Kindergarten

Mrs. Tinnin

This week we are finishing up our animal research reports and presentations. Everyone worked hard and had fun learning about their animal. Next week, we will start our last chapter in math learning about sorting. It is a very short chapter so when we finish, we will review a couple of skills students struggled with during previous chapters.

We continue to make observations of our pumpkin seeds we are growing in the classroom. Everyone has their own observation journal. It is fun to see the difference in growth over such a short time. Part of the observations is counting the leaves and measuring how tall their plant is using paperclips chained together.

First and Second Grade Explorers

Mrs. Mittge

By the time you read this our classroom should be the proud caretakers to at least one little chick. Fingers crossed!

We sure have enjoyed learning about the life cycles of all of our biotic factors/living things. Your children are becoming excellent mealworm biologists. They can now change habitats and make observations solo in under 10 minutes.

Also by the time you read this we will have completed our required math curriculum. Starting Monday we will be using a center-based math model to provide a focused math lesson and a center activity to small groups so we can clarify and expand math understandings.

Please keep reading for 20 minutes aloud each night. At this point in the year, it would be greatly appreciated if you could do a deep look through your home for school library books and class books marked Mittge, Duren, or Grange.

Third and Fourth Grade Classroom

Mrs. Mars

Student's sent their art to the Spring Youth Fair this week! Each student had the opportunity to create a diorama and then put themselves in it on a swing. It was a very fun project and there was a lot of creativity shown by all. If you have a chance make sure to swing into the fair this weekend to see all the projects Evaline students submitted.

Fifth and Sixth Grade Classroom

Mr. Burlingame

5th and 6th grade students created some artistic masks out of paper mache, paint, and their imaginations last week. They have been submitted to the youth fair happening this weekend at the Southwest Washington Fairgrounds. I encourage you to head on down and see your student's creation!

We are still collecting items for the dessert auction. Our theme is Movie Night! If you would like to contribute things that go with that theme like candy, movies, or popcorn please do! The proceeds from this night go towards student activities and improving their experience at Evaline. It is a great way to support your students and contribute to an awesome, or pawsome, time at Evaline.

Academically we are continuing through our curricula in math and ELA with focus on practicing for the SBAC later next month. Our goal is to be able to understand what is being asked in the questions and then giving a full answer to the prompt. As we get closer to SBAC I will send information home detailing what students will be experiencing through this testing process.
