Trojans of the Week

6th Grade

"Be somebody who makes everybody feel like a somebody." — Kid President

6B's Trojan of the Week does just that. He is the kind of student who makes our school a brighter, happier place! He's always smiling, always kind, and always ready to lend a hand. Whether he's helping a classmate, greeting teachers in the hallway, or cheering on his friends, his positive attitude never goes unnoticed. Our Trojan of the Week is not just an outstanding student. He's an active member of our school community—playing basketball, participating in the Plus 1 program, and planning to join esports. Outside of school, he continues to lead by example. He's involved in his church's youth group and volunteers his time coaching his little brother's basketball and flag football teams. His dedication, patience, and big heart shine both on and off the court! This student is a team player in every sense of the word—encouraging others, including everyone, and doing whatever is asked with a smile. We're so proud to celebrate Bo as our Trojan of the Week.

"There may be people that have more talent than you, but there's no excuse for anyone to work harder than you do." - Derek Jeter "The Captain"

6C's Trojan of the Week truly embodies the spirit of hard work and dedication. Whether in the classroom or on the field, this young man consistently gives his best—striving to grow, support his classmates, and uplift his teammates. A true leader demonstrates integrity, self-awareness, courage, respect, compassion, and resilience—and he displays each of these qualities with pride. His determination and gratitude shine through, even when faced with challenges. Congratulations to 6C's Trojan of the Week, Evan.

On this Thanksgiving Break Eve, Team 6A is so thankful for all of our students, but especially our TOW. Golden Honor Roll student, football player, ESports, Energy Club, and Student Advisory member...our TOW has it all! No matter where you see our TOW, he will be kind, helpful, and working hard. In the classroom, he is an example for his peers in his work ethic, behavior, and academic excellence. He holds himself to the highest standard, and achieves it each day! This kid also has a great sense of humor and is ready to help classmates and teachers in any way. He is wise and mature beyond his years, and stands up for what is good, right, and true. We look forward to seeing him succeed in big ways. We are so proud of you, Charlie! Go be great!

7th Grade

7th grade just completed their Living Wax Museum projects, where students researched and became historical figures who have overcome adversity in the face of overwhelming obstacles. Among those on "display" was the late, great Coach Pat Summitt, who once said, "Here's how I am going to beat you. I am going to outwork you. That's it. That's all there is to it." And while she was talking about the game of basketball, and later applied it to her own obstacles in life, it just so happens to apply to 7B's Trojan of the Week as well. She is one who works harder - achieving honor roll so far in 7th grade while meeting AR and Zearn goals; she maintains her composure- both in the classroom and on the soccer field, where she is a competitive athlete in her own right, AND she just so happened to have portrayed Coach Pat Summitt in 7B's wax museum. Congratulations to Annslee, our Trojan of the Week! 7B is so proud of your determination, hard work, and kindness you show every day. We cannot wait to see what all you accomplish as you continue striving for your goals. Way to go!

Stephen Hawking said, "Quiet people have the loudest minds," and this statement is so true for Team 7C's Trojan of the Week, Kalie. Kalie may be quiet, but she is a bright, motivated, and creative student who stands out both academically and artistically. She has a genuine love for learning that shows in each of her classes as she consistently excels, placing her on the Golden Honor Roll. Whether she is analyzing a story, solving a complex math problem, or retaining much information in science and social studies classes, Kalie approaches every task with focus and determination. These attributes have also earned Kalie a spot in Plus 1 class. Kalie's teachers really do admire her ability to think critically, write thoughtfully, and articulate her ideas clearly during class discussions as she also exhibits kindness and leadership, always willing to help classmates and her teachers, too. Kalie, we are so proud of you, and Team 7C is a better place because of you.

7A's Trojan of the Week is a quick-witted seventh grader who somehow manages to keep his teachers laughing and still get his work done! In class, he jumps into discussions, asks great questions, and helps his peers when needed. He makes sure to get his AR goal early and stays determined to do his best work possible. On the football field, he works hard, hustles, and keeps his teammates motivated. He's also active in his church youth group, where he brings the same mix of humor and heart. We love having Hayes on 7A and we are so proud of the way you represent us!

8th Grade

Gavyn is the 8th grade TOW. Gavyn is an outstanding student who leads with character, integrity, and a strong work ethic. Gavyn is dependable, hardworking, and always gives his best—whether in the classroom or out on the football field. Gavyn sets a great example for others and is a true leader and role model at our school! We are so proud of you Gavyn and how you represent DMS!

Our TOW is involved in cheer, choir, and trying out for the DMS softball team.

Our student may be quiet, but it's not about being loud, but about being influential through quiet strength, introspection, and a focus on empowering others. Her thoughtful approach, consistent effort, and willingness to support her peers demonstrate that influence isn't measured by volume, but by authenticity and purpose. She radiates positivity, always staying calm and cheerful, even under stress. We are so happy to have Selena on our team! Congratulations, Selena!

This person is a responsible, hardworking, reliable, and respectful student. She is always prepared in class and works diligently to make good grades. She sets the standard high for what academic achievement can look like in all of her classes. Guadalupe is a great example of a Trojan of the Week, and 8A is so lucky to have her on our team!
