Arionna

Arionna Watson, known as Ari, is our second of three Seniors at Calhoun R-

VIII this year. In her spare time, she loves to go skateboarding and hang out with friends. She also likes to get creative, either through painting or music. Her biggest challenge the past four years has been navigating all the stress and learning how to get organized. She may be surprised she made it at times, but none of her peers or teachers ever doubted her. Her most influential role models have been Chad Dudley and Natalie Clark (coworkers). They always tell her to do her best and stand up for herself. They give her the best advice for any situation and never let her down; she can always count on them. She will remember most the countless memories and band trips she made with friends and staff.

Arionna plans to attend State Fair Community College to get her Associates degree before possibly becoming a Band/Music major. In 10 years, she sees herself being finished with college, having a place of her own, and being financially stable. Her advice for the underclassmen: "Never take anything for granted[.] Enjoy every [minute]. I always thought [Senior] year would take so long to come, [but] it comes fast[.]"

The Calhoun Colt Show celebrated its 112th anniversary this year. On Friday, September 10, The Colt Show Royalty was crowned:

- Queen Harlie Foster
- Mini Queen Amelia Barrett
- Mini King Avery Houk
- 1st Princess Harper Pennock
- 2nd Princess Haylee Lane

On Saturday, September 11, the parade included a special tribute to 9-11, displayed on Hunter Marriott's motorcycle, and the first public performance of the Eagle Pride Band, under the direction of Michal Brooks. After the parade, the Freshmen set up a face-painting booth and Landon Huffmann wowed the crowds with his skills on the bass guitar.

Student Council

Student Council started morning announcements on Tuesdays and put together the fall bulletin board.

Quiz Bowl

Quiz Bowl practice began and we have our first match against Leeton on October 14 at 4:00 pm. We will be having a match against Sherwood Cass at 4:30 pm on November 18.

Trail Updates

The trail has been recently updated by various students and teachers. Mr. Duensing and Mr. Lamb worked with Evan Harris, Jacob Harris, and Cloe Bourland to add to the trails and install rope handrails to assist with the steep portions. Students also rebuilt bridge on the trail, ensuring the safety of all students.

Applied Science

The applied science class finished assembly and construction of a platform for our new greenhouse.
