MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL

Hi Oak Run Families,

This week, we focused on the importance of teamwork, and the children had a wonderful time learning how working together can make a real difference. Using a parachute outside, they discovered that when everyone plays a role, supports one another, and moves together, amazing things happen! Not only does the task get done faster, but it's also a lot more fun.

Practicing teamwork offers both short- and long-term benefits for children. In the short run, they build friendships, learn to listen to others, and gain a sense of accomplishment from contributing to group activities. These skills foster a positive school experience, helping them feel valued and connected with their peers.

In the long run, teamwork skills set children up for success in many areas of life. Working well with others boosts communication skills, patience, and resilience—all qualities that will serve them in school, sports, and eventually in their careers. Learning early on that “teamwork makes the dream work” helps children grow into supportive, collaborative individuals who can achieve great things by working together.

With lots of love,

Mrs. Livingston

Greetings all!

What a fun week we had dressing up as some of our favorite heroes, sports teams, historical people and more. I've taken quite a few pictures that are hanging in our classroom. What a great imagination the students have- and their ideas every day for imaginary play- so much creativity and fun. They inspire me!

Monday started off with Hero Day- we had a nurse, a fireman, a fairy and even Spiderman come for a visit to our class! Tuesday was well represented by many sports teams- some I didn't even know! Wednesday was a full day with class pictures and a chance to dress from the past. We saw costumes from the 60's to almost the present day! Thursday was a fun day for the students to dress like a teacher- and the staff to dress like a student. Friday was a hit because we all got to dress up in our own choice of costumes! And Friday night was so fun at the Fall Carnival!

We are now using new workbooks at school for language arts and science- so not as many papers to go home. Science and History and other papers will still make their way home. In math we are working on place value and difference. In language arts we are learning about common and compound nouns (person, place or thing).

Science continues to be a fun time to learn about the difference between a fruit and a vegetable. In Social Studies we are still exploring our communities and different roles that people have and how important they are. We are all pieces that work together to form a whole community. All jobs are a valuable part of the whole community.

Every day is a gift where we get to learn and grow together! Enjoy today!

Mrs. Hanna

Oak Run Continues Having Fun!

This week has been another wonderful learning experience here at Oak Run Elementary School. Math has still been a challenge for our students in an engaging way, and everyone is learning to type effectively and earn K-Cash based on their increase in words per minute, with a special reward for our fastest typers at the end of the week. In history, we are transitioning from Meso American history, focusing on the Maya and Aztecs, to exploring the lives of early settlers in the original 13 colonies, giving students a deeper understanding of our nation's beginnings. Our science lessons have centered around density, buoyancy, and matter, leading us toward a greater understanding of the study of atoms—the basic units of matter—enhanced by hands-on experiments. In language arts, students are diving into the eight parts of speech, exploring figurative language, including similes and metaphors, and developing their ability to express opinions through pros and cons, showcasing their creativity. This week, we also had picture day, and everyone looked great! It was dress-up week, and students displayed some fantastic costume ideas for the different themes. Additionally, all students are looking forward to the Harvest Festival on Friday, which starts at 4:30 PM and ends around 7:30 PM. Thank you for your continued support in your child's education, and we look forward to another exciting week ahead!

Best regards,

Mr. Kempkey
