Grace Etheredge

She has "graced" the halls of Central for fourteen years, always ready with her quick wit, infectious smile, and caring hand. Cheerfully giving of her wisdom, energy and time, she has endeared herself irrevocably to students and faculty alike. Although she will no longer be teaching here, her touch will remain behind. We wish her well-earned happiness as she leaves Central to begin the next phase of her life.

Mr. Central High School

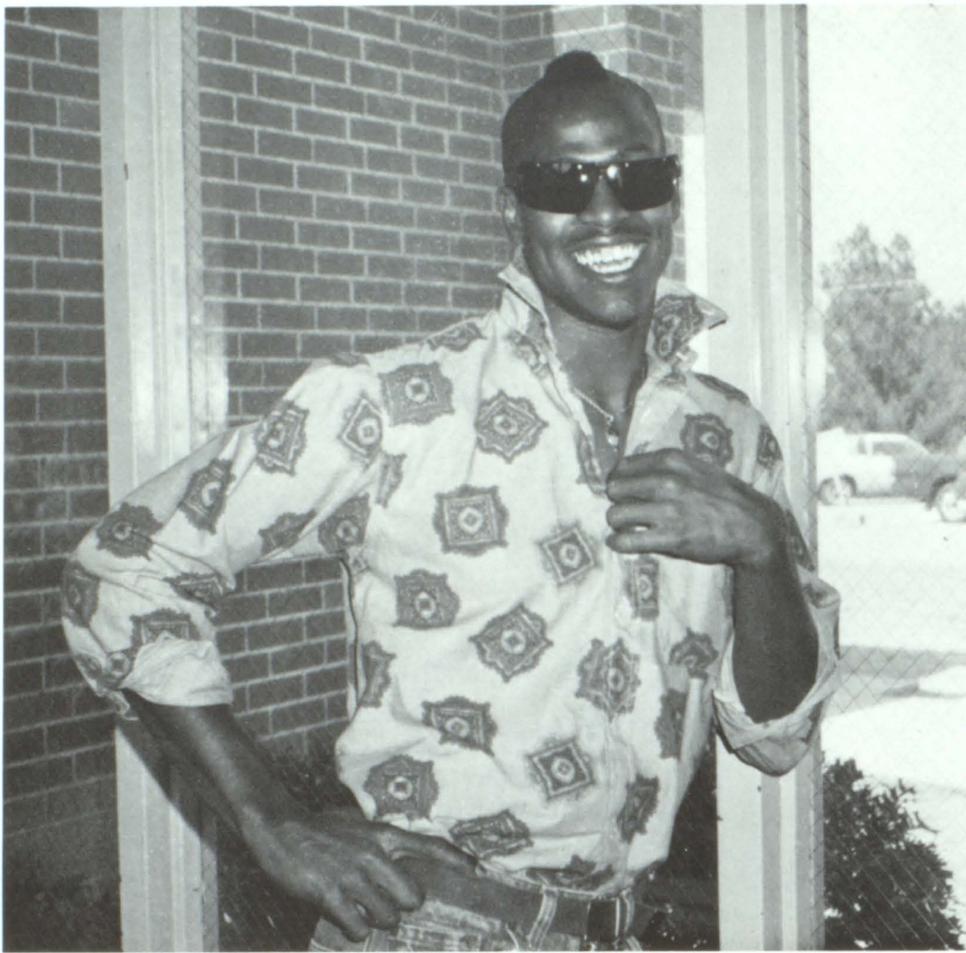

Dennis Wallace

"... and Mr. C.H.S. is Dennis Wallace ..." An announcement made over a high school P.A. system. Can this honor compare to all those others given by sports writers and coaches from all over the state as well as the nation? Can this compare to the awards, plaques and trophies presented to one of the most gifted athletes Central High School has ever produced? Not only can it compare, it is probably the most important recognition of Dennis' high school career. Being elected Mr. C.H.S. means that Dennis has earned the respect and admiration of friends who have known him for five years in high school. They know Dennis is a great sportsman, having played football, basketball and baseball for all of his five years at Central. They know about all the awards presented and honors bestowed, such as being named to the All-State Football and Basketball teams, being one of the most highly recruited players in the state, and signing a full athletic scholarship to Auburn University. But more importantly, they know Dennis as a friend and classmate who they have chosen as their representative of the best qualities and accomplishments in the Senior Class of 1986. Being Mr. C.H.S. doesn't bring money fame or fortune, but it means something much more — friendship.

Lynne Mabry, 1985 Homecoming Queen, has had a varied and active high school career at Central. Lynne participated in the band for two years and served as a Varsity cheerleader for three years. Lynne has been in the Beta Club all four years serving as secretary of Junior Beta and Vice-President of Senior Beta. Lynne has also been a member of Fellowship of Christian Athletes serving as secretary this year. She has also been involved in class offices serving as Freshman Class President, Sophomore Class Vice-President, Junior Class President and a Senior homeroom representative. Lynne is planning to attend the University of Georgia.

Patrick Denney, Science Club President, has been involved at Central his entire high school career. Patrick played football all 4 years of high school serving as Captain, and receiving Most Valuable Lineman his senior year. Patrick also played baseball all 4 years at Central serving as Captain his senior year. He received the Most Valuable Player Award in ninth grade and the Most Improved in 10th grade. Patrick has taken weightlifting all 4 years of high school and is a member of the 325 pound club. Besides being involved in athletics Patrick was a member of several clubs: Junior Beta in ninth grade and a member of Key Club for 3 years. Patrick was a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes for two years serving as treasurer his senior year.

Jeff Ackey has made his mark at Central High School. The phrase "Ack-Dog" will remain at C.H.S. long after Jeff has graduated-just check the senior lockers. Besides being a trend setter Jeff also contributed to the success of the 1985 Central Fighting Lions as an outstanding defensive end and one of the team captains. Jeff completed his course work in January and began a career with Lowe's of Carrollton. Jeff rejoined his friends in May and graduated with the class of 1986 as one of its most colorful members.

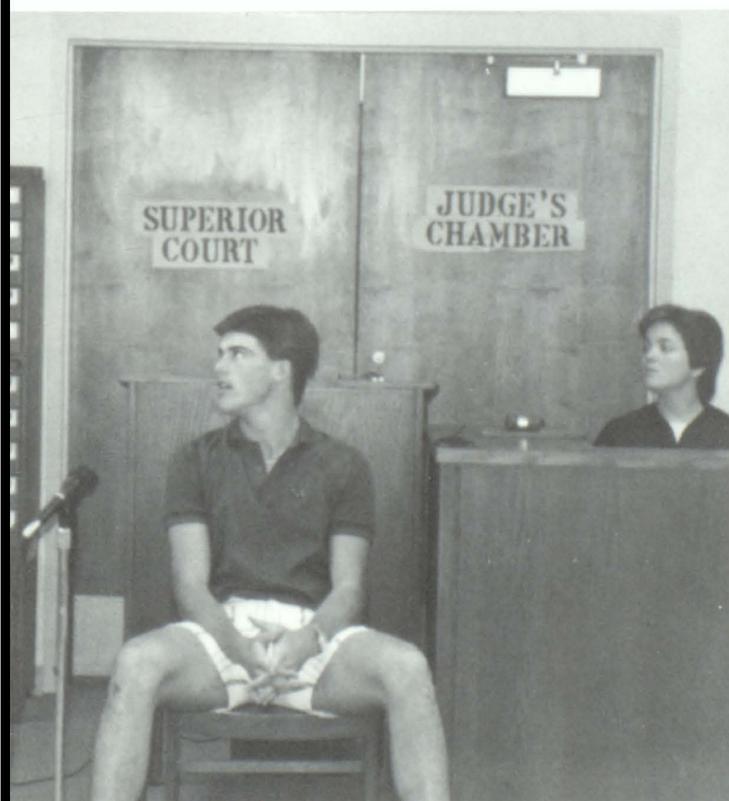

Sharon Gibbs was selected as an Outstanding Senior because of her involvement at C.H.S. Sharon played on the Varsity Basketball team for three years and played two years on the J. V. team. She was chosen Most Valuable Player during her tenth grade year. She was on the Varsity Softball team for 3 years, and Varsity Track for 1 year. She was chosen in the 1985 and 1986 editions of Who's Who. She was on the Student Council her senior year. She was chosen to be secretary of her class her sophomore year. She was also active in many clubs while at C.H.S. Sharon was a member of the Key Club for three years. She was also a member of Junior and Senior Beta. During her senior year she was also a member of Co-ed Y and the Future Business Leaders of America.

“The Central Thirteen”

There's truth in these lines or so I have heard These events did take place on May 23. The night was young, I give you a hint . . . Up toward the school through the woods they went. Everyone was sneaking down the long black hall When Lou Lou screamed, "Oh no, there's the law!" Arms were wild, feet were a flying Jim Martin whispered, "I hope you're a lying." All at once everybody scattered Straightened up fast and knew what really mattered. To the field house, woods and closet they fled. Best running they ever did — Simp Dog said. For an hour and a half, maybe more, Sweat oozed from each and every pore. In the dark of the closet, the kids were a praying While the roaches scurried and the mice were a playing. Lights were a shinning — door knobs rattling each was afraid of more than a paddling. As Tim jumped the creek he hurt his knee, Rita inside said, "I've got to p—— —!" Mrs. Tread was a pleading and making cops mad, While kids were saying, "Oh Wow, We're Bad!" Two by two came the kids home crawling, Some of them fussing — some of them squaling. Some made it back, but — Where were the others??? "Where are our kids?" said the irate mothers. They were supposed to be home a long time ago . . . Now listen listen to what happened — cause I know this is so. The cops were mad cause of all their trouble, The gang was sad — Cops had busted their bubble. There is a moral to this story as you can guess, But I'll stop here and not tell you the rest. It really did happen at good ole C. H. S. Jim and Rita — what about those Desks???

To a Great Bunch, Melba Wilkins Lou Treadaway

The Young Lions
Lean, strong bodies,
Tense in anticipation —
of the sound of the gun
of the quick sprint out for position
of the settling down into pace
of the long, fast race ahead.

This is it.
This is the moment they have —
trained for,
sworn for,
suffered for,
lived for.

Like their namesakes —
they are fierce
they are unyielding
they run like lions.

But all too soon
the race is over.
All too soon
the cheering dies.
And all that's left are — a few trophies
a few medals
a few dreams, some
a few dreams unfilled.

But there is the price
of races run
of victories
of giving all the had
of having been a part of it.

Their moment is
just a moment
of the memory
of the young lions.
