KENNETH GARDNER LEADERSHIP ACADEMY EARNS SILVER HIGH-PERFORMING SCHOOL DISTINCTION ON SOUTH CAROLINA REPORT CARDS

Kenneth Gardner Leadership Academy has been recognized as a Silver High Performing School on the latest South Carolina Department of Education School Report Cards, a prestigious designation that highlights the school's strong academic performance and commitment to student success.

This recognition reflects the collective efforts of students, teachers, staff, and families who work diligently each day to foster a culture of excellence and continuous improvement. The Silver High Performing distinction is awarded to schools that demonstrate significant achievement in key academic areas, including student growth, academic proficiency, and overall school performance.

Under the leadership of Principal Keyanna Hampton, Kenneth Gardner Leadership Academy has focused on implementing high-quality instruction, data-driven decision-making, and a supportive learning environment that meets the needs of all learners.

"This recognition is a testament to the hard work and dedication of our entire school community," said Principal Hampton. "Our teachers and staff are committed to ensuring every student reaches their full potential, and we are proud to see those efforts reflected in this achievement."

The South Carolina School Report Cards provide an annual overview of school performance across the state, offering transparency and insight into how schools are progressing in preparing students for future success.

Kenneth Gardner Leadership Academy remains committed to building on this success by continuing to prioritize academic excellence, student engagement, and innovative instructional practices.
