Atsá Biyaázh Atsa Biyaazh is the month when baby eagles hatch in their nests high up in the cliffs. The snow begins to melt and Spring winds begin to gust. The late winter thunder roars and gently shakes mother earth awakening all hibernating animals and reptiles.
HAPPY BIRTHDAY ARIZONA! Arizona became the forty-eighth state on February 14, 1912. This year will be Arizona's 113th birthday. The top half of the state flag consists of thirteen alternating red and yellow rays which represent America's thirteen original colonies. Because Arizona is a western state, the rays show a setting sun. The copper star is there to remind us of the state's copper industry. The bottom half of the flag is the same color blue found in the U. S. flag.
