

Indigenous Youth Environmental Justice Program (IYEJP)

Application Form

Once you fill out application you can scan or take a picture of the application and email Lorene Sisquoc at lorene.sisquoc@bie.edu or mail back to her

As an IYEJP scholar you will learn about environmental justice and how the climate crisis affects Indigenous communities uniquely. You will engage in conversations and learn about coastal and ocean conservation, sacred site protection, and ways we connect with land through culture. Each scholar will receive a tee-shirt, activities for land engagement, and more resources to support your journey in becoming a youth leader for your community.

Currently all meetings will be virtual on ZOOM.

Any materials will be mailed to your address of residence you provide and or by email.

We will meet monthly with the group on Zoom, students can do projects at home or in their tribal communities. Are there any teachers willing to promote this and offer extra credit for participation?

Save the date of Thursday, January 21st, 2021 at 4:00pm for our first meeting on Zoom in 2021

Our meetings include learning topics from protecting the ocean/our lands to language preservation.

- Here are some Documentaries made by students a couple years back showing some of our activities we have done in this program.
