★ SUPPORTING YOUR STUDENT AT HOME

Talk with your child at home about how their days are going. A lot of times, students are going through something and don't feel comfortable talking about it at school. They are afraid that a friend will get mad at them or that someone they care about will get in trouble, so they hold things in until they get home. Encourage your child to speak up both at school and at home when things concern them. This helps the bridge between school and home get stronger!
