U.S. houses of worship increase security after shootings

Houses of worship are meant to be places of shelter, reflection and peace, where strangers are welcome. But the recent string of high-profile mass shootings in the U.S. is a reminder violence can happen anywhere, prompting some faith leaders to ramp up security.

Coweta, other counties read Bible simultaneously

This morning, at 7:14 am, Sheriff Wood and members of the Coweta County Sheriff's Office Command Staff took part in the annual Statewide Bible Reading. This year was the fourth year that the interdenominational gathering was held. In less than one hour, the entire Bible was read from Courthouses in all 159 Georgia counties, with each county reading a section of the Bible.

A Power 88 listener writes

This morning God used you and the people who called (Power 88) to answer my doubts. For awhile I have been wondering if my Mom is where she is supposed to be after her passing, because of the kind of death she had. Today God was very clear, because at the same time that I was thinking and questioning God about it, the lady called telling her experience over the radio and saying that precious poem. I had to stop and cry because the Lord is so awesome. Today is a good day and I have found the peace I was searching for a long time. God bless you, this radio station and all the people he uses to reach us. Thanks so much from the bottom of my not broken anymore heart. Sorry if I don't make any sense but I am still crying tears of joy. God is good!!!!
