LATEAU

Cumberland County High School

Crossville, Tennessee

Foreword

Once upon a time, high on a great plateau there stood a mighty school. It had a firm foundation, a beautiful locality, honorable teachers, and bright, energetic students. From daylight till three in the afternoon students pondered in the classrooms, congregated in the halls, or strolled the campus . . .

As we go from the place that is so important to us, and this magical year of our graduation fades into the black and white glooms and mists of "Once upon a time," the colors of memory will flash and play upon our school days at Cumberland County High School, illuminating the bits and pieces.

To help us recall them and keep them bright in the flashing mosaic of memory will be today's Plateau, bringing into the limelight today's teachers, clubs, classes, features, sports, and treasured experiences.

Dedication

Mr. Gene Barnard, a graduate of Tennessee Tech, has been teaching music at Cumberland County High School for at least six years. During this time, Mr. Barnard has carried on a crusade to keep classical music, as well as pop tunes, alive for the student body.

Besides directing the CCHS marching and concert bands, Mr. Barnard works with elementary bands, and during the summer directs the music for the Cumberland County Playhouse.

As a senior in Rockwood High School, Mr. Barnard was a member of All-State band, but music was not his only interest. He was a first-string football player, and a member of the basketball team.

Today he sometimes gets away from the sharps and the flats of life by getting out into the naturals of the great outdoors. To this Music Man of many talents and varied interests, we give our heartfelt thanks, and dedicate to him our 1966 PLATEAU.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

Adults who listen to our problems and advise us accordingly; adults who teach us and learn from us; adults who praise and reprimand us; adults who plant the seeds of knowledge and weed out corruption—These are the teachers one can always find in every area of our school.

Charles Tollett

Superintendent of Cumberland County Schools

Dear Students,

As another year at Cumberland County High School draws to a close, each of you has reached another milestone in achievement and maturity. It is my desire to congratulate you and those who love you for your accomplishment to this point and to dare you to accept the challenge of greater levels of attainment. It is natural and desirable to take inventory at such a time as this. As you review the past years and look ahead to plan your future, may you make those plans and take those steps which will lead you to a full and rewarding life. Please allow me to share with you a few of the convictions which have become a part of my philosophy of life.

1. There is no easy road to success; the oft-sought something-for-nothing is a fantasy.
2. A thirst for knowledge can lead to springs of satisfaction.
3. Love is the basic ingredient of a rich life.
4. Work is a blessing rather than a burden.
5. A sense of humor can smooth life's bumpiest roads.
6. Life is a mirror which reflects the image it beholds.
7. An abiding faith in God, in fellow man, in self—pays high dividends.

The generation before you has great faith in you, for it has left you the problems which it could not solve. These problems could not have been left in more competent hands. May God richly bless your efforts as you utilize your tremendous talents to build a better tomorrow for yourselves, for Cumberland County, for America, and for the world.

Sincerely,

Charles Tollett

A Message from Thomas E. Potts Principal of Cumberland County High School

Dear Students,

I sincerely hope that Cumberland County High School has lived up to the expectations of every ambitious student within its walls of knowledge.

It was intended to develop a faith in the fundamental processes of democracy and appreciation of the American heritage of rights, privileges, and responsibilities, with a commitment of intelligent effort for the preservation and perfection of our democratic way of life.

Education must assume a direct responsibility for helping us make wise decisions consistent with our democratic beliefs.

Respectfully yours,

Thomas E. Potts

Thomas E. Potts

Mr. Potts, our busy one-man-principal-and-vice-principal, always finds time to announce class dances, ball-games, and special meetings for us.

Mr. Potts and Mrs. Caruthers carefully check each day's absentee list and determine which absences are caused by legitimate excuses and which, if any, are clear cases of truancy in modern guise.

ENGLISH TEACHES BASIC SKILLS

Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays are the days for regular English classes at our school. On these days teachers instruct pupils in grammar, composition, and literature. On these days they give tests, hear book reports, improve reading habits, correct spelling and punctuation, show movies, filmstrips, or slides. On these days they arrange panels, listen to discussions, and try to impress on the students the importance of correct writing and speaking, the importance of listening, and the tremendous satisfaction of being a truly literate person, a genuinely articulate person.

THE ENGLISH DEPARTMENT REACHES NEW HORIZONS

Reading, writing, spelling, and punctuation are still a basic part of education, but our English department felt that something vital was missing. Hence, they set up the Friday Humanities classes in an effort to introduce all of our students to some great cultural area. Every Friday the regular English work is laid aside, and students from all classes attend a special session where they are exposed to the majestic cultural influence of art, music, poetry, oratory, discussion, creative writing, or comparative religion. Through these classes our students will be able to profit more from the cultural experiences of the future. They will live richer, fuller lives because of the contacts made in the Humanities program.

Mr. Paul Crabtree

CREATIVE WRITING

Mr. Paul Crabtree's creative writing class emphasizes the importance of imagination, the factor that leads to creativity. Without it there can be no progress. Whatever these students may do in life, the values they learn here will be of benefit.

Mr. Joseph Hodges

ARTS AND CRAFTS

Although Mr. Joe Hodges' arts and crafts class had just put away their materials when the camera caught them, they are almost always elbow-deep in paint, glue, construction paper and wood chips. They have done block printing, mask making, painting, and are working closely with the Cumberland Co. Playhouse.

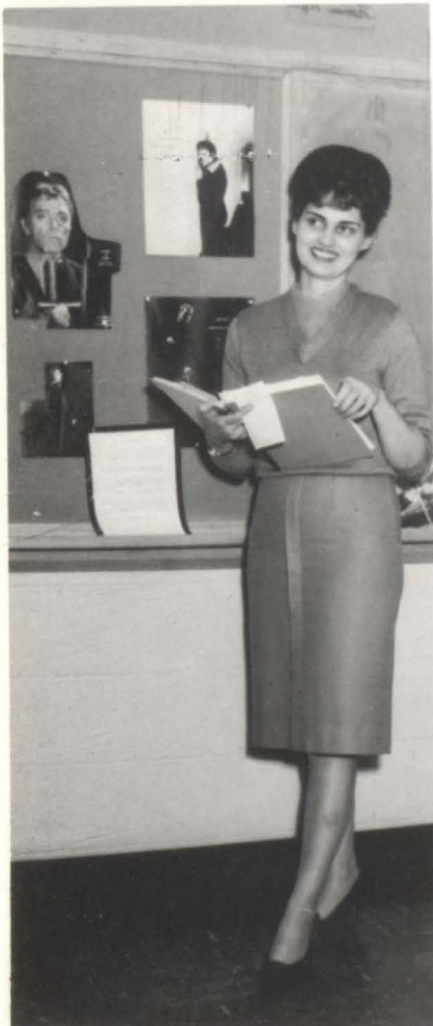

ART APPRECIATION

"One picture is worth a thousand words," says an old Chinese proverb. Vaughn Honeycutt, Linda Norris, Gary Brewer, James Hassler, Mike Gaynor, Jeff Goodwin, and Arlie Hood look on as Miss Wilson brings to life some of the great paintings from the world's famous art museums. Filmstrips, slides, opaque projector, and prints of the masterpieces are used in the course. Each student is expected to make his own art collection of inexpensive prints or reproductions from other sources.

Miss Bertha Wilson

Mrs. Sallie Lanquist

MUSIC APPRECIATION

Mrs. Lanquist helps her students to realize that great music is something to be enjoyed, not scorned, as she sets the record player to work to reproduce some of the music that will live long after the "Top Ten" are forgotten. Ronnie Cook, Robert Dillie, and Judy Farmer prepare to lead the class in singing along with the record.

FOLKLORE AND MYTHOLOGY

Some of Miss Watt's students try to take notes while others just sit and enjoy the ancient Greek and Roman myths. The English Department feels that this is an interesting part of a well-rounded education.

Miss Carol Watts

Mr. Arlon Way

COMPARATIVE RELIGION

Mr. Way is showing his religion class a film to give the class a better understanding of the world's religions. This course covers all religions of the world, their philosophy and background.

Mrs. Eileen Sims

SPEECH

Charles Russel has the floor, Marc Sims wants the floor, and Frank Bohannon tries to decide who should be allowed to speak. Mrs. Sims and the rest of the group look on. This class teaches good public speaking habits and principles.

Mrs. Lou Crowder

DEBATE

Mrs. Crowder teaches her class the fundamentals of debate by letting them all actively participate. Team captains shown here are Glenda Kearley and Jimmy Hill.

Mrs. Hazel Parrott

POETRY APPRECIATION

Katherine Jones gives the poetry interpretation that she plans for the district contest. Mrs. Parrott's Poetry Appreciation class has as its primary objective the enjoyment and better understanding of poetry for all its members.

COMBINED MUSIC AND ART APPRECIATION

Miss Black's classes are recognized as one of the outstanding cultural influences of our school. Her class in music and art appreciation gives her students an opportunity to enjoy the great masterpieces of both fields.

Mr. PAUL STRUNK teaches a class in public speaking which is not pictured here. The course is designed to aid students in preparing for those occasions which come to all when it is necessary to address an audience, as one must in civic organizations, and other public gatherings.

Alvin Ervin, Paula Bingham, Joel Richards, Orion Miller and Randy Marlow are enjoying using the language laboratory.

Dr. Blanca Q. Paz, Ph.D.
Spanish I, II

LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

Miss Corinne Black, B.S.
French I, II, English 303
Latin I, II

Rose Woody, Roberta Weaver, Becky Smiddie, and George Dooley know that Miss Black's Latin and French classes will be a good foundation for other languages.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Mrs. Alice Smith, B.A.
Typing I, Bookkeeping

Instructions are very important to a typing class. Here Mrs. Smith and her class listen as the student teacher explains the day's lesson. Soon the covers will come off the typewriters and the room will be full of busy noise.

Miss Barbara Taber, B.S.
Typing I, Shorthand

Tab problems are long and tedious ordeals, but with Miss Taber's assistance they can be done—and done well.

Mrs. Sarah Suttle, B.A.
Typing I, Typing II
General Office Practices

Mrs. Suttle's class is engrossed in one of their many five minute timed writings. Rapid and correct typing are very important to those students who will go on into business training.

HOME ECONOMICS

Mrs. Gluff's girls are learning to sew neatly and correctly. Many of these girls will soon find that their homemade articles fit much better than store-bought ones.

Mrs. Edna Gluff, B.S., M.A.
Home Economics

Color combination is very important to the stylish student. Miss Cummins reads from the class activity sheet as her students match colors on the class manikin.

Miss Celia Cummins, B.S., M.A.
Home Economics I

Miss Coates instructs Kay Hamby in the art of knitting. Today sweaters are expensive, and Miss Coates' students are sure to find that knitting is a handy art and a useful one.

Miss Elizabeth Coates, B.S.
Home Economics II

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION

Mr. Burton Ingram and Delane Sidwell exhibit an issue of the Crossville Chronicle which shows every member of the Distributive Education class and publicizes what the class is doing. Many of these young people are receiving on-the-job training that will lead to life-time careers, or serve as stepping stones to lead them to other goals.

Mr. Burton Ingram, B.S., M.S.
Biology I, II,
Distributive Education

The Distributive Education class operates the school store. The store sells school supplies, but does not deal in candy, nuts, and soft drinks, or any product detrimental to the lunch program.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

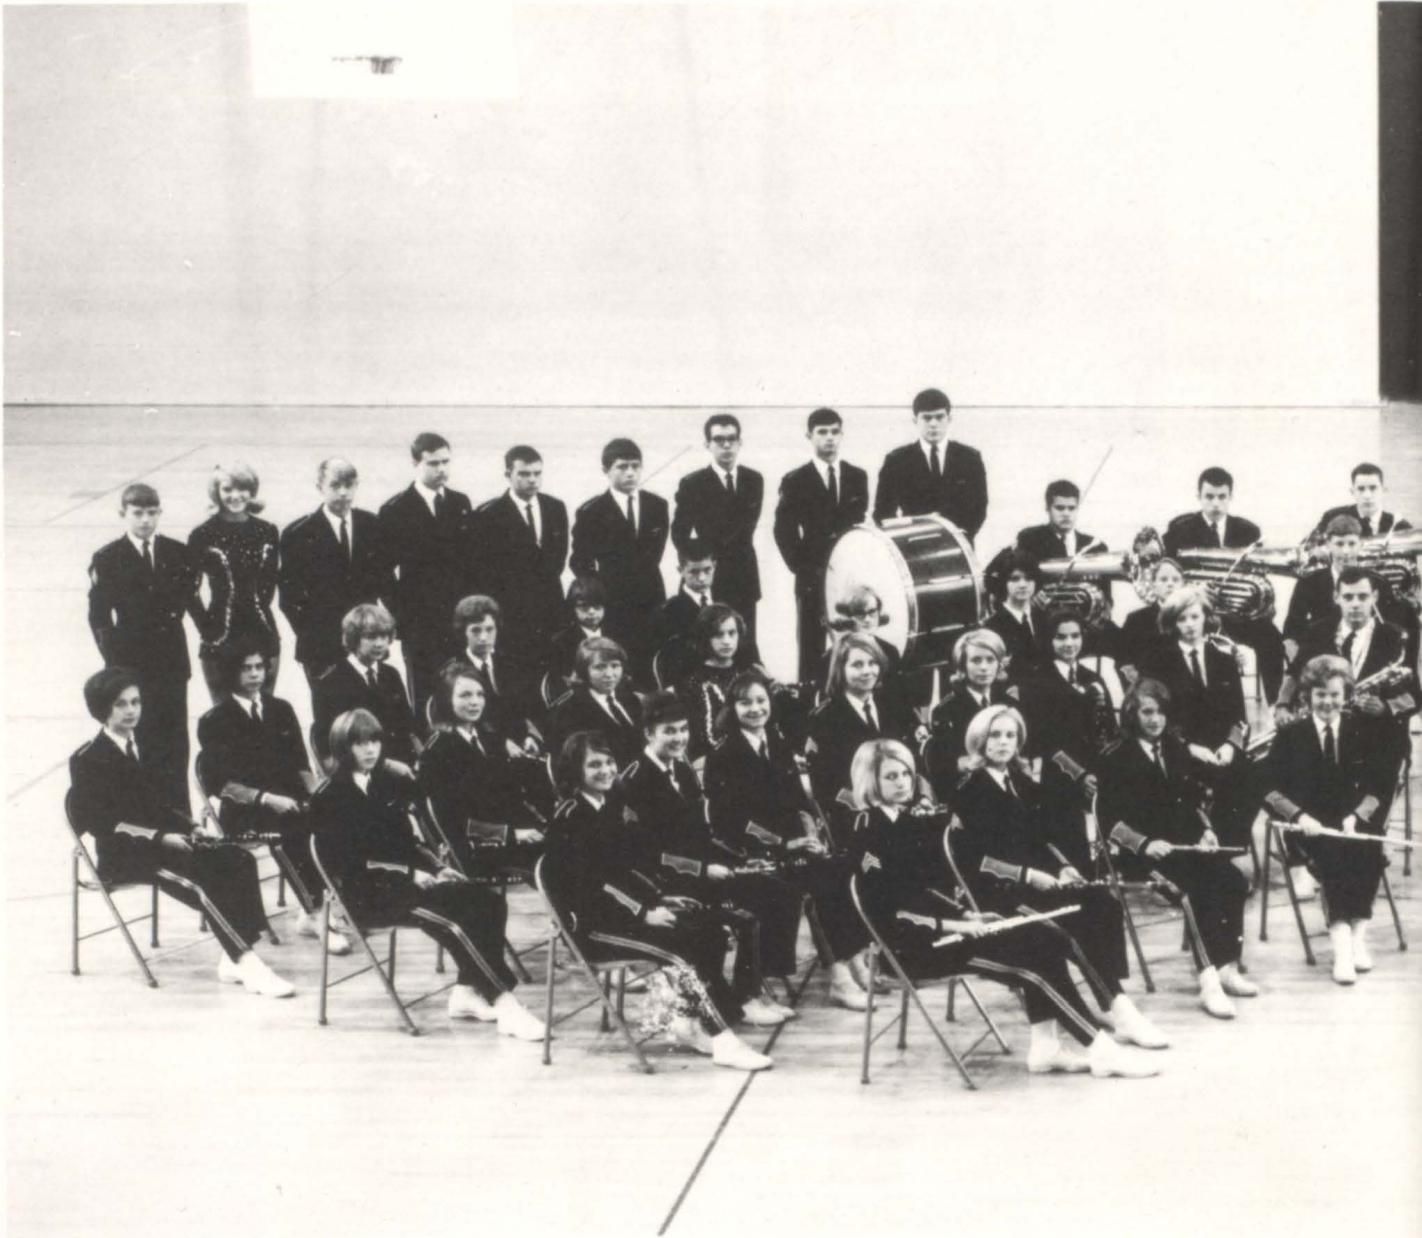

What is Homecoming without a high school band to parade down the street in their colorful uniforms? To give the Homecoming game a little added publicity, the band marches down Stanley Street and returns by way of School Street. They are led by Drum Major Jimmy Shaffer and Nancy Davis, Band Queen. The student body forms a colorful part of the parade.

Again at the close of a successful football season, the band leads the student body through the town, headed by David Brandon and Nancy Davis.

SOUTHEASTERN BAND FESTIVAL

The band marches down the streets of Bristol, Tennessee-Virginia. This is the beginning of a long day, terminating in the judging at night. The young musicians have worked toward the contest for many weeks; but between the parade, and the judging, they will have a little rest, a lot of hope, and a great deal of excitement.

MAJORETTES

Poised and smiling, the majorettes exhibit their charms, their skills, and their dazzling new uniforms. Rain or cold, the girls are on hand to make their contribution to the band show. They are Sherri Ingram, Donna Simonton, Linda Wheeler, and Kathy Marlow.

BAND SWEETHEART AND DRUM MAJORS
Nancy Davis was the choice of the band for the title of Band Sweetheart. Nancy stands between Drum Majors David Brandon and James Shaffer, who alternated in leading the band at ball games. The girl chosen for this honor must have personality, charm, kindness, courtesy, and the qualities of wholesomeness that appeal to the band.

Mr. Holladay's unique approach to Biology I is making such people as Ken Cox, Ron Winningham, C. W. Pemberton III, and Alva Russel consider going deeper into the study of science.

Mr. Frank Holladay, B.S.
Biology I, Health

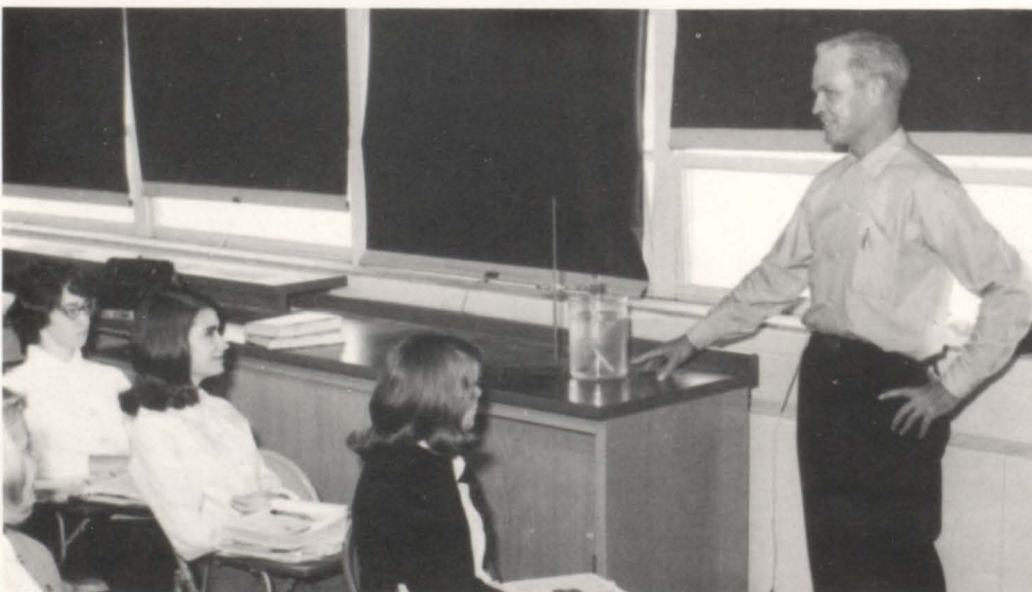

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

Mr. Artis Winningham, B.S.
Mathematics, Physics,
Electronics Mathematics

Mr. James Bell's Biology class is making a study of photosynthesis. Mr. Bell's students are well prepared for advanced biology. Aarona Marlow, Linda Monk, Dorine Hawn, and Emily

Mr. James Bell, B.S.
Biology I

Mrs. Imogene Haston, B.S.
Chemistry, General Science

Judy Smith and Charles Russel wonder if the chemical apparatus is really going to work. But of course it will, if they have followed Mrs. Haston's directions.

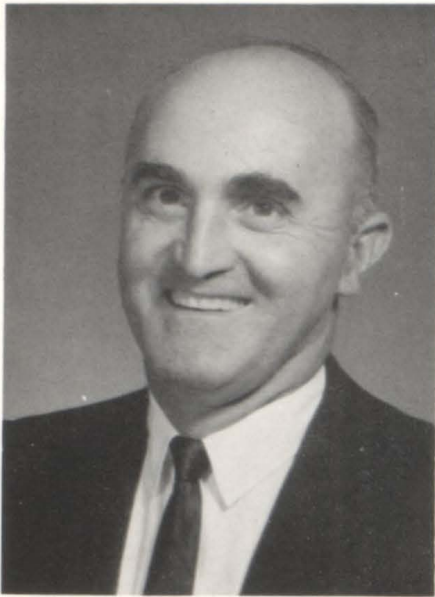

Another of the interesting places is the physics classroom. Joann Cole, David Duvall, Ralph Bilbrey, David Brandon, and Rose Woody try out a piece of new equipment Mr. Winningham has brought in.

Miss Drucilla Qualls, B.S.
General Science

Balanced aquarium or board drawing—which? Miss Qualls explains the mysteries of the deep, dark sea to general science pupils gathered about her.

Mr. Elmer Atkinson, B.S.
Geometry, Algebra II,
Advanced Mathematics

Mathematics courses are not what they used to be, with all the new equipment in the department today. Even test papers can now be gone over with smiling faces. Doris Wood, Fred Smith, Jim Shaffer, Barbara Poore, David Brandon, Wayne Patton, Susan Mayberry, Ted Kloss, and Philip Rodgers seem pleased.

MATHEMATICS

Mr. Robert Wilson, B.S.
General Mathematics,
Mechanical Drawing

Mr. Robert Wilson keeps his Mathematics class occupied with some of the knotty problems of arithmetic, and helps them to understand WHY the answer comes out as it does.

Mrs. Euphemia Hieronymus, B.S.
Algebra I, Algebra II

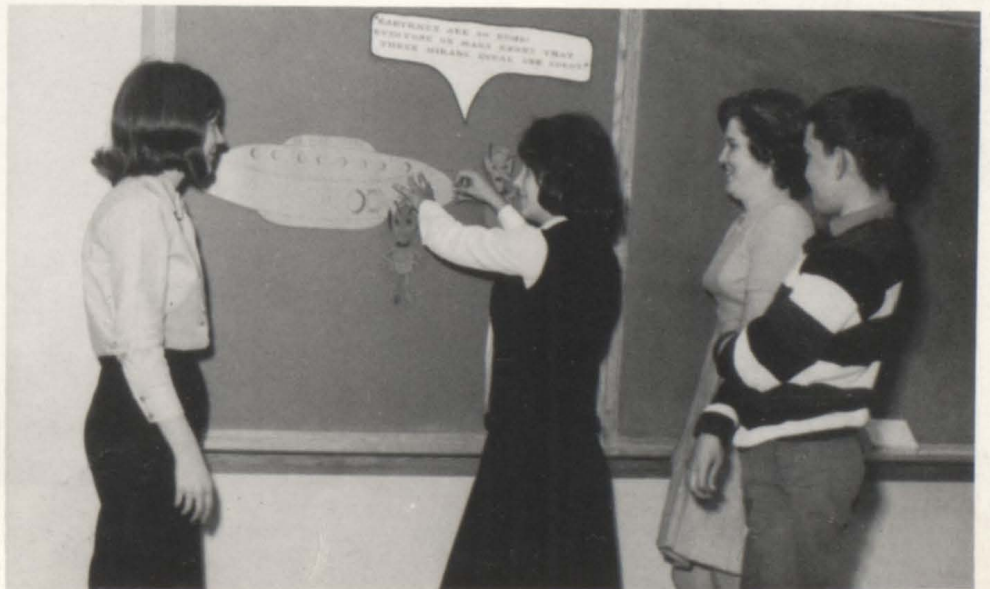

Mrs. Hieronymus adjusts the giant slide rule above her board. This is only one of the fine precision instruments now available to our mathematics students. Mrs. Hieronymus soon convinces her classes of the importance of algebra in their daily lives.

DEPARTMENT

Mrs. Velma Buck, B.S.
Algebra I and
General Mathematics

Mrs. Buck's vivid imagination has made her classes ornamental as well as useful. Her students are arranging a bulletin board on "Martian Math or Man's Dumbness?" The colorful new rooms occupied by these classes add to the students' enjoyment of their work.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Mr. Woodrow Wilson, A.B., A.M.
Comparative Government,
American History,
Economics

Mr. Wilson's American History class usually participates in the Student Teaching Program. Don Quarels worked with Mr. Wilson during the fall quarter. Wilma Gaynor, Joanne Vaughn, and Beth French are on the front row ready to take notes.

Mr. Elmer Choate, B.S., M.S.
American History,
Civics,
Modern History

Mr. Ross Maynard, B.S.
Geography,
World History

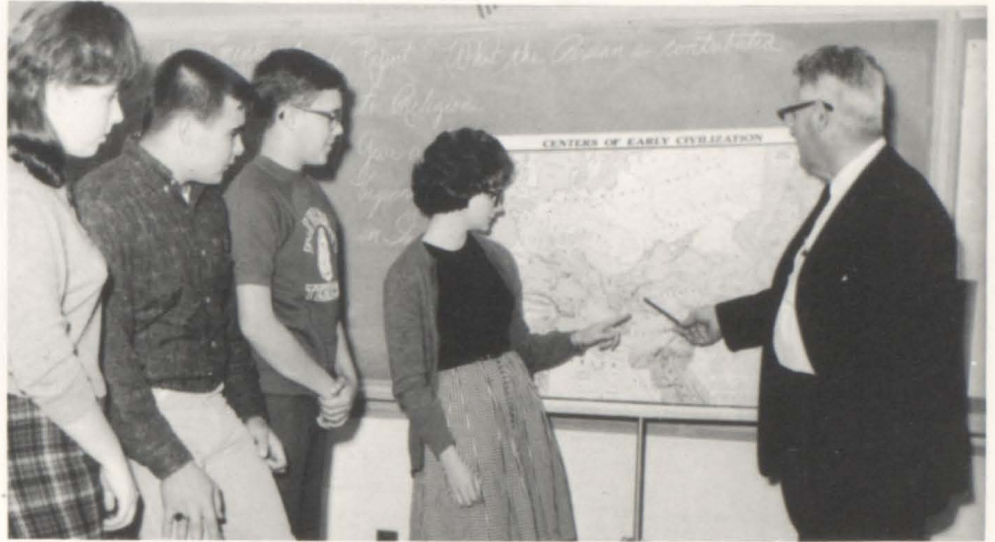

Mr. Maynard's class studies the effect of wind currents on weather as a part of their world geography course.

Mr. Paul Strunk, B.S.
Ancient History, Civics,
English 101

Mr. Strunk endeavors to teach his classes that history repeats itself. The student who knows what happened in the days when the Roman slogan was "Corn for nothing and games forever," will be better able to understand today's headlines and to handle today's problems.

Likewise, the student of modern history will soon see that people do not change much with the passing years. As David Kerley reads, and Mr. Choate interprets, the student is able to see the probable outcome of the trends in today's world.

"Why study American history? We must, if we are to understand the America in which we live, and where we are going," Mrs. Anderson tells her class.

Mrs. Faye Anderson, B.S., M.S.
American History, Civics

VOCATIONAL

Mr. Claude Little teaches his Vocational Agriculture boys what to look for in judging livestock. With Mr. Little are some of the champion livestock judges of our area.

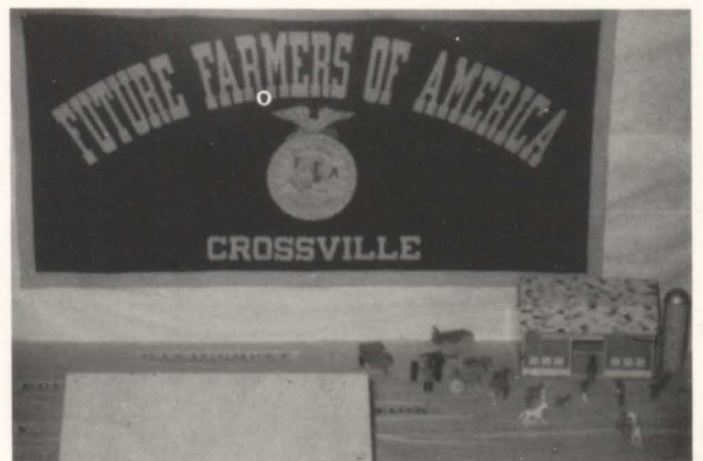

Mr. Claude Little, B.S., M.S.
Vocational Agriculture

Mr. W. J. Smith, B.S., M.S.
Vocational Agriculture

As part of their training the Freshmen must learn the meaning of agricultural paraphernalia.

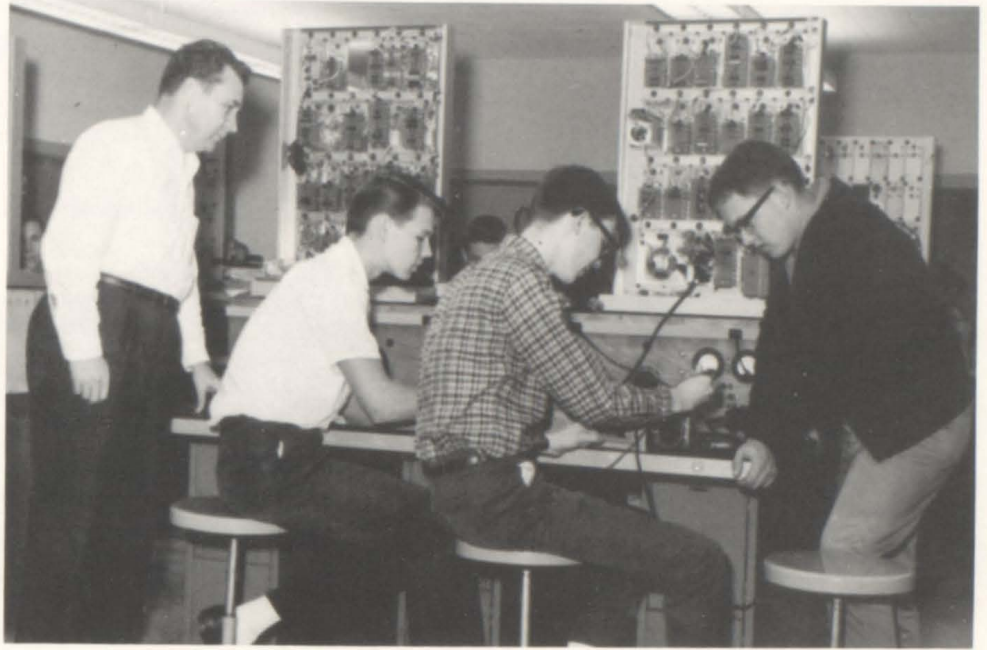

They must also learn to think of the farm as a training center for the would-be farmer.

CLASSES

Mr. Fred Ingram, B.S., M.S.
Electronics

In one of the best equipped high school electronics laboratories in the state, Mr. Fred Ingram prepares his students to go into industry. Ed Caruthers, Mack Johnson, and Bill Workman apply the principles they have learned.

Mr. J. C. Elmore
General Building Trades

One of the most useful career courses taught in our school is the General Building Trades course, which is not pictured here.

Mr. Robert Wilson, B.S.
General Mathematics,
Mechanical Drawing

In mechanical drawing the boys learn another useful course leading to a career. The boys also learn to be neat, careful, and accurate in their work. Don Hall, Ted Kloss, and Richard Campbell are pictured with Mr. Wilson, who is himself a graduate of Cumberland County High School.

HEALTH AND

Coach Wm. Thompson, B.S.
Girls' Basketball,
"B" Team Football,
Health

The value of a healthy body cannot be overestimated, and Coach Thompson means to do his part toward making his classes health-conscious. "There is not much need to talk about national defense unless we begin defending our nation by being a race of strong, vigorous, healthy people," believes Coach.

Miss Whittenburg's class demonstrates that physical education can be fun when Myrtle Brown, Donna Simonton, Sandra Jones, Kathy Marlow, and Barbara Strachn participate in a lively wheelbarrow race.

Coach L. A. Fox, B.S.
Head Football Coach,
Boys' Physical Education

The side-straddle hop, which Mr. Fox is directing, is one of the many muscle coordinator and body-building exercises students learn in our physical education courses, which are required of all able bodied students.

LIBRARY

Libraries are for browsing and getting acquainted with good books.

Libraries are for reference, reading, and research.

Libraries are for looking up information, and for checking out books for home reading.

Mrs. Ruth Looney, B.S., M.S. in Library Science

Mrs. Looney makes every effort to keep the library open and available overtime to the students who have no study hall period, as well as for the students whose lighter schedules make it easy for them to use the many facilities provided for them.

GUIDANCE

Mrs. Pheribol Hughes and Mrs. Attie Norris have had a tremendous job preparing the new IBM type of report cards that were introduced this year. Besides this, there are daily conferences, transcripts, letters of recommendation, answers to inquiries, scheduling problems, and arranging special interviews for anyone who needs special help.

Helping Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Norris in the Guidance office is Mrs. Mayme Loveday. She is interviewing Etta Mae Wood about a pass, though passes are now handled through the Principal's office, leaving the guidance people free for their other duties.

MAINTENANCE

Mr. Benton Jernigan has almost a two-man job operating the giant vacuum cleaner.

The maintenance department of any organization is often unjustly criticized, and is seldom given the credit it deserves. The men and women who keep our school clean and in working condition must often feel that theirs is a hopeless, as well as a thankless, job. They work silently behind the scenes, asking very little of the twelve or thirteen hundred students and teachers who tramp these halls. Mr. Jernigan is assisted by Mrs. Gertrude Turner, Mr. Julius Norris, Mr. Joe Cumby, Mr. Bobby Lewis, and Mr. Henry Norris.

Have you ever tried to estimate the miles of halls that have to be covered to keep the building in suitable condition for so many students?

OFFICE STAFF

Mrs. Beatrice Parsons
School Bookkeeper

Mrs. Caruthers sells lunch tickets, keeps school registers, runs off a hundred and fifty copies of tests "before the first period, please," answers the telephone, goes the length of the building to find someone wanted on the telephone, collects money for school pictures, looks after lost and found items, and a few little things like that.

Mrs. Bea Parsons has as much work to do as if she were a bookkeeper for a large corporation. Schools of today are in the biggest business in the world, and must be operated as carefully as any other business.

Mrs. Gladys Caruthers
School Secretary

BUS DRIVERS AND

Come rain or shine, one can always find the school bus waiting for him. Our loyal bus drivers make it possible for students to be transported from all over the county. Our safety is in their hands, and their record for safe driving is high.

Always on hand, regardless of the weather, are our faithful cafeteria staff, also. They come early, and soon have mountains of delicious food in preparation for hundreds of hungry students who will line up before the serving tables about noon. Well-filled plates are set out with a choice of delicious salads for anyone who wants something a little extra. Pauline Harper, Bertha Sherrill, and Louise Evans always have time for a smile and a pleasant word as the long line marches by. Visitors who eat at our school often comment on the high quality of the food served.

CAFETERIA STAFF

Faye Marsh, Sybil Nichols, Annie Smith, Bertha Sherrill, Sue Stevens, Helen Norris, Christine Christopher, Mary Meadows, Louise Evans, and Pauline Harper play an important role in determining not only the health, but also the disposition of the school. Their skill keeps us happy, healthy, and well-fed.

Sue Stevens, lunchroom supervisor, has the task of coordinating lunchroom activities and keeping everything running like a well-oiled machine.

From eight hundred to a thousand students and teachers file by these tables every day in less than an hour's time, pick up their trays containing a well balanced meal and go out better prepared for the remainder of the day, thanks to Pauline Harper, Bertha Sherrill, and Louise Evans.

Girls' and Boys' State

Four junior girls and three junior boys are elected annually by the faculty to represent Cumberland County High School at Girls' State and Boys' State. These students are elected on the basis of their leadership, their ability to work, and their attitude. These delegates spend a week learning from experience how the governmental process works. They share this experience with girls and boys from all over the state of Tennessee. For each delegate an alternate is chosen. Unfortunately, one of the state winners and an alternate moved away before pictures could be obtained.

Delegates to Girls' State are Paula Bingham, Nancy Davis, and Marianne Metcalfe. Not present for picture was Meridith Stewart, who has moved to Knoxville.

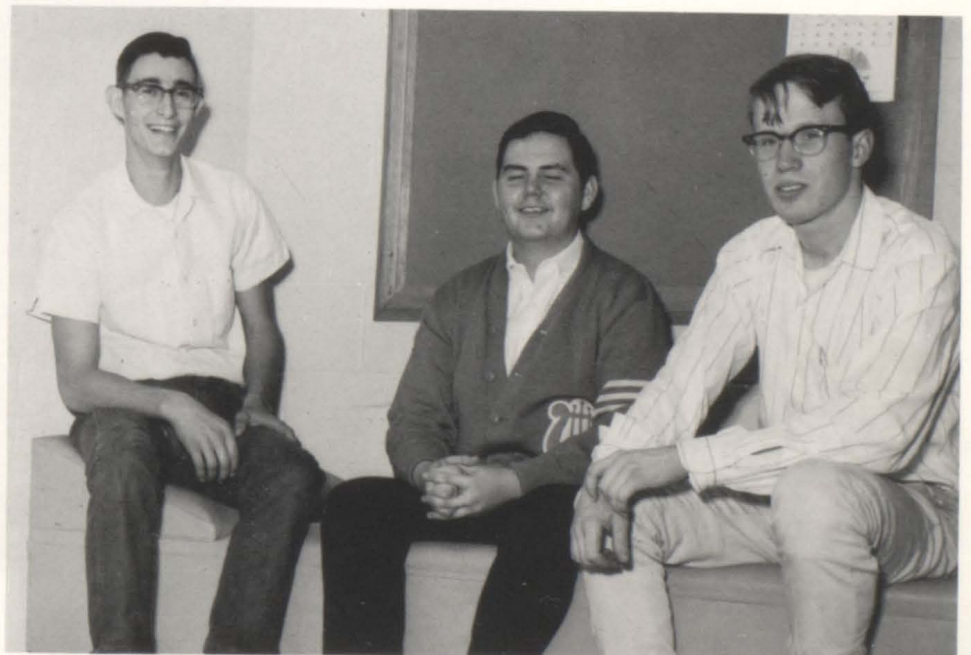

Delegates to Boys' State are Steve Parsons, Randy Marlow and J. H. Graham.

Alternates for Girls' State were Pat Shadden, Peggy Tucker, Diane Atkinson, Sue Maples. Diane and Sue are not pictured.

"YOU CAN'T GET THERE FROM HERE"

Outstanding actors in CCHS senior plays do not exactly receive Oscars for their performances, but it has become traditional for them to receive medals which are as highly coveted and just as meaningful. These honors go to the one who contributes most to the play, the one who helps most on the stage crew, the most improved, the best performer, the best supporting performer, and the most co-operative. The first two are selected by the author and director, Mr. Paul Crabtree, and the remainder are chosen by vote of the cast. Winners were announced on closing night and the following pictures were made at that time.

HOMEcomings

Although the 1965 Homecoming classic with Cookeville was played in a drenching rain, school spirit refused to be dampened. That afternoon students marched down Main Street to the beat of the Jets Band, yelling cheers, exhibiting class floats, and working up an enthusiasm that came to a climax in a victory over the Cavaliers.

FLOAT REPRESENTATIVES were Dorine Hawn, Nancy Bryant, Sharon Mooneyham, and Mary Sue Adams.

CLUBS

Groups for sharing, groups for fun, groups for play, and groups for work—these are Cumberland County High School's clubs.

The Four Arts Society

THE FOUR ARTS SOCIETY SONGFEST—

The Four Arts Society is a cultural group organized to enjoy and propagate the arts in Cumberland County High School. Art, drama, speech, and music are the main cultural areas stressed. Members of the group are pictured above as they sing "Tennessee, U.S.A." from Paul Crabtree's smashing success of the same name.

JUST LIKE CATHEDRAL BELL-RINGERS—

Just like the bell-ringers in old English cathedrals, Frank Bohannon, Sammy Sevier, Reb Ivey, and David Brandon work the ropes for the new Cumberland County Playhouse. The difference is that these ropes are used to raise and lower stage scenery.

COSTUMES MUST BE RIGHT—

Carolyn Stone, Peggy Tucker, and Marianne Metcalfe work on stage costumes in the basement of the Cumberland County Playhouse.

The Plateau Staff of 1966

PUBLISHING AN ANNUAL is not something one does in one's spare time. It is a year-around job, requiring planning, giving up cherished ideas to conform to the overall plan, giving up favorite recreation to work for the "cause," as Diane Atkinson, Peggy Tucker, Frank Bohannon, and Charles Russel realize.

AS THE DEADLINE NEARS—That last picture, the final page, the correction of a typographical error, the correction of a misspelled name, all become very important. Marianne Metcalfe, Miss Wilson, Frank Bohannon, and Dennis Hinch put the final touches on the senior section of the book.

Associate Editor Janie Nivens, and Feature Editor Marc Sims check the most recent issue of The Highlander with their faculty advisor, Miss Bertha Evelyn Wilson.

Library Club

One of the most important places in school is the library. Here are the source materials for our term papers, our book reports, our special themes and projects, our leisure reading materials, and all the audio-visual equipment of the school. Besides getting practical experience in the various phases of library work, members of the Library Club and their able sponsor render one of the most vital services to our entire school.

Future Teachers of America

F.T.A. PLANNING SESSION—Jack Martin, President Diane Atkinson, Secretary Katherine Jones, Kay Randolph, Etta Mae Wood, Sponsor Mrs. Marc Sims, Vice-President Paula Bingham, Ann Saylor, Mary Hall, Doris Wood, and Pat Fields plan future projects.

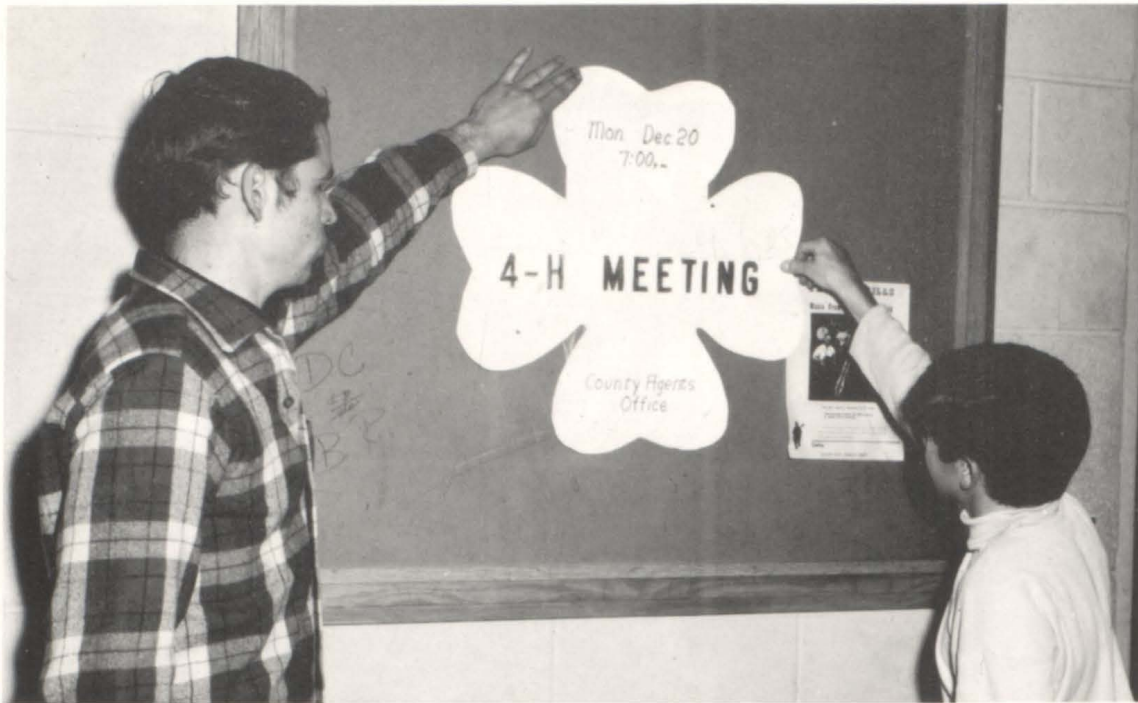

The Future Teachers had the privilege of selecting the 1966 Cumberland County Teacher-of-the-Year. They chose Miss Bertha Evelyn Wilson, who was later selected for the Tennessee Technological University area, and became one of three state finalists honored in Nashville. Diana Atkinson, president of the FTA, presents a copy of Leaves of Gold to Miss Wilson as a gift in appreciation for her services and dedication to the teaching profession.

F.T.A. PROJECT—

One of the projects of the Future Teachers was to purchase a new filing cabinet for the club. Katherine Jones, Secretary, and Paula Bingham file some of their records in their new home.

A GOOD 4-H CLUB MEMBER will find many ways to use his head, his heart, his health, and his hands for the benefit of the club. Whether he is called upon to post a notice of the next meeting, or to give a demonstration, he is ready, as Clinton Sherrill and Horace Burgess prove.

4-H Club

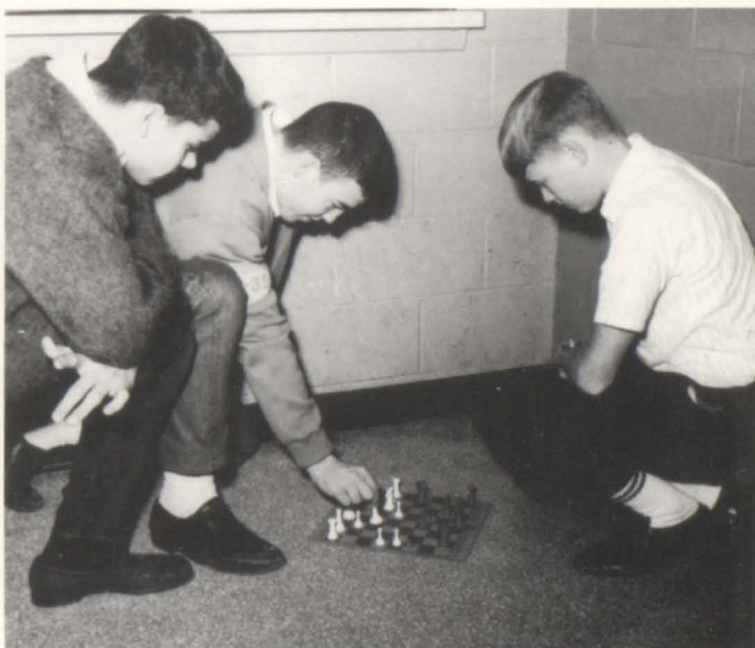

4-H CLUB MEMBERS include Carolyn Kemmer, Jerrie Martin, Laura Bradley, Peggy Bradley, Brenda Jones, Wayne Patton, Dennis Hinch, Brenda Kemmer, Amy Leroy, Larry Hyder, Billy Winningham, Dan Godsey, Marshall Cannon, Clinton Sherrill, Bob Rose, Ronnie Speich, and Denny Swafford.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS DISPLAY TOYS—These Future Homemakers have not gone back to their childhood, but remembering their childhood, they know how important toys can be at Christmas time, and they have collected and repaired these toy animals to help make some child's Christmas a joyous one. This is just one way in which the club seeks to develop a sense of responsibility in the girls.

Future Homemakers of America

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS LEARN HOW TO CHOOSE A HOUSE—The modern woman needs to know how to plan her home to save both steps and time. Miss Celia Cummins helps girls to develop the ability to recognize what is good and what is not good about a floor plan.

F.F.A. GIRLS LEARN

to make inexpensive, but attractive gifts, as Rhonda Hassler and Donna Neeley are doing...

...to decorate artistically and economically, as Mary Findley and Loreta Mullinax are doing...

...AND TO PACK Christmas gift boxes efficiently, as Patsy Hill, Brenda Henry, Sheila Day, and Sharon Mooneyham are doing.

GLEE CLUBS ARE FOR ENJOYMENT—Although Nancy Davis, Tommy Metcalfe, Juanita Castleman, Wilma Gaynor, and Rebecca Smiddie sing for the sheer joy of harmonizing, they are not hesitant to sing at functions where others can enjoy their talents. Mrs. Faye Brandon is assisting the Glee Club as a whole, including this group.

THE SEASON IN REVIEW

In the 1966 season the Jets varsity squad racked up a 51 per cent winning tally by taking nine of their regular season games. Their record was aided by the outstanding efforts of Jackie Stevens, who many times scored in double numerals, and leads the team in scoring.

Larry Merkley was runner-up as high score man.

Throughout the season the Jets, led by Coach Neil Holloway, remained one of the strongest teams of the Tri-County Conference.

The Jetettes had a record of fifteen wins and four losses, with a 74 per cent record of their total games. Headed by high-scoring forwards, Katie Smith, and Paula Bingham, the girls were able to maintain one of the longest winning streaks in the state. Under the leadership of Coach Bill Thompson, they enjoyed one of their most successful seasons. They won three of their games in the Tri-County Tourney.

"You Can't Get There From Here"

A Play With Music Written and Directed by Paul Crabtree for the Senior Class of 1966.

"You Can't Get There from Here" is a touching story of today's youth as they search for their identity. It relives all the unforgettable days in one's life—birth, the day you learned what "why" meant, cowboy games, the reality of death, the first day of school, and graduation. It is filled with love and laughter, and tears."

The foregoing pictures and captions are taken from the Senior Play of 1966—
"YOU CAN'T GET THERE FROM HERE."

Randy Marlow seems to be asking "Who? Me?" as Miss Wilson presents him with the DAR medal—for the "best citizen."

DAR Awards

Each year the Daughters of the American Revolution give a "Good Citizenship Pin" to two outstanding high school students. These students must possess high abilities of leadership and honesty, dependability, service and patriotism.

Nancy Davis was chosen because of her character and high qualities of leadership, patriotism and broad service.

The Senior football boys have waited four long years for the moment when Coach Fox would shake their hand and give them their letters.

Those who have stood before the whole student body know the nervous butterflies that take possession of the stomach.

This year three of our boys were awarded trophies for outstanding skill and sportsmanship.

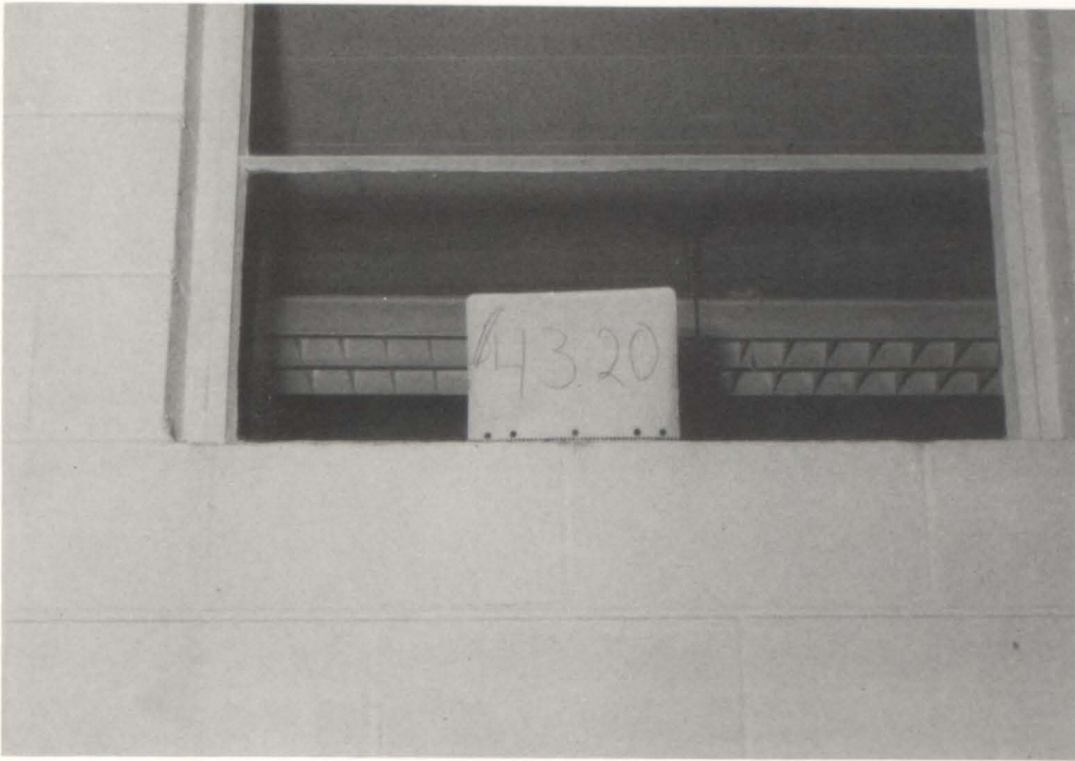

There were those days when you

Orion Miller tries to finish his book before reaching the classroom.

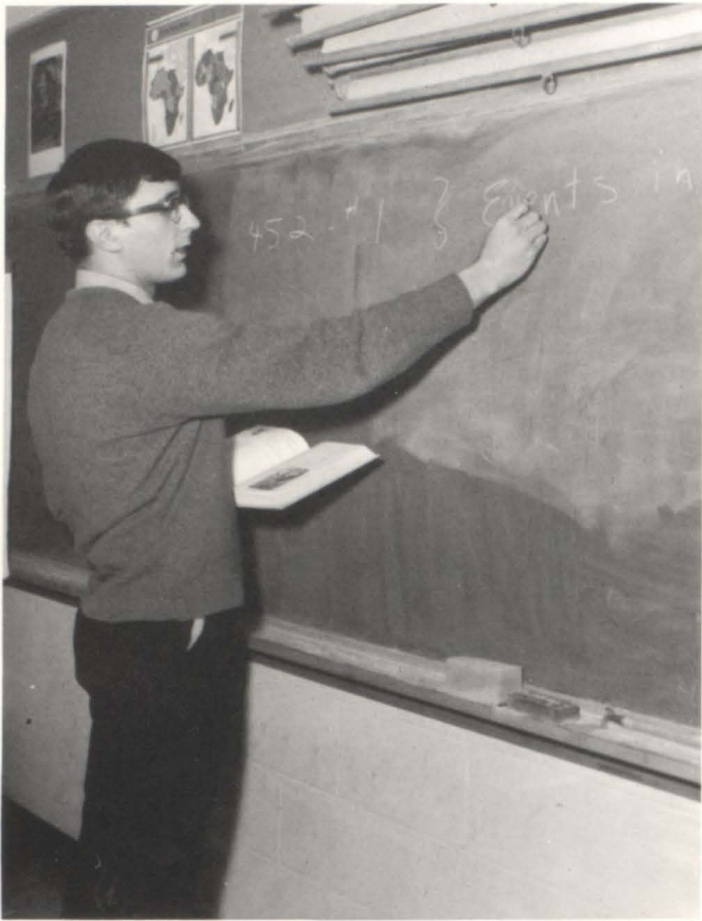

Someone seems to think that one good classroom should be worth at least $43.20.

There were days when you weren't quite sure just how much you thought of the old place.

Sometimes honor-study halls turn into gab sessions.

Mr. Frank Schin took over for Mr. Maynard's classes for the quarter.

No one will forget the Student Teachers. Some were young and ambitious—but all were appreciated for their sincerity and their tireless efforts.

A lot of work went into those term papers and oral reports.

These select members of the C.C.H.S. Band swing to popular tunes.

There were moments when you wished you could put your horn up and join the others in the hall.

Over a thousand students fill the halls during the break between classes.

There was that moment when our rings came—and later that still greater moment when we received word that we had been accepted at the college of our choice.

There are a lot of different ways of showing off senior rings.

One has a right to be all smiles when one receives a letter saying he has been accepted at college.

There comes a time when the halls are all empty, and the front doors close behind the seniors for the last time... a time when the seniors face the world.

Who can pinpoint the still loneliness of an empty hall?

Relief comes to a senior as he walks for the last time through the school door, but at the same time a flame of caution burns in his eyes as he views the world.

Perhaps the first activity that really gives Freshmen the feeling of "belonging" is the building of the float for the Homecoming ceremonies. Tom Crabtree and Reb Ivey are hard at work on their first big project since entering high school. Helping are as many interested freshmen as they have been able to round up at this time. The figure being dragged to the eventual position of honor is a very co-operative dummy.

"Success is the reward of toil," is an old maxim that has been quoted for years, but it may never have impressed the freshmen quite as much as it did when they saw their efforts to create an attractive float rewarded with the winning of the prize. To win is a thrill in itself, but to win over Sophomores, Juniors, and dignified Seniors is a never-to-be-forgotten experience for those who got out and worked.

People who care, people who lead, people who share, and people who were yesterday's students—these are our advertisers.

"Today" comes to an end for the Class of '66, but with astounding swiftness "Tomorrow" is born. We acknowledge yesterday's students as today's leaders. Today's bankers, lawyers, doctors, merchants, and grocers—these are the men who make PLATEAU of today possible.

Crossville,

Dear Students,

If you wish to obtain a good position upon graduation, learn to write a clear, legible hand, spell correctly, use correct English, figure accurately, and be neat and mannerly.

The world has a place for those who can use their education.

HAVE YOU BEEN TO THE NEW CUMBERLAND COUNTY PLAYHOUSE?
PLAN YOUR SUMMER VACATION TO ENJOY THE DRAMA SEASON AT THIS FABULOUS NEW CULTURAL CENTER IN THE CUMBERLANDS.

TO OUR PATRONS

The record of this school year has been written. Its memories have engraved themselves upon our hearts. Its experiences have made us a bit wiser, if only by showing us that this is not the end. We cannot re-live our high school days, except in memory. We cannot stand still. There is much to be done, and we are eager for the life that awaits us "out there." We would not wish to keep these years forever, for our new life will bring its own compensations and blessing. But we do want to keep in memory those things that have meant the most to us here.

To everyone who has helped us to produce this record of the days that can never return, we offer our heartfelt thanks.

To those who have helped us achieve our goals we proffer profound gratitude.

To those who come after us we pass the Torch, and say "Hail, and Farewell!"

The Plateau Staff of '66
