CELEBRATING WCS D'S TALENTED AND DRIVEN DISTRICT TECH GURUS

In today's digital world, technology plays a significant role in our lives. Behind the scenes, there is a dedicated group of professionals ensuring that computing systems, software, and hardware operate smoothly. These professionals are known as Information Technology (IT) professionals. At the Williamsburg County School District, we are proud of the essential services they provide. While many people may associate IT with help desks and tech support, our team of technologists at WCS D is involved in various other crucial tasks for which we are grateful on IT Professionals Day and every day.

Our IT professionals are responsible for managing various software applications throughout the District and implementing security measures. They are deeply involved in ensuring the security of our schools, managing door security, scheduling when doors are locked or opened, as well as overseeing badge systems and security cameras in all District buildings. These security measures extend to cyber security, protecting the District's data, including personal information. The IT department also filters what can and cannot be accessed on District devices. Additionally, the IT team provides support through a help desk for the hundreds of District employees. We celebrate our hardworking IT team on National IT Professionals Day and every day. To learn more about the department and its work, you can visit the www.wcsd.k12.sc.us website.
