More Things to Know

- If book is lost or damaged, students must pay the cost of the book plus a $2.00 shipping and processing fee.
- Fines due to lost or damaged books are carried over from year to year. No checkout will be allowed until fines have been paid from previous year.
- The fee for using the printer in the library is .10 per page and is ONLY for educational purposes.
- No gum, food or drinks in the library!

Library Code of Conduct

- Library Books require care. You are responsible for the items you check out. Please return them on time.
- Everyone deserves your respect.
- The library is a learning environment.
- No loud talking, playing, rocking back in chairs, gum, or food in the library!
- It is a privilege to check out books NOT a requirement. In other words, if you can't behave while visiting the library, then you will be sent back to class without a book and your teacher will be notified of the reason.

- First- Verbal Warning
- Second- Loss of library privileges with teacher notification
- Third- Contact Parent
- Fourth- Office Referral

- Enter the Library Quietly
- Sign the Library Log at the Circulation Desk if you are checking out a book and/or are planning to use a computer.
- Stack or hand all books for check in to the library aide when you enter the library at the circulation desk.
- If you are renewing, see a library aide or myself to renew your book.
- If you are checking a book out, quietly search for you a book and when you are done, bring it to a library aide or myself to check the book out for you.
- Don't forget to sign out before leaving the library!
