Dr. Amy Barbour Veterans High

What do you love about your school?

There is a place for everyone. From students to parents to staff, our Warhawks work to be a family where each individual contributes to our overall value. As a result, we see miracles happen every day!

What do you love most about being a principal?

I get the opportunity to work with and "do school" every day with people I consider family. I truly believe education is a calling like no other, and what a gift this is every day.

Tell us about the person who inspired you to become a leader.

Thankfully, I have been blessed by many people who have invested in me and grown my desire to do similarly. My mother modeled the importance of service to others and putting others before yourself. My husband has worked diligently to serve in the United States Air Force for 25 years, where he has, similarly, always seen the mission as larger than any individual. Likewise, in my career, I have had many mentors, supervisors, and peers - more than I can name or list - who have equally encouraged and grown me in ways beyond what I have deserved.

Fun Fact

I am an avid sports, theater, and concert fan! Go Carolina - for my roots - and Auburn - for my college daughter!
