Click on the blue underlined links.

Wednesday, March 9th, is a 12:10 pm early dismissal day.

Read Across America: On Wednesday, March 2, teachers swapped classrooms to share a book that supported this year's Read Across America theme, Nation of Diverse Readers. The students enjoyed spending time with a different teacher and the teachers enjoyed sharing books with the students.

Spring Student-Led Conferences: It is time to sign up for a spring student-led conference that will take place on either March 23rd or 24th. Click on the link to read the details and procedures to create your conference time. The sign-up link will open today at 3:00 pm.

Bus Update: We had hoped we would have different news to share, but we do not yet have a trained driver for the fourth school bus. We will continue our current routes with three buses at NCES until further notice.

Youth Softball Registration: Click the link for more details on how to register.

March AHA Newsletter: Please take a moment to read this month's newsletter from AHA. It includes some early information regarding the summer AHA program.

Library News: On March 7th, author Julian Randall will be at NCES for a virtual author visit with our third through fifth-grade students. Mr. Randall's most recent book is an action-adventure entitled, Pilar Ramirez and the Escape from Jafa which teachers have been reading to their students in class. Click on the following link to learn more and/or order a copy of the book: Julian Randall. Happy Reading!

Be well,
Dr. Roy
