

Student Support Team

Information for parents of children in the school district who may require intervention, evaluation, or programs for special needs.

What is the purpose of a Student Support Team?

Student Support Team is a means for teachers, parents, and/or specialists to voice their concerns about a student and in return work with other team members to develop interventions. Results of interventions are reported and when appropriate additional interventions are offered.

Who is on a Student Support Team?

The Student Support Team consists of a school administrator, parent, central office staff, general education teacher, special education teacher, and in some cases other specialists such as a speech and language pathologist, guidance counselor, or occupational therapist.

Who can request a Student Support Meeting?

A request can be made by a parent, guardian, teacher, school administrator, or specialist. A request for a Student Support meeting can be submitted to your child's school administrator. Contact your child's school to obtain the appropriate paperwork and to request a meeting. Parents are encouraged to first meet with teachers regarding concerns as the concern may already be something the teacher is working on in the classroom.

Once a referral for a Student Support meeting has been received by the school administrator, the team must meet within 10 business days. If a referral for a comprehensive evaluation is made, that referral must be received by the special education administrator within 3 business days.

When is a referral for an evaluation made?

A referral for an evaluation is made when the team determines that interventions are unsuccessful and a more individualized plan needs to be developed. The purpose of the multidisciplinary evaluation is to determine eligibility for special education services.

Once the referral for an evaluation is received by the special education administrator, the comprehensive evaluation must be completed and the Eligibility Team must meet within 65 business days.
