~Learning Targets~

EL- Opinion Writing! We are going to have many conversations about how everyone has their own opinion and we do not always have to agree with others, but that it is important to be respectful of those different opinions. This will help us shape the foundation of our Opinion Paragraph.

Math in Context- This unit focuses on linear measurement where we will have the opportunity to explore and practice different forms of measurement. Students will use what they know about addition and subtraction to further enhance these principles, while considering accumulated distance.
