dedication

Mr. Kelly D. Fuller
Assistant Principal

This yearbook is dedicated to Mr. Kelly Fuller, assistant principal of Bunkie High. He is retiring after 35 years of service in education. Mr. Fuller has spent the last 33 years at Bunkie High as assistant principal. Mr. Fuller also coached the basketball team during the beginning of his stay here at Bunkie High.

As coach, Mr. Fuller led the Bunkie basketball team to the Top Twenty in the 1970-71 and 1972-73 school years. In ten years of coaching, his teams played in the state playoffs eight times. He was also published in "The Coaching Clinic."

As assistant principal, however, Mr. Fuller has been a greater influence in the students' lives here at Bunkie High. He has encouraged and helped a large number of students during his work here. Bunkie High School would like to thank Mr. Fuller for his dedicated service.

School can be such hard work. It can be so boring it will put you to sleep-- it can even make you cry.

Each day seems the same. It begins with "Good morning. These are your announcements for today. Please listen attentively and govern yourselves accordingly."

You go to your class and do your work, sometimes with a little help from others.

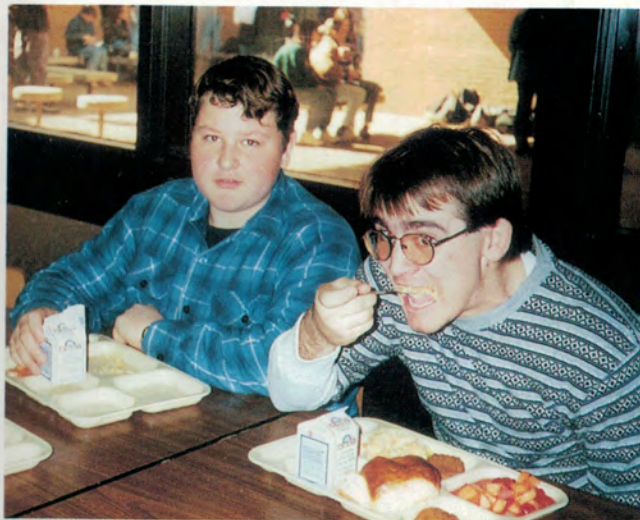

The bell rings, you change classes. You go to your locker and, if you have time, talk to friends.

work,
others.

The highlight of the day is lunch, eating in the cafeteria, getting candy in the gym. If you are really dedicated, you study even then, but most people just hang out.

Sometimes you can feel like you are in a cage-

The Panther UnCaged

But students find plenty of ways to break out of the everyday routine. The most popular? Dance!

There is always the troll bridge, the wall, and the pass, too. And holidays usually mean a fun parade.

Another way to beat the school blues? Take a trip! Everybody knows that the best part of a field trip is the bus ride. Unless, of course, you can get away from the group for a while.

How else do panthers break out of the cage? By going to a game!

Of course, being part of the game is even more fun.

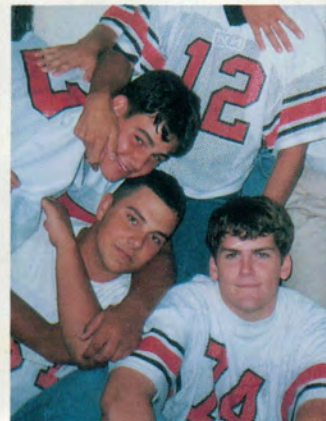

Pep rallies are even better-- you get to miss class!

Students find ways to beat the boredom of routine even at school. Eating lunch with friends makes for a lot of fun—especially those friends that will do anything for a laugh!

School clubs allow friends to work together on common interests.

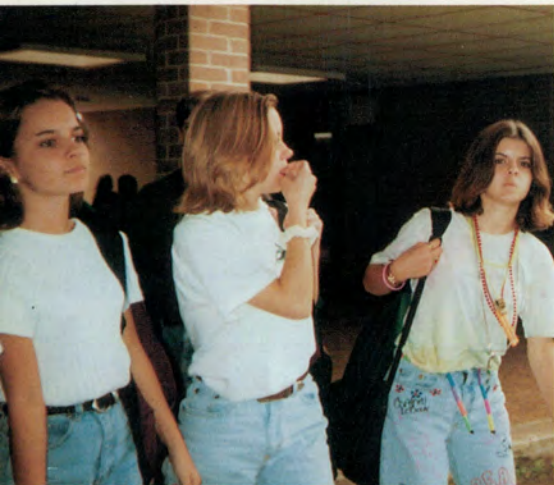

Some classes are a lot of fun, but sometimes you have to make your own fun in class.

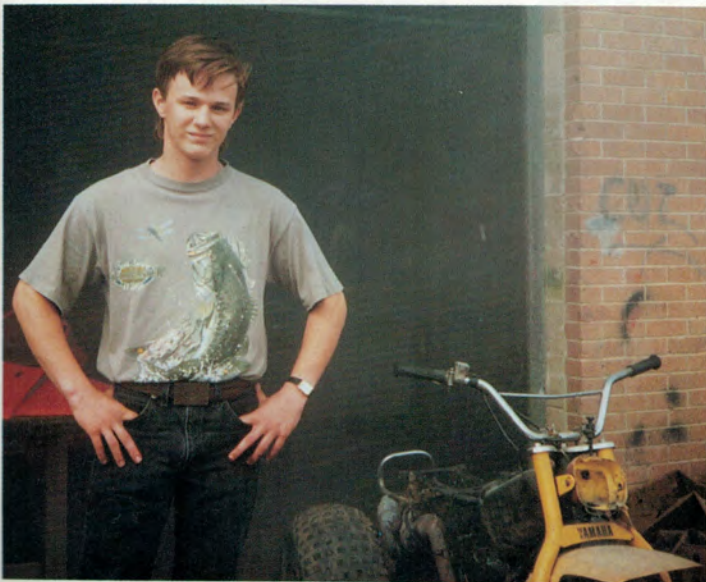

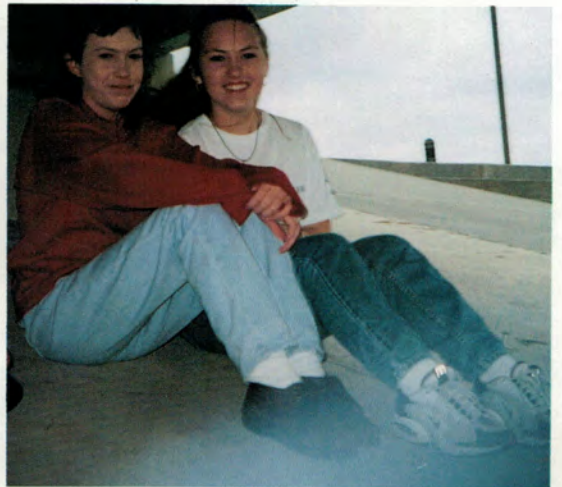

And then there is the everyday cure for school blues . . .
the 3:26 dismissal bell!

If the bell doesn't ring soon enough, you can hide . . .
. . . or start a fire!

Sophomore spirit

The class of 1999 showed exceptional spirit this year as the sophomores won the pep rally competition, taking an amazing 5 of 8 pep rallies. The class worked hard on confetti, signs, and noisemakers to show their spirit. Most sophomores give the credit to the hard work of Jade Juneau, Betsy Bain, and Kathy Matthews, but David Bain says that they won the competition because of "that big air horn from the ag department!"

freshmen firsts

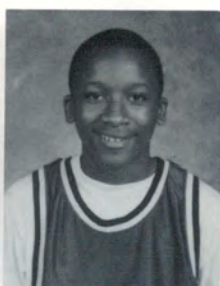

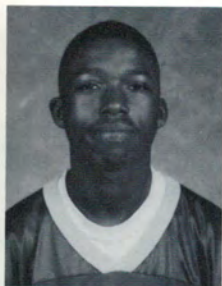

What's the worse thing about being a freshman? The first day of school! Seniors traditionally make the first day especially rough with the hazing of ninth graders. Bunkie High's newest students generally agree that they don't like the hazing, although freshman Allison Stacy confesses "When I am a senior, I'll want to do it."

Caring Community

This year, Bunkie High School demonstrated a strong communal spirit when an unfortunate accident happened to one of its members. While on the Fine Arts trip in Atlanta, junior Courtney Wolff suffered a medical emergency. Students and faculty of Bunkie High showed strong support to the family of Courtney during their time of need.

Happily, Courtney came through the tragic incident and fellow students, friends, faculty members welcomed her home later this year. A tremendous show of goodwill was evident at the prayer vigil held at Courtney's home. This troubled time had brought out the best in the BHS community.

Community Spirit: Friends gather at a prayer vigil.

In memory of:
Brandon Clopton

Bunkie High suffered a great loss this year when, in September, Brandon Clopton died. A sophomore here at Bunkie High, Brandon was an active band member. Brandon will be deeply missed by his fellow students, friends and family. He shall remain in our memories, a sincere and gentle friend.

In memory of:
Michael Gauthier

Bunkie High suffered another great loss in March of this school year when Mike Gauthier died in an auto accident. Sixteen year old Michael was a junior at Bunkie High. A great athlete, Mike was an all-district defensive lineman for the Panthers and also threw the discus for the track team. Mike was an involved student who participated in the Beta and FFA clubs. Mike had a strong interest in music and played in a band with friends.

There is no getting over or around our loss. We will deeply miss your laughter, your music, your voice. Time will allow our sorrow to give way to the pleasure of having known you. Your great love of life, of music, sports, hunting, will cause us to cherish our own lives.

Congratulations, Kay!

You've made us so proud.
