

CEDIK Appalachian Health Career Scholarships

The Community and Economic Development Initiative of Kentucky (CEDIK) at the University of Kentucky is administering scholarships where funding has been provided by the New York Community Trust to Appalachian students seeking education in health or a health-related field. Because of the shortage of health care providers in the Appalachian region, along with the expected retirement of many physicians and an aging population that demands more health care, the need to educate and then retain young health care professionals is a real priority. Scholarships are allocated for full-time students with a maximum award of $2,500 per semester. Part-time students are eligible to apply for partial scholarships. Students must be from an ARC defined Appalachian county to be eligible. Scholarship is for one year.

Assembling the Scholarship Application Packet

CEDIK Appalachian Health Career Scholarship Committee
c/o Sarah Bowker
419 C.E. Barnhart Building
Lexington, KY 40546-0276

The CEDIK scholarship committee will review all applications and send out award notices around July 1st, 2021*. It is anticipated that 10 full scholarships will be awarded.

*Note: No calls or emails, please. All applicants will be informed by mail once scholarships have been successfully awarded.

Awardees: If you have been chosen as a recipient of the CEDIK Appalachian Health Career Scholarship you will be required to provide a progress report at the end of each semester. This update will include a short narrative describing your progress towards your degree and the grades you earned during the semester. The next semester of scholarship funding is contingent on the completion of this progress report, and a GPA of 3.0 or higher during each semester of scholarship funding.
