The Houston County Career Academy (HCCA), Central Georgia Technical College (CGTC), Houston Healthcare (HHC) and Houston County Development Authority partnered to host the third annual Houston Health Science Summit called More Than Scrubs on Thursday, February 3, 2022. High school sophomores throughout Houston County were invited to attend More Than Scrubs in hopes of growing a local workforce to meet the needs of Houston Healthcare, the fourth largest employer in the county. More than Scrubs was held from 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. at CGTC’s Sonny Watson Health Sciences Building, located on their Warner Robins campus.

More Than Scrubs aims to ignite an interest in both clinical and non-clinical healthcare careers, such as business administration, information technology, and HVAC/industrial maintenance.

“Houston Healthcare was pleased, once again this year, to partner with HCCA, CGTC, and the Houston County Development Authority to showcase the various healthcare careers, along with the numerous employment opportunities available within our local healthcare system,” said Charles Briscoe, President and Chief Executive Officer for Houston Healthcare. “Through these last two years, we have seen what a difference it makes to the healthcare system when every employee comes together towards a common goal – beating this pandemic. Caring for our patients and their families takes a wide range of people from every skill and profession. Having a qualified workforce who is dedicated to doing what’s right and going the extra mile is key to the success of any organization. A career in healthcare can be so rewarding, and we encourage all those who may be interested in healthcare to find out ways to learn more.”

In addition to Briscoe, students heard from:

- Dr. Ivan Allen, President, CGTC;
- Dr. Mark Scott, Superintendent of Schools, Houston County School District;
- Siggy Tetteh, Chief Information Officer, HHC;
- Shellisa Houston Martin, Chief Nursing Officer, HHC;
- David Rossman, Director of Engineering, HHC;
- David Borghelli, Director of Emergency Medical Services, HHC;
- Melissa Phagan, Chief of Staff, HHC; and
- Dana Cummins, Executive Secretary, HHC.

The event was facilitated by Kimberly Gunn, CGTC High School Initiatives Director, and Angie Gheesling, Houston County Development Authority Executive Director.

HCCA Principal Sabrina Phelps commented, “This summit highlighted the vast number of careers in Houston County, especially in the healthcare industry. HCCA exists to build a qualified workforce for business and industry in and around Houston County, which is a win-win for the students and our entire community. More than Scrubs is just one more way we can show students in Houston County the breadth of job opportunities available to them as they graduate.”

Houston County Career Academy is located at 1311 Corder Road in Warner Robins, GA. Sabrina Phelps serves as Principal and CEO. For more information on More than Scrubs, please contact Sabrina Phelps at (478) 322-3280 or sabrina.phelps@hcbe.net.

HCCA Celebrates CTAE Month

Career, Technical and Agricultural Education (CTAE) month is a public awareness campaign that takes place each February to celebrate the value of CTAE and the achievements and accomplishments of CTAE programs across the country. Houston County Career Academy loves CTAE!

FIRST Robotics Team 3635 Mentored at the Mercer University Fabrication Laboratory

The Houston County, FIRST Robotics Team 3635 had the opportunity to train and be mentored at the Mercer University Fabrication Laboratory on February, 21, 2022. Mercer Engineering's Fabrication Lab (Fab Lab) is open 24/7 and provides a space where students can explore research opportunities, collaborate with fellow students, complete assignments, and more. Students using the Fab Lab benefit from access to cutting-edge tools such as: 3D printers, laser cutters, plasma cutters, welding machines, vinyl cutters, fiber cutters, wood working with power tools, etc. This opportunity provided valuable knowledge and expertise to the robotics team by demonstrating specialized techniques to transition from wooden framed robots to much lighter frames fabricated from composite materials. Houston County FIRST Robotics Team 3635 is looking forward to a continued collaboration with Mercer Engineering.

HCCA Teaching As a Profession Students Serve as Ambassadors at Market Day

The HCCA Teaching As a Profession pathway students served as Ambassadors for the Houston County 3rd grade Market Day event on March 3rd and 4th. The teaching interns greeted students, guided them to their work space, assisted with the set-up, and supported and encouraged the elementary participants. The Ambassadors were presented with certificates of appreciation from the Social Studies department in Houston County.

The Teaching As a Profession pathway gives high school students the opportunity to learn about the teaching field through classroom instruction and internships. Erin Morton is the instructor.

CGTC Hosts Aerospace Summit for Area High School Students and Community Partners

Central Georgia Technical College (CGTC) hosted 150 students from Bibb, Houston, Jones, and Monroe County school districts at the CGTC Aviation Training Center for the annual “Fly High with Careers in Aerospace Summit” in Macon, February 4, 2022. The Summit was from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

With community partners Robins Air Force Base, Delta, Embraer, Northrup Grumman, Dean Baldwin, Lowe/ H2 Aero, Stambaugh Aviation, and Gulfstream, students were introduced to aerospace career opportunities.

The ALC at Robins Air Force Base is the largest industrial complex in the state, and the largest employer in Houston County, offering jobs aircraft sheet welding, propeller mechanics, electronics, robotics, industrial systems, software engineering and computer programming.

Kim Gunn, the director of High School Initiatives at CGTC said, “The Fly High with Aerospace Careers Summit is a regional approach to help build a pipeline of dual enrollment students to become career ready in aerospace careers. The focus is the dual enrollment Aircraft Structural Technology program and students get to hear from industry leaders and tour lab spaces.”

Gunn added that juniors and seniors in Central Georgia can enroll in this one-year dual enrollment program, complete a certificate for the college, and become a pathway completer for the high school. In the program, students learn basic blueprint reading, enroll in a structural fundamentals lab class, and finish the year with an advanced blueprints class.

“The summit exposed students not only to the program, but the various industry partners in central Georgia that have these highly skilled, in demand jobs,” Gunn said.

The event was held at CGTC's Aerospace and Training Sustainment Center at 1821 Avondale Mill Road in Macon, Georgia. Current 10th and 11th grade students from Bibb, Houston, Jones and Monroe counties attended the summit based on their career areas of interest and counselor recommendations.

The Summit schedule was as follows:

9:00 a.m. - Welcome and Introductions

- Kimberly Gunn, Central Georgia Technical College
- Dr. Ivan Allen, Central Georgia Technical College
- Brigadier General Jennifer Hammerstedt, Warner Robins Logistics Complex Commander (WR-ALC/CC)

9:45 a.m. - Tour CGTC's Aerospace and Training Sustainment Center

Noon – Lunch and Industry Panel

- Robins Air Force Base
- Delta

HCCA Teaching As a Profession Teacher Intern Shares with ELL Students at Russell Elementary

HCCA Teaching As a Profession and Youth Apprenticeship student, Ashley Cruz (pictured), had the opportunity to speak words of encouragement to 3rd - 5th grade English Language Learners at Russell Elementary School on Friday, March 18th. Ashley, a Northside High senior, has been a Teaching As a Profession intern at Russell Elementary for two years. She assisted in Mrs. Davis' first grade classroom during the 2020-2021 school year, and she currently interns in Ms. Hilliard's 5th grade classroom this year. Ashley was a student in the ESOL program during her own time at Russell Elementary School and chose to return to her former school for her teaching internship.

Ashley shared with the students her own experience of being born in America to two Hispanic immigrants with only elementary education. She related to the students by sharing that she translates to her parents at home but uses English during the day at school. In May, she will be the first high school graduate in her family. In addition, Ashley was recently accepted into Wesleyan College and earned a full scholarship as she pursues her degree in early childhood education. Ashley hopes to return to Russell Elementary to be a teacher. During her time with the 3rd - 5th graders at Russell, Ashley read "Oh, the Places You'll Go," and she encouraged the students to "not worry about anyone else, just be the best version of yourself."

The Teaching As a Profession pathway gives high school students the opportunity to learn about the teaching field through classroom instruction and internships.

Houston County Career Academy Teaching As a Profession instructor is Erin Morton, and Sandi Couillard is the Youth Apprenticeship Coordinator.

NHS FACS Classes Pilot Program for Teen Cuisine

Students in Jill Massee's Food, Nutrition and Wellness classes and Food for Life classes are participating in a course called Teen Cuisine sponsored by the University of Georgia. Katie Haynes, Houston County Extension Program Specialist, is the instructor for the course. She will meet with the classes five times during the semester, and she brings a fun approach to teaching teens how to eat healthy and exercise. Sessions include Eat Smart, You are What you Eat, Power Up with Breakfast, Find the Fat, Watch out for Added Sugars, and Snack Attack. After completing the program, students will receive a certification from the Teen Cuisine course. The program is a USDA funded program that helps limited resource families make healthier choices on a budget.

Houston County High School FCCLA Members Shine Bright at Region Competition

On Saturday, February 12th, the FCCLA Region 7 STAR Event Competition was held at Houston County High School. Several HCHS FCCLA members competed in various STAR Event categories against students representing schools from across the region. Through STAR Events, FCCLA members have the opportunity to represent their chapter through their participation in various projects that explore their skills and talents in public speaking, project planning, community outreach, and more.

The top two teams from each competition category advance to the State Level Competition and HCHS FCCLA is so excited to announce that all region competitors from HCHS advanced to state! Congratulations to the following competitors:

- Olivia Morrison – 1st Place and Gold Medal in Job Interview Level 2
- Stephanie Choi and Hannah Koppel – 1st Place and Silver Medal in Chapter Service Project Display Level 3
- Collin Key – 2nd Place and Gold Medal in Teach and Train Level 3
- Sienn Bui – 2nd Place and Silver Medal in Job Interview Level 3

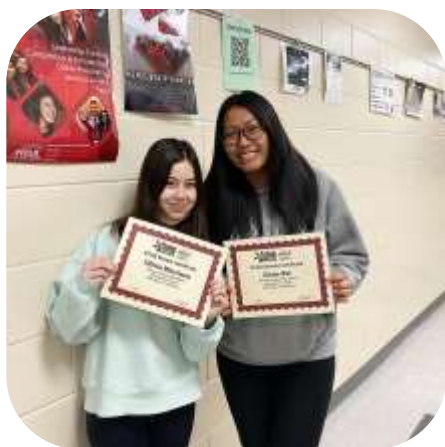

These students will be representing HCHS FCCLA and showcasing their talents, skills, and projects at the FCCLA State Leadership Conference which will be held March 24th – 26th in Athens, Georgia. HCHS is proud of the hard work, talent, and commitment of these students who advanced their leadership skills through competitive events. HCHS FCCLA wishes these students the best of luck as they advance to the next level in their competitions!

Work-Based Learning/Youth Apprenticeship Program

YAP Student's Success at GEICO

Warner Robins High School senior, Aliya Alcindor, is a first year Youth Apprenticeship Program (YAP) student in Sandi Couillard's Youth Apprenticeship Program. Aliya works for GEICO, which is a company who has been a great YAP business partner for years. A point of interest is that Aliya is one of only a few YAP students who were selected to work virtual (from home). The virtual work environment has worked well for her flexible schedule as a dual-enrollment student at Middle Georgia State University.

When asked to describe her GEICO experience, Aliyah wrote the following:

"Given the opportunity to work from home enabled me to build my time management skills by learning how to establish a disciplined approach to get tasks completed in a timely matter. As a driven individual, I have a strong desire to always produce my best work. One of the ways I have learned to do that in this role is by setting new challenges on a daily basis that stretch me and my ability to attain and exceed my goals. This job has also allowed me to work in an environment in which I always feel supported and motivated to do my very best. Despite the challenges of not working face to face, my supervisor is still able to create an environment in which I feel fully supported. I would highly recommend this program for any current and future students as an opportunity to build the professional skills needed to be successful in the working environment".

Aliya's supervisor, Susan Claxton, is very pleased with Aliya's work performance. When asked to describe her work, Mrs. Claxton wrote, "Aliya is an employee we want to stay with the company after graduation. She is here when she says she will be. She performs with accuracy and efficiency. Her file audits are good and her calls are performed as trained. Aliya is our top performer in the program."

Mrs. Couillard is also very pleased with Aliya's work. Mrs. Couillard wrote, "Aliya has been professional and responsible with taking care of required paperwork and assignments for YAP. She has worked nearly 500 hours since August, 2021, while also maintaining an almost perfect G.P.A. and being actively involved in extracurricular activities. Aliya has utilized her knowledge from the Law and Public Safety Pathway to help her with automotive claims and fraud prevention. She looks forward to pursuing her degree as a corporate lawyer and working for such a large corporation has helped solidify her future career goal."

NMS FCCLA and FFA Celebrates CTSO Week

Northside Middle School FCCLA and FFA celebrated Career and Technical Student Organizations (CTSO) Week during the week of February 14-18, 2022. Throughout the week, the two chapters collaborated to share the purpose and function of Career and Technical Student Organizations. During the week, students at Northside Middle School celebrated these organizations by dressing up for Spirit Days, hosting a teacher appreciation breakfast, conducting a community service project, participating in competitions, and lastly, having a fun chapter meeting.

The spirit days included Tie Dye Day, Crocs Day, Wacky Tacky Day, Hat/Chapter Tee Shirt Day, and Black History Month T-Shirt Day. Students raised over $100 for Jay's Hope. Jay's Hope is an organization to raise awareness and funds towards childhood cancer in the local community. For the chapter meeting, FCCLA and FFA members went to a local skating rink and got to go skating, play arcade games, and have a blast to wrap up the week.

Career and Technical Student Organizations are regarded as an integral part of Career and Technical Education. CTSOs play an important part in preparing young people to become productive citizens and to assume roles of leadership in their communities. These organizations provide a unique program of career and leadership development, motivation, and recognition for secondary and post-secondary students enrolled, or previously enrolled, in career and technical education programs.

Northside Middle School is located at 500 Johnson Road in Warner Robins, Georgia. Dr. Dustin Dykes serves as Principal and William Basby is the CTAE Supervisor. Adviser of the Northside Middle FFA Chapter is Christina Sanders and FCCLA Adviser is Laura Sewell.

PMS FBLA and FCCLA Celebrate Their Career Tech Student Organizations

March 7th through March 11th was FBLA/FCCLA Week at Perry Middle School. Dr. Diana Phillips, FBLA Adviser, and Holly Anderson, FCCLA Adviser, joined forces to unite these two CTAE organizations. Each day of the week, both chapters celebrated the special week by offering activities to the members and/or staff. Participants were served breakfast, encouraged to wear their chapter t-shirt, dressed for success, breakfast was served to the staff, and ended the week with a group social. It was quite a delectable smorgasbord. There was a special love for the cheese grits, three additional pots were cooked because of demand. Fun, food, and excitement was had by all.
