
Library Media Curriculum

Information Literacy is a critical life-long skill. Specifically, it involves knowing when information is needed, finding appropriate information, evaluating the source, effectively using the information, and clearly communicating in a variety of formats.

Digital Citizenship is also a crucial life-long skill. It involves defining and understanding the norms of appropriate and responsible use of technology. Students are challenged to understand what is appropriate and acceptable in our digital, online world.

RHHS

Through high expectations and a challenging curriculum, all students at Rocky Hill High School will become responsible citizens who embrace learning as a lifelong process in an ever-changing world.
