

The McKinney-Vento Act is a federal law that aims to address the problems of homelessness in America. It includes provisions for homeless children and youth to enroll in school and have the opportunity to succeed academically. The law requires every local educational agency to designate a liaison for homeless children and youth to coordinate services. The law was first enacted in 1987 and was recently included in the 2001 No Child Left Behind Act.

McKinney-Vento – National Center for Homeless Education

