STAYING WITHIN THE LINES

This year, the editors of the 1993 CROWN JEWEL decided we wanted to change the image of the yearbook. The past few years, the book has been done in a more classical manner, so this year we chose to do something fun. In deciding the theme, many ideas were discussed and after several weeks, the idea of STAY WITHIN THE LINES was born.

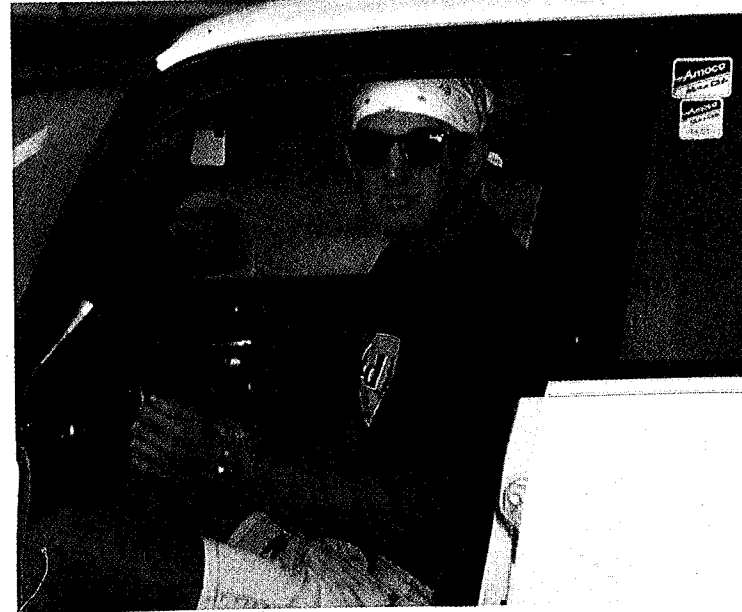

Within the lines of all of our lives is Lake Wales High School, both the fun parts and the not so fun parts. In this book, we will include all of it, sports, clubs, and academics, plus all the people who make Lake Wales High School what it is today.

So sit back, relax and enjoy the book, and remember one thing. Have fun with it!

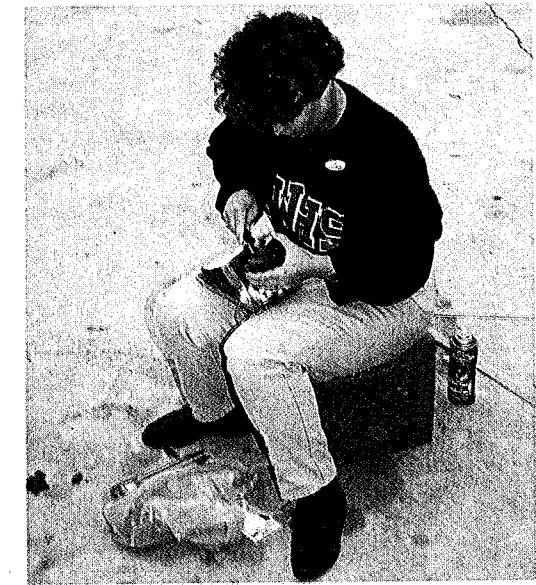

— Angela Holbrook

Quay Dopler tries to disguise himself from his many admirers.

Trevor Moseley and Leslie Gragg are just a couple of spirited seniors.

Mike Byrd and Will Pearce get a bird's eye view of the football game.

Above right: Brian Jahna and James Lawson show what kind of shape the Tigers were in after Homecoming.

Chris Dale, Michael Nitsche, Debra Lowhorn, and Shannon Watson stick together.

Maurice Howard and Darren Davis are just hanging out.

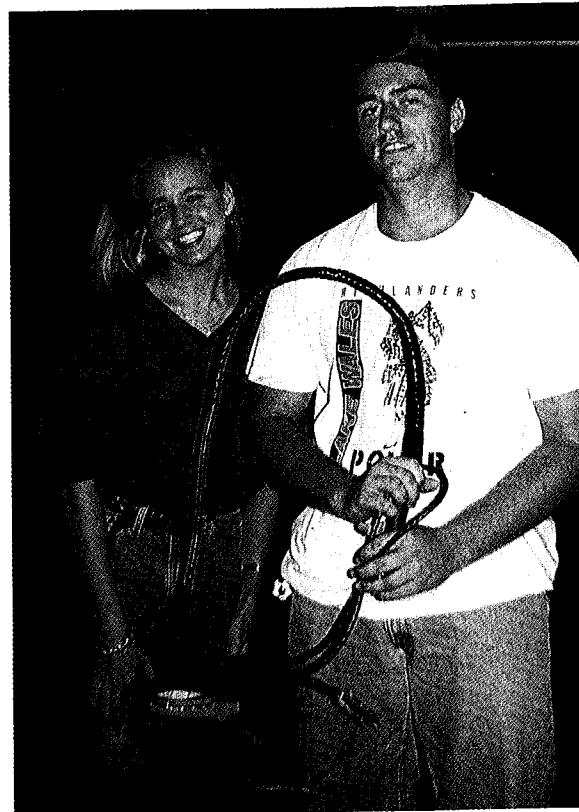

Eric Stoudemire and Rodney Swackard show what the Tigers stand for.

USTING OUT!

Mike Garcia and Jose Ortiz practice their dueling drums routine within the lines.

Ginger Ingley and Ron Wilson plan to help whip the Homecoming crowd into a frenzy of Highlander spirit.

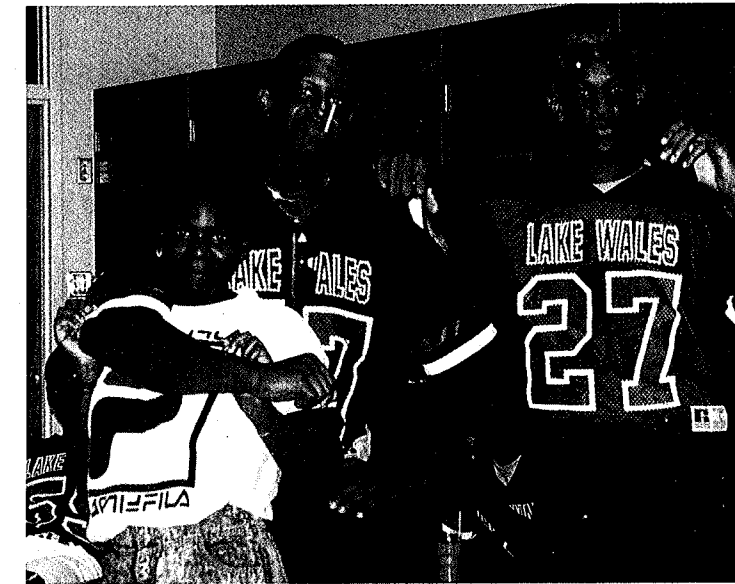

Nikki Carter and Greg Gorek wait for the pep rally to begin.

Jamelia Highsmith, Christie Glanton, Chris Tibbets, and Heather McCall show the unity that makes the Highlander band great.

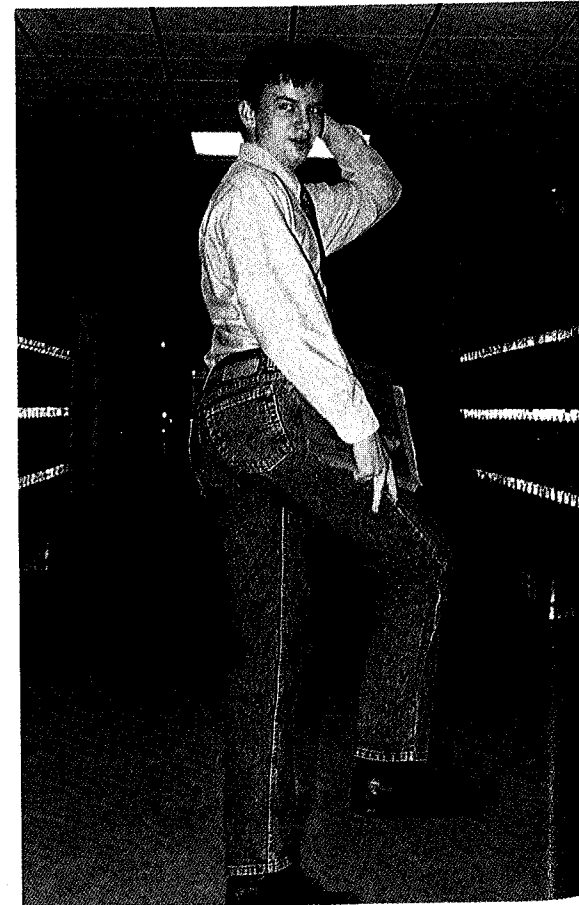

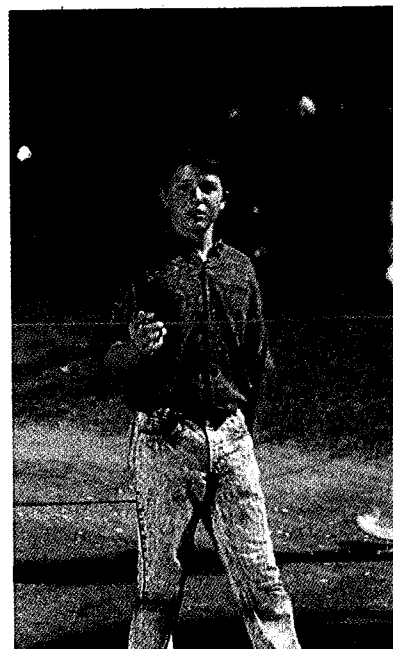

Melvin Pearsall takes a hostage of Kim Marks, aided by Eric Stou-demire, his partner in crime.

Tommy Wunker does his "Simon, Says" hop through the halls.

Jennifer Brown is just another fighting Highlander.

Eben Mann, Roy Wilkinson, Benji Outlaw, and Eric Coburn prepare for the Homecoming activities with another of their crazy ideas.

In The Crowd

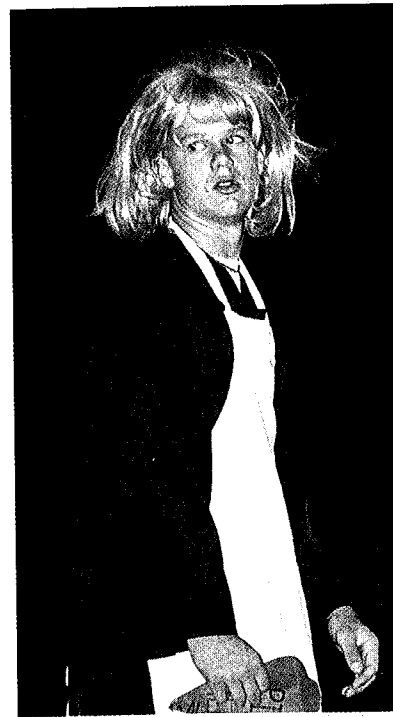

"Humility" is Kevin Kohl's middle name.

As we think back on our years at Lake Wales High School, all the heartbreaks and hurt feelings are forgotten. All we have left are a few names and faces engraved in our minds. These faces will be with us until we cease to be, and they tell the story of the way life was. They were with us through the best, and worst, days of our school lives. Faces that were once just faces in the crowd are now faces in the minds and hearts of us all. Hopefully, in the future, our faces will be remembered, and our presence felt in these halls, for nothing is less appreciated than a face; yet nothing is more cherished than a face from the past.

— Sara Fasel
Matt White

Alyson McLean, Monica Piper, and Ashleigh Sanders show how to have fun, even in the rain.

Lavonne Johnson, Patrick Gilley, Marcus Howard, and Corey Henderson, must have had fun in Saturday school.

Key Club members Dee Ewis, Mary Ellen Prince, Tracy Byrd, Susannah Herndon, Brian Leppert, Anne Wilkens, and Alan Duke apply finishing touches to their oceanic masterpiece.

Tricia Wilson makes a beautiful Queen.

On October 2, 1992, the 1992 Homecoming King and Queen were crowned amidst a sea of multi-colored umbrellas, but the court did not seem to mind. Because of the rain, the King and Queen were crowned during the pre-game show instead of at half-time, and the band played from the stands. The Queen candidates were: Tracey Christian, Mary Garcia, Christie Glanton, Megan Newberry, and Tricia Wilson. The King candidates were: Spencer Anderson, Jake Cockrell, Donald Eckis, Melvin Pearsall, and Eric Stoudemire. That rainy night, Jake Cockrell and Tricia Wilson were crowned Homecoming King and Queen.

Marching

To The Beat Of Our Own Drums

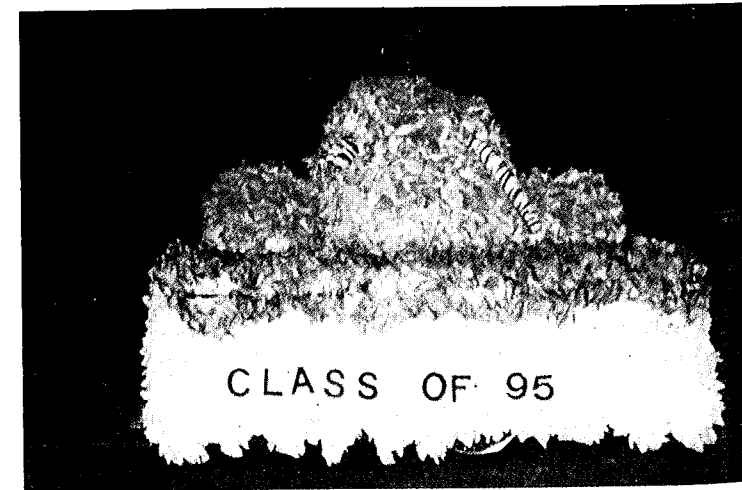

On October 1, 1992, and throughout Homecoming Week, school spirit was revealed in many ways. After the victorious J.V. football defeat over Kathleen, many students showed off their hard work by participating in floats and skits. Many floats burst out of the parade line — such as the Seniors who won first place, or the Sophomores, Juniors, and the JROTC, who won second place, third place, and honorable mention respectively. The skits were also a smashing hit, and the Seniors again stole first place with their version of Rapunzelle. The Juniors and FCA won second and third places. The band topped off the spirited rally and temporarily concluded the Homecoming activities until the following night.

— Sara Fasel

Jacob Larson gives Jeremy Fasel some worthless football advice.

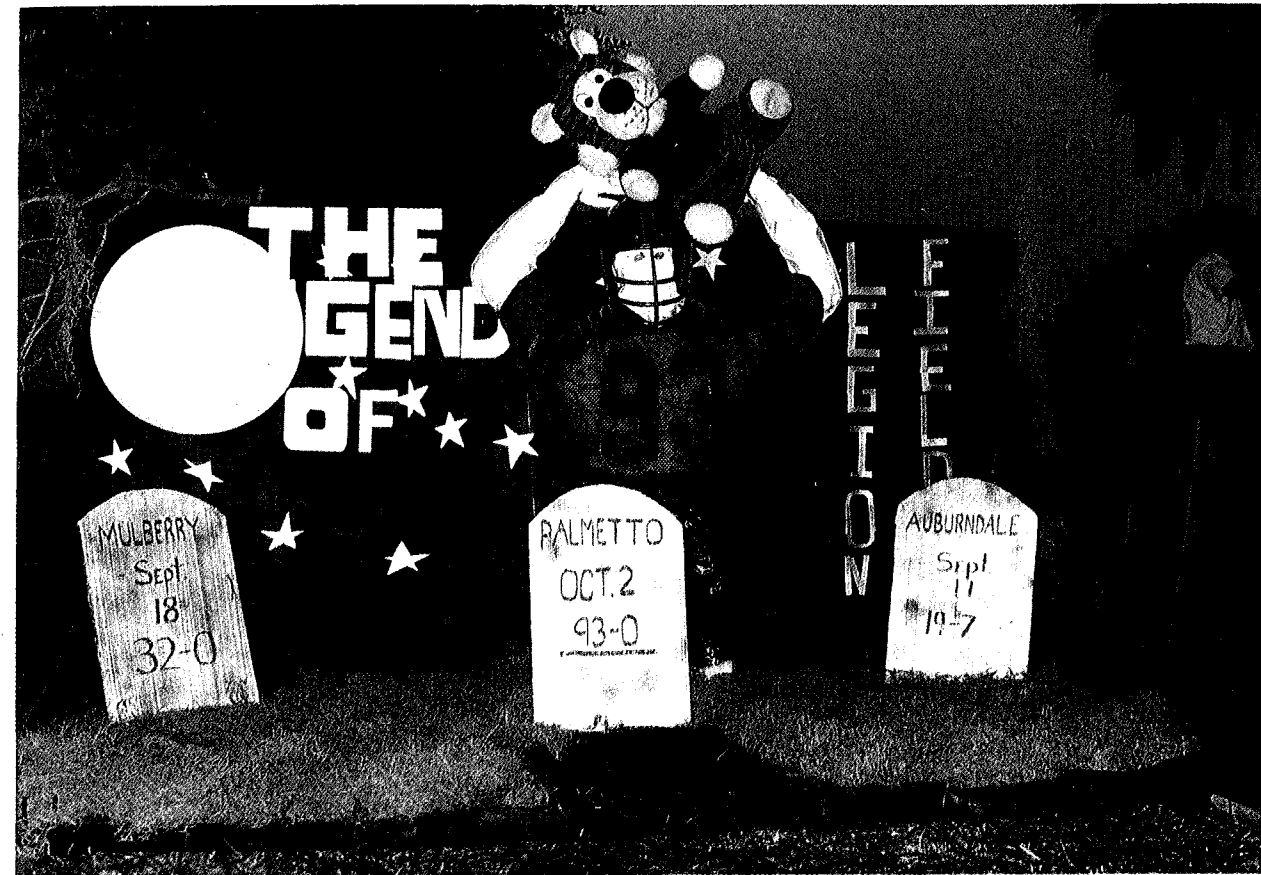

The Juniors took the Tigers to Never Never Land.

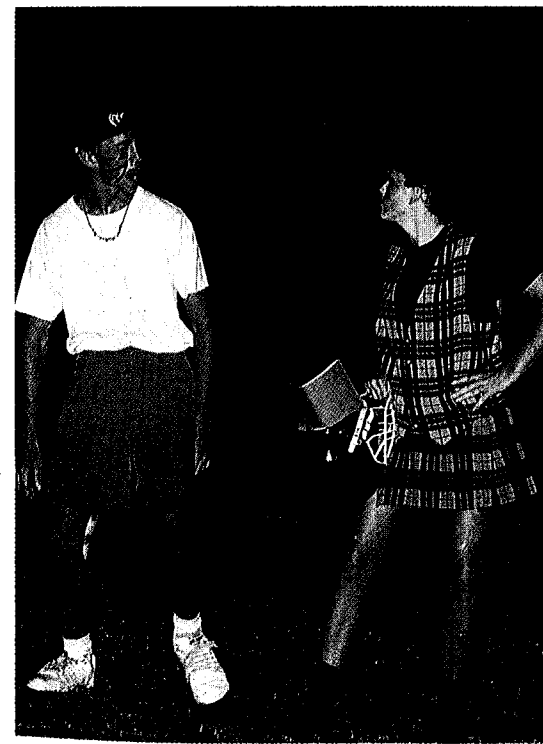

Highlander, Highlander, Tiger eater ... so went the Sophomore's second place float.

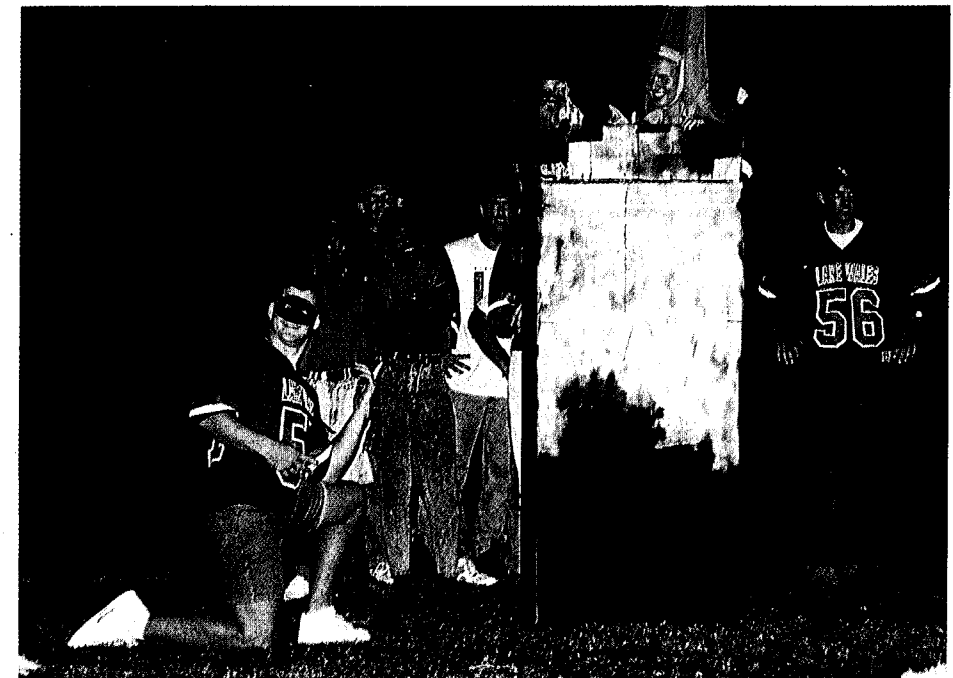

Alicia Moseley prepares Nick Simpson for the parade while Jason Babington makes suggestions.

The Senior class really proved themselves with their first place float.

DeeDee Lowhorn, as Little Plaid Riding Hood, stands up to the Tiger, Jacob Larson.

The Seniors first place skit included Matt Snyder, Shanta Morris, Tony Kohl, Charlene Parks, Ron Wilson, Ginger Ingley, and Jake Cockrell.

Cinderellas and Cinderfellas Before The Ball

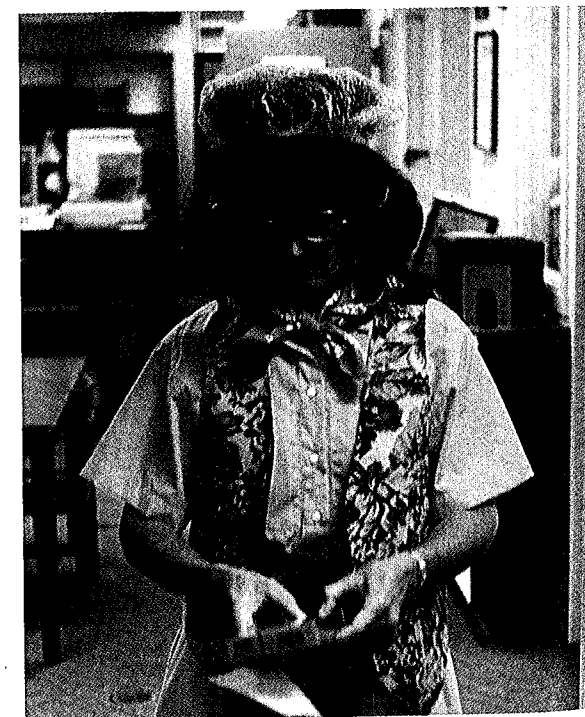

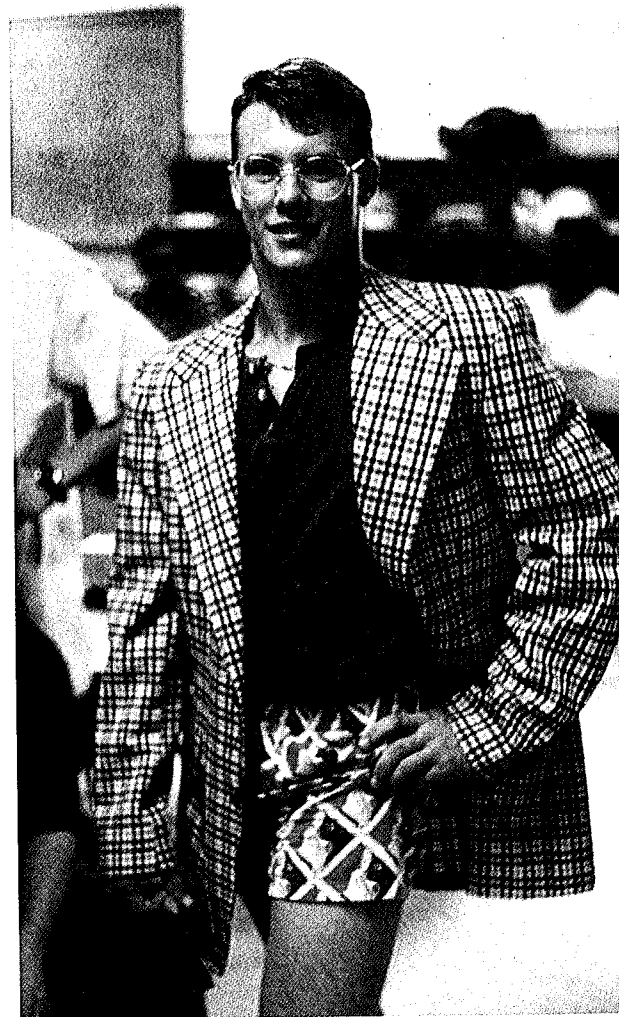

In this ever changing world of fashion and in the ongoing search for the strangest and most original outfit, who would have ever thought that little ole Lake Wales would stir up the fashion world.

These new age trend setters came in all colors and shades. Many people made special stops at the thrift shop to obtain their geeky getups. Some dug deep into their parent's closets to pull out the most hip fashions of the 70's. Many realized that it's harder to dress tacky than to dress in the norm.

— Matt White

Josh Cacace turns the hand of time back a few years.

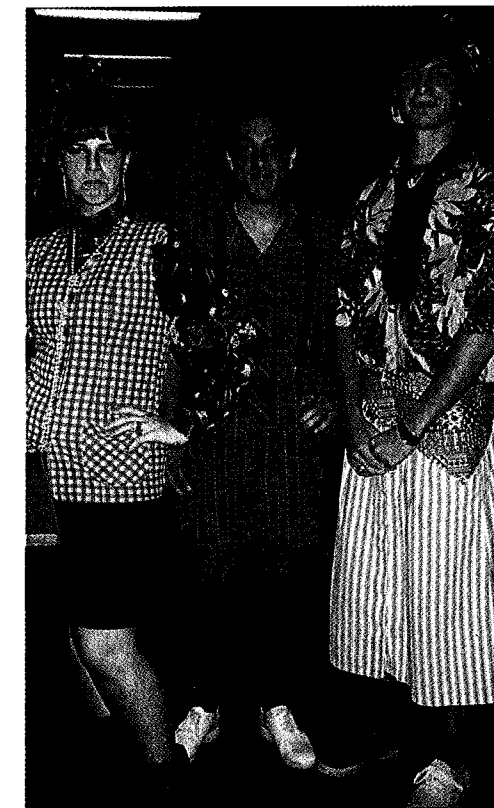

Mrs. Teisinger is obviously too busy to get her picture taken, but never too busy to participate in Tacky Day.

Eddie Morrison sports what must be his great, great grandfather's jacket. (No offense, Dad!)

Danielle Valente, just another day at LWHS.

Leon Griffith prepares to take his daily siesta in Miss Lee's math class. He can't run, but he can hide.

Jennifer Brown, Tim McLean, and Benji Outlaw look for approval.

Tina Goheen, now THAT is tacky!

And They ALL...

Lived Happily Ever After.

As you may have noticed in the last few pages, there were many opportunities to show off our school spirit for Homecoming 1992. Wearing spirit items, participating in pep rallies, representing clubs... the list goes on and on. Almost anything was seen while walking down the halls. Everybody was filled with orange and black spirit. The excitement grew each passing day. Even as the fairytales became history and the spirit died down, the memories were implanted in our hearts. "Once Upon A Time" will be remembered.

— Sara Fasel

Jennifer Brown reveals her spirited split personality with face paint.

Erica Hayes, Dawn Leddon, and Tara Harvard want the Highlander to "Just Do It."

J.V. Coach Campbell gets a fresh break after defeating Kathleen from Josh Adkins.

Derrick Johnson pauses to maybe check out the ladies.

Morning Mourning

Mornings aren't so bad . . . until the bell rings!

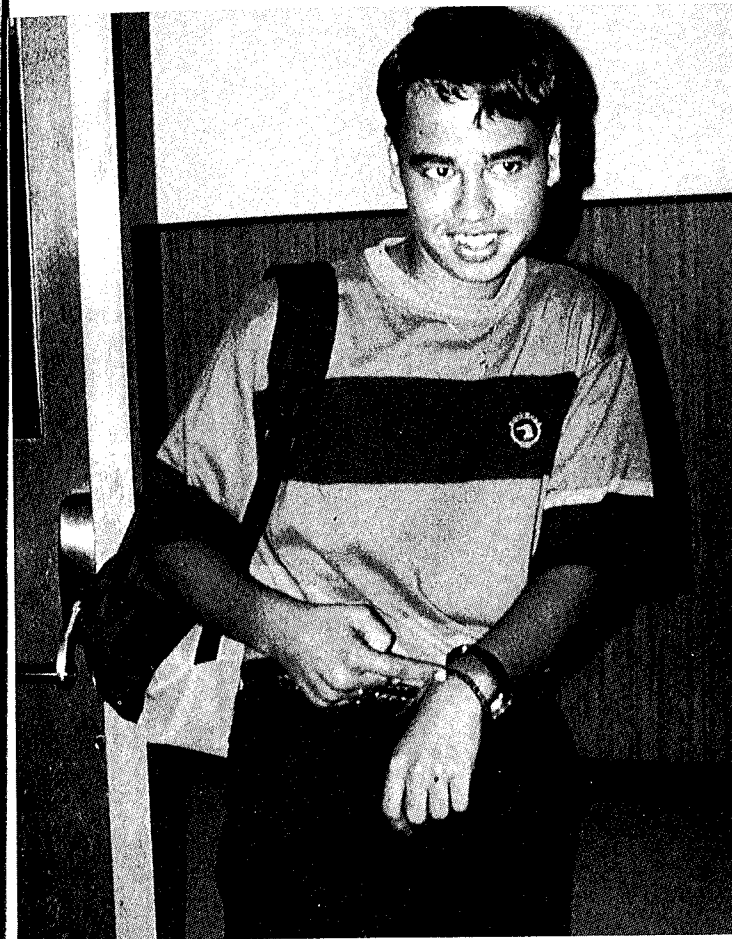

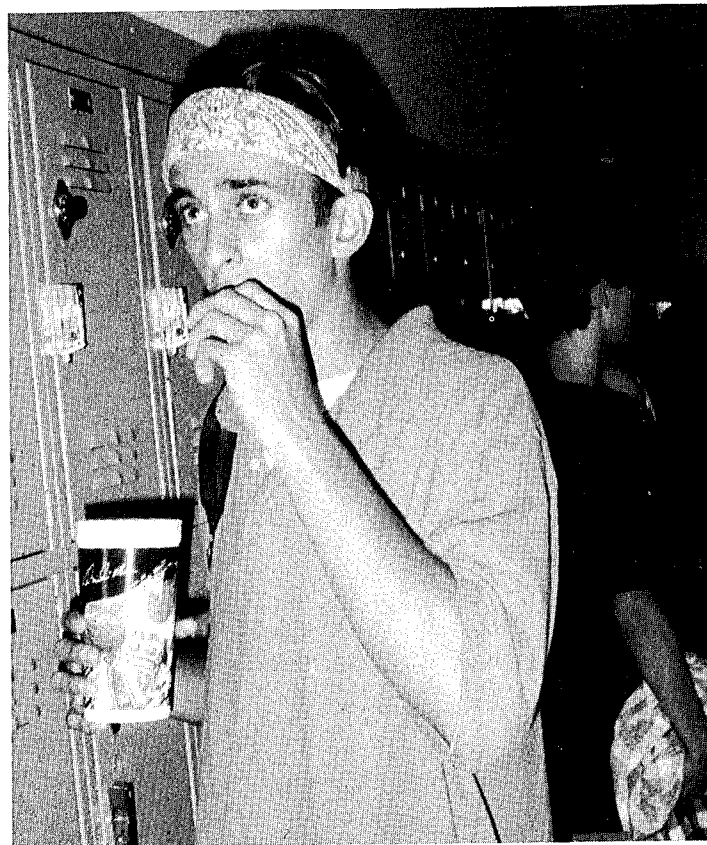

The mornings at Lake Wales High are busy ones. Students rush around gossiping, finishing up work, and going to club meetings. There is always something going on. Once the bell rings however, the halls clear quickly and the real day begins. Ugh!

Dodging the Unemployment Lines

Students at Lake Wales have a sort of love/hate relationship with after school jobs. Hate, because of the endless hours of monotonous slaving. Love, because of the large sums of cash at the end of each week to frivel away as they please. An honest student would also tell you working is an excellent lesson in responsibility.

The Power Behind The Senior Throne

The Senior Executive Board

Maria Foreman, Brian Leppert, Tammy Peterson, and Andrea Fish work the Senior float while Monica Buckmaster catches up with the news.

There's no doubt in anyone's mind that this year was the most spirited for the Class of 1993. The brains behind this brawn was the Senior Executive Board, a group of dedicated Seniors. The SEB is 45 members strong. These Senior's goals were to promote spirit for their class and to carry on the traditions of Lake Wales High School. Miss Sebring, their sponsor, had this to say about its members, "Even though they have their little divisions, when it comes to school or class spirit they reach out to get the job done."

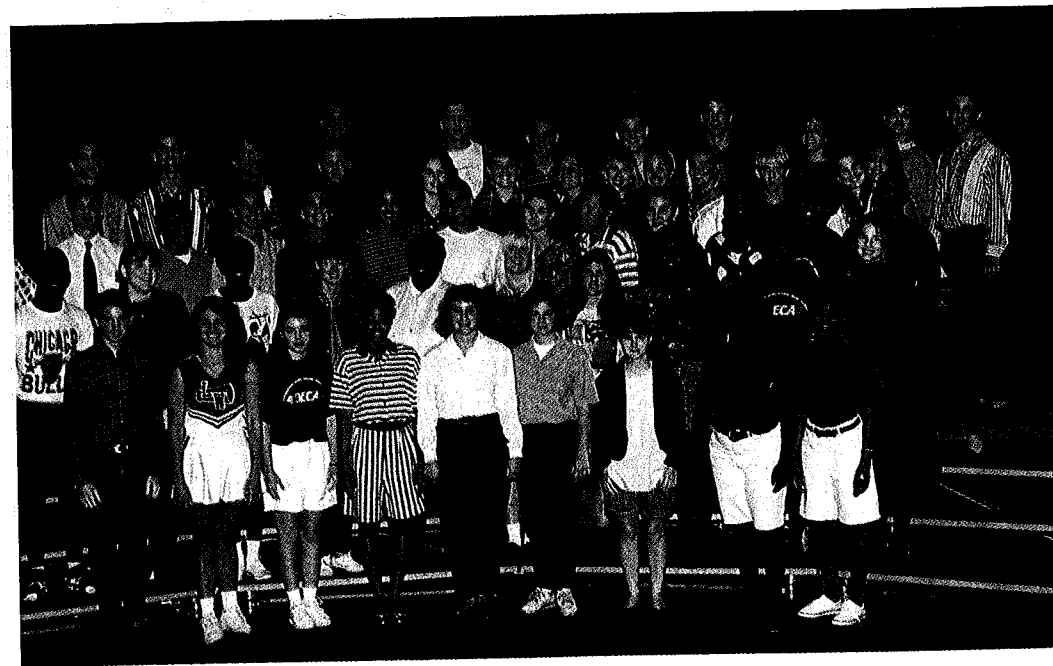

The SEB had a very active year. They were involved in the following: They helped to prepare for the football season, participated on the Homecoming events; a door, a float, and a skit (they received first place for the float and skit), and every week decided how the Seniors would challenge other classes by making up ways for them to show their spirit.

The Senior Class would like to thank the SEB and Miss Sebring for making the Class of '93 the best.

Take a Bow

The 1992-93 school year at Lake Wales High has served as a showcase for some pretty special people. In the senior class we have found some who don't solely depend on good grades to carve out their niche in life — though many of them have good grades — but they are those rare ones who give of themselves unselfishly. They ask what can be done and then do it. They stay late to help teachers and friends with projects and best of all, they are never glory hounds. We think special people like this need recognition.

Pick of the Class

Outstanding Seniors

It has been a tradition ever since the first LWHS yearbook was published to have a Mr. and Miss Senior. Though the years the number of outstanding Seniors has grown, until now six couples are chosen from each Senior Class to represent each year's.

Choosing an outstanding Senior this year, as with every year, was a complicated process. The candidates were first nominated by teachers. The senior class then voted from a list of 20 boys and 20 girls. The votes were then painstakingly tallied after many long hours and the lucky winners were announced.

Many people have had misconceptions about what it takes to be an outstanding Senior. Although a "C" average was needed to qualify, you don't have to have the best of grades to be nominated. What you do need is a good personality, a will to succeed and most importantly, to go the extra mile for others.

The Very Young and Restless

When you were born, who did you look like? Mom or Dad? Some of us were born with our own unique features. Thank goodness! Here are baby pictures of seniors. Can you guess who they are? If you're not the social bug you thought you were, the answers are on page 61.

Seniors Scenes We've Seen

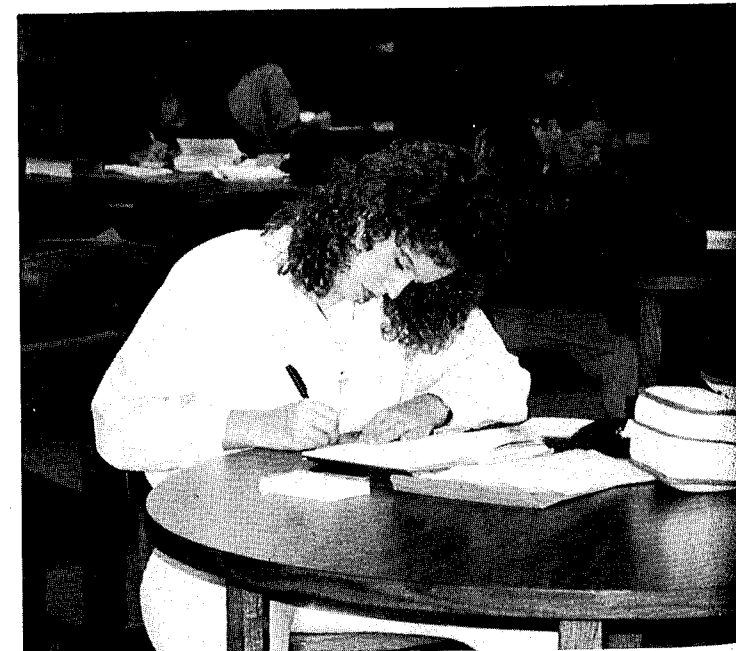

Ginger Ingley, Christie Glanton, Beth Dickison, and Mary Margaret Matteson take pride in being majorettes for Lake Wales.

Roy Wilkinson gets a superior in face painting and band directing.

Megan Miller has an unnutritious coke and a healthy smile in Food & Nutrition class.

Gus Forkel's all set to go back to Mexico by boat in his authentic Mexican duds.

Juan Nino and Yvonne Simmons enjoy their work in DECA class.

Tatiana Denis, a former Venezuelan, enjoys rock-climbing on the Salvador Dali field trip.

Baby Who's Who

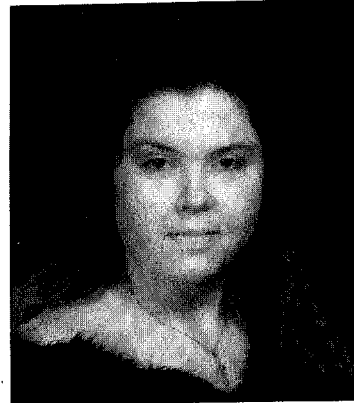

Let's see just how well you did in identifying your seniors. If you get them all right you have been around a long time! If you get 15 or better right then you did about what was expected. If you get less than ten right, I'd check what grade you're in.

To Save A Snowball

Snowball (Snóbāl) A term used to describe someone who has a very slim chance of graduating. It normally fits the phrase "A Snowball's chance..."

This term is used to describe me because of the situation that I'm in. Right now, I have a total of sixteen credits not counting the ones that I earn this year. It all started when I went to private school in the 9th grade. The school did not assign credits until the 10th grade year. In 10th grade I attended Ridge and I earned six credits. That summer I earned one credit in summer school. My 11th grade year I earned seven credits, and that summer I was able to earn two credits because of summer school and night school. So, here I am, at last a Senior! But I have to earn a total of eight credits to graduate; So I have seventh period and night school. Needless to say I'm a very busy person. The reason for my decision to achieve graduation is because I saw my grandmother and how she struggled for what little she had. I hope she's looking down on me from Heaven when I walk the field. This one's for you, Granny! I love you.

Stay Within the Lines

The Underclasses

Yearbook Salute

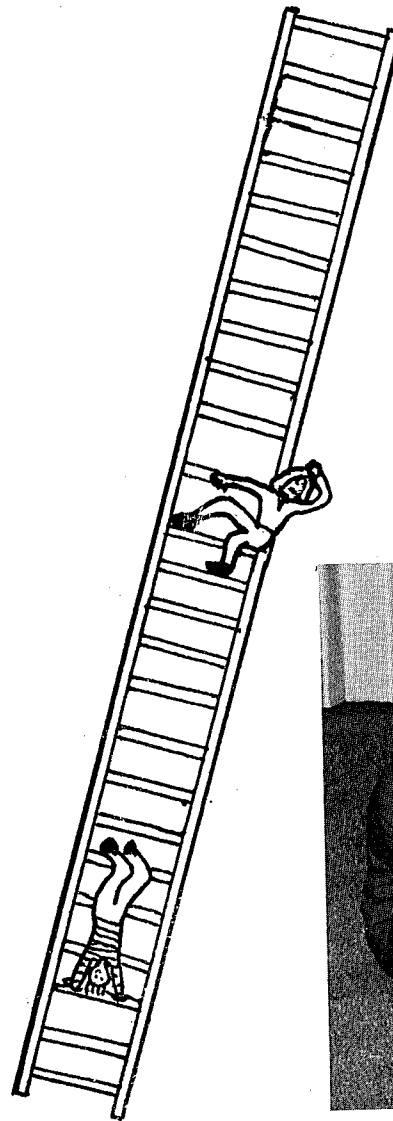

Our Senior English teachers, Mrs. Grice and Mrs. Berrie, too often get a bum rap. They not only have to deal with students who want to slide by in their final year, but they also receive all kinds of extra paperwork which must be passed out to the seniors. They get all this work because the seniors have to take English.

Everyone takes advantage of this fact. Even the Yearbook staff is guilty! Therefore, we would like to commend these teachers for all the hard work and especially for taking the time out to handout senior directories, questionnaires, and outstanding Senior ballots. Thanks!

Mrs. Berrie and Mrs. Grice, our dedicated Senior English teachers have often sacrificed important classtime for us.

On The Way To The Top

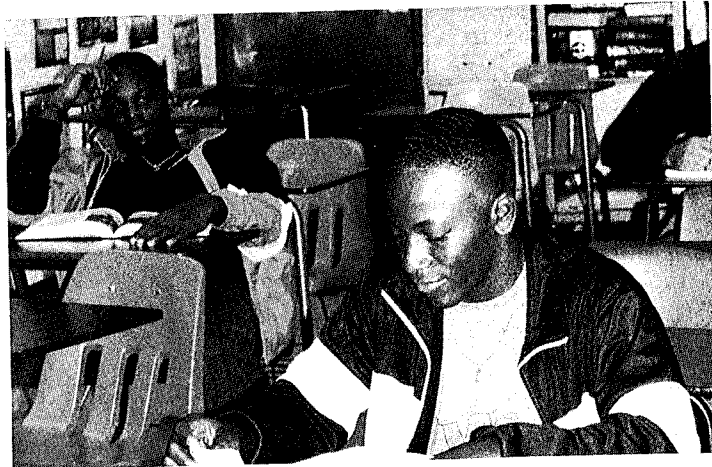

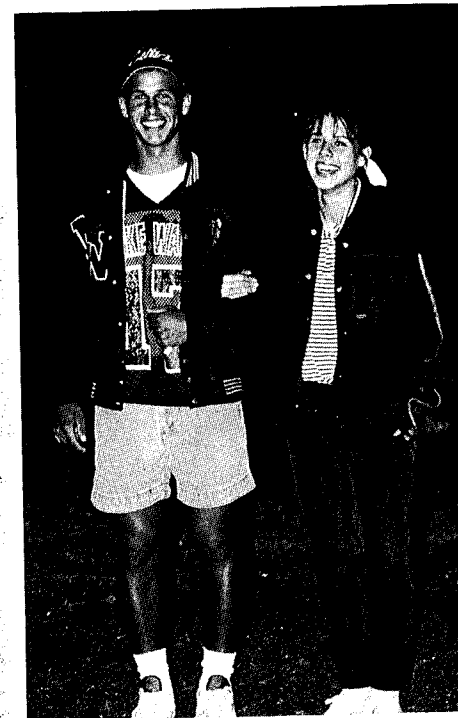

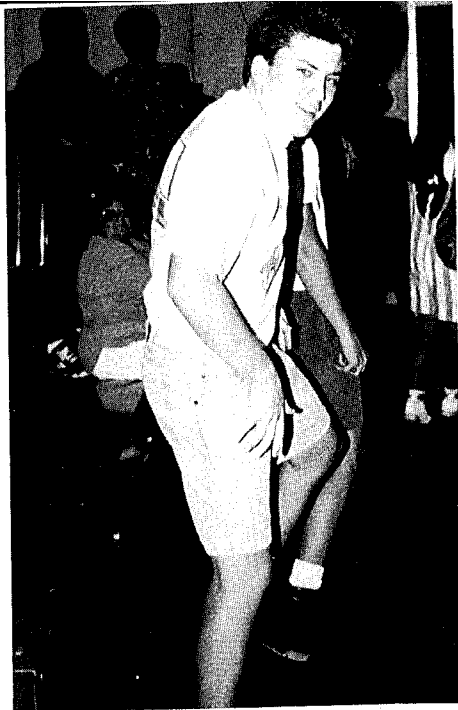

The Junior class led by our fearless leader, Mrs. Hitchcock, has been considered one of the best. They have an abundance of spirit as seen in the continual winning of the spirit stick. The magazine drive and Junior class night at Burger King show their responsibili-

What do ya say?

What do you think the Class of '94 will be best remembered for?

Greg Campbell Randall Denmark Sonny Emery Jacob Larson Andria Linne Barbara Mincy

"The newspaper 'The Scottish Connection'."

— Greg

"We will be remembered for the class that we showed when the pressure came on. We did smart things that we won't regret later on in life."

— Sonny

"I think the class of '94 will be remembered for their spunk, meaning the class of '94 has a lot of life in it. That's what keeps us going."

— Barbara

"What an intelligent class that we have."

— Andria

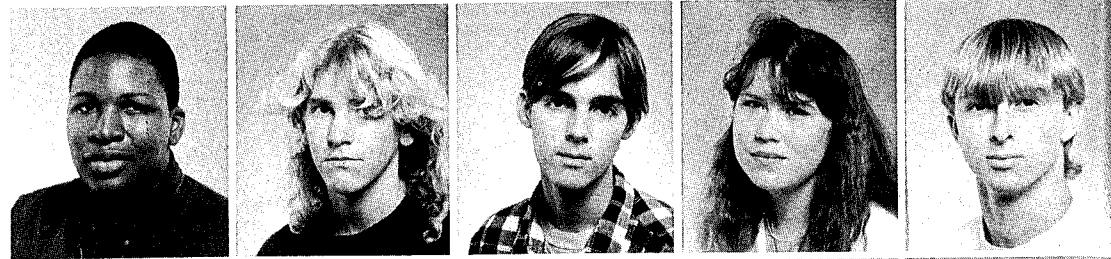

"When asked what do I think the class of '94 will be best remembered for, two things come to mind. One is friendliness, the class of '94 is one of the few classes where everyone gets along and will help others when in need. The second thing that comes to mind is spirit. The class of '94 has a lot of spirit. We might not have won any of the dress days, but the spirit pours out when it comes to pep rallies, and we have the sticks to prove it."

— Randall

"Our class will not be remembered but blantly known for their consecutive captures of the SPIRIT STICK at every pep rally for our spirit, cooperation, and unity."

On Sophomores

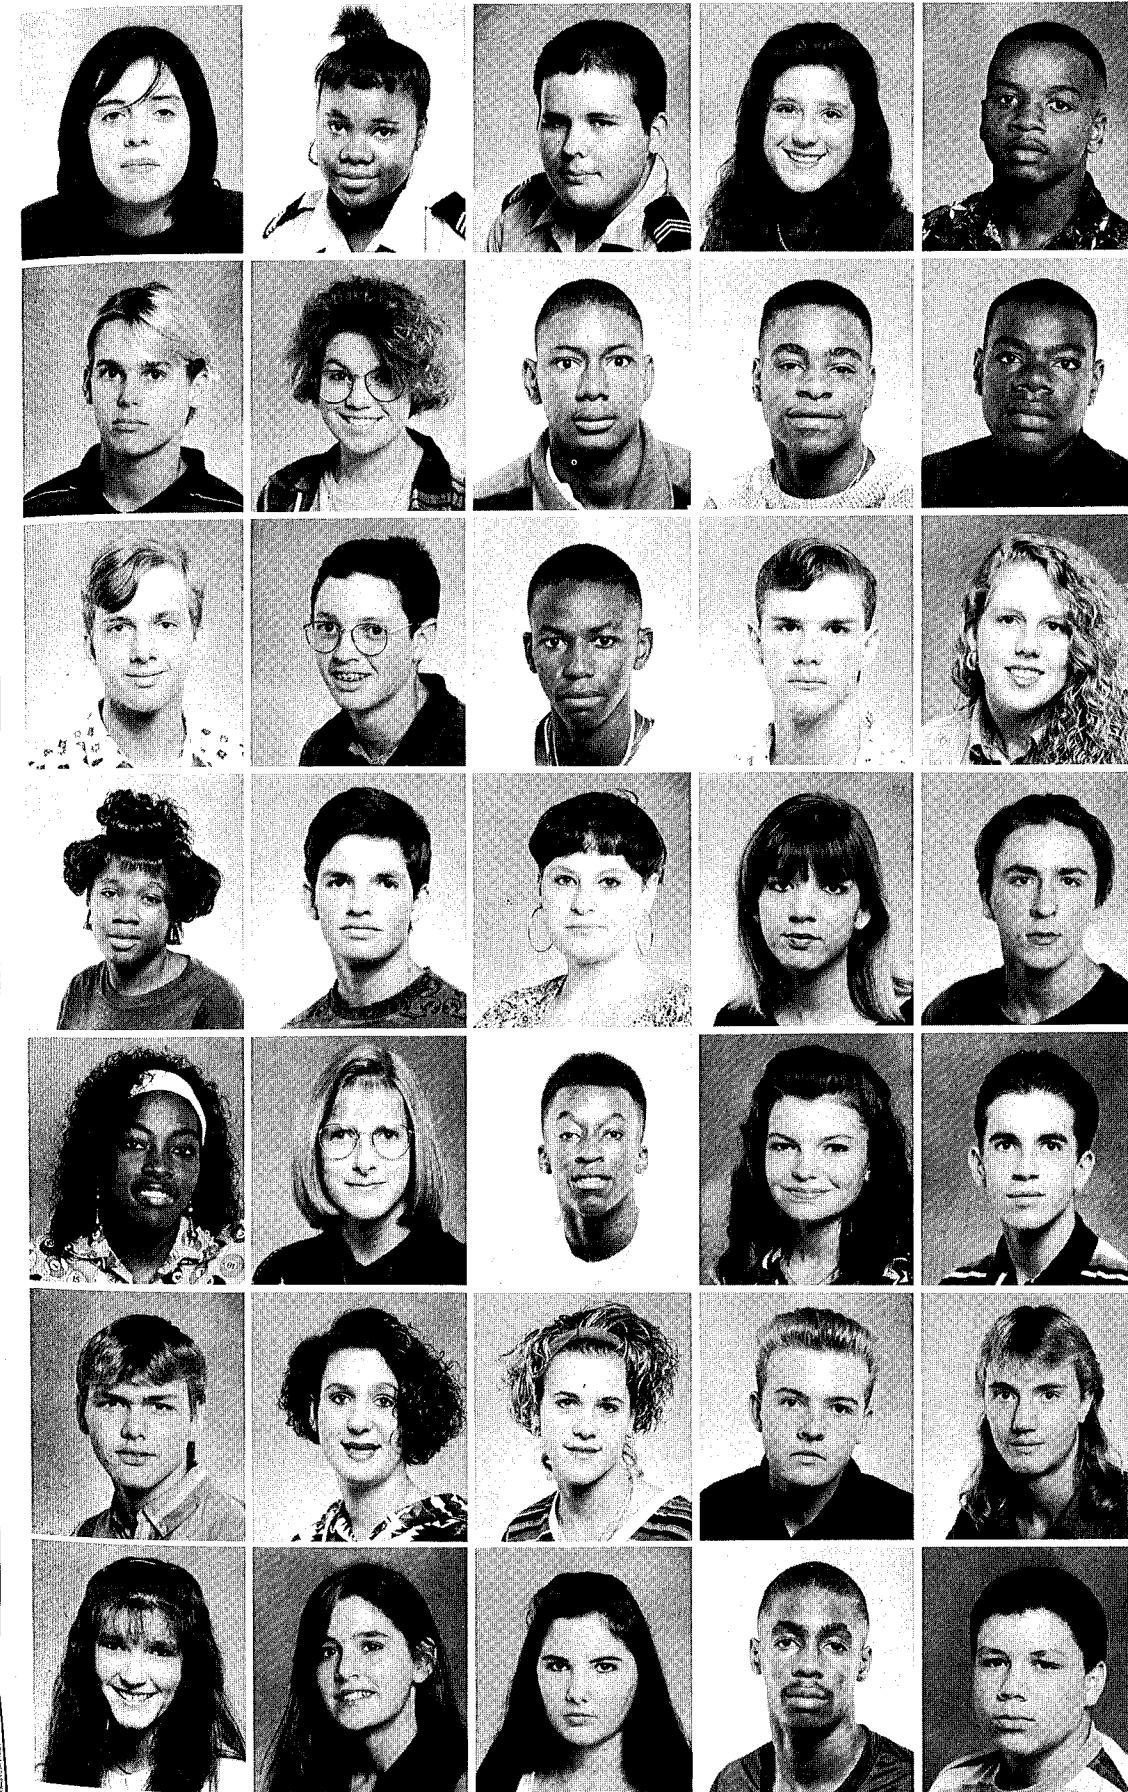

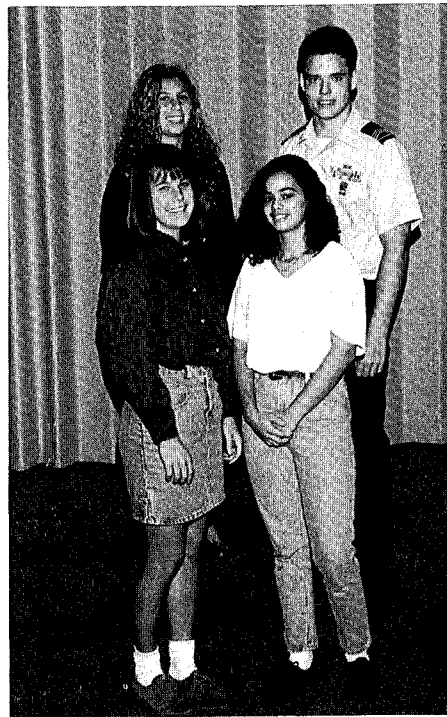

This year the Sophomore class has been energetic and ready to work hard. By organizing bake sales, selling sno-cones at the Walesfest, and car washes, the Sophomores are already preparing for Prom next year. Because of the strong leadership that the class has shown and the excellent officers, the class has truly made their sponsors and school proud. The unification of this unique class truly shines through in everything they do. They have been eager to do any type of fundraisers and have been racing ahead in their pursuit of excellence.

Sophomore Scenes We've Seen

Tom Aleck proudly displays his cool homecoming tickets.

Julius McLymont is glad the day is finally over.

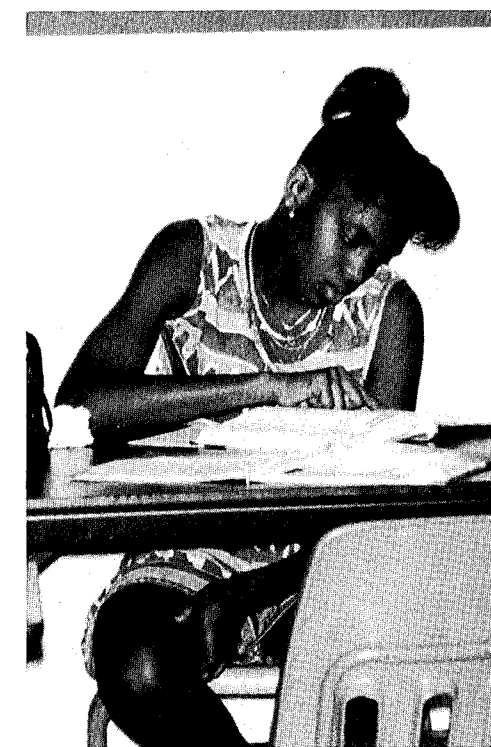

Amelia Jones laughs off the fact that she's got two more years of high school.

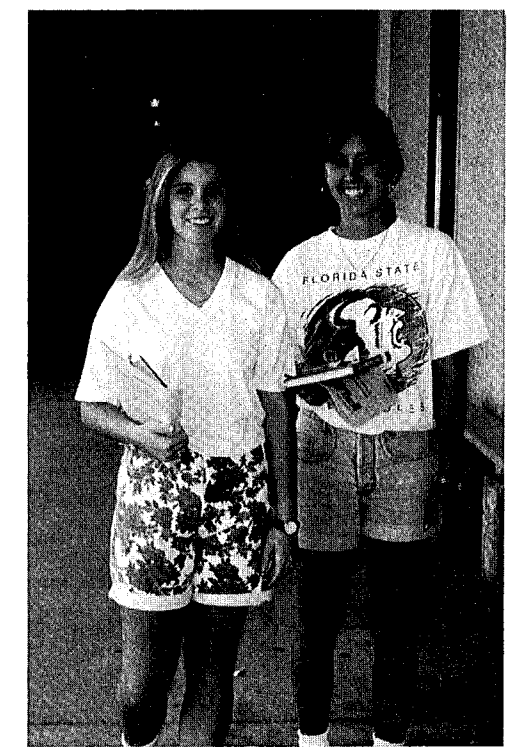

Laughing must be contagious amongst sophomores like Jaleann Gandy.

Steve Wildmon and his killer tatoos . . .

Lakeisha Benton seems to enjoy her studies.

Jennifer Halloran and Jada Crews casually stroll to class.

Tina Young gets a kick out of schoolwork.

Eugene Umstead, Steve Wildmon, and Tina Goheen done up for the pep rally.

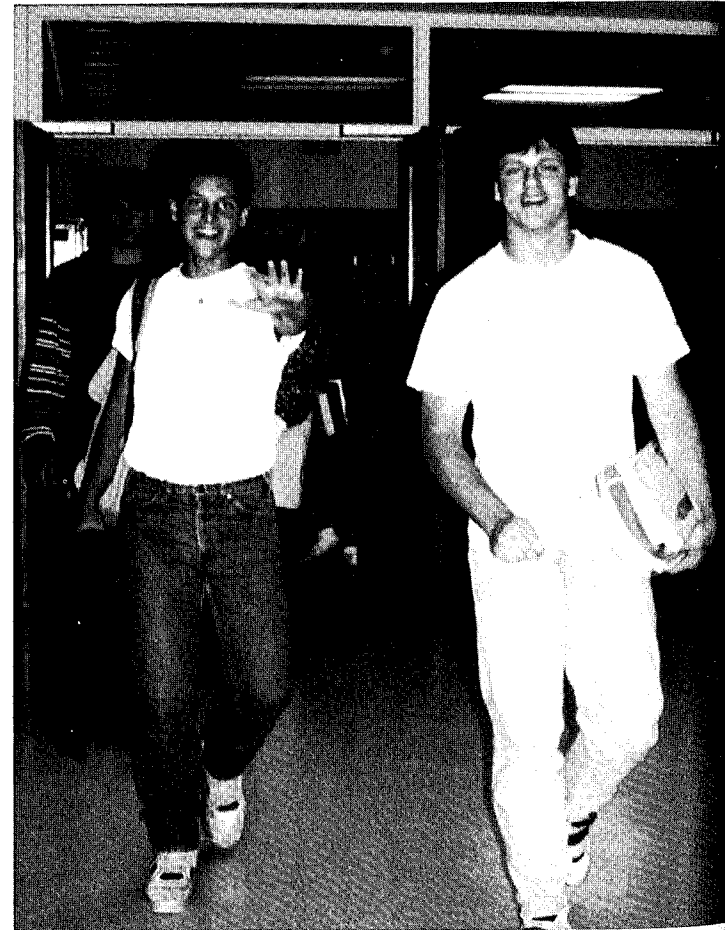

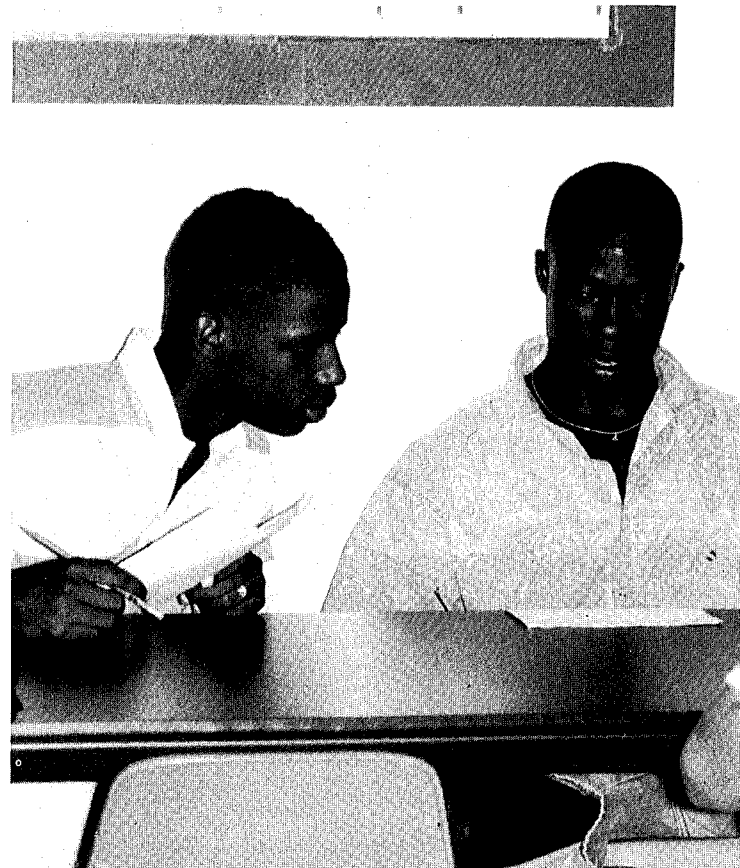

David Edwards is truly enthused.

Charity Ison takes pride in being a sophomore.

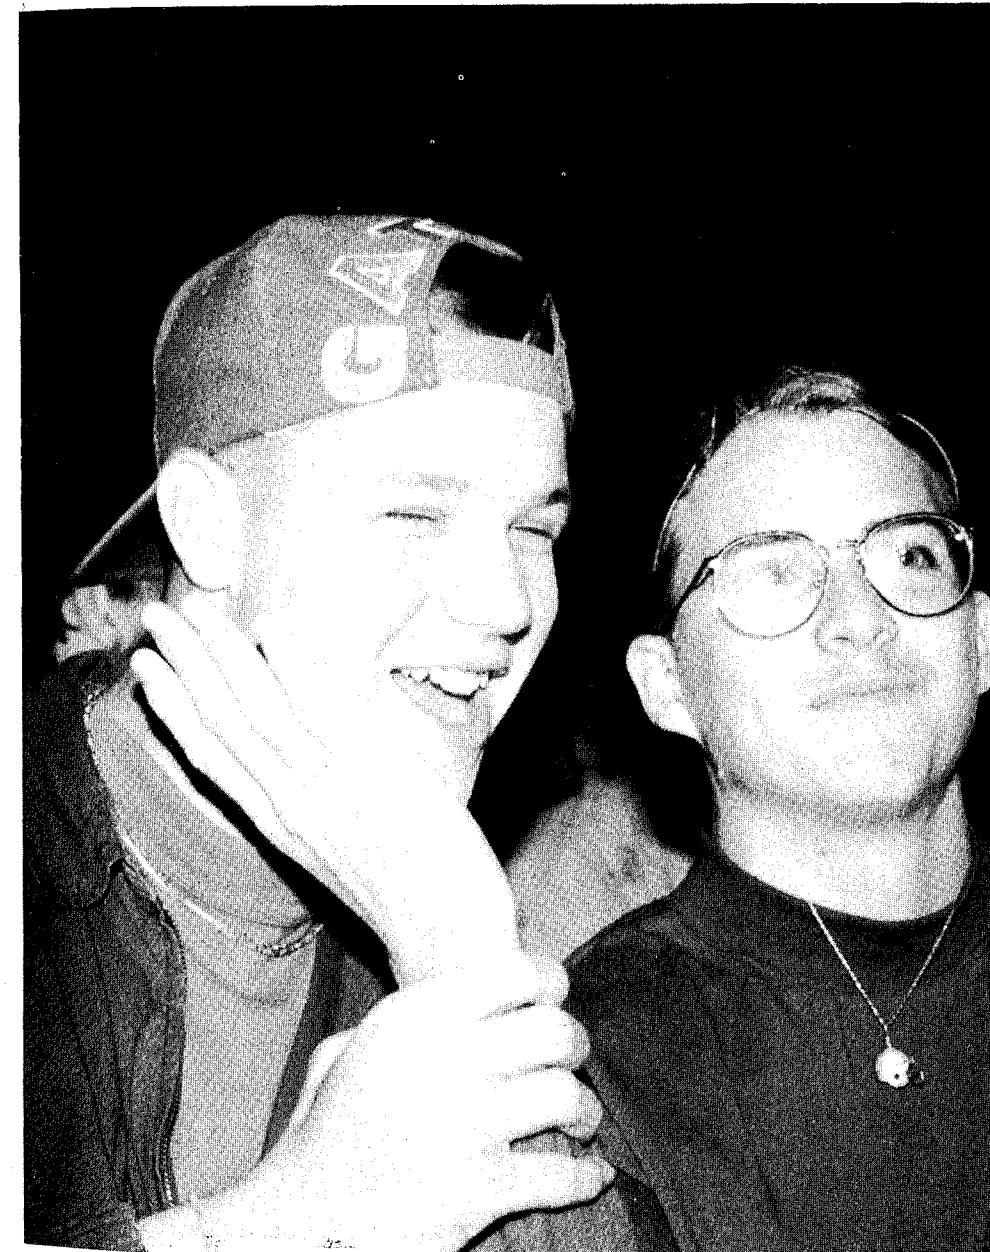

Billy Carlisle flaunts his post'a note beard.

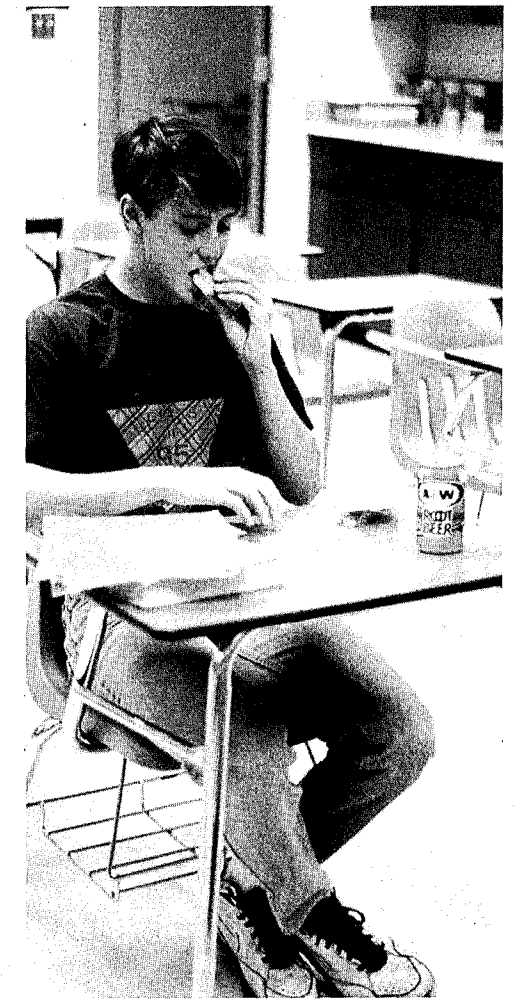

Shawn Messex and senior Tim Murphy dash for class.

Emmanuel McNeil and Octavius Thomas share knowledge.

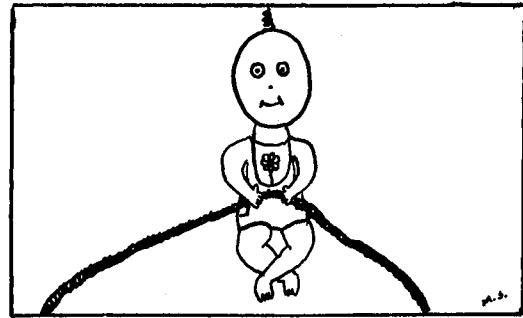

Glen Thompson and Kip Windham, the best of friends . . .

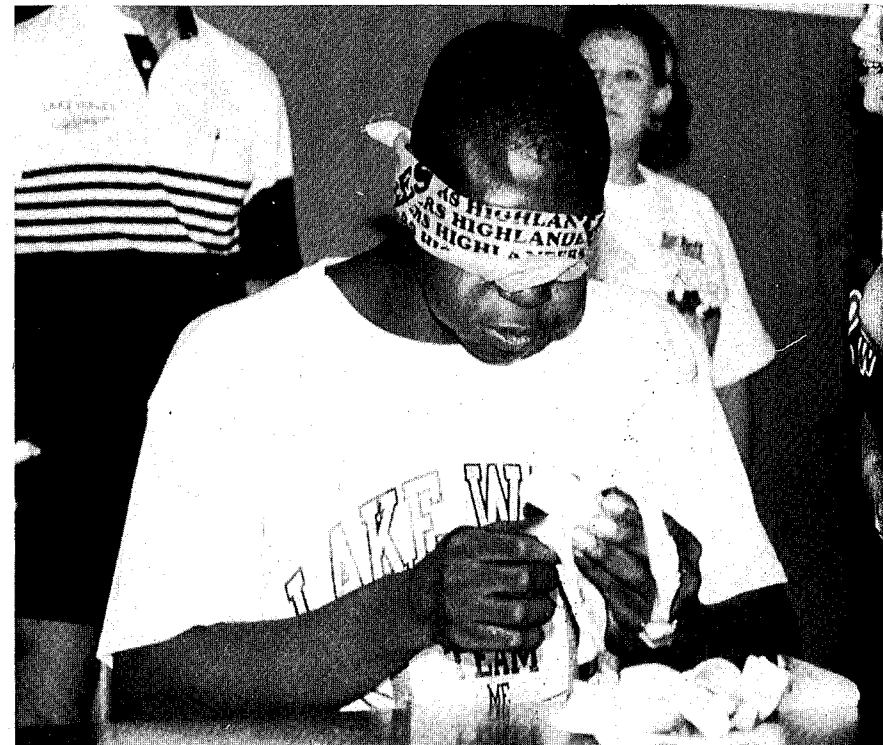

Dustin Armstrong snacks between assignments.

Learning The Ropes

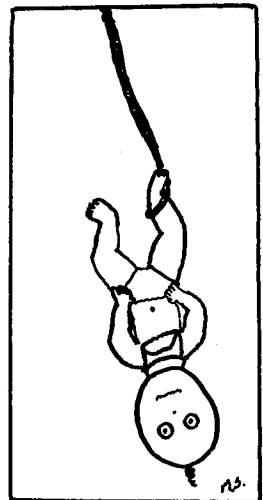

Freshmen Don't Monkey Around

Jeff Chaney is easily fooled as he shares a banana with himself.

Changing from Middle to High School can, for some, be an arduous and frightful process. This Freshman class, however, seemed to undergo the transition with ease. After electing responsible officers to take them through the year, they held many fundraisers. Such fundraisers as after school car washes, and after school pop-sicle sales. These were very productive not to mention original ideas. The class has started on what would seem to be a great school career.

— Matt Snyder

Josh Smith, Derrick Johnston, and Sara Miller are all painted and ready for battle among the classes.

House of Pain

Varsity football has always been viewed with extreme pride here in Lake Wales, especially during the '92 season. This year our team posted a regular season record of 10-0, the first undefeated season in many years. Last year the team struggled with only a 4-6 record. However, due to Coach Shafer and his terrific coaching staff, they were able to turn it around and reign as District Champs. Another key to the Highlander's success was the seniors. "The seniors brought unity and leadership, which is the basis for a winning season", said senior defensive end, Matt Snyder.

Every year here at Lake Wales High School the JV Highlander football team just keeps getting better. This year they finished the season with a record of 5-2, one of the best in JV history. Under the direction of Coaches Brad Campbell and Ed Brown this team was groomed and converted from a bunch of kids into a well-oiled football machine. It's teams like this, that contribute great players every year to the varsity team, and make Lake Wales the football power house it is on the varsity level.

Building Our Way to the Top!

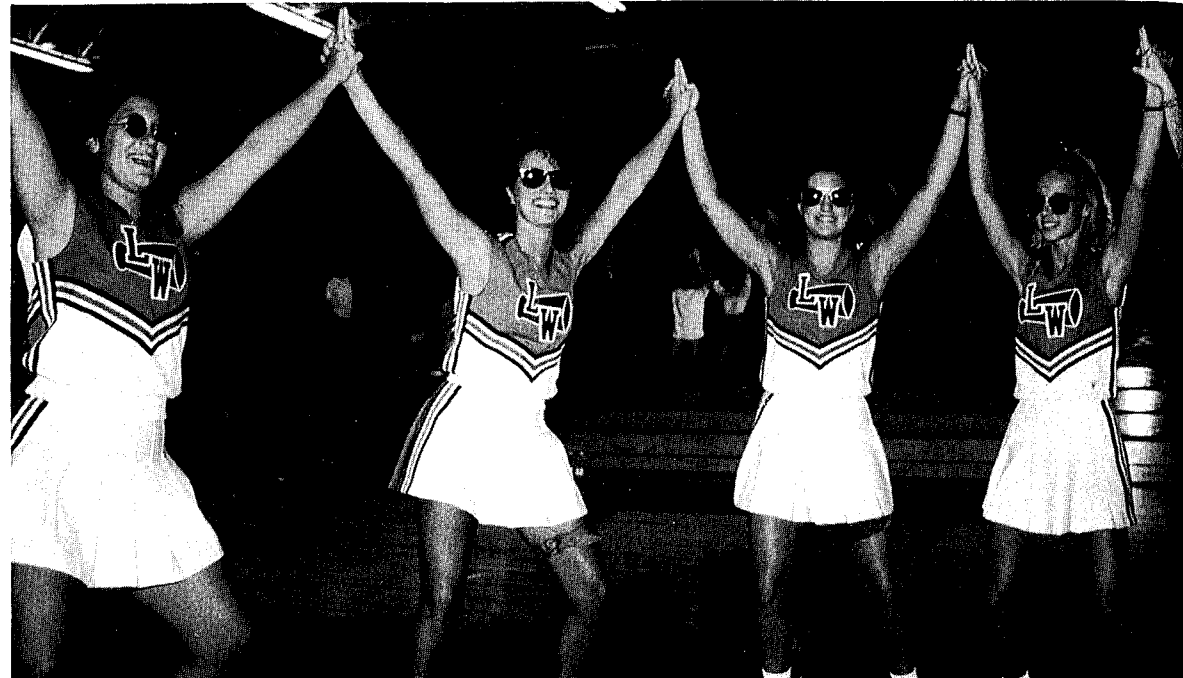

From Pyramid to chant, Lake Wales has had an excellent cheerleading squad. Even with the change in sponsors, pep rallies have been exciting and well worth the effort. They led us on from the 1st game of the season, all the way to Rockledge, and past that through Basketball! Way to Go! Best of luck to all you who will return next year, and good-bye to parting Sr.'s and Captains — Mary Garcia and Tricia Wilson.

— Angela Fletcher

On Our Way To The Top!

As a JV squad, they have proved themselves worthy of recognition and praise. Not only have they endured a long year, but they have also learned the value of teamwork! From football to basketball, from mounts to cheers, what a well done year. Their captain, Melissa Griffin and Co-captain Rachel Kinney, along with the whole squad stand proud, and now onward to a great varsity squad.

The Varsity volleyball team was still on a high this season from their district win last year. With only two seniors and three returning players, they had to work hard both on and off the court. As the season progressed, the team improved. At practice they focused on their weaknesses. They communicated and were well unified as a team. They had great attitudes, but lacked experience. They were 6-16 for the season.

Girls Jr. Varsity Basketball

The 92-93 J.V. Girls' basketball team is a mixture of new players and veterans. The combination of youthful enthusiasm and experience formed a great team. They played their hearts out in every game, hoping to win while catching the eye of

Take Me Out to the Ball Game

Baseball is known as America's favorite pastime and here at Lake Wales High School it has become a winning tradition. Year after year the Lake Wales varsity baseball team devours the competition in county as well as districts. However, the players learned that it takes hard work as well as a desire to win in order to be the best. With head coach Mike Campbell in control, Lake Wales is truly a baseball powerhouse, and with a strong JV program and a junior dominated team, next year looks just as promising.

— John Maggard

Coach Campbell intensely observes the team.

Swinging for the Fence

In order to have a great varsity program, a baseball team must have a flowing pool of talent. This is not a problem at Lake Wales because the JV Highlander baseball team carries the same pride and tradition as their varsity counterparts. The JV team knows they must work hard and be devoted to the game, because the future of Lake Wales baseball is in their hands. So with a little hard work and a lot of sunflower seeds they will surely follow in the footsteps of the varsity squad.

Life is Short so Play Hard!

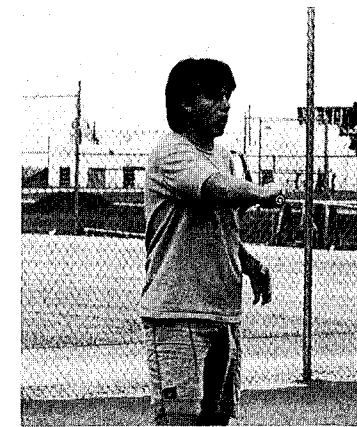

It takes a lot of hard work and patience to master the game of tennis, and these boys have it. Our Lake Wales High School Boy's Tennis team faced some very tough opposition this year. However, they were always able to hold their heads high. With racquets in hand, these seven boys worked hard day after day at improving their games, and they did! Each one of them improved their game tremendously throughout the season. With losing only one senior and gaining some very talented freshmen, the future looks extremely bright for Coach Dinsmoor's squad.

Reading Within the Lines

Words, Writing, Work!

Gh my gosh! Final drafts are due tomorrow and I haven't even started my rough draft! Where's my note card? I'm missing one! Adjectives describe, verbs show action, but what the heck is a dangling modifier? All of this should sound familiar. It's English class; the class that every student has to take. Yes, English class was the source of many hardships and headaches throughout the year, but it was also a way of expanding our knowledge. With class projects, group work, library research, and acting out plays, English class provided breaks from the every day class schedule. Teachers try to make it interesting, but it's up to the student to make the grade. Keep it up, Teachers, and keep hanging in there, Students!

— Christopher Salud

Mrs. Berrie aids Clifford Smith, Melissa Stevens and Jennifer Parker in finding sources for research.

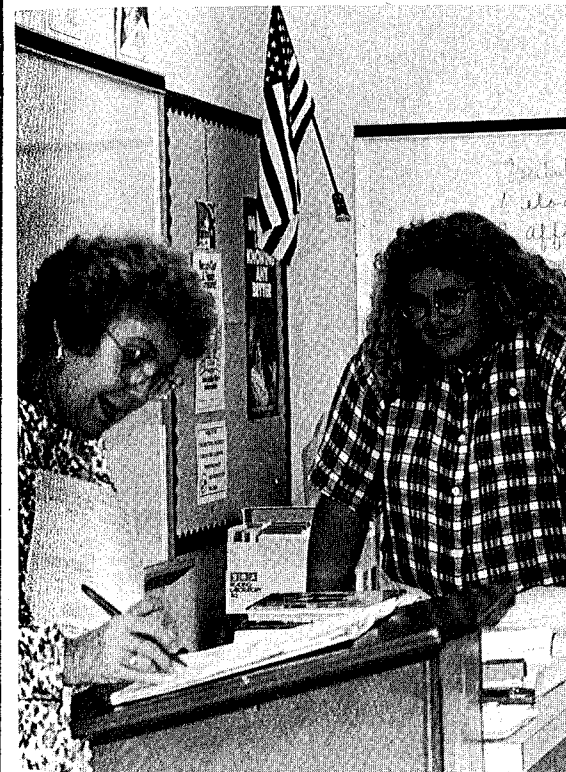

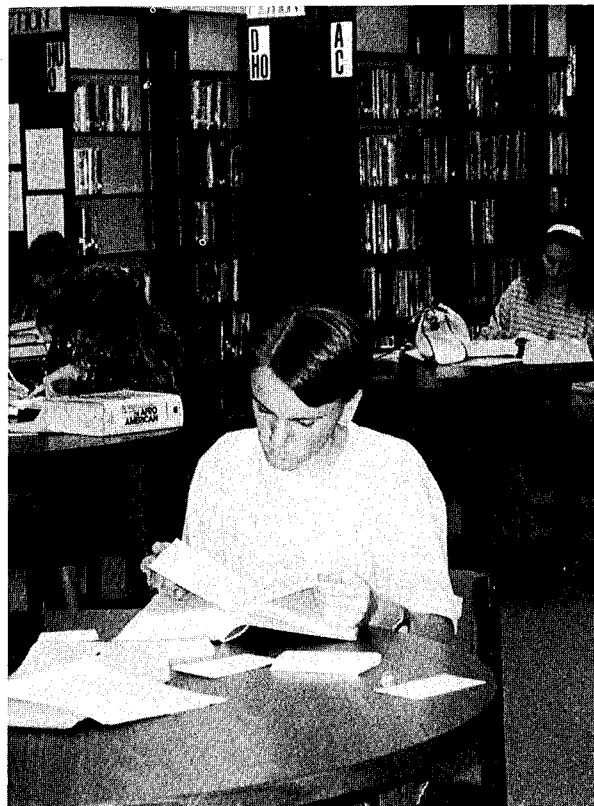

Eben Mann concentrates on his research.

Jonathan Smith, Kelly Hitchcock, and Ronald Coffin have a group discussion.

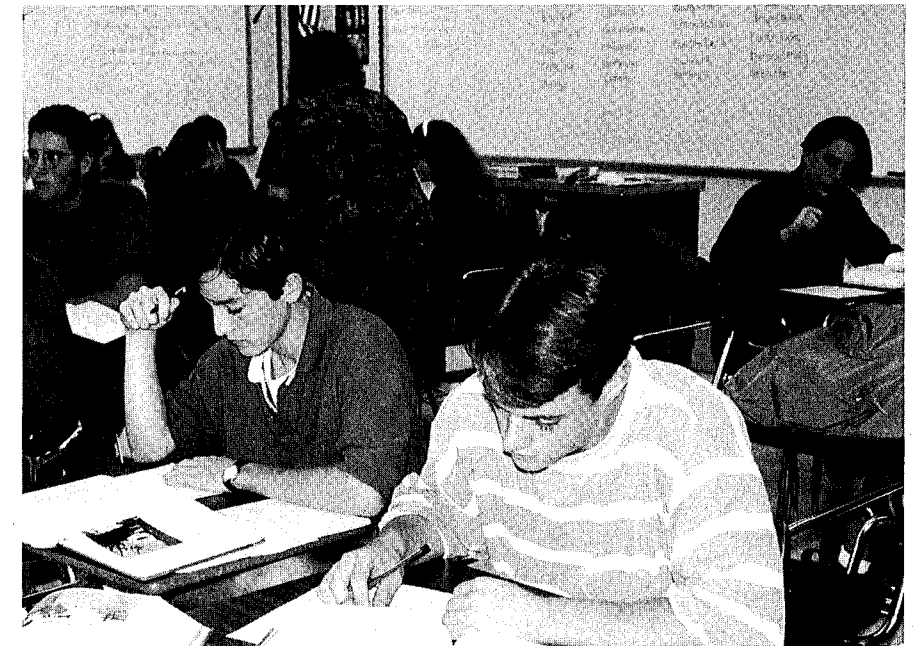

James Clark shows Martin Walsh, Perry Faircloth, Marvin Mosely, James Clark, Atheius Rabb, and Mrs. Streater the Globe Theater.

As usual, Laura Turnquist's mind is out in space . . . trying to escape The Reading Card!

Amy Anderson waits eagerly as Mrs. Michael averages grades.

Mike Garcia and Matt Flickinger quietly review for a test in Mrs. Sims', Mrs. Jack's very capable intern, Junior English class.

Figuring On A Future

Math is one of the more challenging subjects here at Lake Wales Senior High School. Yet to some students it is one of the more enjoyable areas of study. There's a wide variety of math courses offered here at LWHS. They range from general math up to Algebra II and Trigonometry. Here is one of our senior's opinion of the subject in general, "Andy White: It's a complicated subject dealing with a wide range of equations." Though the courses are hard they're worth taking because you can't graduate without them.

— Manuel Medina

Mrs. Lee instructs Kohroshe Crumity, Frank Caterino, Kelly Bagienski and Micheal Fletcher.

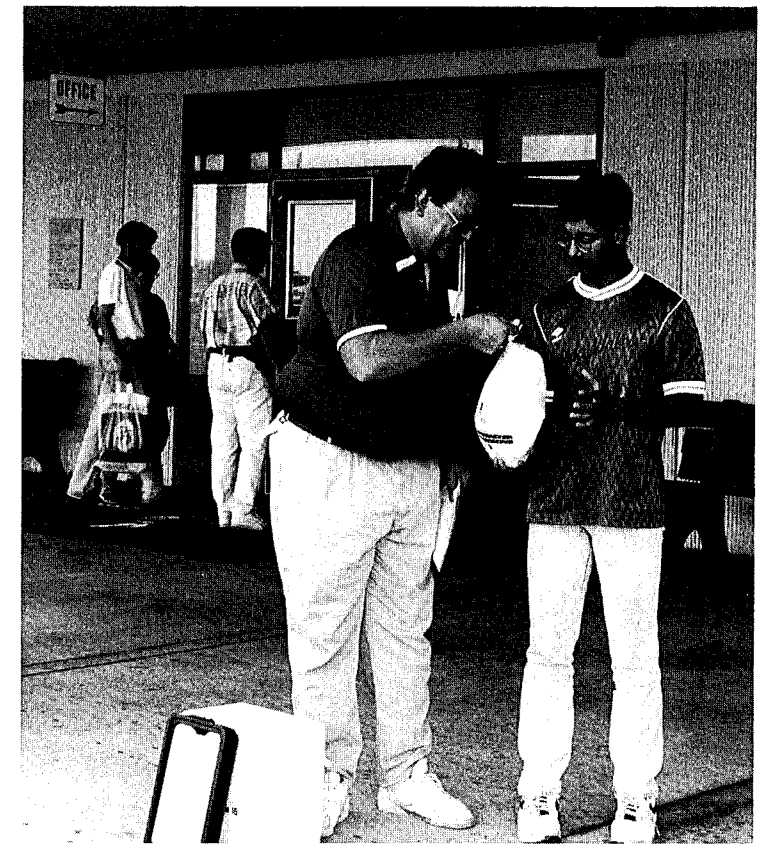

Kimbarrett Green and Shanta Morris recheck their work for the class.

Loretta Ponder, Eric Sharpe, Harley Mattison, and Tracy Mills mull over the solution.

What a wonderful world of science we have here at LAKE WALES SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL! We offer many different types of science courses, such as: physical science, biology, chemistry, anatomy, and physics. Though many of the courses may be hard to understand, everyone can benefit from their instructors. So we, the students of LWHS, are very fortunate to have these fine instructors teaching us the scientific arts. The hands-on experience, that we get in most of our science classes, is also a great tool used by many of our wise teachers. They work at keeping the classes fun and interesting. So let's hear it for the science department of Lake Wales High!

— Manuel Medina

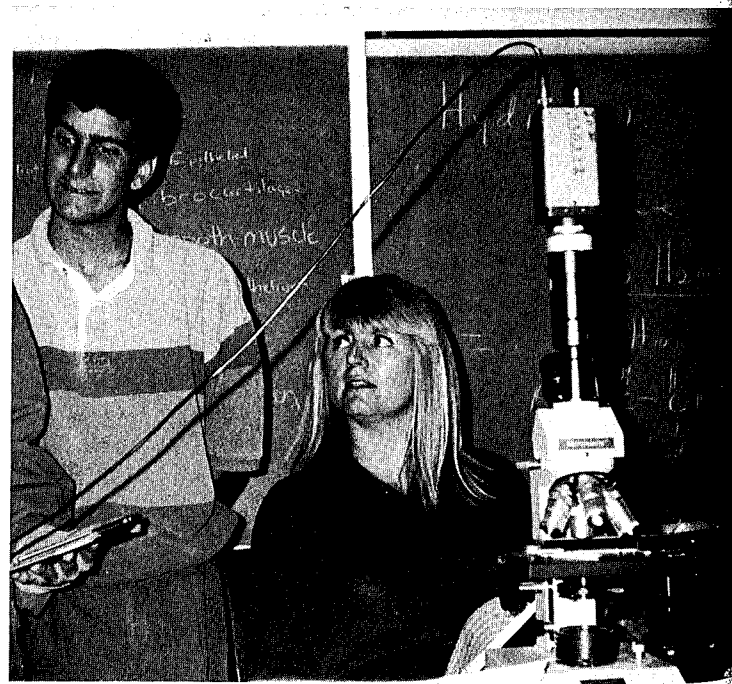

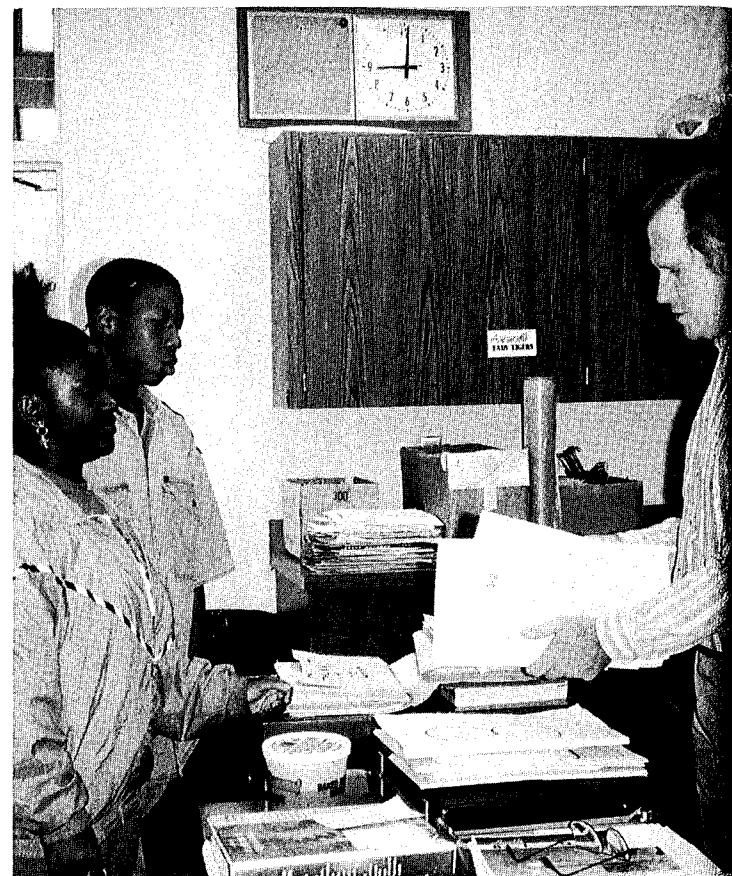

Shelly Taylor and Erin Chamberlin obviously enjoy working together in chemistry.

Pascal Wilson, Yvonne Suhrada, Lisa Whiting, and Steve McBee crowd around the cheerful Mr. Gerlosky to share his infinite wisdom.

Social Studies Standouts

Learning about the past can help to make decisions in the future. Teachers can break the monotony of the everyday class situation through class discussions, group projects, and interesting presentations. Mrs. Chambers accomplishes this when she presents her colonial American home. This year students from Russia visited and observed Mrs.

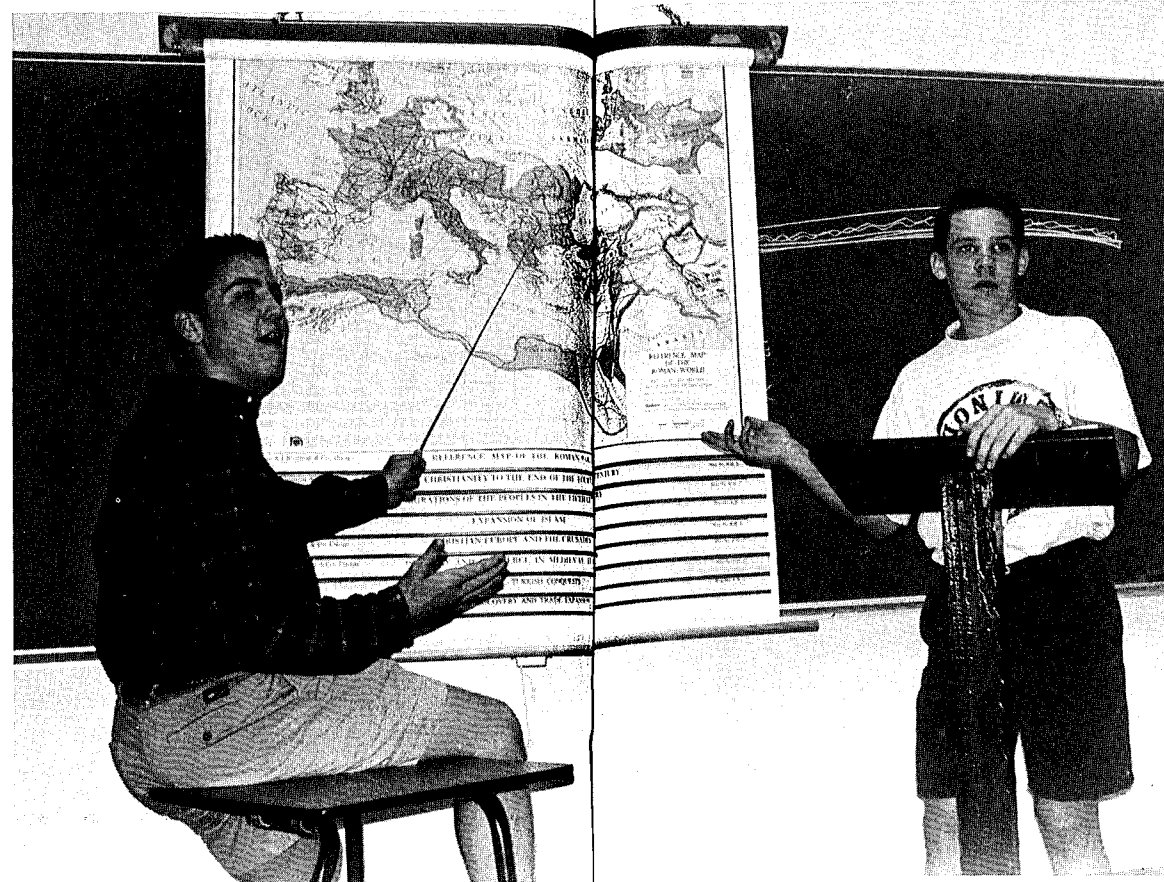

Chambers' American History class to learn about America's past. Ms. Smith, the government teacher, was able to use the campaign and elections during 1992 as learning instruments. She also taught economics by letting her classes play a mock stock market. These are just some of the ways teachers help make learning fun.

Mrs. Chambers shows her trendy fashions when she presents colonial America.

Mr. Fanning "historically" performs his holding tank duty well each day.

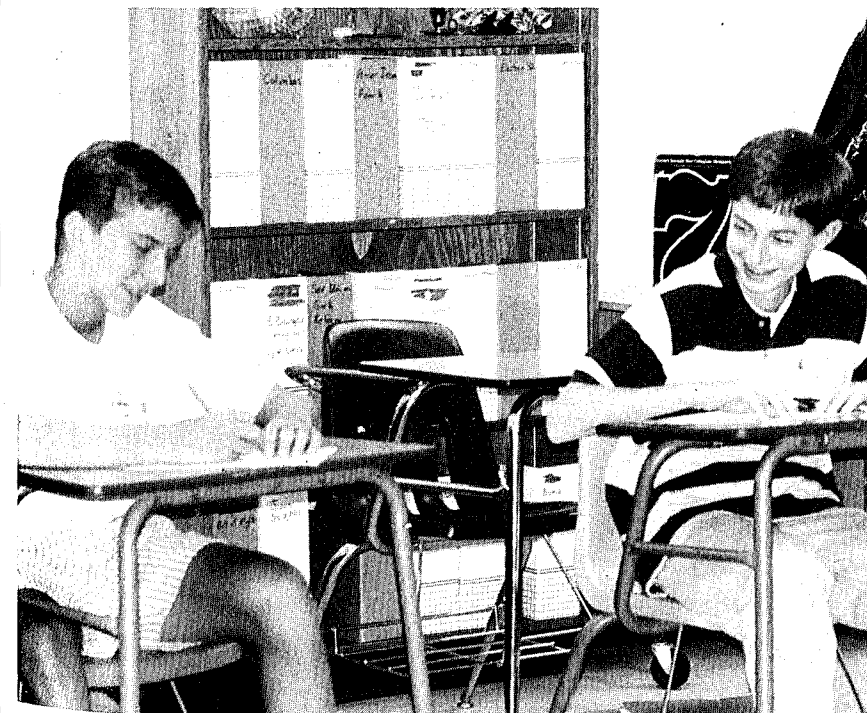

Tim Lawson and Kevin Kohl briefly describe the planet that they come from.

The hungry Shawn Hipp and Alex Marino chase a Russian friend for his potato.

Yes, Coach Whitaker, Do you have a question?

Will Pearce is amused by Forrest White's drawing of the teacher.

Mr. Tomlin makes good use of the overhead to teach his classes.

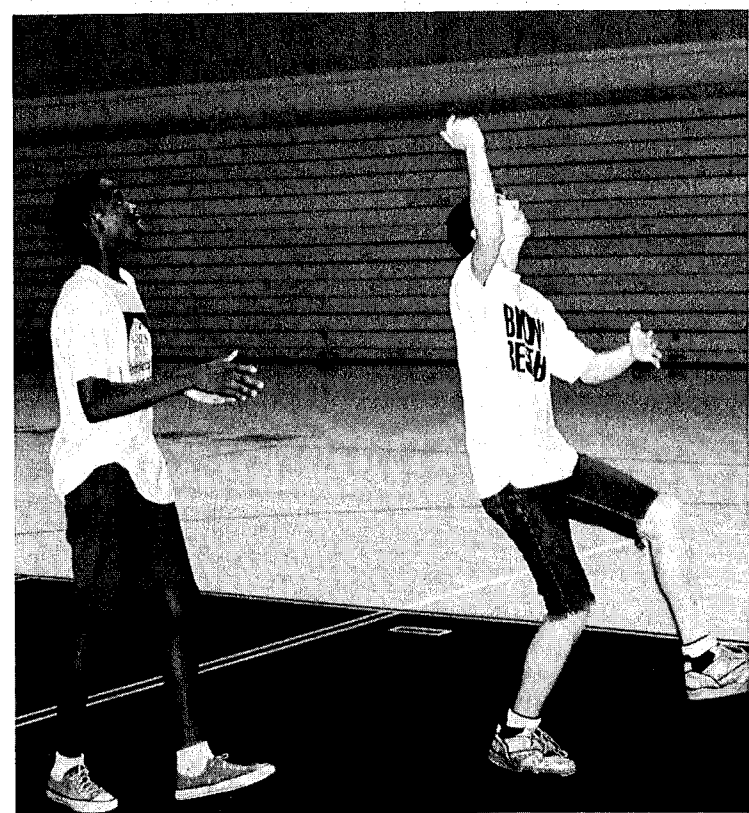

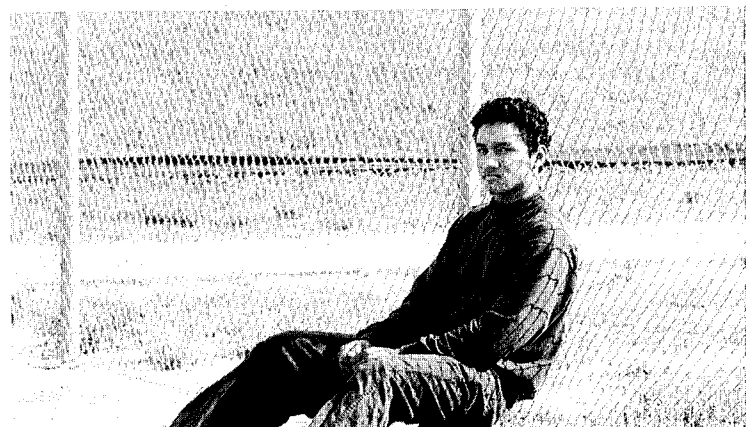

Reflections On A Healthy Class

P.E. is one of the more enjoyable classes of the day. We look forward to it for three main reasons: First it's fun! We get to go out and play for a whole period. Second, it doesn't involve schoolwork, and where there's no schoolwork — there's no homework! (Yea!) Third, it's actually good for you — it's healthy. Whether you realize it or not, you're exercising your body and having fun, too. So get out there and enjoy a healthy fun class!

— Manuel Medina

Jose Delgado stays "delgado" (thin) by taking P.E.

Atheius Rabb and Jason McGeathy work on their layups.

On again off again — just another average day for Debraca Colvin.

And Sometimes We make MUSIC!

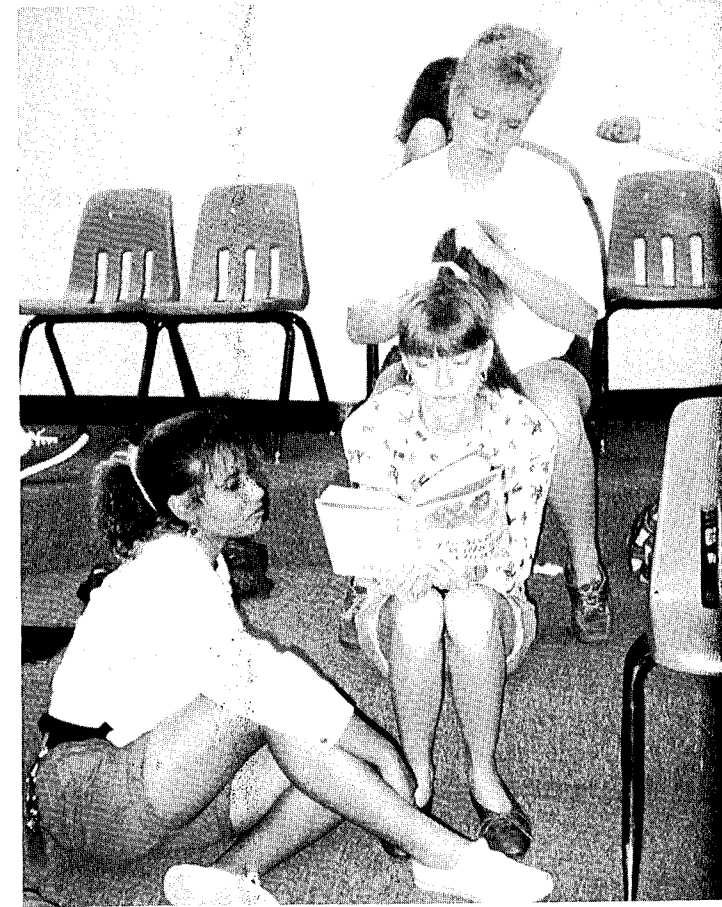

Concert Choir, Natural High, Orchestra and Band make the Lake Wales High music. All the music classes have been working hard this year. Their performances have all been well-attended, thanks to the community, parents, and teachers. Keep up the good work, and good luck.

— Sharon Ceranic

Mr. Lawson directs the orchestra.

Cindy DeVane, Jill Peterson, and Suzette Salva do something else besides sing in chorus.

Benji Outlaw, Spencer Anderson, Eric Bair and James Dykes play "Spiritedly" during class.

David Hurst enjoys the day, while he looks over his music.

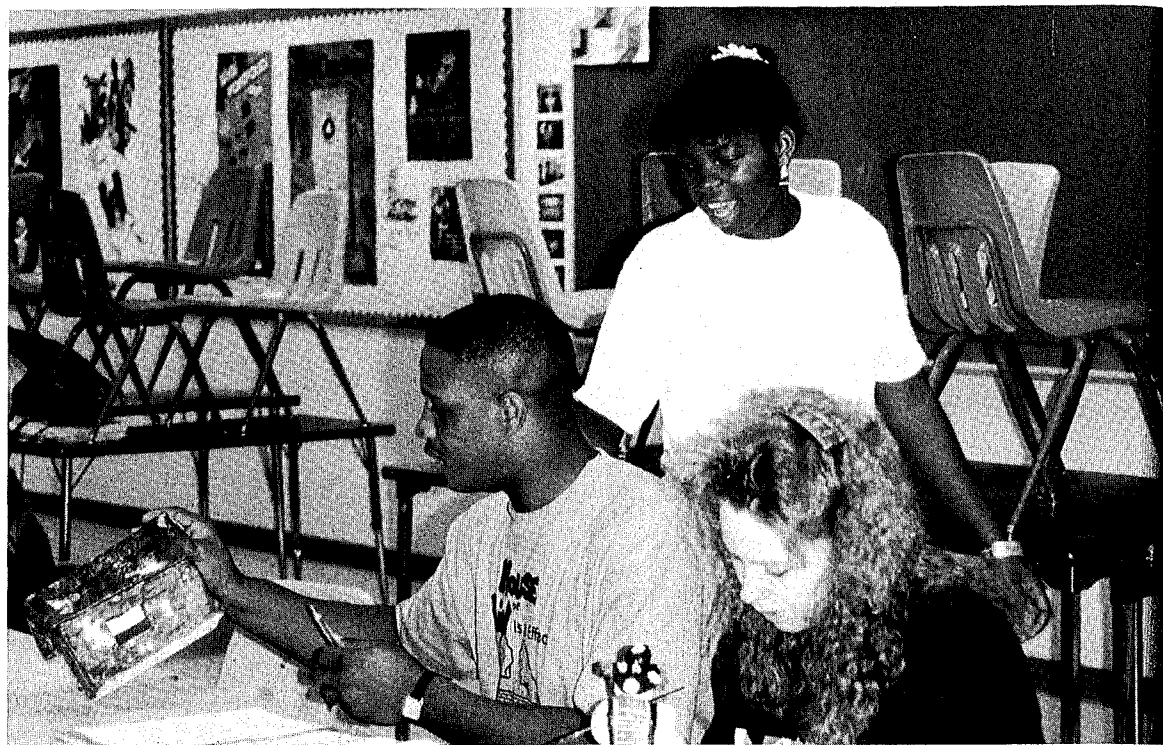

Summer Allen catches a few Z's during chorus.

Coloring Within the Lines

Students broke through the lines to create their own artistic projects. Whether they're drawing or sculpting, the students turn blank sheets of paper and lumps of clay into wonderful works of art. Ms. Lee, the art teacher, aids the students in expressing their imaginative ideas. With a little creativity and a lot of enthusiasm, anything and everything was created in art class.

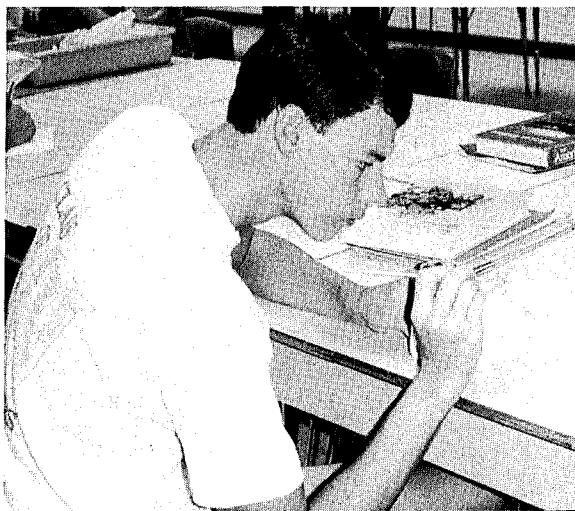

— Christopher Salud

Andy White masters the art of feeding livestock.

Walt Kinney is tired of being bullied.

Marvin Moseley doctors the ponytail.

Tomorrow's Future

The business department started the year off great. One of the major concerns and occupations of the very active business department is our FBLA Chapter. Mrs. Wells is the head sponsor, however, Mrs. Hitchcock and Mrs. Bess still play an important role, also. All the business classes work very hard throughout the year learning all the keys of the typewriter and how to type without looking at the keys. Keep up the good work, it will pay off in life.

— Sharon Ceranic

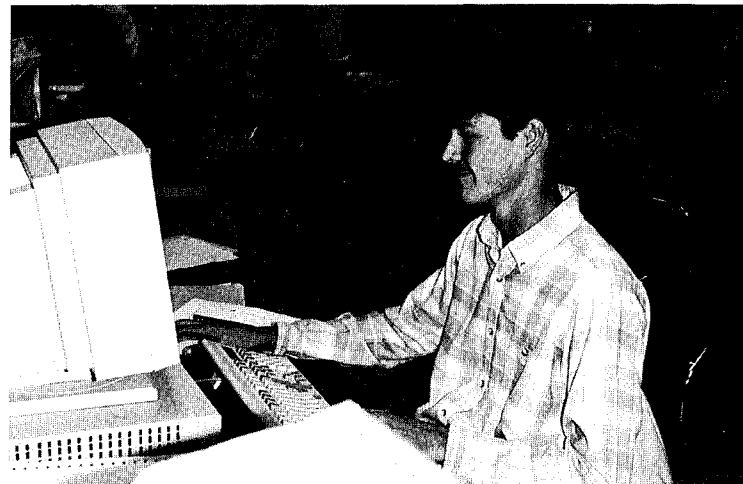

Mrs. Hitchcock is counting on you.

Jessy Jimenez has a wry smile of success.

Chris Baker is caught having fun.

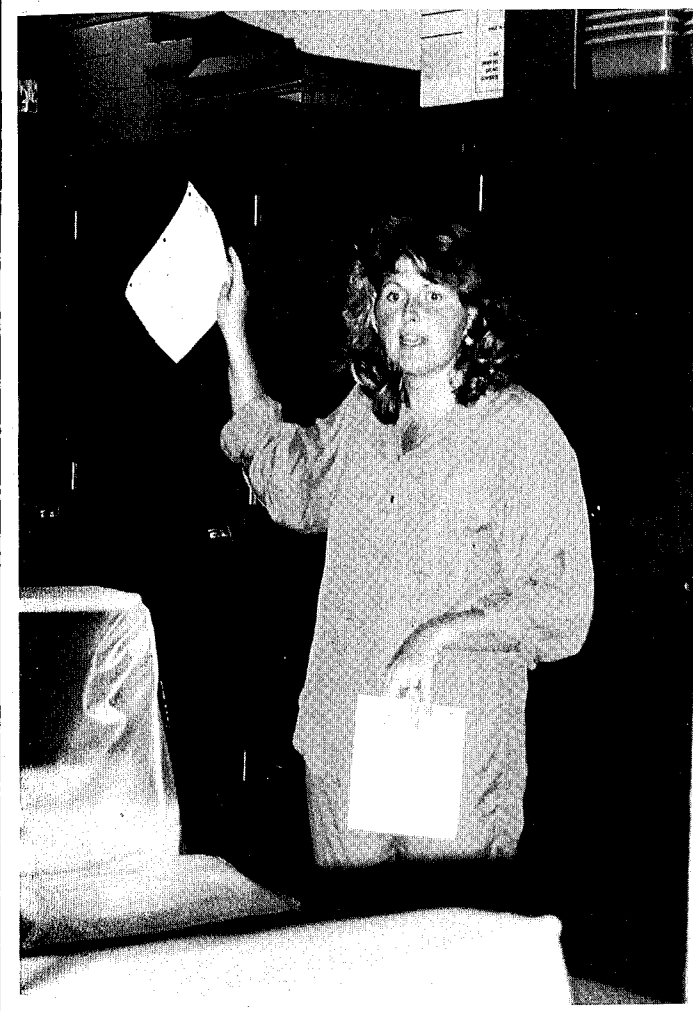

Tara Havard and Porsha Wilson enjoy their special team project.

Christina Williams, Caksher Walsh, and Amy Clyatt take typing very seriously.

Damon Irvis, Gene Speaks, and David Hurst sneak a peak at the keys.

Wes Luther and Melanie McCollough take this grade seriously.

Mrs. Wells demonstrates the proper form for her class.

Mrs. Bess helps Dawn Brown change her ribbon.

I t's A Small World

Lake Wales High School offers three foreign language courses with three talented instructors who give students an excellent taste of the nations they study. Madam Kirkland teaches French with her popular "mini dialogues" and famous magic wand. Mrs. Waller teaches Spanish which is a helpful language especially in Florida.

Maria Pacheco and Tatina Denis have fun on a foreign language club field trip to St. Petersburg.

Mrs. Waller has trained Adrienne Hawthorne, Amy McQuiston, David Ramos, Eric Bair, and Bryan Albano well. They can almost march in single file.

Mrs. Baker's Latin One class decided to "Carpe Diem" by having a Christmas party.

Randy Denmark, Kendra Andrews, and Kelly Privett research for a Latin assignment.

Creating A Better Future

The Industrial Arts department is very broad, it includes vocational classes like basic material, graphic arts, and drafting. All of these vocational courses are both beneficial and educational.

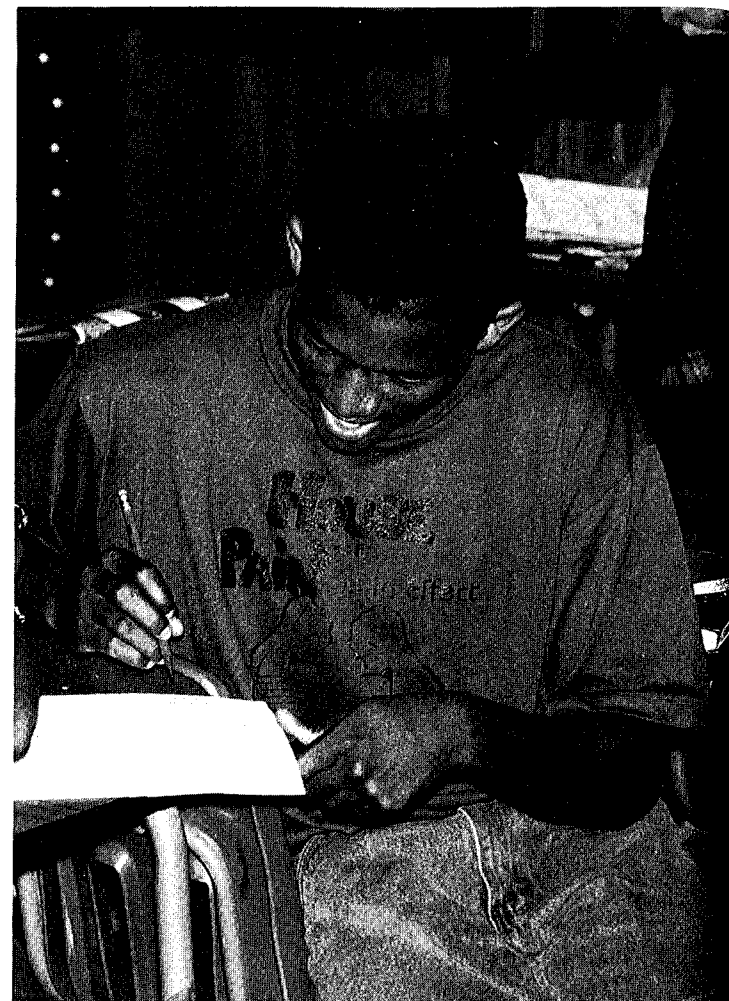

You can learn to use all sorts of tools. All students who enroll in these courses can benefit by learning job skills. We can be proud of our Ind. Arts Dept.
