Yan Cheuk: My son already have 2 AP class scheduled for his upcoming senior year, does that mean he already in this program?

00:23:33

Shanya: Can my daughter change her math?

00:23:38

OLETHIA.THOMAS: Your student's current schedule does not reflect the HASP course offerings.

00:23:5

James Brock:Replying to "my son already have ..."

No, he would need to apply specifically to this program.

00:23:51

Dr. Cassie Rape: Replying to "my son already have ..."

No, participants must apply.

00:24:05

Melissa Do: Can a student be in both the math and science programs in the same school year?

00:24:06

OLETHIA.THOMAS: Yes, Your student will be able to change to the courses being offered through HASP.

00:24:11

Dr. Cassie Rape: Replying to "can my daughter chan..."

Yes she can. if you feel this program is for her!

00:24:24

Dr. Cassie Rape: Replying to "Can a student be in ..."

ABSOLUTELY!

00:26:34

OLETHIA.THOMAS: Replying to "Are there points add..."
Yes, just as they are in your regular AP and Honors courses.

00:26:35

Paul Feltes: My child is going into his sophomore year of high school and he is also in the AFJROTC program. Between the current class load, AFJROTC, and then required foreign language classes he won't have the schedule availability as a sophomore to attend these classes. How can this be de-conflicted?

00:27:06

Dr. Cassie Rape: Replying to "My child is going in..."
The application has a space for you to mention the conflicts. If we can make it work for you, we absolutely will.

00:27:13

BM: Replying to "My child is going in..."
I am in same boat with my child

00:28:17

OLETHIA.THOMAS: Replying to "My child is going in..."
That's a great alternative.

00:28:52

Shanya: Replying to "can my daughter chan..."

She really want to take pre-calculus so she can take calculus. She adores math.

00:28:55

Pretty much. I will answer this when it is my turn to talk.

00:31:00

Dr. Cassie Rape: Replying to "My child is going in..."

If calculus is in his or her future anyway, it would be better to do HASP, to keep the algebra pathway from being broken. However, AP Stats can be taken at any time.

00:31:19

Marshall Honaker: On the application form, the time chunks are listed for Precalculus and Physics, but none for the Calculus course. Do we know what block Calculus would be offered at the HASP?

Tom Seward: Replying to "Will the students at..."
Yes, they usually get back within 5-10 minutes before dismissal at the school.

01:07:32

MT: If you get into this program, are you guaranteed the following years? For a rising 10th grader

01:07:36

Ben Simmons: We were able to select both

We selected algebra/pre-calc but it takes you to physics so should we just fill out N/A in those options and hit submit to get to the algebra/pre-calc option?

01:10:31

Nicole Page: If you have a question about AP Physics you can email nicole.page@hcbe.net.
