TK and Kindergarten

Mrs. Tinnin

This week, kindergarten students are reviewing letter sounds. Students should know the sounds for a, c, d, f, g, h, i, m, n, o, p, s, t, v, e, and z. They are using these sounds to blend and read CVC (consonant-vowel-consonant) words. As an introduction to reading sentences, students are also practicing reading short phrases.

In math, we introduced the foundations of addition with numbers through 10. Students are learning about number bonds, which help them understand how two parts can be combined to make a whole.

TK students have started their new Animals module! Throughout this unit, they will explore animals' basic needs, how animals protect themselves, and how some animals are born from eggs.

In math, beginning next week, students will learn to identify and describe shapes and their attributes.

First and Second Grade Explorers

Mrs. Mittge

THANK YOU, veterans, for your service and protection!

Scripts for our Christmas play "The Great Christmas Tree Surprise" will be placed in students' Boomerang Folders on Monday. Students were each given one line. Please practice this line with expression and voice projection at home. Please also practice when your child should begin his/her line without prompting.

We will be practicing at school but students also need to be rehearsing at home. Parents, please read the whole play aloud to your child from start to finish so s/he can hear the plot of the play and become familiar with when to deliver his/her line. When you reach your child's part s/he should practice reading the line(s) with expression and in an assertive tone.

We will be organizing costumes for all students at school unless families would like to put together attire for their own children. If you would like to provide your child's costume, please let me know as soon as possible. I will reach out if there are any things that families can do to help. Cardboard boxes are always helpful this time of year.

If you have any ideas or contributions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Thank you for your support!

Third and Fourth Grade Classroom

Mrs. Mars

Students had fun this week learning about the Navajo Code Talkers and the role they played in World War II. We then created a class code of our own and practiced spelling out words to see just how confusing and hard it would have been to memorize the code and speak using it.

In math, both grades worked to solidify their knowledge of division this week. 3rd graders should now be able to solve all division including a 1 or 2-digit dividend using pictures and their knowledge of fact families. 4th graders learned two methods of long division: the traditional method that works vertically and a box method that works nearly the same but in a horizontal direction.

Fifth and Sixth Grade Classroom

Mr. Burlingame

This week, our 5th and 6th graders had the opportunity to attend Boistfort's Veterans Day Assembly. It was a meaningful chance for students to reflect on the service and sacrifices made by veterans and to show their appreciation for those who have served our country. We are grateful to Boistfort for including us in such a thoughtful and respectful program.

We have also continued rehearsing for our Christmas play, The Trial of Santa Claus. Students are working hard on their lines, characters, and stage movement as we begin putting the whole production together. For costumes, students will only need "professional attire," so families do not need to worry about finding elaborate or specialized costumes.

Next week, Civil Air Patrol cadets will return for another ACE+ visit. This time, students will be learning about hydraulics and will have another opportunity to explore STEM concepts through a hands-on activity. We are excited to continue building on our partnership with CAP and giving students new ways to learn through real-world science and engineering experiences.
