From Curriculum and Instruction: (Ms. Pallan)

Beginning in February, English Learner students at Santa Maria High School will begin ELPAC testing to determine their level of English Language Proficiency. Our school has close to 650 EL (English Learner) students that range from Newcomer to Long-Term English Learners that will examine their speaking, writing, reading, and listening skills in Academic English.

This year the test includes both Science and Social Science based questions to better represent the language demands our English Learners encounter throughout the day. Let's give all our EL students some encouragement as they begin this examination process!

From Student Services: (Mr. Diaz)

Students are currently being transferred to E3 REACH; Parent meetings must be conducted first, then the student can move to an alternative school setting.

From Special Programs: (Mr. Vincent)

The Santa Maria High School Athletic Hall of Fame committee held its first meeting this week charting a path towards the induction of its inaugural class in the Fall 2023. Current and former staff members plus alumni are active on the committee including Ralph Baldiviez, Gaylen Clark, John "Rod" Rodriguez, Adrian Salazar and former major league pitcher Bryn Smith. The adoption of by-laws and a timeline towards the recognition of the first class of inductees was included in the discussion. The committee looks forward to the long overdue recognition of Santa Maria High School's finest athletes spanning the first 125 years of Saints athletics.

From the Principal: (Steve Campbell)

I just wanted to briefly remind everyone that next Monday's collab time is one of the five per year dedicated to administration. We will all meet in the cafeteria at 3:05pm to work with the Orenda team. Remember Orenda is a team of outside consultants contracted to help our district's schools explore ways to improve themselves. During Monday's data reveal they will review demographics, test data, graduation and A-G rates, and end with some recommendations for areas to focus. I look forward to hearing what they have to say and welcome the input. Have a great weekend everyone!!

(Steve Campbell, Principal SMHS)
