Foreword

Social

This year will be remembered as an outstanding year for many reasons. To some, the social life they enjoyed predominated. To some the intellectual world opened its magic doors for the first time, and learning for its own sake became a goal. To still others, the memorable events of the year were the experiences in the field of sports. To some it was "The Year of the Jet." But for all, everything else was eclipsed for a while, and it became irrevocably The Year of the Assassination of the President. Whether the predominating memories are joyous or tragic, for all of us it was a year of working together to further education, increase tolerance, overcome prejudice, and promote the American way of life.

Our 1964 Plateau may not have captured your greatest moment, but it has attempted to coordinate as many of these unforgettable events as possible and bring them to our readers as a life-long memory.

Dedication

B. M. Carr believes in America; in the American way of life; in the great principles of Democracy. He believes in education; in culture; in religion; in morality. He believes that right is right and wrong is wrong, and not a misty shade of gray that is black or white as one happens to look at it.

They say that he knows the history book by heart. They say that he remembers every date in American history. They say that his classes are "almost like college." But they say also, "Mr. Carr is a wonderful teacher - one of the best we'll ever have."

For forty-five years Mr. Carr has served the cause of education. For forty-five years he has worked to inculcate the principles of right and decency into the lives of his students. For forty-five years he has "suffered the slings and arrows" always directed at those who do worthwhile things. But he has also had the flowers and fruits of gratitude from those who understood. In the strongbox of memory, these will outlast the other.

Now rumor has it that Mr. Carr is retiring at the close of this year. It is hoped he will reconsider and return to his desk as usual. But whether he does or not, his influence for good will go on through never-ending cycles in the lives of thousands of students he has touched.

It is with pride and love, backed by profound respect, that we dedicate the 1964 Plateau to Mr. Carr.

Dedication Ceremonies Are Held for Miss Nettie
 "Our Own Private Jet"

It began as a little red-headed cheerleader's dream. With all the assurance of youth, Miss Nettie Stevens asked U. S. Senator Albert Gore if he could get a jet for our school. Others went to work on the matter. On November 15 a T-33 training aircraft was formally turned over to local authorities and dedicated as the C.C.H.S. symbol. On hand for dedication ceremonies were Colonel William G. Moore, Jr. of Seward Air Force Base, Colonel William Trigg, also of Seward, Colonel Edward J. Quirk, State Commander of the Air Force Recruitment Service, and Superintendent of Schools, O. C. Stewart.

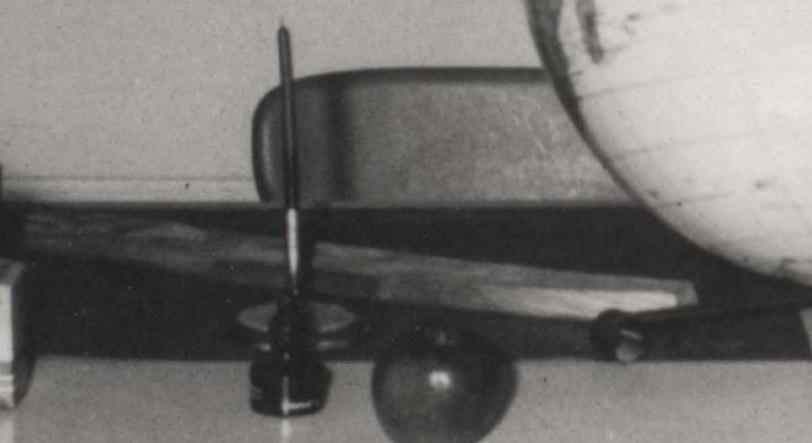

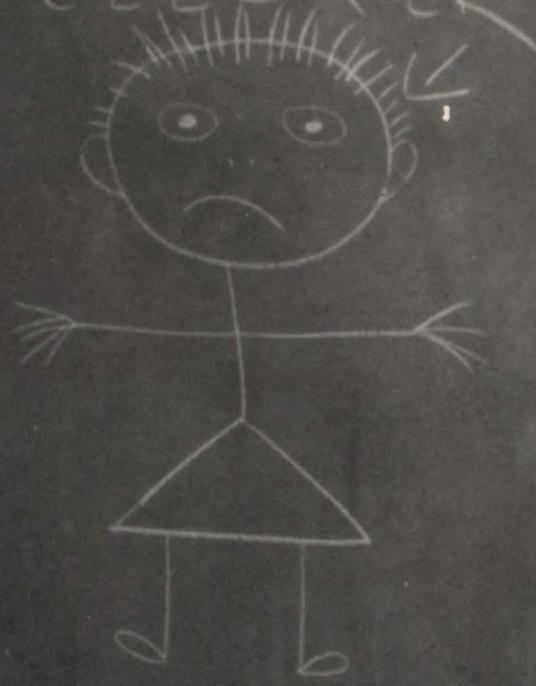

Colonel Glenn C. Ellison represented Governor Frank Clement, who was unable to be present at the ceremonies.

Mr. Everett Gibson makes his acceptance speech and presents visiting dignitaries, local scouts, and the airforce crew who assembled the plane.

Teachers

Teachers are different things to different people. To some they represent papers enough to fill a brief case. To some they are people who stand behind desks, walk up and down the aisles, or appear in halls at the wrong time. To others they are people who spin globes and talk of things as far away as outer space. To still others they are wielders of a paddle, or people who cannot see beyond a polished apple. But to most of us they are friends, helpers, pilots, people who are working together to help us realize our full, God-given potential.

December 30, 1963

Dear Students,

During your school career you have learned some facts, procedures, and skills which you may or may not use. You have developed habits of work, study, cooperation, or the opposite of these, which will be difficult to change. You have developed a reputation and a record which will be received by almost everyone interested in buying your services in the years to come.

We are dedicated to the ideal that all students should develop a sense of moral and ethical values, esthetic appreciation, a respect for the dignity of work, and personal integrity. This is the American way; this is democracy.

Your success in the future will depend on your attitudes - your attitude toward further education and your fellow man. The days of preparation and service no longer exist separately. The world is changing rapidly and we must constantly change and improve our methods and procedures. The more we learn the more there is to be learned. Education is a continuous process and regardless of professional affiliation, continued learning and development will be necessary in the future. In other words, education is necessary not only for the young, but for all of us. It is the responsibility of each of us to use our ability to the fullest extent possible. This we owe to ourselves, to our fellow man, and to our God.

Respectfully,

O.C. Stewart

THE PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

The new Cumberland County High School's second year of educational history is about to be completed and will soon become a small but permanent part of that ceaseless struggle of mankind's quest for freedom and truth.

Much progress has been made during the past year in the improvement of learning facilities and in the enlargement of opportunity for all young people in Cumberland County who desire to pursue their high school education to a successful end.

As a member of the graduating class of 1964, you are about to join that large number of alumni of past years. Whether you continue your education in an institution of higher learning or join the ranks of workers in the business and industrial world, your degree of devotion to high ideals and noble purposes will have a great bearing upon the respect and esteem accorded to your Alma Mater by others.

Let me join with your parents and friends and with the members of the faculty in wishing for all graduates and future graduates of Cumberland County High School the highest degree of success in your future fields of endeavor. Like each generation before you, the challenge of forging the world of tomorrow is indeed an overwhelming and daring task.

Sincerely,

Everett L. Gibson

*Assistant
Principal's Message*

Assistant Principal Lyndon Pippin at work

I am deeply grateful to you for your consideration and co-operation during my second year with you in the new Cumberland County High School. Our happy association with one another will always be a high point in my life.

The world of tomorrow is depending upon you to establish more fully a society of prosperity, peace, and happiness. We believe in you and pledge ourself to assist you in every way possible for your success.

Your future depends primarily on the foundation you have established during the past twelve years. Our hope is that the foundation is solid and will stand the test of time.

Sincerely yours,

Lyndon Pippin

Miss Henry keeps a watchful eye on her class of sophomores to spot any who need help. Recognizing a need for vocal music in our school, Miss Henry organized a Glee Club which meets with her on club days.

In addition to her duties as Head of the English Department, Mrs. Eileen Sims has a full teaching load. Her English III classes have done outstanding work on projects this year. One section is pictured watching a movie.

Miss Wilson's English IV classes have completed their study of programmed "English 3200" and the workbooks have been turned in. As they begin to study English literature, each student has been asked to write a Chaucer-like description of a senior bound for Washington on a graduation trip, or "pilgrimage" to our national shrines.

Mrs. Sally Lanquist's college preparatory classes have been getting a preview of the work that will be expected of them when they exchange their cap and gown for the traditional green cap of the college freshman. They have been working on mythology, vocabulary, sentence structure and other fundamentals the college freshman is expected to know. Vicki Shadden is pictured reading her report to the class.

Language study becomes increasingly important as the world shrinks and its peoples are brought closer and ever closer together.

David Brandon, Robert Rhea, and Ruth Watson gather around Miss Corinne Black's desk to listen to French records. Every student gets individual attention.

Dr. Blanca Paz stops to converse in Spanish with Charlie West. The language laboratory gives each student the opportunity of hearing his accent as it sounds to a listener. By listening and comparing he is able to detect his errors and improve his skill in speaking.

Mrs. Joann Bean, pictured in the English Department, also teaches Spanish.

The Student Teaching Program

Our school co-operated extensively with the Student Teaching program sponsored by Tennessee Polytechnic Institute. From September to early December the student teachers lived in the community and participated in all facets of school life, gaining experience and training to help them next year when they go into full-time teaching positions.

Left to right, the picture shows all but one of the group as follows:

Charles Biles—Health and Physical Education—Coach L. A. Fox
Earl Winn—Health and Physical Education—Coach C. W. Pemberton
Sandra Smith—English—Mrs. Eileen Sims
Jeanetta Parris—Geography—Mr. Ross Maynard

Dr. Ronald V. Abdilla, Master-in-Charge of a large high school in the Mediterranean isle of Malta, was a recent visitor in our school under the auspices of the International Teachers' Development Program. He is studying secondary schools in America and has been in schools in Los Angeles, Chicago, Evanston, and numerous other places. Dr. Abdilla has also had wide experience in Law, grand opera, and drama.

Another group of student teachers came to us at the beginning of the second semester. Left to right they are Dr. James Dotson, Director, T.P.T., Ben Dennis, Jean Collins, Barbara Coleson, B. [redacted] on, Marion Finch, Harriet Gentry, Patty Rolland, Janice Warden, Mildred Martin, [redacted] nolds, Harriet Hooper, Herbert Keith, Robert White, Terry Evans.

Principal Everett Gibson and Dr. Abdilla are preparing to start on a tour of the grounds.

Miss Harriet Hooper introduces Ichabod Achilles, alias The Thin Man, to her biology students. Perhaps even he has felt the Beatle influence and would like to say, "I want to hold your hand." Looking on are Ligue Wisdom, Russel Kilgre, Janice Niven, Keith Snavely, and Ted Hinds.

The School Lunch Program has picked up under the capable hands of Sue Stevens and her staff. Working with her are Laura Seagraves, Sybil Nichols, Joyce Nealon, Mabel Barnwell, Marie Simpson, Lola Anderson, Pauline Harpe, and Louise Evans. More lunches are being served daily than ever before in our history.

Mrs. Gertrude Norris and Mr. Benton Jernigan are on duty all day keeping things in order. Mrs. Norris gathers up the coffee cups in the Women's lounge in the picture above, and Mr. Jernigan is shown in the furnace room.

They Also Serve...

Another group working to serve our community is the bus drivers staff. They serve the largest county in the state and take every precaution for the safety of the students they transport from the entire area. They are Woodrow Singleton, Tommy Smith, Ray Page, Howard Gollieher, Jim Wilson, Willard Shuberg, Delmer Matthews, Will Campbell, Earl Allen, Willie Smith, V. J. Dodson, Elmer Loden, Harold Goss, Glen Copeland, Bud Tanner, Duffie Aytes, Lester Loden, Houston Gollieher, Carson Baisley, Hershel Tabor, Chat Brady, Norman McCoy, Carson Brown, Noel McNeal, Jessie Morgan, Hollis Henry, Eugene Cottrell, Charles Tye, Joe Lewis, Red Williams, Richard Seals, Joe Tucker, Charles Rodgers, Clayton Hall, Jack Dixon, Edd Cox, Kemo Lewis. ### Memories of Life at C. C. H. S.

The voice of a teacher, the slamming of a locker door, the cry of a schoolmate may never be heard again outside the walls of C. C. H. S., but the unforgettable memories of school life will always linger. How well will you remember when you think back on the long hours of intense study, or on the school spirit bursting out at the ballgames, or on all the time and effort spent to raise money for a class trip. How well you will remember when you hear the tune and the words of the Alma Mater ringing in your ears. These are memories that time cannot erase, for they are etched upon the heart.

Memories

Air: "Amici"

Musical score for the first system of the piece "Amici". It consists of two staves: a treble clef staff on top and a bass clef staff on the bottom. The key signature is one flat (B-flat) and the time signature is common time (C). The piece begins with a half note G2 in the bass staff and a half note G4 in the treble staff, both with a fermata. The treble staff then continues with a melody of quarter notes: A4, Bb4, C5, Bb4, A4, G4, F4, E4, D4, C4. The bass staff provides a harmonic accompaniment with chords and single notes: G2, Bb2, C3, D3, E3, F3, G3, F3, E3, D3, C3.

ALMA MATER

By Bertha Evelyn Wilson

High upon our Plateau fertile,
Serving near and far,
Shines our cherished Alma Mater,
Like a guiding star.

Chorus:
Lift your voices! Swell the chorus!
High our colors raise!
Strong and staunch we stand united;
Cumberland we praise.

Here we strive to work together,
Building for the Right,
Making strong our mountain home-land,
Spreading far her light.

When our high school days are over,
Still our song shall be
Cumberland, our school beloved,
Hail, all hail to thee!

Musical score for the second system of the piece "Amici". It consists of two staves: a treble clef staff on top and a bass clef staff on the bottom. The key signature is one flat (B-flat) and the time signature is common time (C). The treble staff continues the melody from the first system: D4, C4, B3, A3, G3, F3, E3, D3, C3. The bass staff continues the accompaniment: Bb2, A2, G2, F2, E2, D2, C2, Bb1, A1, G1, F1, E1, D1, C1.

From The Doors of Learning

"Strong and staunch we stand united; Cumberland we praise."

"Miss Nettie"

We are proud of this new addition which represents our mighty Jets.

To The Halls of C.C.H.S.

9:00 A.M.
Halls are desolate.
All the students are in their classrooms—
studying and learning(?).

9:05 A. M.
As the bell rings students
rush into the halls.
Locker doors slam.
The patter of feet is heard.
Whew!
Made it just in time!

Sometimes the halls are completely unoccupied. For instance, on days like this when school is closed on account of snow, no one tramps to and fro in them.

To The Modern Breezeways

The short cut between D-wing and A-wing is the breezeway. No wonder many students use it.

It's nice to have a roof over your head when you come from F-wing to the main building. It "helps" protect you from rain, sleet and snow.

Here is a view of the new classrooms built by the boys of the building trades class.

A Day At C.C.H.S. -

Before school the buses unload and the students prepare for another day.

In the classrooms students study lessons assigned them.

In the laboratory chemistry students such as Gary Kerley, John Maloy, Sherry Campbell, and Jimmy Buckhannon prepare experiments.

Classes, Halls, Lunchroom

Finally, when the 11:05 bell rings, students rush to the cafeteria, throw their books against the wall, and get in line.

There are some students, however, who would rather visit before eating.

Lucky Sandra Lewis and Pat Stone are the first ones through the line.

Ah, what would we do without a nourishing lunch to keep us going through the day?

Let's Take Time Out

Yes, I know one gets plenty of exercise walking from one class to another. But after sitting most of the day in those hard seats, it feels good to stretch for awhile during the lunch period.

Now, don't tell me you can go through a whole year of school without running out of pencils, paper, ink, erasers or lunch tickets. It can't be done. That's why we have the book store. Here David Shaffer and David Hayes are purchasing lunch tickets before the 8:00 bell rings.

What do you know! After sitting all day some students prefer to keep right on sitting during their free period. Well, Lynn Cook, Michael Dolinich, Andy Wyatt, Ronald Pel-frey, Johnnie Smiddie, and Frankie Sullivan can go right ahead and make themselves comfortable.

Always Ready to Help

Every student at one time or another in high school needs counselling. The guidance office is just the place to go. Lorelle Norris, Helen Ledbetter, Betty Isham, and Russell Kilgore patiently wait their turn to talk to one of the counsellors.

Test! Test! Test! Throughout the year test including Occupational Aptitude tests, Scholarship Test, Scholastic Aptitude Test, Achievement Test, and various college entrance examinations are given with the help of the school counsellors.

There now, Bobby's pretty little nurse, Janie, has him feeling better already. Thanks to the school clinic.

The Spirit of C.C.H.S.

"Two bits, four bits, six bits, a dollar, all for blue and white stand up and holler!"

Whether the spirit is at the ballgames, during election campaigns, or in the classroom, one thing is sure—it exists!

Assemblies Pep Up The Day

"Excuse me. I can't see." The dedication of the jet was an hour we all waited for.

"HO! Ho! Ho! Now if you're good girls and boys, Santa will bring you all a present. "Remember the Christmas Program when the band filled the air with the sound of Christmas music?"

"Which one is radioactive?" Many of the assemblies were educational as well as entertaining.

At one assembly Dr. Abdilla from the island of Malta took a few minutes to talk with the student body.

Moments of Fun and Excitement

Things really swing at C. C. H. S. Yes, school dances are places rocking with fun.

Homecoming brings lots of excitement—a parade, the crowning of the queen, and recognition of the seniors in the band and on the football team. An old tradition is the pinning of the school colors on the senior players.

Ill matched socks, baggy clothes, sloppy hats, and atrocious colors are characteristics of Tacky Day.

Something New

"Just think, we might be up there next year."

"Memories were made of this."

"A perfect fit." Carolyn Perry, Connie Hollows and Margaret Stone try on the new band uniforms.

Features at C.C.H.S.

A queen is crowned. A superlative is elected. A trophy is given. An award is made. Queens, superlatives, students winning a special award cannot be overlooked. Beauty, loveliness, personality, and distinctive achievement play an important part in school life. All those who win recognition are representatives of our school in a special way.

Much merit may go unrewarded because not all can be the "best"; opinions often differ as to the most deserving. Through the co-operation of teachers and students a few of our most representative achievers have been selected. Life itself will make the lasting awards.

Features

Mr. and Miss C.C.H.S.

Paulette Graham and Alvin Davis have been given the highest honor which the students can grant. The title Mr. and Miss C.C.H.S. is given in recognition of their outstanding personalities and their exemplary character, representative of C.C.H.S

Class Favorites

Junior Class

She is red-headed and she smiles at you. He is friendly, warm, and personable. Small wonder Marcia Stevens and Jaxter Burnett were chosen by the Junior Class.

Sophomore Class

Popularity, co-operation, school spirit and personality are traits a class usually looks for in its favorites. Jane Gatlin and Steve Parsons have them.

Freshman Class

Roberta Edmonds and Ronnie Turner, because of their friendly manner, attracted the attention of their classmates as outstanding people, and consequently were chosen to represent their fellow freshmen.

Jaxter Burnett and Marcia Stevens

Steve Parsons and Jane Gatlin

Roberta Edmonds and Ronnie Turner

Senior

Best All-around

Nettie Stevens and David Hayes excel in many fields. Both of them have warm, friendly personalities and qualities of leadership which combine with their many other talents and interests to make them capable leaders.

Most Co-operative

Everett Bolin and Vicki Shadden give to their classmates and teachers the kind of co-operation that gets things done—the most valuable and effective kind.

Most Studious

Naomi Lewis and Wayne Tollett spend many hours over their books. They have learned that first things come first and often give up some pleasure to prepare a difficult lesson and are rewarded when grade cards come out.

Superlatives

Most Talented

Talent is natural endowment bestowed upon a fortunate person. Both Carolyn Perry and Johnny Hennessee possess this quality, which expresses itself in their musical ability, their athletic prowess, leadership ability, or simply their ability to make friends.

Most Courteous

The most highly respected and best loved people are the most courteous ones. True courtesy expresses itself in countless little ways, as well as in larger ways, but mostly in the way it respects others' feelings. That is why Richard Kloss and Geneva Nail were chosen.

Most Likely to Succeed

Mary Nina Gibson and Lynn Neal have that "get-up-and-go" quality which attracts success. They finish what they begin, and will continue to do this throughout life. Such people know what they want, and they work for it, and usually get it.

Senior

Wittiest

Donna Ringley and Tom Breeding have the talent of seeing true humor in most situations. Their clever witticisms may brighten a drab day or enliven a dull conversation.

Prettiest and Handsomest

Janie Munro and David Hollingsworth were well chosen as prettiest girl and handsomest boy. Janie has a flashing smile that radiates friendliness and helpfulness, and David has a pair of sparkling blue eyes and a dashing air.

Most Athletic

Good athletic teams are made up of good players. Good players have a super-abundance of skill in their game and a sportsmanlike attitude. Pat Gatlin and Bill Hasler display these qualities and help strengthen their teams.

Superlatives

Best Dressed

The importance of being neatly dressed cannot be over-estimated. Wearing spotless clothes suitable for the occasion put Pat Rimmer and Jay Jernigan at the head of the best dressed couple.

Friendliest

To have friends takes understanding, sincerity, thoughtfulness and "going the second mile." Donna Akins and Lyndell Agee are blessed with these friend-attracting qualities.

Most Popular

Few persons acquire the art of gaining both friends and popularity. However, for Lou Ann Lambert and Donnie Sharp it comes naturally. Their friendliness and sincerity draws people to them.

Girls' State- Boys' State

Winners of Girls' State and Boys' State spend a week in intensive training to learn from experience how the government is conducted. They learn much about citizenship and as they learn they meet other outstanding personalities and form lasting ties of friendship. All of them declare it to be one of the greatest experiences of life.

Mary Nina Gibson and Lou Ann Lambert were the girls representing CCHS at Girls' State.

Danny Owens, Lindell Agee, and Larry Thompson were the delegates to Boys' State.

Junior Miss Pageant

For weeks fourteen senior girls worked on developing their talents. For hours they practiced poise and charm. Everything had to be perfected for the 1964 Junior Miss Pageant sponsored by the Crossville Jaycees. The big night came on November 16. The girls were judged on talents, scholastic achievement, personality, physical fitness, and poise. Scholarship awards were presented to the winner and the runners-up. Candidates were Paulette Graham, Patricia Rimmer, Carolyn Perry, Nancy Tucker, Elizabeth Boyce, Karen Bradley, Mary Nina Gibson, Janie Munro, Sandra Lewis, Linda Johnson, Carolyn Parker, Margaret Dishman, Cherry Blakely, and Judith Burgess. At the right the lovely Mary Nina Gibson, blushing and weeping with excitement, is crowned by Sondra Maddux as the 1964 Junior Miss of Cumberland County. Linda Stalworth, Tennessee's Junior Miss of 1963 is standing by with the trophy. Runners-up were Janie Munro, Nancy Tucker, and Paulette Graham. Miss Gibson is pictured on the opposite page.

Homecoming Queen

Perhaps every girl dreams of being chosen Homecoming Queen. For Miss Nettie Stevens the dream became a happy reality when she rode the Senior float to victory in the Homecoming Parade. The float represents C.C.H.S. as symbolical of the idea "Education, the Gateway to Success."

Nettie was presented with a glittering crown and a huge bouquet of red roses. She was crowned by the football co-captains Leonard Turner and Buster Lee Campbell.

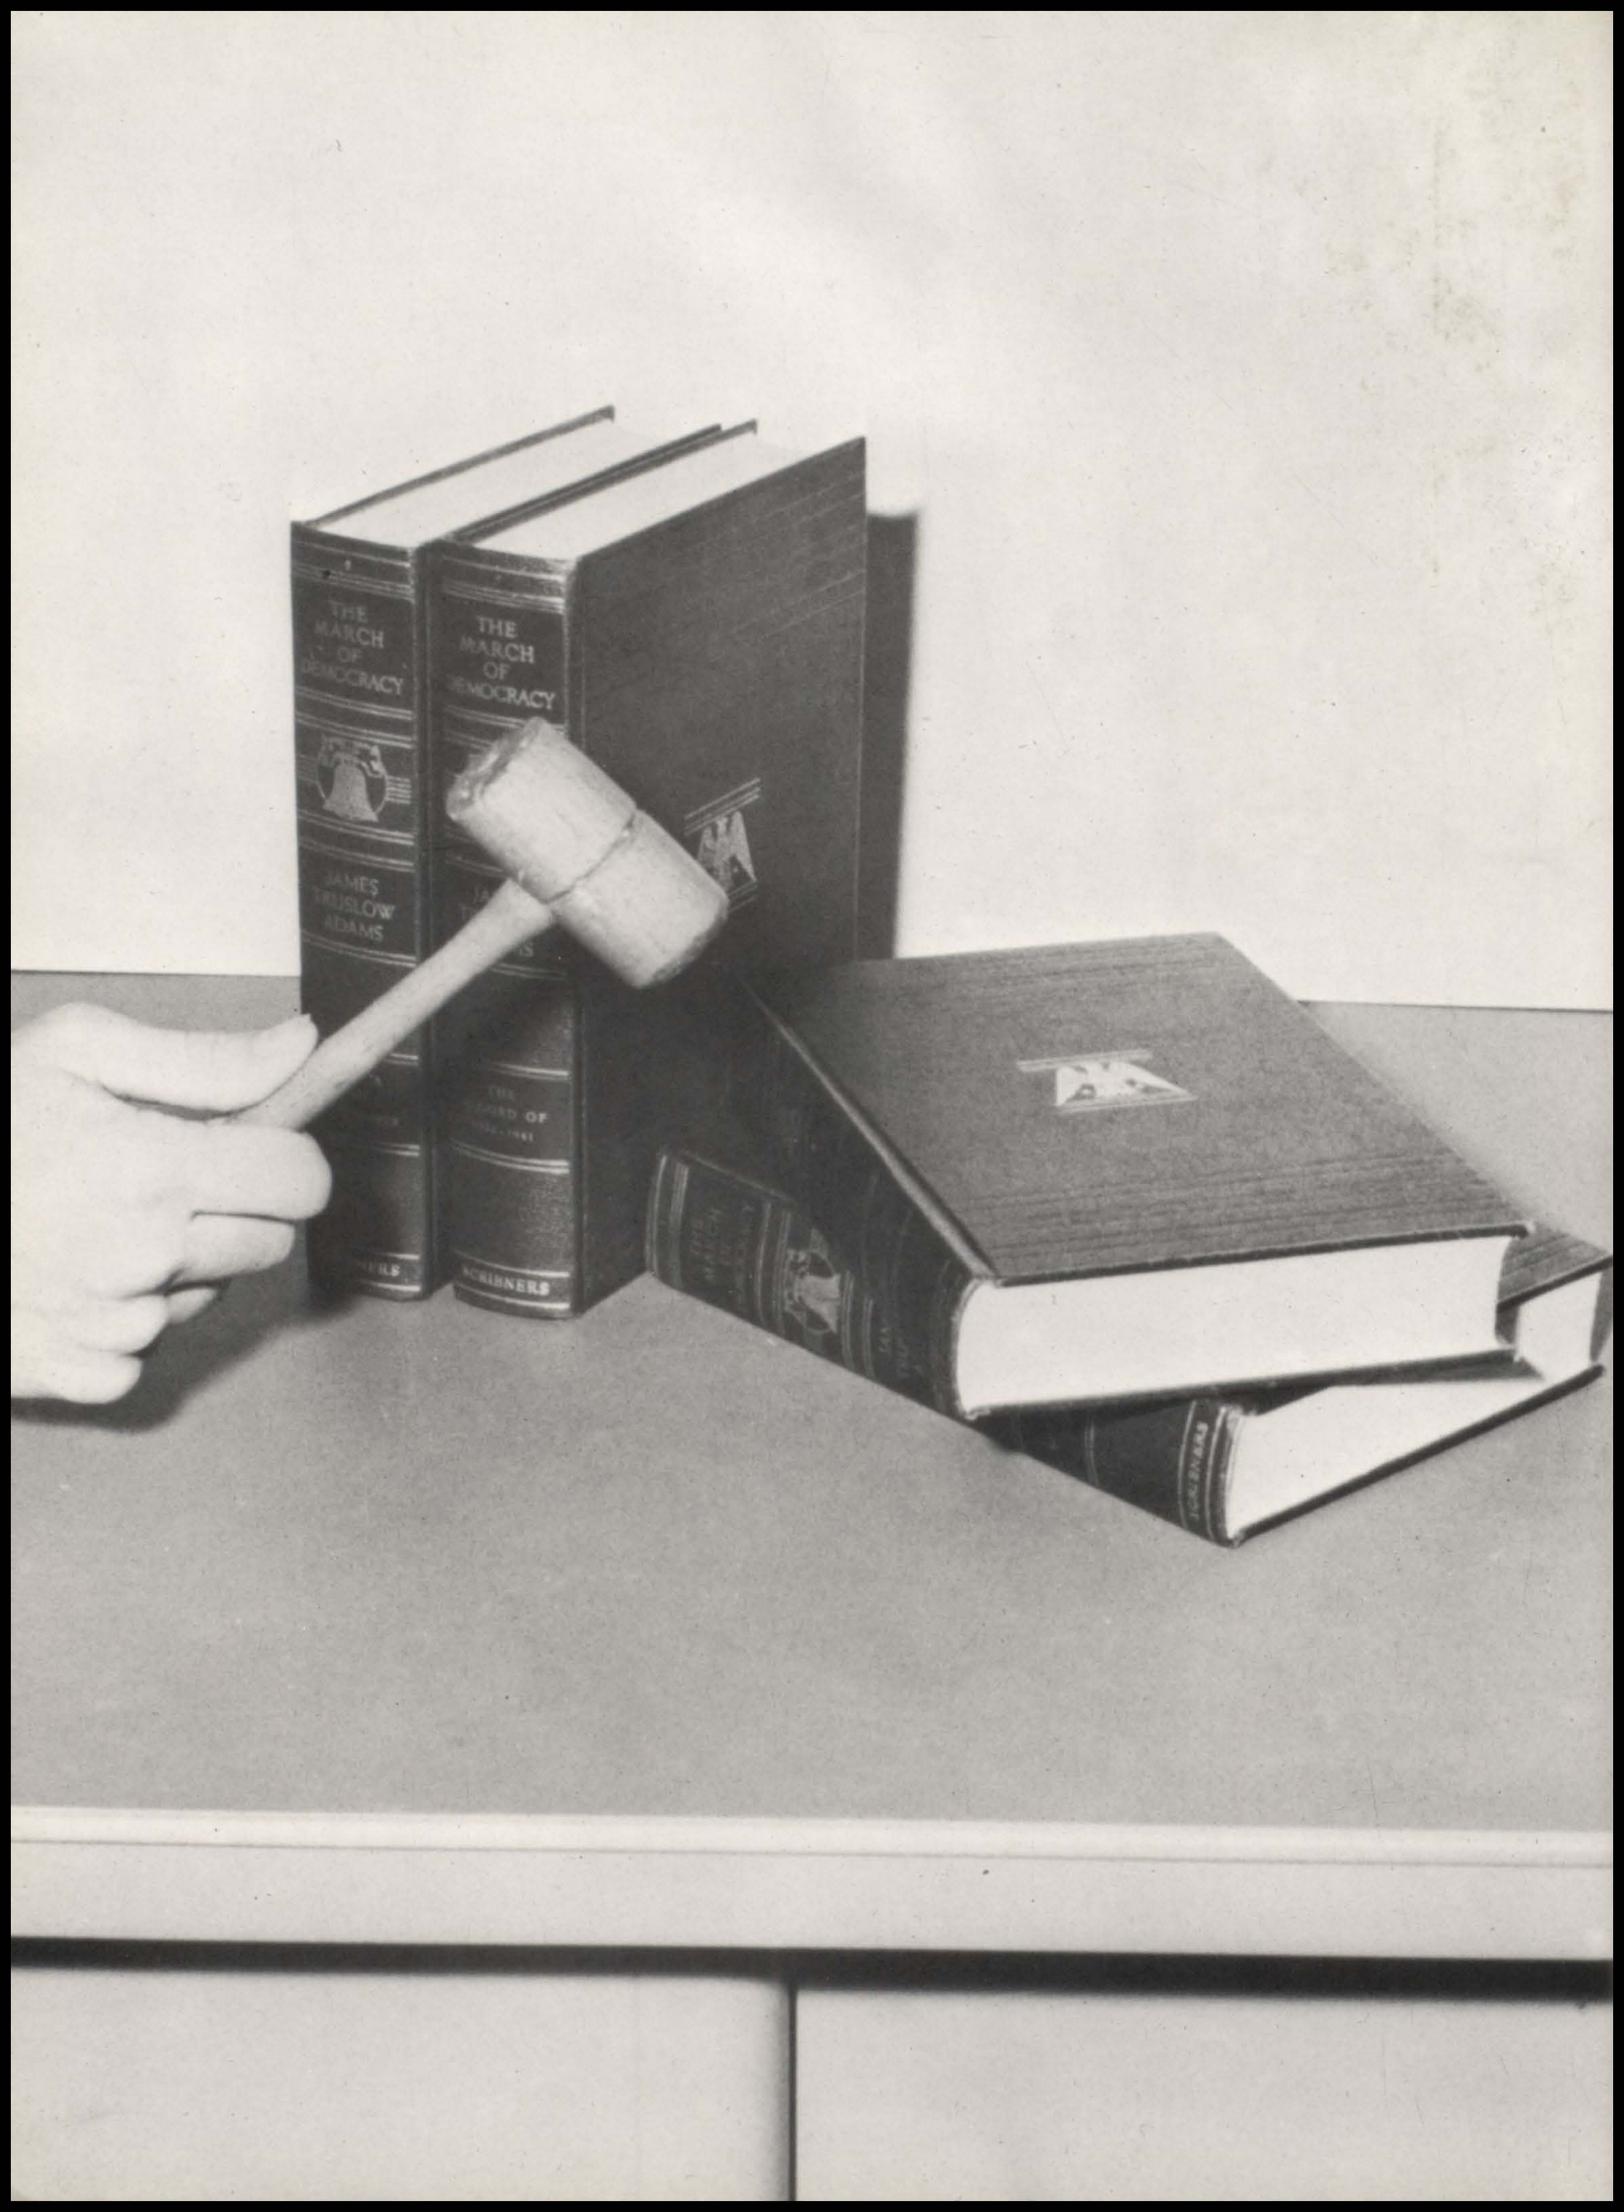

Individual trophies were presented to "Bo" Bohannon, Johnny Tabor, Jerry Brown, and Leonard Turner for outstanding performances in football during the 1963 season. Coach L. A. Fox made the awards.

Patsy Cope, Linda Hicks, Sharon Vitaoe and Nettie Stevens were the four candidates for Homecoming Queen.

Activities at CCHS

A chairman bangs his gavel. The meeting comes to order. A student rises to make a motion. A vote is taken. A re-count is demanded. In meetings such as these our students learn to work together for the group, to abide by the decision of the majority, to accept, in short, the will of the mightiest voice of Democracy — the Voice of the People. Here they forget for a while the routine of the classroom and develop their own plans and ideas under careful guidance.

Living

by Edgar A. Guest

The miser thinks he's living when he's hoarding up his gold;
The soldier calls it living when he's doing something bold;
The sailor thinks it's living to be tossed upon the sea,
And upon this very subject no two men of us agree.
But I hold to the opinion, as I walk my way along,
That living's made of laughter and good-fellowship and song.

I wouldn't call it living to be always seeking gold,
To bank all the present gladness for the days when I'll be old,
I wouldn't call it living to spend all my strength for fame,
And forego the many pleasures which to-day are mine to claim.
I wouldn't for the splendor of the world set out to roam,
And forsake my laughing children and the peace I know at home.

Oh, the things that I call living isn't gold or fame at all!
It's fellowship and sunshine, and it's roses by the wall.
It's evenings glad with music and a hearth-fire that's ablaze,
It is laughter and contentment and the struggle for a goal;
It is everything that's needful in the shaping of a soul.

Money Raising Plans

Dennis Seagraves puts the finishing touches on a poster advertising a Beta Club dance while the rest of the members look on.

The Beta Club is an honorary society. The purpose is to reward scholastic achievement, to encourage leadership, and to recognize good citizenship. Only juniors and seniors who have maintained a B average are eligible for this club.

This year the Beta Club has sent sympathy cards to several families, has put on a radio program to promote the P. T. A., and has reserved seats for the teachers at assemblies.

"Come on, girls! We need more than that on the food committee." In order to raise enough money to go to the State convention, the Beta Club sponsored several dances. Pictured here are Nancy Tucker, Lindell Agee, and David Hayes.

Glee Club

The C.C.H.S. Glee Club with close to two hundred members was organized during the second semester. Its main objective was to promote an interest in choral music throughout the student body. The group was sponsored by Miss Nancy Carol Henry, herself a talented musician. It is hoped that this renewed interest in singing will cause our school to have one of the finest and largest choral groups in the area.

Miss Henry leads the group in one of their favorite rounds:

"Gentle Shepherd, Gentle Shepherd,
Let me help you count your sheep.
One in the meadow, two in the garden,
And three in the nursery fast asleep."

The C.C.H.S. Marching Band marches proudly down the field with their heads held high, wearing their dazzling blue and sungold uniforms. These band uniforms were bought and paid for by the Band Boosters Club.

Leading this sharp-looking musical group as they march onto the field, are the Drum Major David Lewis and the Band Sponsor Carolyn Perry. Each year the band elects their band sponsor for the homecoming ceremonies. This year Carolyn Perry was elected to march in front of the band with Drum Major David Lewis.

The Athletics Department At CCHS

A pass is intercepted and a touchdown is made. The crowd roars approval as men beat one another on the back and throw their hats into the air. Cheerleaders scream their victory shout. But the Athletics Department means more than a game, or a score, or a thrill. More is happening out there on the gridiron or on the basketball floor than the tumult and the shouting. Boys are learning to be men. Girls are learning the give and take necessary to womanhood. Lessons of sportsmanship learned here will be remembered after the score is forgotten. But a good athletic program is more than this. It brings the community together in a common cause and holds the school before the eyes of an admiring and appraising world.

The Gymnasium

Through these doors go high-spirited teams, proud, hopeful, confident. From these doors come teams shaken, disappointed, a bit ashamed in defeat, or jubilant, exultant, triumphant in victory.

12th District Champions

Al Davis and Bill Hassler accept the 12th District Championship Trophy.

"Going somewhere, Steve?"
"No, just coming back with the ball," replies Steve Davis.

The Classes of C.C.H.S.

To the freshman it seems incredible that he will ever sit in the seat of the high and exalted seniors. But time rolls his ceaseless course and the freshman year merges into the sophomore year, then the junior year, and before he realizes it, the student finds that he is one of the Privileged Class. He now feels that it is incredible that he was ever a freshman. These people, working and growing, physically and mentally are the people who make up the multimillion dollar school, for their worth cannot be reckoned.

Senior Class History

The fall of 1960 was election year. The elephants and the donkeys were combating on the doorsteps of the capitol in Washington. At the same time, here in Cumberland County, the "Devils," the "Hornets," and the "Bulldogs" were fighting in the gym of C.C.H.S.

I was but a green freshman then. But, like my comrade, I joined forces with my Alma mater and began the journey of four years through high school. We sold candy at first to survive the struggle economically.

Time went by like the sand in an hour glass. Each speck of sand like the others, representing homework, ballgames, and social life.

However, at the opening of my Junior year, something new happened. For the first time the "Devils," the "Hornets," and the "Bulldogs" joined together peacefully and gazed upon a new structure—our new abode.

I felt like a freshman again—lost among strange faces in the strange capacious corridors. But feeling fresh, free, and rather smart, I helped swing the class election for Buster Campbell.

With a bright spark lit by the uniting of three rivals, our class began establishing itself economically. Just to prove I was a loyal class member, I sold candy, bracelets, and hats, and decorated for the dances we sponsored.

Finally May came. Armed with scotch tape, thumb tacks, and crepe paper, I helped convert our ordinary cafeteria into an extraordinary ballroom. Our first prom was a great success. Girls with their beaux filled the room while the "Sterophonix" played "Somewhere over the Rainbow."

The fall of 1963 began the last and most difficult year of our long, treacherous journey. Larry Thompson was elected class president. He immediately put us to work selling pennants, washing cars, and throwing dances for the "Great Cause." Outside of keeping our class money pouch filled with silver, we wrote term papers, applied for college, took tests, and kept up with our studies. What reward will we get for all our work? Washington? New York?

Ah! Having survived the journey, I now gather my possessions—class ring, graduation cap, tassel, annual, and kiss my dear locker goodbye.

O brave new world, what have you to offer me now? I have passed the first test, but the journey is not over. I hope you're glad to see me, world, because here I come, ready to meet your demands.

When three lovely salesladies surround a lone gentleman, he doesn't have a chance, even if he is the County Superintendent of Schools. The seniors have to make money, don't they, if they are to take a trip? Anybody want to buy a pennant?

"You seniors need to get on the ball in these last few weeks, and take care of those incompletes while you can. You can prove your maturity by accepting the responsibilities that are yours. In a little while you'll be out in the world on your own, and there will be no one to prod you along. Then you'll see the value of self-reliance," says Mr. Gibson in a pep talk to seniors.

Mr. Carr Says Good-by

Goodby, Seniors. As you go out into the world, remember that you wear the ring and carry the diploma of Cumberland County High School. Many of you will go into foreign lands. Remember that on you is stamped the image of the United States of America so that people who see you will judge the country by you. If your behaviour is coarse, cheap, or immoral, your school and your country will be judged accordingly.

Be good representatives of your school; be good Americans; be good men and women. Read the newspapers and know what is going on in the world, and remember that the history of any people will be no better than the lives of the people who live it. This I would have you write on your hearts, for it is the only way to preserve the things that we Americans treasure.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "B. M. Carr".

B. M. Carr

CODE OF ETHICS

WE, THE STUDENTS OF C. C. H. S. BELIEVE THAT WE HAVE CERTAIN RESPONSIBILITIES TO GOD, OUR COUNTRY, OUR COMMUNITY, OUR PARENTS, OUR TEACHERS, OUR FELLOW STUDENTS, AND OURSELVES, AND THAT BY PARTICIPATING IN SCHOOL GOVERNMENT AND SHARING SCHOOL RESPONSIBILITIES WE SHOULD STRIVE:

TO DEVELOP HIGH MORAL STANDARDS AND THE COURAGE TO LIVE BY THEM.

TO REGARD OUR EDUCATION SERIOUSLY IN ORDER TO PRESERVE AND STRENGTHEN OUR AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE.

TO HONOR OUR PARENTS, TEACHERS, AND FELLOW STUDENTS BY SHOWING RESPECT, CONSIDERATION, AND COURTESY.

TO DEVELOP AN ATTITUDE OF GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP AND FAIR PLAY IN EVERYTHING WE DO AND TO RESPECT THE RIGHTS OF OTHERS.

TO BE HONEST WITH OURSELVES AND OTHERS
WHAT WE SAY AND DO.

THESE RESPONSIBILITIES WILL BE WORTHWHILE AND WILL

It happens in all classrooms. There are the alert and eager, and there are those who work the "graveyard shift" and have difficulty in staying awake, no matter how interesting the course or how pretty the teacher. We have many students who work. Mrs. Eileen Sims is at her desk.

A day of reckoning comes in all classrooms. Report cards are given out following six-weeks tests. They tell the story of each student's work, be he a "waker" or a "sleeper." Butch Smith seems pleased with the card handed him by Mr. Frank Holladay, but there will be some frowns.

To entering freshmen, C. C. H. S. is a "big, wide, beautiful world," or it is "desolate, windswept space" until they make friends and it becomes "theirs" and they feel a part of it. They soon begin to feel at home in the drafty halls, and in no time at all they are gathering in little knots talking of last night's game, or the "terrible assignments," of the coming test, or who is dating whose girl.

By the time Tacky Day rolls around, the freshmen are as much involved in the fun as are the seniors. Ann Saylor, Gerri Sue Martin, Carolyn Kemmer and Nettie Stevens get into the spirit of the day, decked out in the most ridiculous costumes they can get together.

The second Freshman class to enter high school in the new building began with almost four hundred students. Statistics prove that a pathetically large number of this group will never reach their senior year. Even more will go on to college in a world where a college education is rapidly becoming a "must." Every effort is being made to hold this class together and to prevent it from having the usual percentage of drop-outs. Only graduation night, 1967, will prove how successful those efforts will have been.

MARLOW MOTOR COMPANY

Cumberland County businessmen believe in Cumberland County schools and back school-promoted activities. As individuals and as a group they lend their support to the all-over educational program of the county. They employ many of our graduates; they boost our band; they work for our athletics. Without their help and co-operation much that we cherish as a part of our national heritage would be denied us. Patronizing home business, industry, and products will help to assure continued progress in our schools, in our communities, and in our county.

To Our Readers

The staff of the 1964 PLATEAU wish to thank all those who have cooperated with us in the preparation of this book. Our friends and patrons have worked wholeheartedly, not only in this project, but also in all that our school has attempted. We feel that our entire community can take a just and lasting pride in the part its people have played in helping us to carry out our program for the benefit of this generation and of those to follow.
