

DECEMBER 2025

Safe Toys and Gifts Awareness Month

As the holidays approach, it’s time to gather with loved ones to share food and gifts. Sometimes, well-intentioned gifts to children can come with unforeseeable risks. It’s important to be aware of toys that may harm recipients.

December is Safe Toys and Gifts Awareness Month, so take extra time to think about a gift’s safety before giving it. Tips for selecting appropriate toys include checking labels for age ranges; avoiding toys with small parts that can injure, be swallowed, or cause blindness; and ensuring toys are labeled as nontoxic. Additionally, if you intend to gift sporting equipment or similar gear, it’s also important to provide protective gear, such as helmets and knee pads.
