

1. Nancy Dixon

Our first inductee in the Hall of Fame class of 2025 is Mrs Nancy Dixon

Nancy June Maxwell Dixon is not just a Hall of Fame inductee—she is home. She is home to anyone who meets her, anyone who is loved by her. And if you know Nancy, you know this—she loves everybody.

Nancy's story is woven into the very fabric of Central. She first walked these halls as a first grader in 1962 and proudly graduated in 1974. During her years here, she was a dedicated member of the Varsity Band, a color guard member, a four-year Varsity Basketball player, a State Literary finalist in typing, and part of a singing trio. After attending West Georgia College, her path circled right back to Central, where for 35 years she faithfully served as Media Clerk and Registrar—helping students every single day with patience, kindness, and a smile.

But Nancy's roots at Central run even deeper. Her grandfather, Rhudy Maxwell, was an educator here in the early 1960s. Her parents, Billy and June Maxwell, poured their hearts into this school system. And Nancy has carried forward that same love, that same dedication, that same spirit of service. Truly, she is her mother's daughter.

Family has always been Nancy's heartbeat. She is the second oldest of six children—Ray, Tommie, Luke, Lorie, and Tommy Eason. She married Richard Dixon, Carrollton High School Class of 1966, and together they raised three children—Linsey, Lane, and Dan—all proud Central graduates. Now her greatest joy is in her grandchildren—Kennedy June, Julia, Annie June, and Macey—the next generation blessed by her love and example.

What makes Nancy extraordinary is not just what she has done, but how she has done it. She has lived by the simple, profound command: "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." She treats everyone like family. A lifelong member of Oak Grove Baptist Church, she has shown us all what it means to live with kindness, with service, with love—and yes, with really good cookies. Nancy has taught us that a smile given is a smile received.

Nancy is like a deep-rooted oak tree, planted in Central's soil. She has stood tall with strength and grace, offering shade and shelter to those who needed it, guidance to those who sought it, and love to everyone she encountered. Her branches stretch wide across this community, and her roots run deep into the history of this school.

It is only fitting that tonight, we celebrate Nancy June Maxwell Dixon—not just for what she has done, but for the way she has lived: faithfully, joyfully, and always with a heart turned toward others.
