“Equitable Education for Every Student”

Principal’s Message

Greetings Parents,

Thank you for allowing the dedicated staff of RLMJH to educate your child/children. Our 2nd 9-week benchmark assessments start Monday, December 13, 2021, please be sure that your child/children are preparing daily for their assessments and classroom activities. We are very intentional about creating a learning focused building for our staff and student body.

Our goal is growth for all students on every assessment! We are moving in the right direction. As you may or may not know, we received recognition as being “October School of the Month”. We are hoping to do the same next month. We also received the “Killing It” awards trophy for the 1st 9wks benchmark assessments. At this point we are a “B” school. Hopefully, we can do the same or better for the 2nd 9wks assessments. Again, I thank you and appreciate your support of Robert L. Merritt Junior High School. If you have any concerns, please feel free to contact me at (662) 884-1270.

We are seeing that our students are getting more focused in the classrooms. This was displayed due to the fact that we won the award for having the highest scores on the benchmark assessments. Teachers also got to see that their hard work did not go unnoticed. We are slowly changing the culture at Merritt and when we get everyone on board, the results will speak volumes about how much more we can improve as a school. We would also like for everyone to enjoy the Thanksgiving Break and come back rested and refreshed because we still have work to do in order to reach the ultimate goal. (Growth for All Students)

The McKinney -Vento Act

When a family becomes homeless, there are two issues that usually occur with the effected children, 1) student attendance decreases and 2) financial situations destroy students' interest in school. The SCCSD recognizes the importance of education for all children and has adopted the McKinney-Vento Homeless Act that addresses the needs of homeless children. This policy aids with homeless students so that they can continue to be educated despite the challenges they face. If you know of families with children who are homeless, please let us know at (662) 844-1270. For more information visit Website: <http://www.serve.org/ncheor> E-mail homeless@serve.org.

November is the month of gratitude and thanksgiving. If you are concerned about how to raise teenagers who are grateful, please read the following excerpt from an article found on the following website <http://drdavewalsh.com/posts/tips//174> and posted by Erin Walsh on November 19, 2013.

5 Ways to Teach Your Child Gratitude- Plus Tips for Teens

Adolescence can be seen as a self-adsorbed time in life but it is also a great time for transformation when young people are opening up to the world around them and figuring out who they want to be. Gratitude helps teens be more resilient as they travel on the rocky and exhilarating road from childhood to adulthood. Here are a couple of tips for nurturing gratitude in teens:

- Don't give up. You may need to modify family gratitude traditions or let your teen shape them, but don't abandon them completely. They are likely more important to your teen than you know.
- Gratitude is a practice, not a script. Avoid "correcting your teen if he or she express gratitude about something that doesn't meet your expectations. It is okay if your teen goes in and out of taking gratitude seriously around you.
- Modeling still matters. While they may never tell you this, your actions will matter. A lot. Practice gratitude.
- Give credit to others. Teens are vulnerable to the "self-serving bias" which means that when something good happens they thinks it is because of them and when something bad happens they blame the circumstances or someone else. Encourage them to think of how others have helped them succeed and to take responsibility for their own actions.
- Expand the conversation. Talk to your teen things like rights versus privileges and equality versus justice. Gratitude calls on us to be more aware of our relationships with others.

Happy Thanksgiving!!

“With us plus you, there’s nothing our students can’t do”!
