seniors

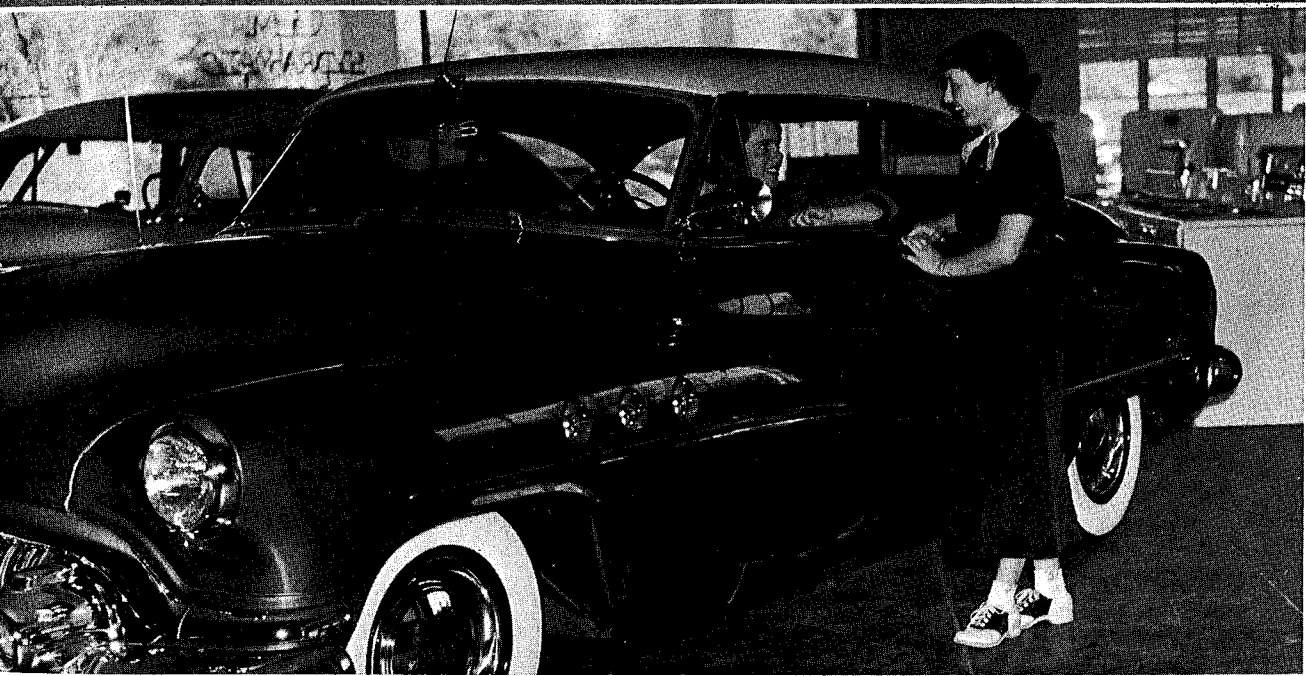

And then we were SENIORS — the mighty men, so big and powerful, wise and old. It didn't quite seem true. Seniors had always looked so old and grown-up to us when we were freshmen, sophomores, and juniors. But this Senior Class is only us, you and me, the same silly people we've always been. We lead the pep-rallies confidently, sure of ourselves, reigning supreme. The underclassmen struggled to be heard, but we put them down most easily. Building a float at Holland's Barn, chasing chickens and football games. Homecoming only a few days away, Juniors and Sophomores working to win. Where is your float, you mighty Seniors? Ah, we'll get it done — and we did. An Updike-Lamar creation with you and me and all the gang fixing the lights, making the flowers, painting what we papier-machéd. THE CLASS OF '71, TAKES FIRST PLACE (again!) Senior classes: crip courses, study hall and lab assistant. Even the easiest course is too hard for me. Trig, Physics, and Hoaglin's HARD English. Somehow, sometime it changed. Nothing seemed as important this year. Why am I in these clubs, holding office? Suddenly it hits us: We will not attend high school all our lives. Indecision: thoughts of next year; What college will take me? What job can I get? But I want to get out, out of this rut. The last few weeks: PURE HELL. Pressure and responsibility, so much to do, so little time, I can't take it anymore. Only five more days, only an eternity. Our bitterness builds to hatred; we become obnoxious, rebellious children, protesting the injustice of it all. Sick of high school, tired of teachers: WE DEMAND FREEDOM. In the midst of all the hurry and the bother, we look up and regard one another: OH, FRIEND REMEMBER ME. Our paths will split: to work, to college; to marriage. But this great class of you and I must survive — we'll keep in touch! And even as we say it and we think it, we all know: June 4th is the end of US.

A view of Lake Wales from the water tower shows its early development in 1914.

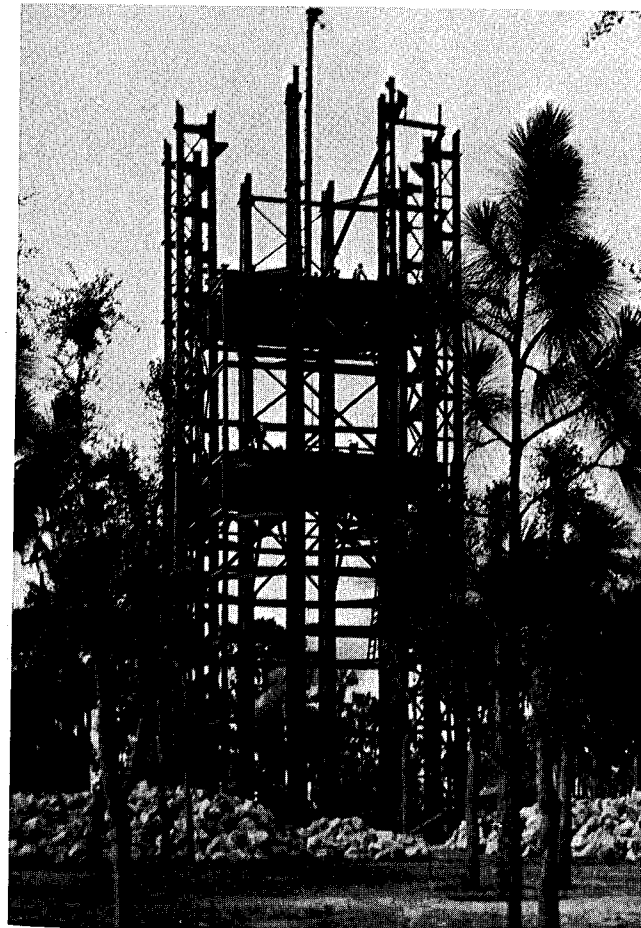

Brooks Bacon, a long-time citizen, came to Lake Wales in 1916.

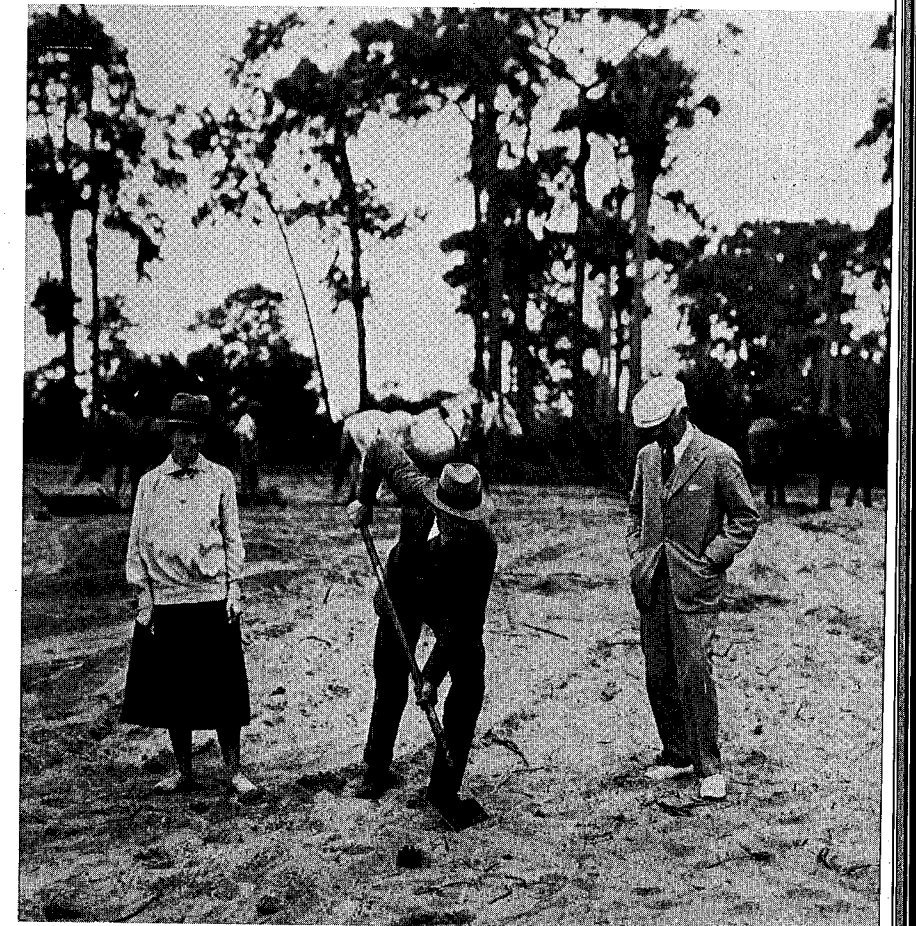

In the early 1920's, what is now the West Building housed the entire school population of Lake Wales.

The Lake Wales of 1971 incorporates the same area and retains numerous buildings of the Lake Wales of 1926.

WE CARE

Dirty air comes from cars and trash burning and industry and airplanes and on and on and on.

Well, Florida Power Corporation doesn't like it either. That's why we've spent more than $1,500,000 on pollution control in the last five years just as a start.

Because we want to breathe too.

annual staff

A masterpiece?? created by the staff members in their spare time??

During the year, through frustrations and hard work, these questions and comments were often heard around the annual room:

“Where’s Candi? I have some money.”
 “Has anybody seen the job stamp?”
 “It’s in Kathy’s box.”
 “Guess what? We’re 80 pages overdue.”
 “Who’s been in my box?”
 “Roger broke the scalegraph.”
 “WoW! You look nice today, Mrs. Hunt.”
 “Oh, Ted Mase is coming?”
 “A blank page with your name on it will result if proper instructions are not given to the person doing your pages.”
 “Where were you June 4 – June 15?”

The editor and staff wish to say: We hope this book will bring back the memories of 1970-71 and help you remember the events that time will try to erase.
