

Life Skills Middle & High School Syllabus
Core, Functional, and Transitional Classes and Goals

Jennifer Skender
Room 107 (High School Campus)
jenniferskender@frankstonisd.net
903-876-3219 ext 1309
7:40-4:45

Hello my name is Jennifer Skender and I am the Middle and High School Life Skills Teacher. This is my 15th year in education and I am excited to have your student in my class. I teach the core curriculum for middle school and high school students who are working on their prerequisite TEKS for ELA, math, science, and social studies. In addition, I also help them meet their functional and transitional goals in order for them to achieve their maximum potential for life after high school.

Our supply list is fairly short, because so much of our learning is hands-on, as well as, virtual. Since we do incorporate technology in our classroom, your student will need a good set of headphones.

Supply List:

Headphones

Glue sticks

2 large boxes of tissue

2 bottles of germ-ex

Refillable water bottle or cup with a lid

Please make sure the email you have provided in Skyward is up to date and is one that you check often. Starting this school year most of your special education correspondence will be sent to you via email.

IMPORTANT TEA UPDATE: Texas has issued a no cell phone policy for students. That includes any other type of technology used to communicate such as smart watches or apps & websites on computers or tablets used to communicate. Please review the student handbook for school guidelines regarding this new mandate.