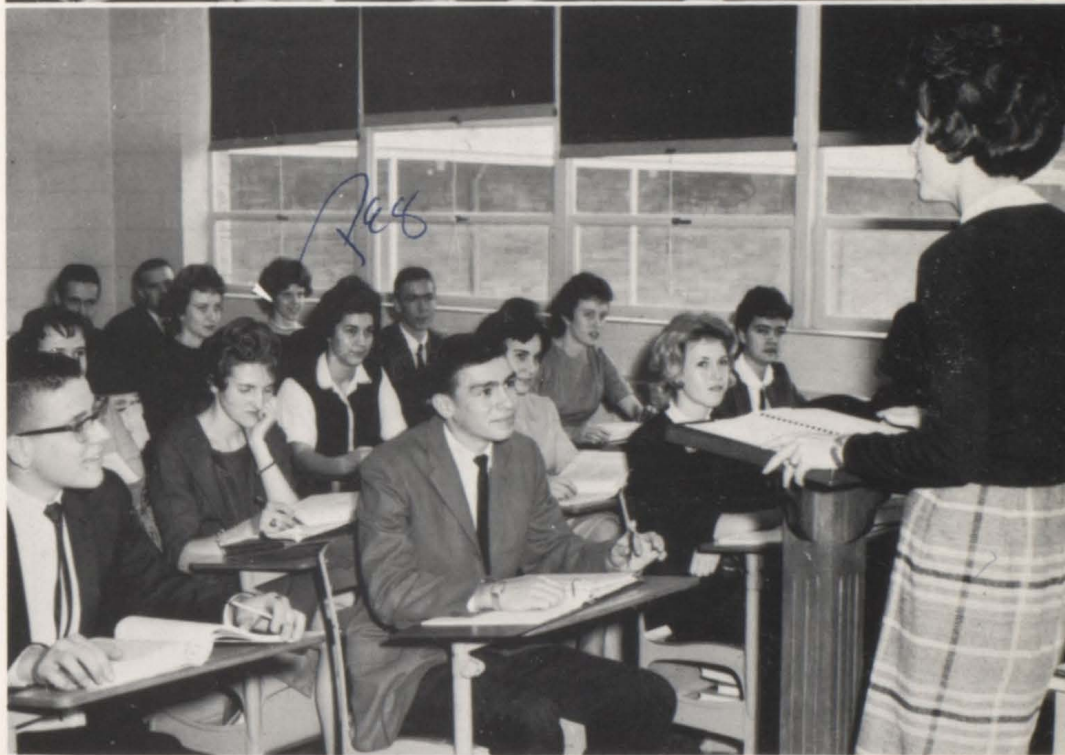

English III

Miss Mary Belle Tollett's Junior class in American Literature is studying the American short story. While the class listens Geneva Nail reads a selection. Jerry Campbell, Diane Stamps, Jay Jernigan, Cherry Blakely, Kenneth Parks, and Betty Holt are in the foreground. Miss Tollett shares this classroom with her mother, Mrs. Jane Tollett, while Miss Mary Belle's attentions are devoted to her girls' physical education class.

English IV (C. P.)

Any college-bound senior who wishes to experience a foretaste of the kind of English he will face in college may enroll in Mrs. Diane Brown's College Preparatory course in English where intensive work is done on theme writing, vocabulary study, research critical analysis, and background reading. Gene Bailey, Pete Graham, Ann Young, Donna Blakely, Peggy Hall, Joan McDonald, Helen Stubbs, Janet Parker, Barbara Morgan, Sharon Hinkle, J. V. Kerley, Cheryl Swafford, Jerry Burgess and Horace Wyatt listen as Mrs. Brown lectures.

English IV

Biology

Biology is not all laboratory experimentation, but the budding crop of new scientists do ground work here for experiments they will be performing a little later. Mr. James Bell keeps his class abreast with the latest information in biological research. Tommy Sapp, Ralph Hall, Danny Hale, Jane Hale, and Joe Dooley are shown.

Physics

Mr. Burton Igram's Physics course is designated to be a challenge to the best scientific minds in the school. These students are expected to be able to move into college sciences without difficulty. Left to right are Mr. Igram, Everett Mahaney, Reggie Hall, Roy Nevils, Ann Young, David Hedgecoth, Gale Brewer, and Dallas Davis.

"BANG"

Chemistry

Mrs. Imogene Haston has stepped out of the spotlight while her students carry on the experiment of making chlorine gas. Here students learn not only chemistry, but they learn to think scientifically, to follow the scientific method, and to realize something of the importance of chemistry in our daily lives. Pictured are Libby Denton, Patsy Cope, Carolyn Ingram, and Lois Safdie.

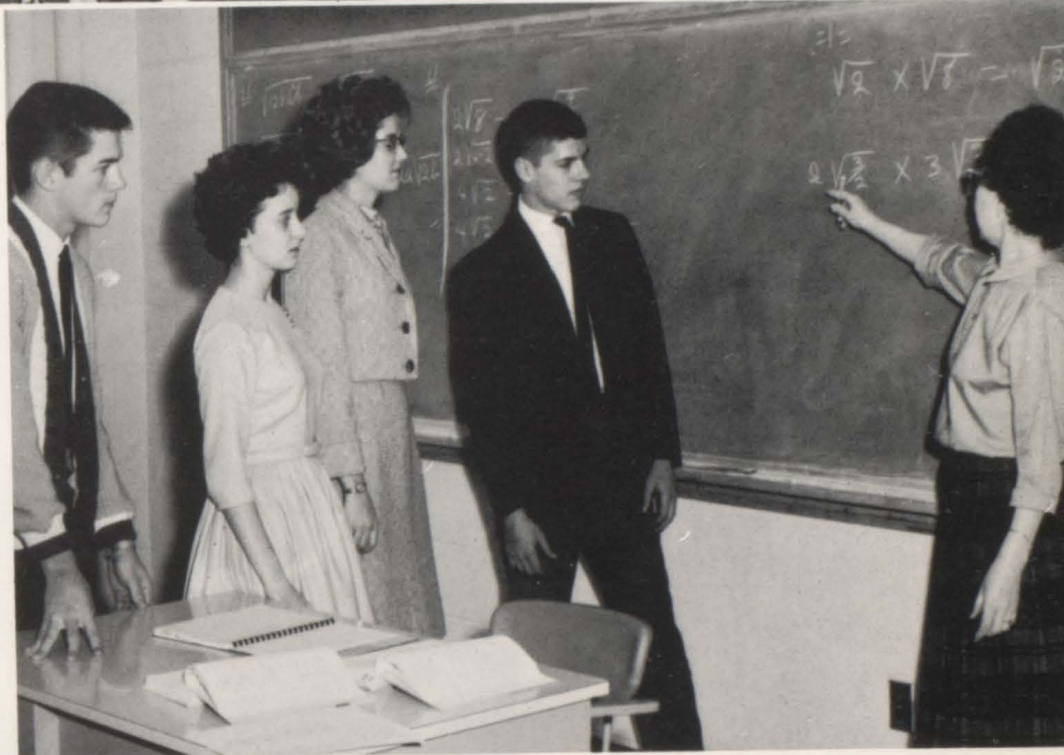

Algebra I

Mr. Neil Holloway gives individual help as his Algebra class room is pictured during a study period. Students shown are Terry Findler, Denton Carr, Bob Duval, Bill Hassler, Art Husband, Charles Hyder, Martha Jones, Glenn Lowe, Kenneth Parks, and Joyce Roysden.

Neil Holloway

Algebra

Mrs. Euphemia Hieronymus explains a problem to her accelerated class in Algebra. Left to right the students are Dennis Wilbanks, Janice Hill, Margaret Stone, Lewis Bohannon, Jr., and Mrs. Hieronymus. Plane and Solid Geometry and Trigonometry are also taught by Mrs. Hieronymus.

Arithmetic

Mrs. Hieronymus taught well, for Eugene Thurman, one of her former pupils, is now teaching Mathematics and other subjects in our school. Mr. Thurman is standing before his class. Others pictured are Carl Moore, Ronald Myers, George Reed, Reginald Rowell, Katy Smith, and Dorothy Smith.

Could be?

English I

Wilma Gaynor reads, as the members of Mrs. Sarah Houghton's English I class listen. They are working to improve their reading skills. Front row: Ted Tabor, Paul Parham, Lyle Nealon. In the second row are James Davis, Geraldine Myers, Esther Harner, Arlie Day. Third row: Kenneth Keys, Linda Maples, David Cline. Fourth row: Jimmy Woody Sam Hammon, Esther Howard, Margaret Houston, Janet Gould and Lawrence Adkin.

General Science

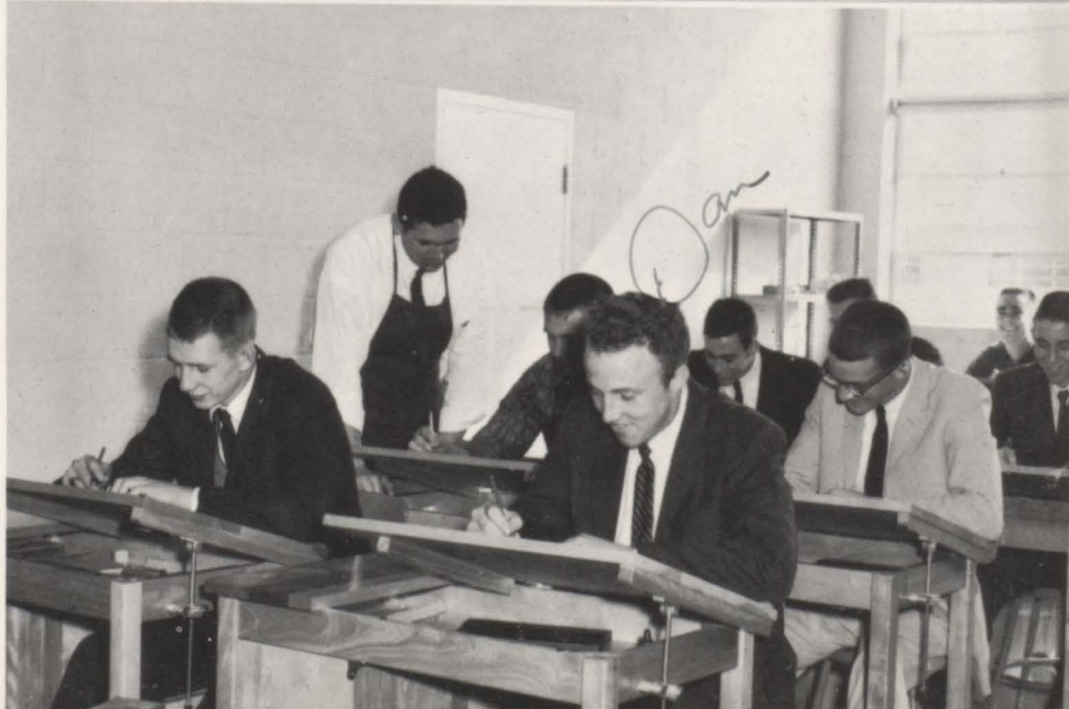

Mr. Frank Holladay demonstrates electronic equipment to a group of students in his General Science laboratory. "Science will play such a vital role in the life of every one of you," Mr. Holladay tells his class, "That you need to learn all you possibly can about it, whether you see the reason for it now or not." Joyce Reed, Ted Tabor, John Tays, and Gloria Cox look on.

Industrial Arts

Here the fundamentals of Industrial Arts are taught by Mr. Lyndon Pippin. "Not all of our students will be doctors, lawyers, scientists, or teachers," Mr. Pippin says. "Many of them will find their way into the kind of thing that we are trying to prepare them for here" Pictured are Wayne Mullins, Daniel Brookhart, Mr. Pippin, (standing); Robert Metcalfe, Tony Mackie, Eddie Baird, Jimmy Knox, and Noel White. Mr. Pippin is even more interested in teaching his boys to become clean, decent men.

am

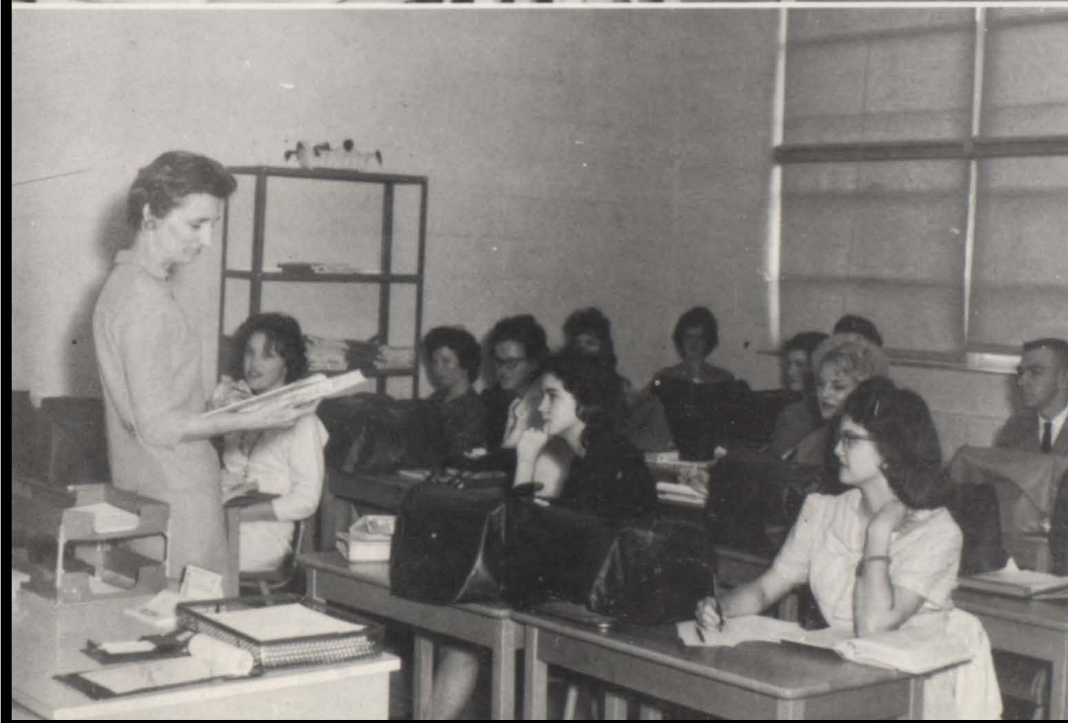

Office Practice

Mrs. Sarah Suttle, Brenda Tabor, Billy Phipps and Carolyn Parker look on as Geneva Brown learns to use the calculator. This is one of the many things taught by Mrs. Suttle in her Office Practices class. This is a class for the purpose of preparing students to work efficiently in the business world. The commercial class rooms are spacious, comfortable and well lighted.

Shorthand

Mrs. Norma Shaffer's class in shorthand prepares to take dictation in their study. Ginger McAnally, Sue Kilgore, Janice Norris, Fay Anderson, and Loretta Merkley are shown, as they think in terms of future positions where their training will be invaluable.

Bookkeeping

Mrs. Alice Smith's Bookkeeping class is absorbed in another important phase of business training. Linda Hodge, Brenda Barringer, Eva Brady, Shirley Burgess, June Monday, Lynn Selvage, Diann Loshbough, Juanita Warner, Johnny Smiddie, Marcella Davis, and Larry Houston are seated at the tables, and Mrs. Smith stands by the desk.

American History

Mr. B. M. Carr's American history classroom is filled with the kind of educational aids to make history real. Mr. Carr works tirelessly to instill the principles of American Democracy into his classes. His courses have provided some highly interesting panels in observance of the Civil War Centennial, and on other live issues of the day.

World History

World History is one of the fields in which Mr. Ross Maynard is especially interested. Lois Barnes, Ronnie Parham, Glenna Burnett, Boyd Blaylock, Mr. Maynard, and Ireta Baird keep a watchful eye on the trouble spots of the world. They are shown studying the map of the places which will be in tomorrow's headlines.

Civics

Civics and Ancient history are taught by Mrs. Attie Norris. A bulletin board display is being changed by some of the class. Steve Davis, Brenda Barnwell, Brenda Hamby, and Ted Bryson are at the board. Mrs. Norris makes good use of visual aids.

Home Economics

Home Economics classes are always busy places. In all three classes the teachers seek to prepare their students to be good and efficient home makers. Mrs. Claude Ann Burton oversees a sewing class. Ann Tanner, Joyce Reeves, Mrs. Burton, Gail Moon-eyham, Molly Martin, and Kay Lawson are pictured in their spacious new Home Economics Department.

Home Economics

A typical class session is presided over by Miss Celia Cummins. At the piano is Patricia McCoy. Other girls are Linda Honeycutt, Sharon Campbell, Linda Vitatoe, Elizabeth Halter, Charlene Barnwell, Mona Davis, and Deane Cox. Behind the projector are Janet Webb, Linda Buckner, Miss Cummins, Judy Norris, Judy Polson, and Doris McNeil are at the extreme right.

Home Economics

Another phase of homemaking is taught by Mrs. Edna Gluff. The girls of the group are Barbara Walker, Jacque Blaylock, Sarah Henry, Betty Jo Hedgecoth, Linda Sue Green, Katy Smith, Rebecca Norris, Linda Sue Young, Judy Finstein, Janet Stone, Anna Straub, Brenda Ann Kerley, Judy Bible, Kathleen Douthit, Norma Wyatt, Novella Smith, Mary Carson, Nancy Fields, Rebecca Smiddie, Virginia Campbell. Mrs. Gluff is standing.

Vocational Agriculture

Mr. Claude Little is bent on giving his boys the best agricultural background possible. He is explaining problems that are necessary for farmers to know in modern world. Among those things is the proper keeping of farm records. Lynn Smith, Ronald Pelfrey, Jerry Redwine, and Larry Bristow are the ones recognizable in the picture.

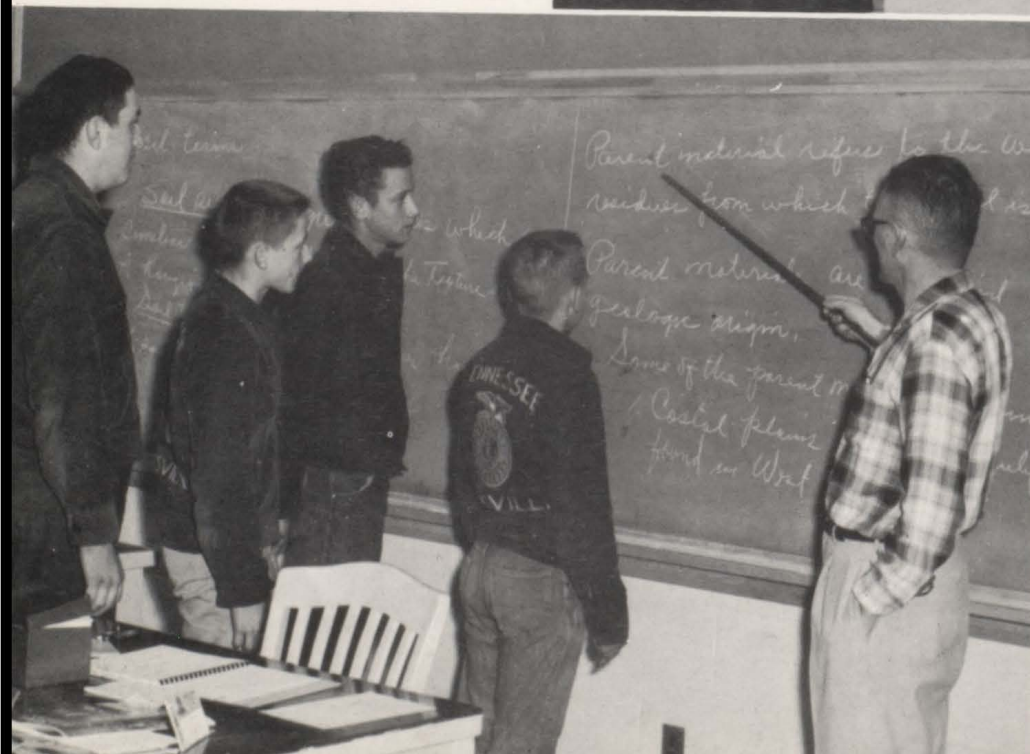

General Mathematics

Many students find it to their advantage to take a year of general mathematics before taking Algebra. For those who wish better preparation for further mathematical study, such classes as these are offered. Bernice Campbell, Margaret Lewis, James Baldwin, Dickie Wyatt, and Mary Starkly gather at Mr. Delmer Hendrix's desk for explanation of some problem that has proved a difficult one for them.

Vocational Agriculture

Like Mr. Little, Mr. Smith is interested in the oncoming agricultural situation. He is refreshing the minds of his students on some fundamental facts that a good farmer must know. Bill Williams, Larry Jones, Ralph Guist, and James Baldwin are shown with Mr. Smith. Both Mr. Smith and Mr. Little carry on an active Future Farmer program.

Speech

The way to learn to speak is to speak. The students of Mrs. Diane Brown's class in speech are getting firsthand experience in this discussion group. They "solve" such problems as integration, taxation, the Common Market, and delinquency. Or, if they do not solve the problem, they are aware of it, which is the first step in the solution of anything. These students are Betty Whittenburg, Pete Graham, Linda Jenkins, Lynda Cooper, and Marvin Davis.

Spanish

Dr. Blanca Q. Paz left the University of Havana for the freedom of the United States. Her coming is our good fortune. She operates the new language laboratory where her students actually hear themselves speak the Spanish language. Spanish is spoken exclusively in the class. In the first line are Roy Human, David Shaffer, and Peggy Tucker; second: Fred Hall, Robert Scofield, Gordon Young; Third: Orion Miller, Joel Richards, David Dykes; Fourth: Anna Stevens; Fifth: Steve Dillon. Dr. Paz, standing.

French

Miss Corinne Black has many methods of teaching French to her pupils. One is to surround them with the French atmosphere in every way possible: French music, French Records, French magazines, French Art. At the Christmas season her bulletin boards were decorated reproductions of French Cathedral stained glass windows. Mary Orme, Barbara Hyder, Linda Hicks, Bobby Duval, and Jerry Campbell examine these fine pieces.

The Study Hall

Mr. Winningham signs passes for Ben Gould, Newell James, Carolyn Parham, Juanita Warner, Gloria Austen, and Cherry Blakely. These passes are for those who need to go to lockers, library, or to some teacher for make-up work.

Drivers Education

A new course in Drivers Education has been added to the curriculum. The teacher is Mr. T. E. Potts. In order to encourage the including of the course this year, First National Bank authorities purchased the car for the benefit of the class. Standing in the school driveway are Junior Stevens, Ruby Hedgecoth, Susie McNeil, Jack Davis, Bill Altum, and Mr. Potts.

Boys' Physical Education

Physical fitness is one of the aims of the physical education instructors. Mr. L. A. Fox puts the boys through a rigorous routine to help build strong and vigorous bodies. The new gymnasium is well equipped.

Girls' Physical Education

Mr. C. W. Pemberton directs a class in calisthenics. Ruby Hedgecoth is the student leader. These exercises develop grace and beauty as well as healthy bodies. A varied program is carried out to provide the maximum benefit for all the girls in school.

The "Inter-Com"

One of the most useful pieces of equipment in the building is the "inter-com". It saves literally thousands of steps in long corridors where step-saving is important. Every room is equipped with a loud speaker so that announcements can be made to all rooms at the same time. The central control system is in the school office. It is possible to call any student or teacher so that he can be in the office in a very few minutes at the longest, if necessary. It will be invaluable in case of emergency.

Mr. Gene Thurman, Gene Bailey, and Sondra Maddux are trying it out as the class president asks Mr. Thurman to tell the girls to be on time with candy for the sale.

The Book Store

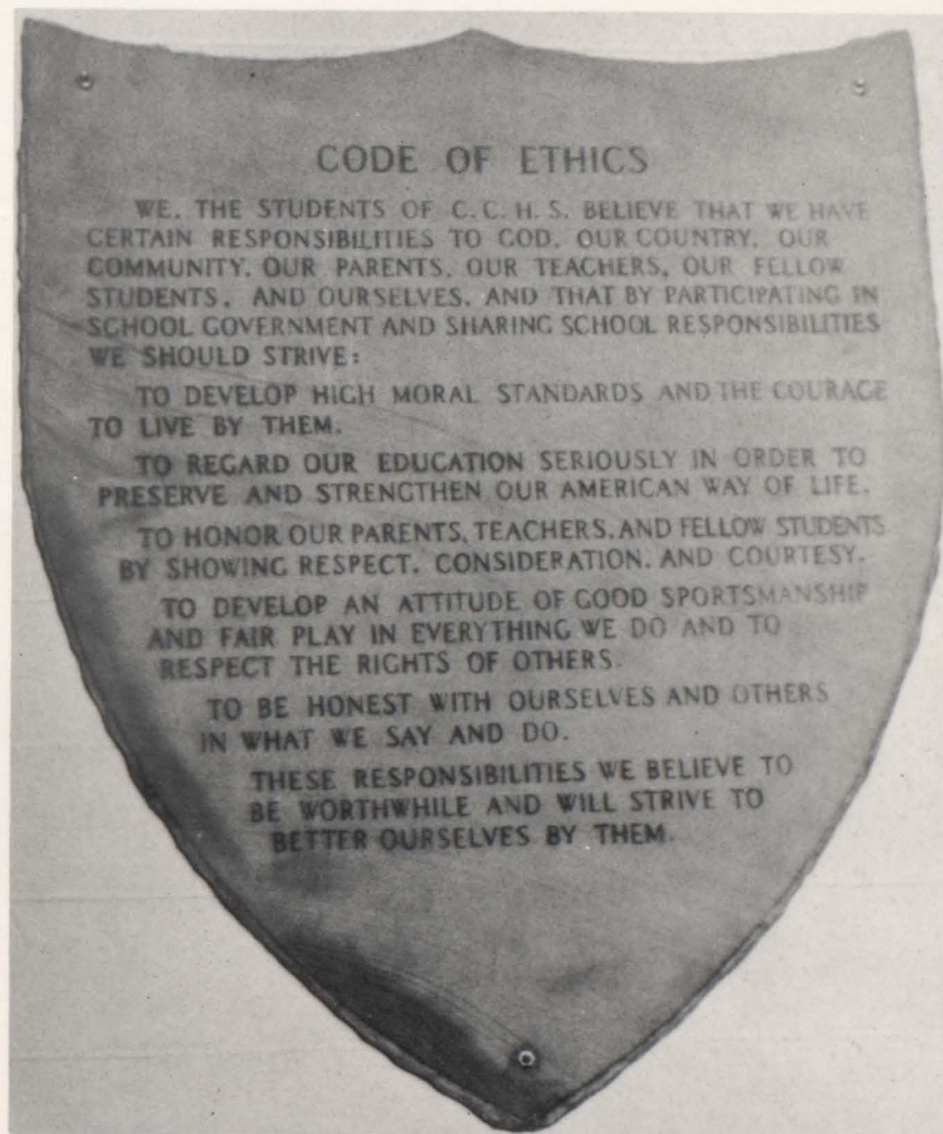

The school book store is another important place. It is on the right as one enters the main lobby. Here a good-sized business is carried on, not for profit, but for the convenience of students and teachers. Work books, pens, pencils, paper, notebooks, ink, and similar items so important to the busy student may be obtained here.

Candy, soft drinks, and other items of food, however, are not available because of regulations governing such items in schools where there is a lunch program.

Mrs. Beatrice Parsons is in charge. At the counter are Richard Davis, Sam Pugh, and Donald Hall.

Activities

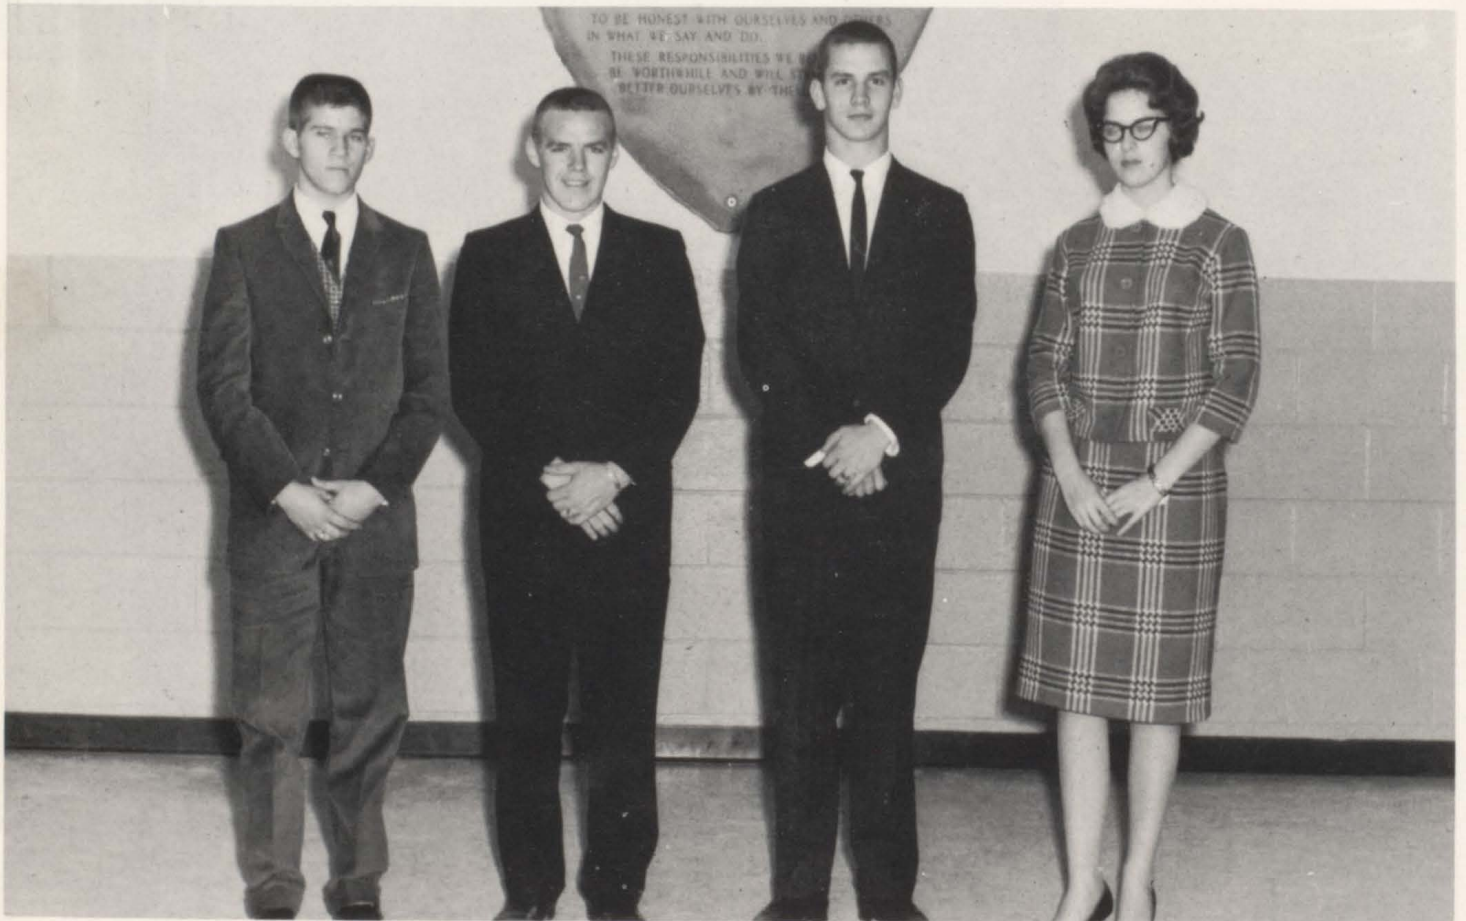

The shield on which the CCHS Code of Ethics is engraved is a gift from the Student Council. The stone is cut from Crab Orchard Stone, which is native to Cumberland County. The Code was adopted by the Student Body under the presidency of Ray Ables.

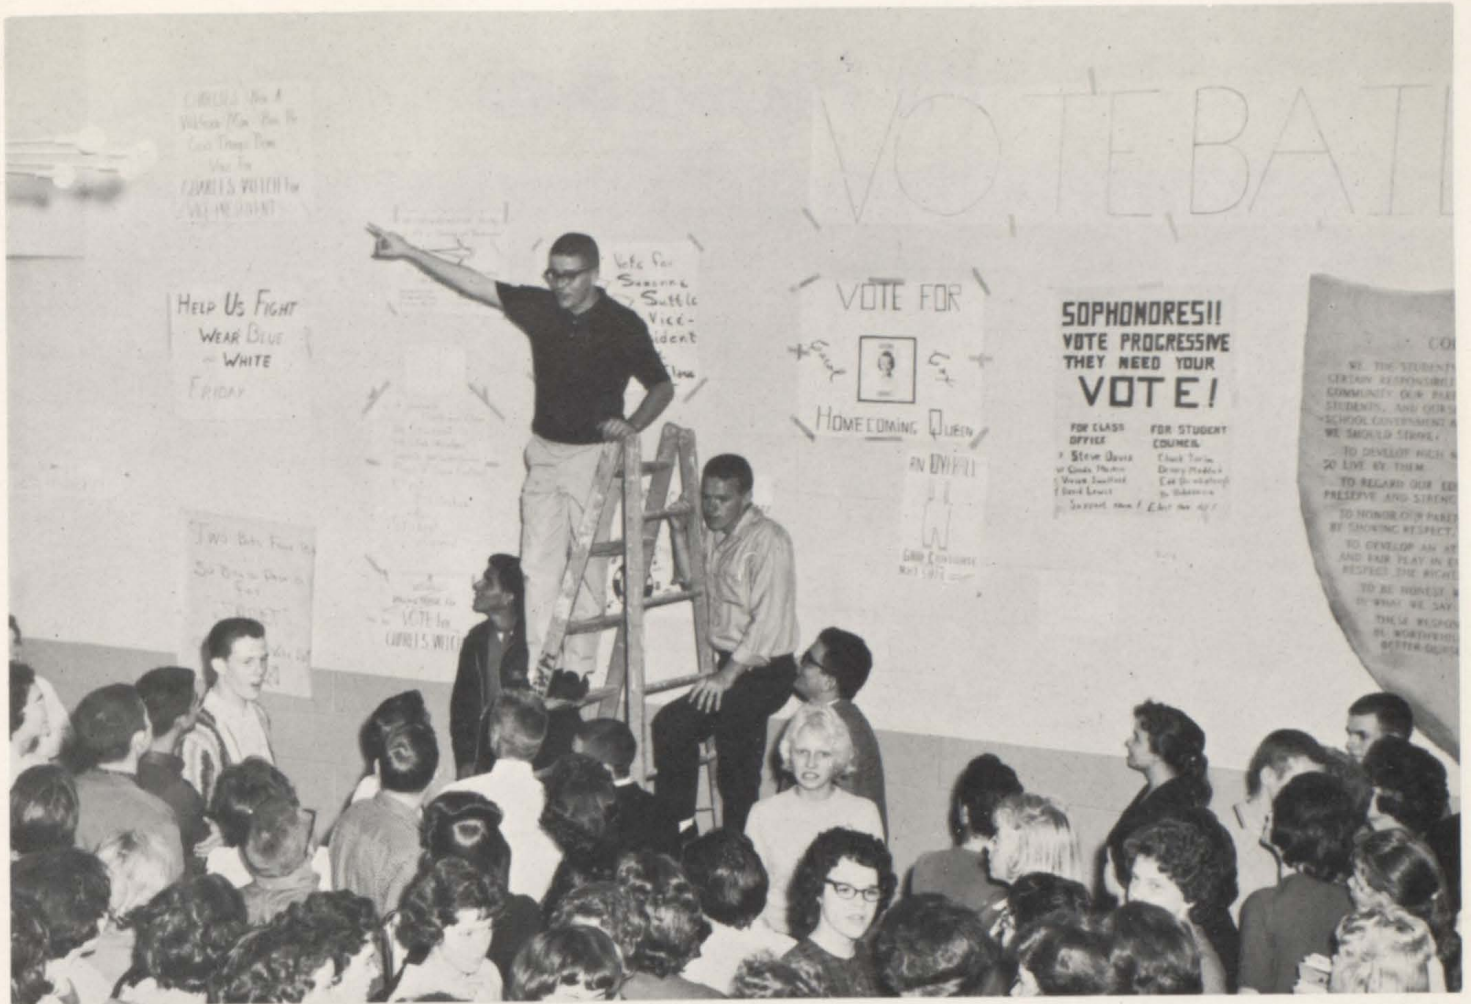

The Student Council

Certain matters of school policy are decided by a two-thirds vote of administration, faculty, and student council. Seated are Phil Dunaway, John Saylor, Susie McNeil, Horace Wyatt, Mr. Everett Gibson, Mr. Lyndon Pippin, Helen Stubbs, Gladys Nevils, Michael Hodge, and Carol Sue Cox. Standing are William Swafford, Charles Taylor, Dennis Maddux, Lou Ann Lambert, Paul-ette Graham, Nettie Stevens, Johnny Hennessee, Vickie Shadden, Peggy Young, Marcia Stevens, Lewis Bohannon, Jr., and Janet Stone.

Student Council Officers

Election Day at Cumberland County High School

What adults don't know about politics they could learn from the oncoming crop of office-holders. The high-powered "politicking" engaged in by high school candidates and their supporters might astonish the old-line politicians. In the absence of a "stump" or a "platform", Gene Bailey regales his audience from a step-ladder in the lobby as he campaigns for the office of President of the Senior Class. Clinging to the side of the ladder, Horace Wyatt thinks of his own campaign for a place on the Student Council. Charles Welch also a candidate for an office in the Senior Class, awaits his turn to speak in his own behalf. Feeling runs high in these campaigns, but once the election is over, everyone falls in line and abides by the will of the majority in the traditional manner of American citizens wherever they are to be found. Senior winners were Gene Bailey, Jack Chadwell, Wayne Mullins, and Sondra Mad-dux.

Winners and losers alike cooperated in cleaning away the debris after the results of the election had been announced and banners torn down. Within a short time after it was all over, the hall was again as clean as it was in preparation for Dedication Day.

It is interesting to note that most students consider voting to be a serious responsibility, and that generally the per cent of students who exercise their franchise runs higher than the percentage of adults in local, state, and even national elections.

The Plateau Staff

Staff of the 1963 Plateau

Seated: Sondra Maddux, Phyllis Tanner, Gene Bailey, Miss Bertha E. Wilson, Barbara Morgan, Mary Nina Gibson. Standing: David Hyder, Lindell Agee, Mike Safdie, Michael Hodge, Darlene Breeding, Charles West, Carol Sue Cox. Lynn Neal is not pictured.

Club

The objects of the Key Club are to develop initiative and leadership, to provide experience in living and working together, to serve the school and the community, to co-operate with the Principal, and to prepare for useful citizenship.

"We build," Mr. Smith said of the Club. "This applies to all phases of life. In other words, whatever is constructive and uplifting, we are for. We strive to build character and whatever makes for a well-rounded and upright life."

Athletics Club

Handwritten signature in blue ink.

Wearers of the "C"

The Athletics Club is made up of boys and girls who have earned a school letter this year. It brings together people of mutual interest in sports and gives them an opportunity to discuss the problems of sportsmen in their field.

Members of the club, from left to right on the first row are: Coach Neil Holloway, co-sponsor, Coach T. E. Potts, co-sponsor, Bill Swafford, John Hennessee, Bill David Hassler, Mike Collier, Buster Campbell, Jim Goodwin, John Tabor, Coach L. A. Fox, co-sponsor; Coach C. W. Pemberton, co-sponsor; Second row: Wayne Mullins; Faye Stout; Ruth Mackie; Lou Ann Lambert; Tony Mackie, Pat Gatlin, Peggy Hall, Paula Edmonds, Jay Jernigan, Roy Nevils; Third row: Bill Stevens, Rosie Young, Helen Stubbs; Paulette Graham, Marsha Sidwell, Jeanette Parker, Leonard Turner, Denny Maddux, "Bo" Bohannon, Bob Duval; Top row: Marvin Davis, George Hatfield, Al Davis, Steve Davis, Jaxter Burnett, Doyle Sherrill, Jack Chadwell, Bill Fogg, John Saylor, and Jimmy Hall.

"Congratulations, Richard," says David Hayes to Richard Edmonds, the winner of the Highland Rim District Creed Contest, as he presents the certificate of award. Eight schools are in the district. The Creed contest is open to the Freshmen FFA boys. The club motto: "We develop agricultural leadership, cooperation and citizenship."

Larry Warner and John Lowery show how the club members learn electric welding.

The T & I Club

Purposes

To create and foster respect for all honest labor, and appreciation of workmanship and workers.

To promote a high standard of scholarship and workmanship, and to create a thirst for knowledge.

Bill Blaylock and Dallas Davis

Bill and Dallas helped to do the beautiful stone masonry in the fireplace of the new house being built by the "Shop" boys.

The Future Residence of Coach T. E. Potts and a group of its Builders

This house sold for the price of the materials plus $3000. It is located in the Cumberland Subdivision on the Jamestown Highway.

T & I Club

Purposes

To encourage its members to prepare for leadership and to develop self-confidence.

To get training and experience in presiding and participating in group meetings.

Jennings Bolin and David Pugh

Jennings and David exercise their skills in carpentry. No job will be accepted by Mr. J. C. Elmore until it meets the highest standards of workmanship.

Mr. J. C. Elmore Inspects the Nearly Completed House Built by His Class

Although a morning group was on duty when these pictures were made, the afternoon group members have done their full share of the work and are no less responsible for the success of the project.

Beta Club

The purpose of this organization is to promote the ideals of honesty, service, and leadership among the high school students; to reward meritorious achievement, and to encourage and assist students to continue their education after high school.

Our officers are the following: John Saylor, President; Helen Stubbs, Vice President; Peggy Hall, Secretary; Gale Brewer, Treasurer; and Bill Stevens, Reporter.

Sponsors are Mrs. Diane Brown and Mrs. Alice Smith.

Membership in this group is limited to juniors and seniors who have maintained an average of B or above throughout their course.

Writing the Constitution

Bruce Bumbalough, Wayne Russel, Sondra Maddux, and Lynnda Cooper were selected to write the constitution for their organization.

Beta Club Members

First Row: Lynnda Cooper, Buster Campbell, William Swafford, Tommy Mathis, David Hayes, Lindell Agee, Donald Garrett, Ann Young, Mrs. Diane Brown, Sponsor.

Second Row: Canzada O'Dell, Barbara Morgan, Linda Houston, Sondra Maddox, Peggy Hall, Helen Stubbs, Ralph Swallows, Claude Simms, Bruce Bumbalough.

Third Row: Gale Brewer, Sharon O'Dell, Ruby Carr, Carolyn Parker, Darlene Breeding, Susan Harley, Paula Jean Edmonds, and Randy Hale.

Top Row: Kay Lawson, Joan McDonald, Donna Blakely, Bill Cole, Bill Stevens, John Saylor, Carl Perry, Raymond Smith, and Wayne Russel.

National Honor Society

Future Homemakers

Purposes

1. To promote a growing appreciation of the joys and satisfactions of homemaking.
2. To emphasize the importance of worthy home membership.
3. To encourage democracy in home and community life.
4. To work for a good home and family life for all.
5. To promote international good will.
6. To foster the development of creative leadership in home and community life.
7. To provide wholesome individual and group leadership.
8. To further interest in home economics.

Sondra Maddux Presides at Brown Circle

The name of this club originated from the famous eighteenth century literary group which was headed by the renowned Dr. Samuel Johnson, and was known as the "Johnson Circle." The purpose of the club is to further culture in Cumberland County High School. Mrs. J. W. Brown is the sponsor of the club.

In March the club sponsored a trip to Knoxville for interested students to see "My Fair Lady." Pictured below are the officers:

Future Teachers of America Officers

The newly organized chapter of The Future Teachers of America features its officers. They are Jayne Munro, President, seated; Nettie Stevens, Vice President; Nancy Turner, Secretary; and Shirley Kirkemind, Treasurer; Mrs. Eilene Sims is sponsor of the organization.

"The Future Teachers"

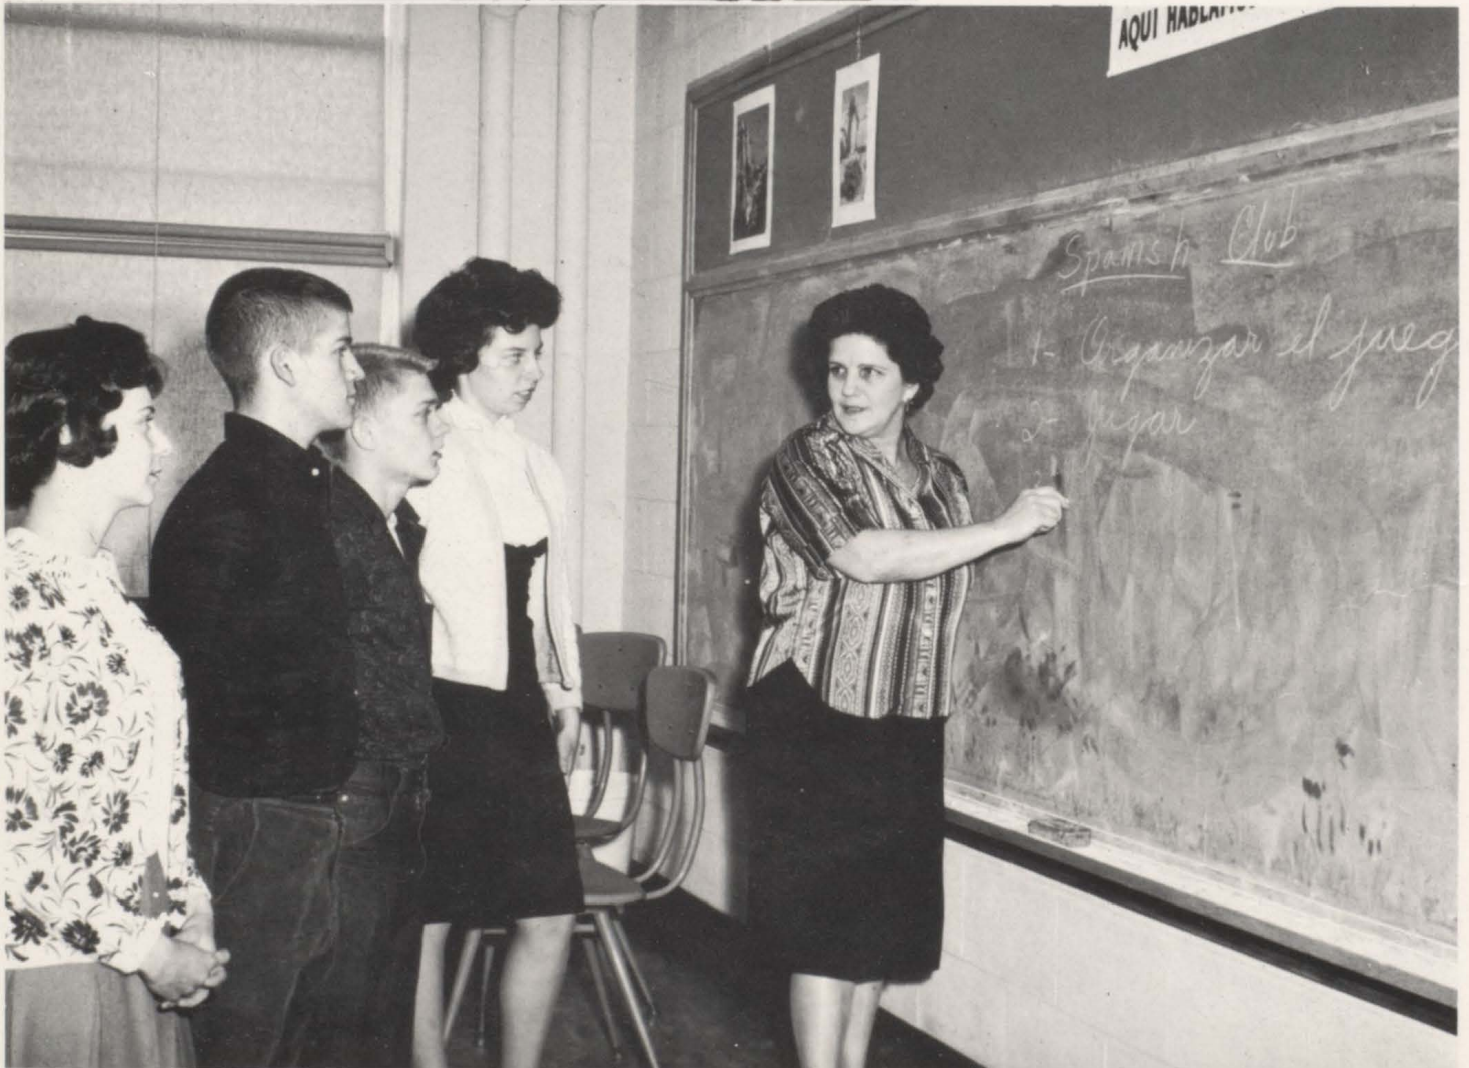

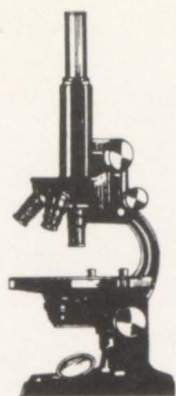

Spanish Club

"Aqui Hablamos Espanol."

This is a rule which applies in the Spanish Club as well as in Dr. Paz's classes. Dr. Paz is pictured at her desk with the officers of the Junior Spanish Club, who are Randy Marlow, Hugh Hendricks, William Swafford, and Elizabeth Denton. Below, members of the Senior Spanish Club supply the words as Dr. Paz writes them on the board. Students are Geneva Nail, Johnny Hennessee, Johnny Noland, and Sandra Lewis.

Senior Biology Class

This course is designed for those interested in science as a career. It is unique, Mr. Burton Ingram, the instructor, believes, in that no other such class is known in this entire area. The nearest likeness to it is in Oak Ridge. Chemistry is a pre-requisite to the course, and only seniors with outstanding scientific ability should attempt to take it.

"Peanuts" and Classmates

Left to right, the picture includes Jeanette Mays, Gale Brewer, Tim Griggs, and Michael Hodge. Between Gale and Tim on the table, and just in front of Mr. Ingram is another important member of the class. The little fellow is known to his "classmates" as Peanuts. He is a golden hamster, and is the only member of the class not required to know chemistry.

Pete Graham and "Bo" Bohannon give demonstration on meat cuts.

4-H Club

The senior 4-H Club offers training for the future and an opportunity to develop a wholesome philosophy of life through leadership activities, recreational advantages, vocational guidance, health training, public speaking, and training in skills which encourage earning while learning.

The Library Club in Action

The library club is a school service club in which students give of their time and their energies to the many phases of work necessary for the furthering of good library practices. Above, Bruce Bumbalough, Libby Boyce, Linda Lowe, and Geneva Brown work at the check-out desk. Below, Linda Tabor and Joyce Phillips work at keeping the card catalogue up to date.

The Library Club in Action

After books have been returned, the club members help replace them on the shelves. Working at this in the above picture are Barbara Maples, Loretta Brown, and Leon Helfer. Below, the repairing process is being carried on by Geneva Brown, Barbara Maples, Sandra Morehead, Linda Sue Maples, Diane Cox, and Karen Bradley. Mrs. Ruth Looney, sponsor and librarian, is directing the group in this work.

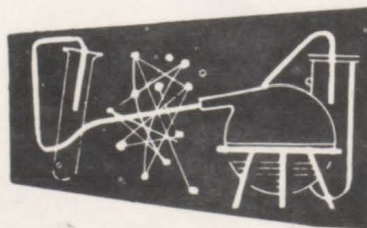

Cumberland "Jets" Science and Math Club

The term "Jets" here refers to the "Junior Engineering Technical Society" and not to the school emblem or sobriquet. The purposes of the club are the following:

1. To stimulate an interest in applied science and engineering and to train for careers in these fields.
2. To encourage scholarship, develop initiative, enthusiasm, and interest in projects related to applied science and engineering.
3. To aid in developing good character, in training for useful citizenship, and encouraging and practicing thrift.
4. To encourage members to make their home, school, and community a better place to live through better understanding of themselves and others and through cooperative efforts.

The Testing Program

Dee

Our school cooperates fully in all phases of the testing program. Tests given in our school include the Occupational Aptitude Test, various College Entrance Examinations, Scholarship tests, Achievement tests, Occupational Interest Inventory tests, Scholastic Aptitude, and others. School counsellors hope to keep in improving the program to make it practical in every way for teachers and students alike, and not testing for the sake of testing.

In the picture below Dave Kirkham and Miss Kathleen Margrave are shown with Mrs. Edna Elmore as they interpret the scores of the Occupational Aptitude test recently given to a group of seniors. Through the Employment Security Agency the test was given to carefully selected potential employees who expect to go into positions immediately upon graduation.

Results of tests are available to teachers to aid them in helping the student in every way possible, scholastically, and vocationally.

"All Cumberland County Schools Will be Closed Today."

If this picture looks as if it were taken in a snow storm, it is because it was taken in a snow storm—one of several that closed our schools and prolonged our school year later than the usual date.

In such weather the breeze-way is a great help in getting about. Below is the view of the building from Stanley Street and Yvonne Avenue.

Wing F and the Breezeway

"Wing F" houses Shop, Industrial Arts, Agriculture, and Band Classes.

Gymnasium and Walk from "Wing A"

The corner of the gymnasium is pictured with the connecting walk from "Wing A." Doors at the end of the walk lead into "Wing D," and to the cafeteria. There is no more running out in the rain to get from class to class. Note the beautiful Crab Orchard stone of which the building is constructed. Cumberland Countians are proud of this native product which has been a leading industry for our county for years.

School began late because the building was not ready in August. Weather closed schools three times. But finally, in spite of ice, snow, and flu, the year came to an end.

Tommy,

I have truly enjoyed knowing you these past years. Don't ever forget those years at Hornstead. Sure we were crazy weren't they? Good luck next year at C.C.H.S. Be good because I won't be here to keep an eye on you. I might come back + ~~be~~ spy ever once - in - a - while. May you have the very best of everything in the future.

*Tommy,
I'm afraid it's going to be hard to forget
you. I'll think of you every time
I think of church camp or badminton or the old school bus or the Homestead church.
I'll miss you, but I hope you enjoy and go far in life. Don't forget me, and stay happy.

To Our Readers

Friends and patrons of the new Cumberland County High School have gone far beyond the call of duty to help us make a success of our first year in our new location. It has been the same in the preparation of this book, in which we have tried to bring to our readers a record of a great year.

Many problems have confronted us in coordinating the work of three staffs, and in integrating three student-bodies into one, but the experience has been rewarding.

Whatever has been accomplished has been done because of the cooperation of students, teachers, patrons, parents, and the business men and women of our several communities.

Greater things lie ahead for Cumberland County, and will be recorded as faithfully in subsequent books as we have tried to record the events of this year.

Johnny, Thanks for helping me get out a tight place. I would never have thought of that - although I have been great knowing I was in a nice - but I don't know if you'll be the future. I look at you and think that you understand. Good luck! Best wishes, Dad

Tommy
 I've not known
 you very long, but knowing you one day is like knowing you a year. I'll always remember what fun we had in English class.
 (Take that P.E. suit home and keep it there.)
