Course Overview

Students will analyze and create original works in the categories of prose, poetry, performance poetry, creative nonfiction, drama, comics, journalism, film, graphic design, and multimedia.

Responsibilities & Expectations

1. Be respectful of others. EVERYONE deserves respect, regardless of whether or not you like or agree with them.
2. Maintain your work ethic & do your best.
3. Listen and follow instructions.
4. Safety First: Keep your hands to yourself.

Consequences

1. Warning
2. Conference with Learner
3. Parent Contact
4. Detention
5. Office Referral*

*I may move straight to an office referral if the misbehavior is severe.

Authentic Voice

Being a creator of original content may be intimidating to some of you, but you're already doing it with Insta Posts and Snapchats. We will just be tweaking that skill and learning how to use your creativity for other modes of expression! You will be writing and creating so much original content in this course...from short stories to poems to multimedia presentations. As a result, you may feel the pressure to use others' work as your own.

Don't do that. Just don't. Not only would you be missing out on an opportunity to find your own authentic voice, but you'd be cheating.

Plagiarism is serious, and I will be holding you accountable for it.

Cheating Policy

- 1st offense: 0/100 and your parents will be called. You will be allowed a "rewrite," but the highest you can score is a 70%.
- 2nd + Offense(s): 0/100, your parents will be called. You will NOT be allowed a "rewrite," and you will receive an official office referral.
