Mr. Kyle Exline researched and provided most of the game scores from 1986 through 1999, and also provided photos for most of the football helmet designs throughout school history. All other game scores and a few football helmet designs were taken from articles printed in the East Liverpool Review.

Most of the football helmets prior to 2010 have been recreated from black and white photos and some guesswork had to be done when determining the shades of blue and gold used on these helmets. Photos from 2010 to the present were in color, so the shades of these helmets have been reproduced as closely as possible.

* Win-Loss totals for these years are incomplete

Salineville High School, the forerunner of today's Southern Local, first fielded a football team in 1913. The first game in Salineville history was played on September 27 at home, a 40-0 loss to Wellsville. Unfortunately very little information has been located on the team's early days; reports were very sparse in the East Liverpool Review at the time. Salineville was a very small school but had its share of success, capturing the Class B county championship in 1933. Salineville's biggest rival seemed to be Bergholz High (later consolidated into Springfield and now part of Edison). The two schools competed for the Little Brown Jug Trophy in both football and basketball.

Manpower shortages brought on by World War II forced SHS to switch to six-man football in 1945. The Indians competed against other small schools in the area like Fairfield, New Waterford, Jewett, Scio, Hopedale, Flushing, Conotton Valley and even Beallsville. The team was a member of various six-man leagues during this time, including the Columbiana-Mahoning County League and the Eastern Ohio Six-Man Football League, winning the championship of the EOL in 1954.

By 1956 the Indians were ready to return to regular football, but because of league obligations had to split time between six-man and regular football. The second game of the season, a 50-0 win over United Local, was the first 11-man game played by the Indians in 12 years. In all, the team went 4-1 in six-man competition and 2-1 against 11-man teams in 1956. The following year the team played a full 11-man schedule and never returned to the six-man game.

Lewis Park seems to have always been SHS's home field (that location has been confirmed for 1929, 1930 and 1950). As the field was not equipped with lights, games were typically played on Saturdays. When the new Southern Local High School opened in 1963, the campus included a new football field complete with lights, and SLHS hosted the first night game in Salineville history that fall.

Southern Local inherited its mascot and colors from Salineville High. Articles in the 1910s and 1920s didn't use a nickname for the football team, but the Review called the team the Blue Devils in 1938. The first mention of the Indians nickname was found in 1939.
