IS ANYONE LISTENING?

Years ago, we walked next door and asked our best friends to come out and play. Tag, Mother May I, and Duck Duck Goose gave us a simple, unforgettable pleasure. Later, we sat at home, at our computers, playing games and chatting online. We matured and no longer went outside to play, but found enjoyment sitting in solitude, communicating with people from other countries on the internet. The telephones, computers, and video games that kept us company replaced human entities.

Were people better off with electronics rather than contact with people? Did we need to talk to a person face-to-face, or could we live our entire lives using electronics instead of learning to relate to our neighbors? The events of past years suggested that the human psyche broke down without continuous contact with people. The massacres at Columbine High School, Jonesboro, and other schools around the nation were attributed to listening to violent music and playing gruesome video games. Was that really the cause? Perhaps the students merely felt ignored or disliked at school or at home.

Could we discuss our problems with our parents, or did we have to turn to impersonal electronics that greeted us by name when we turned them on? No matter how far technology advanced, nothing could replace human affection. In the hurried pace of everyday life, how closely did we communicate with parents and siblings? Did we communicate with a superficial "How are you?" or "How was your day? I've got to go." Or did we participate in a heartfelt, genuine, look-you-in-the-face conversation?

At school, with the advent of extracurricular activities like clubs, sports, and See You At The Pole (an early morning prayer group), students were able to communicate with friends, coaches, and club advisors.

We spoke, but were we heard? Others spoke, but did we listen? IS ANYONE LISTENING?

Showing her school spirit, senior Candie Payne epitomizes homecoming week.

Student Life

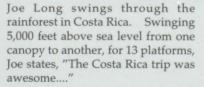

While rafting with many of her friends, Freshman Emilee Warner says, "When I went rafting, I wasn't listening to the guide. Unfortunately, half of the crew fell off because of my actions." Pictured: Emilee Warner, Alex Douglas, Emma Paquette, Jill Williams, Keisha Martin.

Wedged between giant boulders, Adam Strachn remarked, "Rock climbing is the most demanding sport I've ever done. But to be able to go to a cliff and say, 'I can climb' is a great sense of accomplishment."

Scuba diving with her sister, Sarah Quillen, Senior Rachel Quillen says, "After seeing a 10ft. shark, an underwater photographer snapped this picture of our terrified, stunned expressions, but we didn't make a sound."

White-water rafting, bungee jumping, and rock climbing filled the students' summer with excitement. Many students took advantage of the three month break and traveled throughout the world experiencing breathtaking events. Several adventures involved water, including rafting, scuba diving, and swimming in foreign waters. Sophomore Josh Baird said, "I went white-water rafting on the Ocoee."

Some students journeyed out of the country with their foreign language instructors to learn the different sounds around the world. Ms.Wyatt took six students to Costa Rica. Junior Amanda Manis said, "One of my adventures in Costa Rica was riding on a horse smaller than me!"

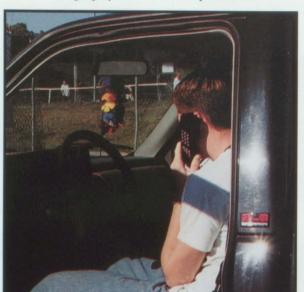

Others traveled with their families. Junior Travis Coleman said, "I went on vacation with my family to Alaska.. It was really fun and we saw a killer whale. It was great and I had a lot of fun."

For some, goals and dreams can turn into adventures. Senior Jesse Thomason said, "I went to a flight academy and flew a plane by myself, with no one in it but me!"

Standing with the Smokies Mascot, Sophomore Marley Wyatt says, "Singing the National Anthem at the Tennessee Smokies Stadium this past July was truly an honor and a dream come true. Sometimes you just can't explain the feeling of accomplishment when thousands of people who you don't even know are cheering for you! It makes you feel completely humble and grateful for the opportunity!"

Rushed for time, Junior Tyler Brown comments, " It's a hard life being a player, but somebody has to do it."

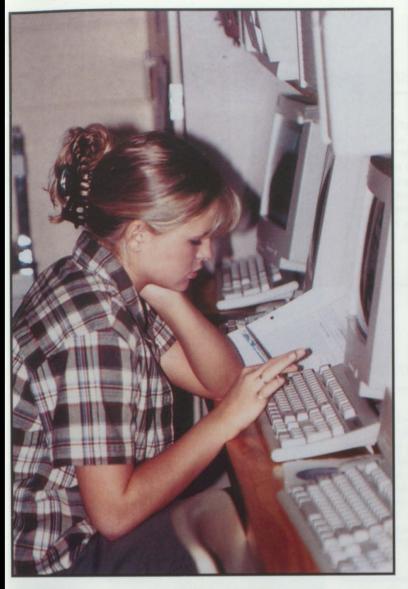

Concentrating on her keyboarding , Samantha Gullickson says, "Working on computers helps you prep for the future."

Working on the computer with his partner, Jenna Gentile, Senior Jason Jackson says, "The technology of today is very useful, especially in creating the yearbook and newspaper. Also, technology has allowed the school system to function easier; notice the attendance?"

"I like the fact that there is such easy access to computers in our school these days." states Lacy Mace.

The telephone rang, the beeper beeped, and the computer signaled new mail had arrived. "I think that cell phones and beepers are a waste of money. I do use the internet, to talk to my friends whenever they are out of town. The noise made by cell phones and beepers just get on my nerves," stated Junior Nathan Potter.

Students used technology for different projects such as: papers written for research, parents called for late curfews, or parents beeped for emergencies. "Good thing we have cell phones because now I get women calling me 24-7." exclaimed Sophomore Dennis Gilpin.

Technology existed in everyday life. Technology had a place in homes, in schools, and at work. Sophomore Lee Hale proclaimed, "If my parents did not have a cell phone, I would hardly ever talk to them."

Teachers encouraged the internet. Students went to the lab to do research, to look up topics, and to type papers. Freshman Amy Foust said, "It saves me from having to write a huge paper. All I have to do is hit the print button." Vocational teacher, Jason Atkinson commented, "I think the advancement of technology in the 21st century has made the wealth of information readily assessable to everyone."

Talking on her cell phone, Jessica Strait remarks, "Technology is great, especially if you are a busy person and have a lot of people that need to get a hold of you."

Having a blast sweeping the hay off of the floor, Sophomore Nikki Christopher says, "There is nothing I'd rather be doing then cleaning up after animals."

How much did you say?

Buying tickets, Sophomore Ryan Dickenson says, "I love going to the fair; I love talking to all those carnies who are so loving and kind. Sometimes they even say 'thank you' whenever I spend fifty dollars buying tickets. I simply am infatuated by them!"

Did you say I'd be scared?

While feeding a horse, Senior Patrick Brady says, "The fair was fun, but the rides were not that great this year. Don't get me wrong. Some of the rides were stimulating, but not the 'Cliffhanger.' It just goes around in a circle and it hurts your chest."

Did you know that ...?

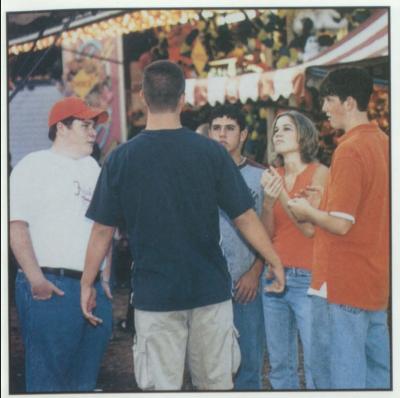

While comparing the eagles, Senior Byron Jenkins says, "The ceramics were neat. Looking at them showed me that you can do or be anything you want. All you have to do is believe in yourself and others."

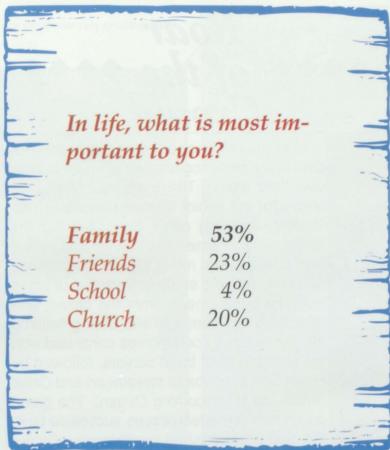

Dancing around with her friend Kelly Cope, Sophomore Melissa Cole says, "Me and my best friend are having a Snapblast dancing beside our church booth at the fair."

Standing around with Krystal Jackman, Bobby Killeen, Brad Daughtery, and Chris Poland, Sophomore Josh Davis says, "No, you big bully! You can't have my girlfriend or my Frito Bandito money!"

Snap, Craekle, Pop

The food sizzled on the grill, the fireworks crackled in the sky, and the rides filled the atmosphere with screams of laughter and fright. Remember the sounds of the fair?

Down the path, an assortment of booths and tractors led the crowd towards the midway. "Working at my church fair booth was great, but I popped more balloon animals than I actually made," remarked Sophomore Ryan Howard.

It became quiet and the fairgoers heard the sound of the hamburgers cooking on the grill. "The food's always my favorite part of the fair," exclaimed Junior Shalinee Patel. In the stadium, the Fairest of the Fair Pageant was being held. Many nervous contestants anxiously awaited the final results. "I really enjoyed my year of being Jr. Miss Fairest of the Fair," proclaimed Junior Jamie Touton.

"It would be nice to see new rides next year," said Freshman Katherine Marrow. But the fair was not enjoyed by everyone. Junior Alyssa Daughtery added," The rides were fun, but WAY too expensive, and the lines were too long."

Junior Mari Scara proclaimed, "I can't wait until next year!"

Junior Cameron Koucheki says, "There's nothing better than going to the fair and driving a bulldozer!"

* of the * Crowd

After a week of class competition, the student body came together as a whole to support their team. The traditional pinning of colors for the senior football players, cheerleaders, and flag corps foreshadowed the excitement to come. The players rushed the field pumped and ready to win. The sounds radiating from the stadium were that of brass from the band, cheers from the crowd, and later, hard hits from the field. During halftime the homecoming ceremonies continued with the recognition of band seniors, followed by Helen Stone, the band sweetheart and Callie Smith, the Homecoming Queen. The game continued with perfect passes, successful tackles, and accomplished touchdowns. Freshman Michelle Brady said, "It was a close game. I thought the Jets played really good." The Homecoming dance followed the game, bringing spirit week to a close.

Kicking the ball, Senior Timur Tarakcioglu comments, "I enjoyed playing football for CCHS. I wish I started when I was a freshman but I sure will continue in college."

With a smile on her face, Callie Smith says, "When I heard my name called I was so excited I even forgot how cold it was. That was an honor I'll never forget."

Standing with Bethany Hollingsworth, Sophomore Cassie Thompson says, "The game was very exciting, I just wish I would've been a little bit warmer."

While cheering and waiting with anticipation, Emily Tillery exclaims, "My school spirit helped the Jets. Win or lose, we were always there!"

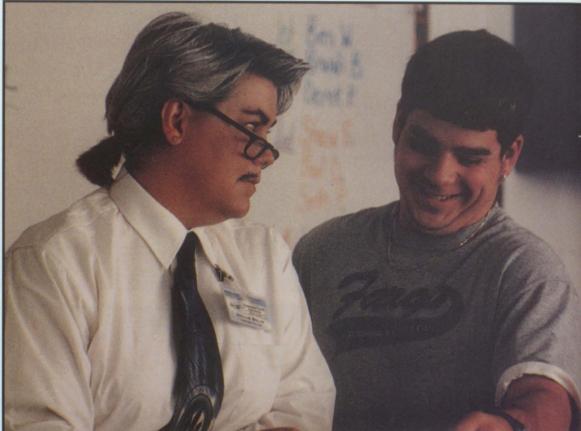

While scanning the football field, Bob Atchley repiles, "I really wasn't able to pay much attention to the game. All I could think about was how good Kyle looked in his stunning black suit."

Working hard on the sidewalk art, Senior Maggie McHugh exclaims, "My sidewalk chalk art lives on even though the custodians pressure washed it away!"

Talking to her student, Teacher LeeAnn Sherrill explains, "Scott, don't laugh because my mustache is better than yours."

Eating Pig's Feet, Freshman Brad Mini says with disgust, "It was the worst thing I have ever eaten in my life" Working on the float, Sophomore Delilah Brown exclaims, "Our float was awesome and it really paid off, we won! Go class of 2003!"

" I thought it would be funny to dress up as my FAVORITE authority figure, Mr. Bolin! I needed some white hair and made it out of some ridiculous cotton junk or 'sumtin'" said Brian Heckler

Standing with his role model Chad Austin, SRO Gene Hall states, "I wanna be just like him when I grow up."

Give a Cheer

Crazy dress up days, Hawaiian decorated doors, artistically chalked sidewalks, and brightly colored floats raised our spirits for Homecoming Week. The homecoming spirit was contagious by pep rally time, and everyone was anxiously awaiting class competitions and the game later on that night. Junior Mary Elizabeth Graham said, "It was great when Erin Martin was eating the pickled pigs feet in the mystery food competition and threw up all over Aaron."

The pep rally before the big game was a blast! All you heard were the loud cheers of the students hoping their class won. Junior Chandra Adams said, "The competitions were great, but the Juniors should have won the amoeba race."

Five dress up days allowed creativity and individuality to reign for the stylish student body. Senior Tiffany Davis commented, "I really enjoyed the dress up days because everyone participated and NO dress code!!"

David Martin exclaimed, "Although most classes separate during the competitions, we are still one school full of JET PRIDE!" So, this year would remain again in the memories and in the hearts of students, especially seniors. Phillip "Tiny" Gaynor stated, "I left the school with a warm fuzzy feeling because this is my last football homecoming at this institution."

Riding the Drama float, Senior Jamie Wallace states, "The best part of being in the parade was being able to wear my purple boa and my tiara cause I feel like Ginger from Gilligan's Island."

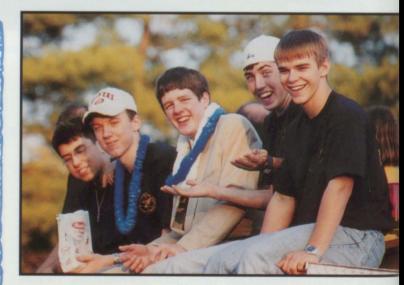

Riding with all of the football players, Junior Chad Dotson says, "I enjoyed riding on the fire truck. Especially since the cheerleaders are right behind us."

Enjoying the ride with Student Council, Junior Dustin Snow states, "Riding on the Student Council Float was an unforgettable experience. I never knew powdered doughnuts could be so fun."

Riding proudly on the Sophomore class float, Wesley Nixon comments, "Riding on the float gave all the girls a chance to see the hottest man alive!"

Walking in the parade, Senior Barbara Powell says, "The garden club sowed much happiness throughout the community during Homecoming. You'd be suprised at the effects a single flower can have."

Riding with the the Senior Class Officers, Senior Ariel Safdie exclaims, "We rode in the back of Scott's truck and every time he stopped we almost fell out! Michael pretended to be Alison. She was on the Senior float"

Crash, Boom, Bang

On a chilly night in October, the homecoming parade noisily wound its way through downtown Crossville. Freshmen Cara Hale testified, "The homecoming parade was very cold. All you could hear was the sound of people's teeth chattering, but we still had a lot of fun on the float."

Students, faculty, friends and family talked and cheered as the parade passed. Firetrucks sounded their sirens, the band marched and played popular music, and the children laughed and yelled as they rushed to get the candy thrown to them by the floats. There were not as many floats as has been in the previous years. Sophomore Marley Wyatt stated, "The parade was a great success and loads of fun. You could tell the floats had been worked on very hard because they were so creative and vibrant!"

For many students, the parade was their last to participate in and others looked forward to it next year. Teacher Mr. Terrebone commented, "The 2000 Homecoming parade was a great success. It is refreshing to see the way this community supports Cumberland County High School."

Listen Carefully!

"Lift your feet, now pull down hard"! said the instructor.

"We'd practiced landing three times in the air. It was great! Then the ground got very close...."

Again the instructor said, "Lift your feet."

"Did fine," said Janet Burnett.

Once again the instructor intoned, "Now pull down hard!"

Arms died half way down-instructor took over," commented Burnett. "Standing up would be easy for most of us," she said, but not for her. "...bodies flew forward-grass stains everywhere...." explained Burnett.

How did adventure turn into embarrassment? Ryan Dickenson's experience also ended like a classic teenage embarrassment. "One time I was doing a 'Pole Dance' for Candace Fox, who demanded I do it in front of Coach Darnell's room. And as I was in the middle of the elusive dance, I realized that the entire baseball team was sitting there, looking at me, and they kept on looking until I left! It was awful! But Candace enjoyed it!"

While skydiving with her instructor, teacher Janet Burnett exclaimed, "Sheer poetry in motion!"

While performing the can-can, Junior Brandi Hinch remarks, "From the fairways to the runways we know how to be a fashionable embarrassment to Coach Jones. But it's even worse when tourists start snapping pictures in the middle of Cracker Barrel."

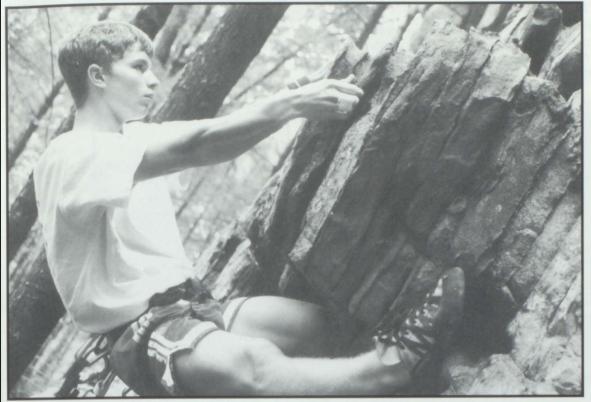

Junior John David York says "I'll confess to the speeding if you won't search my truck, oh by the way, this doesn't require a cavity search does it?"

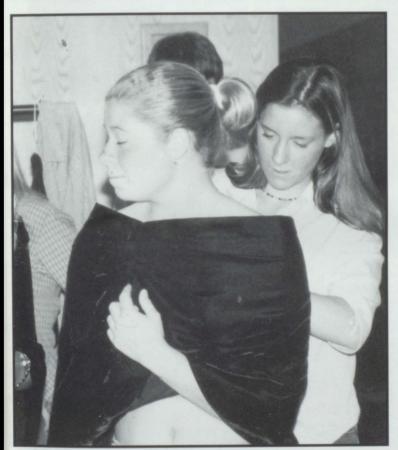

After returning from her abduction, Amy Hinds says, "I knew something was wrong with them. They may have been aliens. I didn't know they would do this to me. Who will marry me now?"

Concentrating on the ledge, Howell Peebles remarks, "One time I was climbing and my pants fell off. Boy were my cheeks red!!"

Standing with Erin Burke, Kemmerlee Pennington says, "I hope I graduate because I don't think I could have another senior picture like this made again. Thanks to Glenda Caruthers, I lost my clothes."

Jet Pride Marching Band

Drum Major Kiel Martin

"Being drum major is like babysitting 180 crazy hoodlums. I had a great time this year, and I hope the band keeps improving like it has."

Drum Major John Stites

"Sometimes in band I get frustrated and I start to cry. Then Mr. Tinnel comes and holds me in his big strong arms and I know everything is 'allllright'."

Drum Major Kim Gipper

"This marching season was great. Being a drum major was a whole new experience, and I loved every minute of it."

The Beat Goes On

Under the direction of Steve Tinnel, the Jet Pride Marching Band once again had a great year. The band recruited nearly two hundred members. Senior Carelton Clause said, "Band lets you meet great people for four years! It's an instant family!"

The Half Time Show consisted of "Winds of Sonora" and "Give Up The Funk." The drum featured "St. Thomas", and the repertoir ended with "Your Song."

The band participated in competitions at Jefferson City, Tennessee, Gadsden, Alabama, Chattanooga, Tennessee, and hosted a competition for East Tennessee Bands at the high school. The band marched in the homecoming parade and the Crossville and Cookeville Parades. Junior Adam Strachn remarked, "With people like Charlie Rachal and the infamous "shocker," Band trips are unreal!"

"Its hard to maintain your drive when you're surrounded by mediocrity." states Steve Tinnel

Band Captain Charlie Rachal

"Band, Always remember: You can't pay anyone to practice for you. I should know because no matter how much I paid my Mom, I never got any better at playing my saxophone. God Bless America and the seven letter word that "shocked" everybody. Thanks Guys!"

First Lieutenant Paul Deatherage

"Being first lieutenant made me think that my family of fellow band members believed that I strived for success and could responsibly hold a high position among a group of adolescents. Soon, my naive daydream was hampered by the realization that the postion of first lieutenant means close to nothing because Steve has the power to force me to stack chairs at the end of the period."

Second Lieutenant Julius Hite

"Looking back over this year and over the past four years makes me realize that it's gone by so fast. I've enjoyed every minute of it. I'll miss Marching Band and Concert Band, but most of all, I'll miss Jazz Band. In Marching Band, I got to meet and know alot of people. I'll miss them as well. I've had fun this year. Marching in the drum line for the past four years has been awe-some. I've had a blast!!!"

Third Lieutenant Katie Nichols

" I am Katie. I like being a band officer. It is exhilarating."

Junior Amy Hinds remarks, "I think that colorguard is alot of fun, and I picture all the other girls as my sisters. We are one big happy family!"

"Trying to teach the rookies all the pre-game, half time, and stand music is tiring, but then during the show you hear them playing all the right notes, and you're like "YES!!!" and that's the reward of it all, " says Junior Meg Jermann.

"I'm very glad to be a part of the majorettes this year. It was wonderful to have a perfect '1' season!" said Freshman Megan Long.

"The Colorguard and Rifle Line are very interesting. We, as a band, took a trip to Gadsden, Alabama. We stayed all night and goofed off, then we slept through the whole bus ride home," says Junior Jennifer Wakefield.

Laura Bridges said, "Twirling means so much to me as an individual. I love competing in competitions around the Mid-South states. I try to get the other girls involved as much as possible as well as teaching also."

"Doing everyone's hair before the game was alot of hard work, but by the time we were finished, we looked GREAT!" stated Junior Shanna Tollet.

"I had a great time in band. Lynn and I had fun marching together in the parades. He's really cool," said Junior Matt Hale.

"Marching in parades is both exciting and exhausting. It's a great way to show support for the community, and it's a lot of fun. In this parade, we froze, but it was worth it to see all the people smiling as we went by!" said Junior Meagan Wright.

Jet Jazz Band

The Jet Jazz Band consisted of twenty talented musicians under the direction of Mr.Steve Tinnel who held auditions to determine jazz band members. Junior Tom Akins said, "Its hard to go and play with others much better than you, and to know how much they have improved. It lets me know that I can improve immensely."

The Jazz Band plays many different types of jazz music from hard rock to slow ballads. Sophomore Seth Chadwell remarked, "Jet Jazz is fun because you get to play for a lot of people and play different kinds of music."

"The Jet Jazz Band had a great year!" said Sophomore Trey Wagner. The Jet Jazz Band performed for its peers at a concert in the school gym, at the opening of the Palace Theatre, at a dance for the Exchange Club, and at the Jazz Band Festival at East Tennessee State University. Junior Bart Kenner remarked, "Jazz Band is much more difficult than marching, but that is ok because we get to play for things and get paid. It is also a whole lot of fun to play for people who dance funny to our music." "Jazz Band is really fun; it is an honor to be in Jazz Band because you have to be a great player. That takes dedication; something I'm proud of", remarked Senior Josh Newberry.

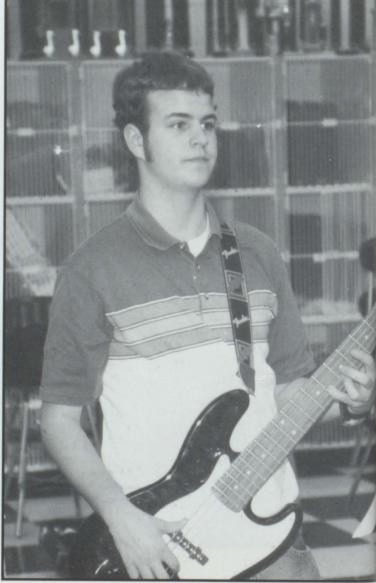

Junior jazz band member Adam Strachn says, "Jazz band is where you really express yourself with the music and listen to others express what they think.

"Syncopation is the key element of jazz. This concept is of upmost importance when attempting to play a shuffle or swing rhythm," states senior Paul Deatherage.

Junior Jim Schaffer says, "I like playing the bass in jazz band. It's really fun, especially when Mr. Tinnel makes you feel like less of a person for ruining the song. Yippee!!"

Third Row: Josh Newberry, Carelton Clauss, Kiel Martin, Tom Akins

Fourth Row: Julius Hite, Lonnie Brown, Jim Shaffer, Paul Deathrage, Abe Garret

"There's alot of energy in our music. I bet that it could light up Las Vegas for at least three or four seconds," says Junior Howell Peebles.

"I love Jazz Band because it is so exciting. I get such a rush when I play my saxophone. Oh yeah!" remarks Senior Phillip Hale.

Junior Kim Gipper says, "Jazz has been FANTABULOUS, except when the guys pick on me."

Basketball Homecoming: School Spirit, Pep Rallies, and More!

Coach Amy Breazeale says, "Homecoming is special because it gives us a chance to recognize our senior players in front of the home crowd."

"Basketball Homecoming wasn't very good like it has been in the past. It wasn't a full week and no one really got into it, but I'm glad we won." says junior Ivy Gardner.

Escorted by Jonathon Gibson, freshman Emilee Warner says, "Homecoming was great this year. The freshman class was robbed! At least our mini float wasn't destroyed."

Sophomore class representative Jessica Conatser, escorted by Frank Alvarez, exclaims, "It was exciting and a lot of fun. It was one of the best experiences of high school!"

Junior class representatives Katie Moates and Chase Burnett escorted each other. Katie Moates comments, "Escorting Chase was just practice for our wedding!"

Senior class representative Andy Ingram, escorted by Katie Ramsey, states, "Being crowned king was really awesome! I guess looking good pays off!"

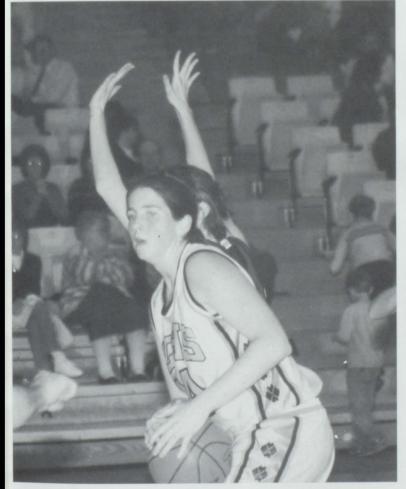

Senior basketball player Ben Whitson states, "It was awesome! It felt great winning my final homecoming game that way we did. It was also a great privilege to do the queen."

Junior Laura Bridges says, "I'm so proud of the girls this year. We have worked so hard and gained the respect that the dance team has deserved for years."

Freshman Anna York says, "The Homecoming activities were really fun. It was kind of weird being signed up for all of them, but I managed."

Senior cheerleader Emmy Reed comments, "Basketball Homecoming was great! It is sad that it will be the last one for me at CCHS."

"My last Homecoming was great! We won every event. Seniors rule!" exclaims Josh Stone.

"My senior Homecoming was the best. It is great to be able to schedule a good team on Homecoming and beat them." says Senior Crystal Davis.

PAY ATTENTION

Motivation, according to psychologists, resides within the individual, so how did a student listen or comprehend lectures, textbooks, novels, or experiments if he/she did not have the will to persevere? Could students who disliked listening to lectures or who disliked reading books intelligently pick political candidates (not personalities) who would protect our individual freedoms by preserving the intent of our constitution? As Americans, we owe our forefathers an education with emphasis on interpreting our constitution and analyzing ideas and concepts which might affect our individual freedoms. History teacher Mr. J.C. Davis commented, "As a teacher in American History, my goal is to help motivate that student who may not really be excited about learning.... Our nation was made great by men who believed in themselves and didn't accept failure. How can I do any less than they?"

John F. Kennedy, in an address at Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tennessee, on May 18, 1963, remarked, "Liberty without learning is always in peril, and learning without liberty is always in vain." Why would "learning without liberty be in vain," a student might ask? "What is liberty?" might be another question. Senior Kenneth Bolin said, "Without liberty, you cannot use the information you gather in learning regardless of motivation. Liberty is the concept that an individual has the right to choose what he or she wants to do or when to do it."

According to The Magazine of the National Education Association in an articleby MIchelle Y. Green titled "Reaching Older Readers," Ms. Green stated, "Reading experts note three distinct categories of struggling adolescent readers: students who cannot read; students who read, but not well; and students who read well, but do not study effectively." Appropriately, when a child was motivated ,but still having problems, a trained, caring teacher was required. Government teacher, Kenyon Patterson remarked, "Motivation is the threat of failure wrapped in a sense of accomplishment. I motivate my students by respecting their accomplishments and noticing their failures and caring enough to follow up on both."

Senior Valerie Flanagan remarks, "My parents are always telling me that high school is the best time I'll ever have in my life. I've worked really hard to get where I am now. I know all of this hard work will soon pay off in the future."

Academics

High Notes and Fine Art

Art classes offered students a break from all those boring mandatory classes. It was always nice to sit own, grab a crayon, and let your imagination run wild. Sophomore Andria Russell said, "Visual Arts is really fun. There's a lot of hands-on activities that are creative and cool." The best thing about art classeswas no right or wrong answers when it comes to creativity.

Another way for relieving all of that built up teen-age stresswas Vocal Music classes. There was more to Vocal Music than just an hour and a half everyday. Students definitely had a great time. Junior Jackie Youngblood said, "Mr. Gibson loves when I sing in my chipmunk voice with the microphone."

Students involved in the Children of Crossville Chamber Orchestra had a unique experience when they won first place in a national competition in Washington, D.C. They also won state honors in Nashville. Four members won a chair in the All-State Orchestra held January 26 and 27 in Nashville. The orchestra played for the Governor of Tennessee two times, once at the Governor's Mansion. They played at Cumberland County Playhouse, Crossville Depot, and for the Tennessee State School Board in Nashville. Freshman Savannah DeRossett said, "Orchestra has been one of my best experiences. Not only did I learn a lot, but I had a lot of fun doing it."

While grinning from ear to ear, Junior Michelle Rainey says, "Guitar class is very repititious. Every day I walk in to class and Exavier says, "Michelle, I got a song for you. It's my "faborite.""

Working hard on her art project, Sophomore Rachel Leviner comments, "Mrs. Armes class is a blast! We get to draw candy wrappers, but weren't allowed to eat the candy!"

While playing deep in concentration, James Crowley remarks, "I hope to one day play professionally and make a bunch of money to buy shirts without collars."

While playing with the orchestra, freshman Emma Pacquette states, "Orchestra is a blast! going to competition in Washington D.C. was a great experience for all of us." From L to R: Adrienne Tabor, Savannah DeRossett, Jason Simson, Emily Volk, and Emma Pacquette

"Singing is always fun. I'm glad that we have a class like this . I've really learned a lot about music" says sophomore Cami Vincent.

While playing the guitar for his band, senior Lonnie Brown exclaims, "This was a really neat thing to do. There is nothing quite like performing!"

While concentrating hard on learning, Ariel Safdie replies, "Ms. Parris' class is enlightening. We are studying and discussing different philosophies about capitalism and communism. I like the open discussions. I love you Ms. Parris!

Devoted to his work Junior, Dustin McCoy states, "English was cool, until we had to do work."

Hear the Word

Language was not just about grammar and punctuation. It was about being able to express oneself with words. Without being able to speak proper English, one cannot achieve the many goals of life, like a good job in the future. Junior Stephanie Morgan stated, "I we did not have English, we could not have friends. How would we communicate?"

Languages other than English were equally important in our daily lives. Our curriculum also offered Spanish, German, and French classes. Junior Tori Brown said with enthusiasm, "Besides Chinese, French is the main language in the business world. Plus it's really romantic." Whether correcting a grammar mistake, or translating a phrase, the Language department helped us grow as people Ms. Atkins said with a grin, "Ain't English a great art?"

While jamming with his Spanish pals, Junior Brad Miller says, "Learning Christmas songs in Spanish was a new experience."

Listen to the Language

"I learned English really easily, but I still have that funny accent from Turkey."

Timur Tarakcioglu, 12

"English class reminds me of that time those dogs bit myleg. Thank God I won't be here next year!"

Charlie Rachal, 12

English

"Learning a foreign language opens one up to a wider world."

Mr. Galen Bell

"German has changed my life!"

Dale Ernst, 10

German

"Spanish is very hard, but Ms. Wyatt makes it fun. So of course I learned a lot."

Willie Patton, 10

"Spanish is a really fun class. Ms. Wyatt makes it that way because she is awesome."

Spanish

Joseph Elkins, 10

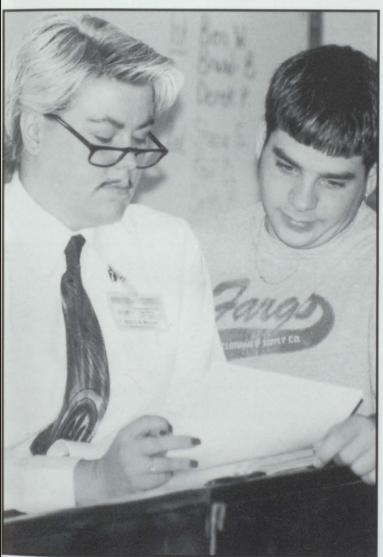

"I think French is fun! I have a lot of friends in the class, so I'm not alone in my broken French."

Dara Smith, 10

"French is a great opportunity to learn about foreign cultures and customs. Qu' est-ce qui se passe?" Matt Goney, 10

French

While having a blast in Ms. Wyatt's Spanish class, Sophomore Joe Kalbarczyk exclaims, "Noche Buena was a fun time to get together with friends and family for the Spanish celebration."

Studying hard in Ms. Phillip's class Junior Manuel Fuentes quotes, French is a fun and easy language

While Mr. Bolin, uh., Mrs. Sherrill, discusses Scott Bruneel's work with him, she exclaims, "That will be six detentions for not wearing a collar, Thoroughly confused, Senior Emilie Udell states, "They told me in Math 4 we would study "The Matrix." I found out later they weren't referring to Keanu Reeves."

While concentrating hard on her assignment, Freshman Lilly Smith says, "You learn a lot in Ms. Blakely's class if you pay attention."

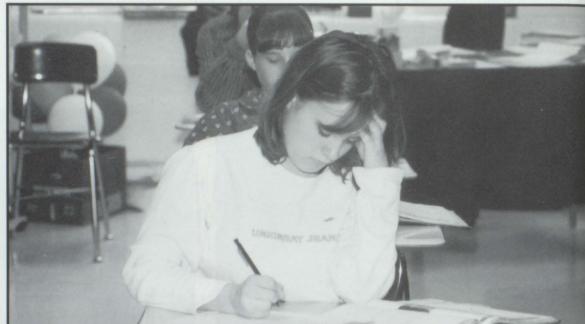

Sophomore Patricia Brown says, "Coach B is awesome! I had a lot of fun in her class. I learned so much."

While sitting in Math class, Nicole Pennington remarks, "If it wasn't for Franklin, I probably wouldn't have passed Mr. Hall's test."

Brain Teasers

High school mathematics has remained one of the most challenging and intriguing subjects. No matter how you felt about the subject, mathematics was an important part of school life. It took a lot of thinking and listening to understand the many concepts of math. With all of the jobs that were offered in our world, mathematics were very important to prepare you for the business world. Junior Cassidy Koucheki commented, "Ms. Buck's class is very challenging. It helps me prepare for future life experiences." Some people enjoyed math better than others because their teachers made it fun. Sophomore Marlene Brown said, "Coach B is a great teacher. We learned a lot in her class."

Junior Tiffany Cumby says, " Ms. Burnett makes Geometry fun and exciting to learn. She even helps you when you need it instead of just going on."

Listen to These Opinions...

Freshman Kelly Gipper says, "I like my math class because Ms. Smith is the best!"

Sophomore Andy Melton says, "Mr. Parker tried his best to teach me but I still didn't get it."

Junior Courtney Holmes says, "Algebra 2 was not the best class I've ever had, but Mr. Berta made it more fun."

Senior Carleton Clauss says, "Math club really helps us to get into competitions where we can improve our scholarship chances."

Wlile listening to the lecture, Sphomore Leah Neil comments, "In Family and Consumer Science we had lots of discussions about drugs, relationships, and food."

While doing creative art in Science, Sophomore Rick Gascot says, "After carving fish out of potatoes we put one in fresh water and one in salt water to see if the potato would absorb the water."

While having fun at the bird ranch, Senior Audra Frady remarks, "I was a little scared to hold the parrot but I got over it after I gave it two peanuts."

Scientific Queries

When the word science was mentioned, a student probably heard life or technology mentioned as well. He/she probably heard the click of a mouse on Ms. Lay's computer or the whispering of lab partners during dissection. The student wouldn't expect to hear the sounds of laughter and fun. In the Science department those were the sounds a student could hear if he/she listened.

There were many science courses to choose from. Physical Science and Biology were mandatory, but Biology 2, Chemistry 1 and 2, Physics, Anatomy and Physiology, and Ecology were available for the student who was interested. Senior Ashley Bell said, "Ecology with Ms. Shaffer has been very interesting. I am amazed at how much information she has about everything. If I ever get lost in the woods, I hope she is with me."

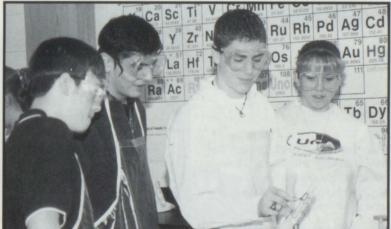

Linda Ridge stated, "Teaching science is like opening doors to new minds and showing a glimpse of the wonders of the world." Science students studied anatomy, but they also incorporated all of life's important studies through the study of biology and chemistry." When asked what science means to him, Physics teacher Randall Blake said, "Science encompasses all realms of life. Whether it is math, English, or a science, they are all brought together in this one subject!"

Junior Samantha Nail replies, "I did horrible in this class, but, all in all it was fun."

Sophomore Chris Brown says, "Dissecting the frog was really alot of fun. I grossed out alot of the girls!"

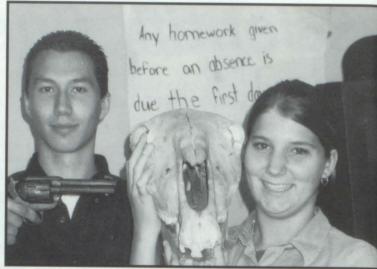

Junior Tyler Brown says, "My experiences in lab were very interesting. Something I'll always remember."

Standing firm and strong, Junior Jared Norwood exclaims, "My favorite part of history is seeing Mr. Davis dress up and play with cow tongues."

Junior Leslie Burnett states, "History has to be one of the most interesting classes, especially since I have it with Mr. Davis."

Listening closely, Junior Sarah Hynek says, "Mr. Davis' class is really fun and interesting. Don't be afraid of him."

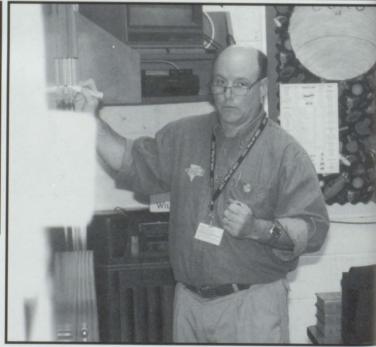

Standing in front of her class, Ms. Akins exclaims, "Who did what to whom, how and why things happened, what was it 'really' like to live in a different time, what is our direction now...I LOVE this stuff!!!"

While trying to make a point, Mr. Inman comments, "The importance of studying history can be summed up with, 'Pay me now or pay later.' In other words, study it now or be doomed to commit the same mistakes of the past."

While loading her rifle, Junior Tori Brown states, "Mr. Davis' class is awesome. He always finds a unique way to teach us, and I love all the great food I get to eat."

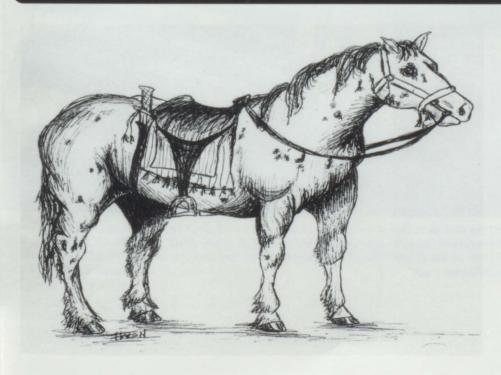

Could the Cannon Shots Be Heard?

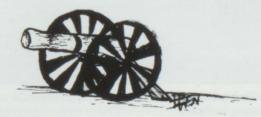

Movies either embellished or downplayed the truth about our history. Thus, we endulged ourselves by learning from our ancestors' mistakes. From the bottom of the trenches to the top of the world economy, Americans struggled. From fighting for independence to fighting each other, our country matured and began fighting for peace among nations.

Referring to economics class, senior Jessica Parsons replied, "Learning about stocks and taxes made me realize how scary the real world can be." Economics teacher Mrs. Hassler stated, "I think Economics is the most relevant course that seniors take. It's real life!!" Teachers equipped students with the knowledge to understand the fabrications of politics, which was extremely important in this election year.

We, as students, were privileged to learn about the follies of past generations. Everyday, throughout the school year, students were eagerly learning about how life was lived over 200 years ago. History was the study of past events, how those events related to the present, and how those events affected our future.

Some teachers focused not only on teaching, but also tried to leave a vivid picture of the past in our minds. Junior Josh Burgess stated, "I have learned a lot of interesting facts in history class this year. The way Mrs. Akins teaches encourages me to learn to the best of my ability." Tiffany Clark replied, "Mr. Davis makes U.S. History intriguing for us. I learned a lot from his comical reenactments of the past."

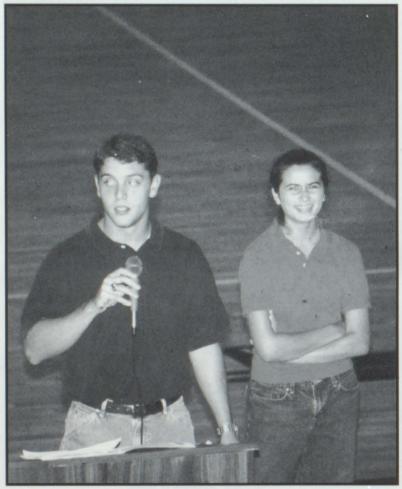

While riding the student council float in the Homecoming parade, Freshman Whitney Ivey remarks, "Riding on the Student Council float was a blast!" Every year student council members sponsor pep rallies to get the student body pepped up for the football and basketball games. Student Council members, along with other students, attempt to get the crowd pumped.

The Voice of the People

Student Council was an organization comprised of representatives for the student body who met as a class every school day at 7:00. Each individual student took part in the election of Council members at the beginning of the year. Candidates had to petition their classmates and have acceptable attendance and grades to even be considered for election. Student Council was advised by Ms. Flory Dunigan.

They have sponsored charity concerts and the CCHS Hall of Fame. Student Council was not funded by the scool board, but by fundraisers that they designed. As senior Emmy Reed stated, "Student council is a great opportunity to participate in school activites...." Student Council hosted homecoming, parades, pep rallies, intramural basketball, and the Miss School Pagaent. Freshman Jenna Pugh stated, "I really enjoy being in student council; it gives me a chance to voice my opinion." Student Council was instrumental in appointing Emilie Udell to her honorary Board of Education seat. This was a result of last year's debate over the dress code. Senior Amelia Hall said, "Council is an exciting experience. There is never a dull moment. It is hard work to put all of the activities together on time. We are also in charge of voicing students' opinions to the administration...."

Jamie Touton, Kyle Hixon, Kristina Keck, Bryan Biss, Amelia Hall, Leah Neil, Candace Fox, Dustin Snow, Matt Keyes, Dale Ernst, Scott Sherrill, Emile Udell, Alison Bell, Ariel Safdie, Emmy Reed, Alex Douglas, Jenna Pugh, Jennifer Davis, Whitney Ivey, Aaron Antwine, Adam Strachn, Erin Martin, Nicki Luttrell, Ryan Dickenson, Mary Elizabeth Graham, Ryan Sherrill

While getting ready for a picture Sophomore Dale Ernst comments, "Student council is a great way to become a leader and to represent the student body."

Shown here, Junior Chase Burnett eats cake out of the hand of his newlywed and exclaims, "The wedding was fun. Nicole thought she would be smart and put the cake in my face, but I'm too quick."

While concentrating hard on his masterpiece, Sophomore Brett Wyatt remarks, "We had to build a bridge in shop and it had to be weight efficient and strong because the weight it held was our grade."

While playing a game with the students, Junior Elizabeth Myers says, "It has been really fun being a peer tutor. I had a great learning experience working with them."

While flipping cookies in class, Sophomore Angie Elmore comments, "Nothing makes me happier than making snicker-doodles!"

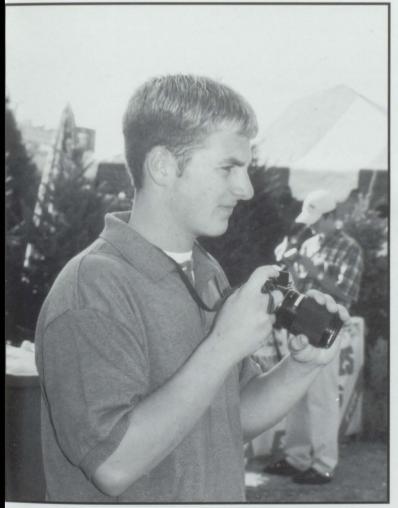

The Sounds of the Real World

Students knew that college education or learning a trade were the only two ways to succeed in life. The vocational department began many students' journey to their future career. Whether a student's interest rest with animals or graphic arts, classes were offered to explore that interest. A variety of classes were offered ranging from Family and Consumer Science to Small Animal Care.

The vocational classes focused on teaching through hands-on learning rather than lectures. Sophomore Michael Wilson said, "I just love Mr. Freeman's class! It's an adventure everyday." Students not only received a chance to learn about their trade, they were allowed to practice by building houses for the community, furniture for teachers, or mini-bridges to test engineering skills.

For some students, their career may not have been considered. Another reason people took Vocational classes was because it was a change from the usual. Junior Johnnie Cooper said, "I like doing things out here on the vocational wings. You learn a lot more than you would if you were just reading a book."

"To me taking pictures is like a tree. There are many "branches" of photography but only one is your real love," remarks senior Bob Atchley as he admires the beautiful scenery around him.

Shown here Sophomore Amanda Godsey works in the shop and comments, "Mr. Wannamaker is one of the best teachers on F-wing besides Mr. Freeman. It's kind of hard being in a classrrom full of annoying guys but other than that it's a great class."

"I think the CPR and Wellness class is very educational and shouldn't be taken for granted. You may need to perfom CPR someday." Pictured here is Freshman Cody Christopher working to pump life into the dead dummy."

VOICES AND HANDS TO SERVE

Clubs came a long way, Baby! In the past, clubs evolved from boring and nerdy to fun, interesting, and motivating. From political clubs like the Young Republicans and Young Democrats to clubs like Wood Carving and Rock Climbing, students became more involved.

Instead of sitting on a couch in front of a television, students joined clubs to interact with their friends and club advisors. Senior Kiel Martin said, "Being involved in clubs is a good way to meet people with similar interests. The Math Club lets me get out of school for competitions, so I love it!" More clubs engaged in activities on the weekend and after school, giving students a chance to interact with other students outside of school.

Although students joined clubs mainly to get out of homeroom, some joined in order to devote more time to helping others. Sophomore Eileen Baragona explained, "[I joined SAVE for the] same reason I became a mediator: I like helping people. I hate seeing people struggling with their problems and having them escalate to violence."

For some students, clubs gave them a chance to gain experience in their chosen career. "I wanted to be able to show that I was interested in the health care [profession] and also how I wanted to help other people," said Peggy Barnwell. Senior Jamie Wallace said, "I joined Jet Theatrix to help establish a good Drama Department at the school and to try to get people involved. Also, Jet Theatrix is a lot of fun!!"

No matter why students joined clubs, they escaped from their computers and video games and joined their friends in activities that strengthened their lives and encouraged communication throughout the community. Senior Heather Smith remarks, "It makes me feel good to work with the Environmental Club. When we helped to clean up the Obed River, it made me feel like I was doing something for my community."

Junior, Jessica Randolph comments, "HOSA is a great experience. I am learning a great deal about health care careers. HOSA is also a wonderful way to get involved in the community through volunteer work."

Clubs and Organizations

While viewing the sites in the jungle, Junior Chris Brown n e a r l y stepped on a huge snake.

While cleaning up the Obed, Senior Chad Houston says, "I love the way the wet, slimy tire felt between my fingers."

Freshman Emilee Warner says, "The Environmental Club is lots of fun. Ms. Shaffer is great."

Sophomore Stephanie Leesays, "Climbing rocks is better than smoking rocks."

Junior Amanda Boring says, "Hiking is an awesome club. It is a great way to exercise and explore the world."

Senior Ivy Hillis says, "I've always enjoyed fly fishing, I like being part of something I really enjoy at school with my friends."

Teacher Janet Burnett says, "In the Garden Club we play dirty. A little sunshine, a little dirt and good friends to dig with..What fun."

The seductive sounds of chirping birds, the running stream, and the rustling leaves filled the air. Surrounded by the great outdoors was a perfect way to spend the day. Students enjoyed a variety of clubs and activities related to the outdoors. Senior Jake Watson said, "The outdoors is a great place to spend the day hunting and fishing, while not having to worry about school." The outdoors are filled with many exhilarating sounds. Senior Nicole Pennington said, "What I love about the outdoors is the sound of the river gushing through the woods." Whether fishing, hiking, or simply recycling, students found pleasure in being outside. "Whether wading a stream, chasing down the elusive trout, climbing hills and rocks to great peaks, or even digging in the dirt to grow beautiful flowers, students enjoy experiencing nature first hand," said Junior Corey Shepard.

Senior Michael Harvel replies, "It was a great opportunity to help Dick Cheney and Bush win the election."

Speaking to the Masses

From debates to politics, the Young Republicans, Young Democrats, Debate, and Literary Team, spoke exactly what was on their mind. These clubs were argumentive and full of energy and ready to dish out anything that was thrown at them. Senior Kyle Hixson said, "The Young Republicans is a great way to promote the cause of the G.O.P. It's like we always say here in the Young Republicans: Don't mess with Texas!"

According to senior Phillip Hale, "Young Democrats makes me feel special, and I feel like I matter in today's government. Politics existed long before our generation and provided many intellectual discussions. It gave students an opportunity to express their ideas and feelings about the way the world should work."

Freshman Anna York says, "The Young Democrats is a fun club. Even though Bush is probably gonna win, we still love Gore."

Junior Kristina Keck says, "We(Young Republicans) are awesome and I have never been in an organization where I actually learned something and still had lots of fun."

Languages Heard Around the World

Helping Sophomores Alishia Shrewsbury and Samantha Stafford , Junior Manuel Fuentes comments, "I am helping students with Spanish because I want my language to improve."

Whether Spanish, German ,or French, one thing is for sure: different languages were heard in our everyday lives. While walking through the halls, the diverse languages of our school could be heard. One could learn a great deal about our culture and many others. Senior Chantilly Burgess stated, "German class was great, but the food tasted a little weird. Die strusel ist nicht so gut!..." Being in a language club enabled students to experience rare cultural events such as Cinco de Mayo, Oktoberfest, or eating at a fancy French restaurant. Junior Cassidy Koucheki exclaimed, "The Spanish club is muy divertido! Not only because Ms. Wyatt is the sponser, but also because we go to Cancuns every month!..."

VICA AND BUILDING TRADES

Vica served trade, industrial, technical, and health occupation students by developing their skills and leadersh qualities. To do this, Vica established goals and developed programs that considered the unique needs of studer who had skills and the motivation essential to success. Being a part of this group was a way to develop leadersh One purpose of Vica was to develop the ability of students to plan, organize, and complete worthy activities a projects through the democratic process and to create enthusiasm for learning. Vica offered opportunities achieve as an individual and offered a chance to get professional help. Students could grow in skill proficiency a leadership through participation in Vica and through competitive activities.

Senior Ashley Smith says, "Photography is the easiest class. We don't do anything in there. Mr.Sanderson is the greatest teacher though."

Junior Jon Hale says, "Working with Mr. Freeman is always an adventure, but I learn a lot of valuable skills."

Sophomore vocational student Krista Kennedy says, "The skills I learn in the shop may help me someday in the future. I enjoy working with all the machinery,"

Sophomore Anthony Adkisson says, "Being in Residential Construction teaches me what it takes to build a house. I've learned many valuable skills in there this year."

DECA was a program of vocational instruction for the field of marketing, merchandising, and management. It was an educational youth organization designed for students enrolled in Marketing classes. Deca Vice President Kemmerlee Pennington said, "Deca is a fun and exciting club. It gets you involved not only with other students, but the community as well. It may even help me in the future."

Deca students participated in regional, state, and national competitions of their own vocational interests. Senior Sarah Bush said, "Deca is an awesome club! I am glad that I can say I'm a part of it. A good thing about this club is you get out of school to go to competition." The competitions they attended were designed to teach Deca members how to be leaders and followers.

Deca provided its members the opportunity to exchange ideas and make new friends. Nicole Joffrion said, "Deca is a great way to meet new people and learn business skills. It's fun competing with other people. Especially when you win! Tiffany Davis and I have a great time!" Deca could be continued after the high school level into the collegiate level. The collegiate level was for students preparing for careers as teacher-coordinators and Deca chapter advisors. Members could later advance into the professional level for chapter and state advisors, supervisory personnel, and local and state advisory committee members.

Deca President Amanda Boring comments, "The Jaycee's and Deca Halloween Block Party was a great community project and we had a terrific turn out! There were so many cute kids with awesome outfits there!"

Senior Jared Spriggs comments, "Having pies thrown at my face really hurt, but seeing all the kids happy made it worth it. Everyone should be iin Deca!"

Junior Melissa Rose says, "FCCLA is a great club. Going to Dollywood was a blast. I got to spend an exciting day with my favorite friends."

Senior Carrie Hollingsworth says, "I think the FTA is a wonderful way for students to get an inside look of the teaching profession. I love being the president of the FTA. It is a great opportunity for me to "play" teacher."

FCCLA

The FCCLA Club prepared students for their work in the community, families, and future careers. A national massive media and awarenes campaign against violence was done in the spring. Junior Melissa Rose said, "The FCCLA was a great experience...."

Senior Jamie Wallace says, "Going on the Drama trips this year was a blast, The competition was tough but we still all had a great learning experience."

Chess

The chess team met every Thursday for team practice. The team practiced for tournaments for the upcoming spring semester.

For the past six years, the chess team competed in the state competition and placed second each year. In 1999 the team faced a tough loss in the last round to bring home a second place trophy. The long overdue first place trophy was won last year. Senior Darrell Wyatt said, "The team has been great all four years. Last year we won the state championship and we plan to do it again this year. The trips are great, and Mr. Berta is a great coach."

Passing grades and tournament fees were the only requirements to be on the team. Mr. Berta gives us a little reminder when he said, "Studying chess helps students become better learners. It's a proven fact."

Junior Mari Scara remarks, "Drama is an awesome club. When you are acting you don't have to worry about embarrassing yourself, its the character your humiliating."

Voices of the Mind

Senior Leslie Startup says, "The Beta Club is an honor society dedicated to community service. The principles of service instill character in Beta members."

BETA HOSA

Beta was a club full of striving, competitive students with objectives that promoted citizenship, good scholarship and character and hoped to inspire honesty and truth. Not only did they participate in several community projects, such as Toys for Tots, Battered Women's Shelter with fundraisers, Humane Society with a pet project, Family Resource Center, and tutored students in both elementary and high school. For a student to remain in Beta, they had to maintain good grades and have good character. Sophomore Jonathan Papaik says, "Beta Club has been a great experience. It's a great club to be involved in."

Hosa was a competitive health based club. Hosa's objectives were to compete in health care events while showcasing students abilities and building character and self-confidence Being such an active club, Hosa was involved with the Red Cross Volunteers, Meals on Wheels, Teens Against Tobacco Use, and reading to after school students from K-3. Senior Michelle Bush says, "Hosa was a great deal of responsibility and I have gained absolute respect for the medical field. Hosa pays off."

All Hosa members have a sincere commitment to achieve in the Health care industry. Club sponsor Mrs. Bartlett remarked, "Hosa, the hand of our future health care industry, are a special group of people."

Senior Sheena Yankie says, "Beta is a great club that looks great on college applications. We do a lot of community service."

Senior Peggy Barnwell says, "Hosa is a great chance to have fun in a place where you can help people."

The Future Farmers of America and Building Trades were organizations wherel students could apply the skills that they learned in the classroom. Both organizations objectives leaned toward job skills that would make the student independent right out of high school.

The FFA made a positive difference in the lives of students by developing their leadership skills and helping its members to grow personally and to receive career opportunities in agriculture. There were many opportunities for students to participate, have fun, and succeed in FFA.

Building Trades students built a house to learn team work, leadership skills, and craftsmanship. The students helped buy supplies, helped estimate quantity of materials needed, and made suggestions for house plans. Donna Rush agreed, "I felt really mature as I worked on house plans and purchased supplies just like I was building my house."

Misty Bilbrey says, "So I will know the flat thing on the end of the nail is the objective."

Heather Studlar states, "I will know whether or not people are ripping me off when I build a home. I need the T-square now! Thanks Mr. Freeman."

Clifton Strayer remarks," It will help me save money. I will never have to pay an outrageous price to fix my house."

James Reese says, "Upon graduation, plan to start my own business in the building industry like fifty or sixty former students of Mr. Freeman have done."

Sophomore Lacy Joseph says, "I think FFA is a very good club. You learn a lot and have fun."

Junior Andy Melton states, "FFA helps me in preparing for my fututre in agriculture."

Senior Jed Smith remarks, "I am glad I am in FFA. I believe that the skills I am learning now will help me later on in life."

Heather Cooper balances on beams while helping to build a house in building trades.

While at a FFA function, Junior Becky Burris says, "As you can see Stubbs is quite the "ladies man.""

STAND UP AND GIVE A CHER!

Clapping hands, stomping feet, and cheering fans filled the student section with spirit. Fans hoped the players would leave with a victory. Sporting events gave students a chance to have fun at school. Getting out of class early for pep rallies provided students some relief from the long day. Athletes enjoyed leaving school early in order to finish their game before dark. However, the controversy about so much emphasis on sports in our schools as opposed to academics still sparked debate.

In an article by Jomille Henry Braddock and published in The Magazine of the National Education Association titled "Sports Make the Grade", Mr. Braddock stated, "Student athletes were less likely to drop out of school and, in class, showed more effort, were better prepared, and tended to complete homework. Their parents were more involved." Junior Krystle Braunschweig remarked, "All of our sports and extracurricular activities gave everyone a chance to work hard, have fun, and make friends. Sports gave students an opportunity to put a talent to use and to stay out of trouble."

Mr. Braddock, who supervised a Department of Education research project which included 14,000 eighth graders, and who is the Director of the Center for Research on Sports in Society concluded, "Athletes are more likely to develop a stronger sense of personal worth and feel they have more control over their fate than those not involved in sports." Junior Brad Vaughn agreed, "Being a student athlete forces the student to balance his/her time while still working hard to accomplish his/her academic and athletic goals."

While concentrating on his form, freshman John Burke comments, "I learned a lot more from my golfing teammates about self-discipline

The girl's varsity had a successful season, finishing second in the district tournament against the Bradley County Bearettes.

For some of the players, it was their last season, but they played their best. Senior Cindy Gilpin said, "All around, what can I say? This year has been everything. I will miss the girls and Coach Breazeale. I have gained so much skill....I had the time of my life."

Although some seniors were leaving, there was still a great amount of skill standing ready for next season.

CHS 25 Sophomore Brittney Hayes ties to block a York Institute player from shooting. She says, "Basketball is awesome! This year we are going to win state!"

Junior Amanda Stevens, team manager, says, "I apprciate the opportunity that I have had to work with the Lady Jets basketball team. I enjoyed getting to make friends with all the girls...."

Candace Foster dribbles the ball down the court. She says, "Basketball has been awesome this year! We are going to win the state tournement, there is no doubt about it!"

Junior Ivy Gardner tries to pass the ball to another player in a game against york Institute. She says, "Basketball...has been a blast! We have improved dramatically and won a lot more games."

JR. VARSITY GIRLS B-BALL

JV Basketball existed to help in the development of the skills of our Freshmen and Sophomores who didn't get as much playing time as the older girls.

While these girls practiced with the varsity team, they did not get the chance to experience the game situations except in the Junior Varsity basketball games. Game experience was a major part in the development of these young players.

Freshman Maggie Nauman says, "I enjoyed playing on the freshman basketball team. All the friends I made are great."

Freshmen Katherine Morrow says, "Playing on the freshmen and J.V. team was great. It helped to prepare me for Varsity Ball in the future."

Freshman basketball was a new experience for these 9th graders. They came from eight elementary schools in the county with different attitudes and beliefs about what it took to be successful. Their freshman year was where they learned the system and philosophy of our program.

Coach Atkinson complimented the team when he said, "The team was the best group of freshman CCHS had ever had. Their willingness to learn and the effort that they gave was refreshing. The girls were successful on and off the court."

Coach Zimmerman agreed, "The unity of these freshmen girls were stronger than any of the teams I have coached. This will help them in the future as a basketball power for Cumberland County."

At The Buzzer!!!

The basketball season would be memorable for all of those who participated, but for the seniors it would be a memory to last a lifetime. Senior Ryan Spriggs said, "This being my last season playing for the Jets is one to remember. It has been great and Coach Buck makes it a fun sport. He teaches us the leadership it takes to win."

The team showed determination and love for the game all season long. Sophomore Willie Patton said, "It has really been an enjoyable season, and Coach Buck has taught me that hard work does pay off. I can't wait until next year."

Daniel Sawyer says, "I thought the team was great and I had lots of fun this year with my freinds."

Taking a jump shot, junior Chase Burnett says, "That is good form. I don't know if it went in or not, but it probably did."

Concentrating on his free throw, sophomore Brandon Houston replies, "The homecoming game was probably the most exciting game. The crowd is what makes it fun. It is also always fun beating up on York."

Joe Kalbarczyk, playing defense, remarkes, "Basketball was a tough sport and you had to work hard to earn your keep but it was really fun."

"I think the team, as a whole, has gone a long way, but we still have a lot to learn to succeed." says Adam Beleczki

The J.V. team had 16 players consisting of Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen. Sophomore Dennis Gilpen stated,"JV Basketball has been fun. Playing for Coach Capps is very intense. JV gets me warmed up for playing in the Varsity games."

The JV team was a good forum for young players to work and develop their skills. These skills would help them for the time they will spend on the Varsity team. Head Coach Neil Capps stated, "This has been a great experience for me to help young players learn the game of basketball and hopefully for life after basketball." All of the team members worked extremely hard and were dedicated all season long. Sophomore Cub Whitson replied, "JV basketball is the best...."

Bryce Jackman remarks, "Basketball is a lot of hard work, but in the end, it is all worth it."

The Freshman team consisted of ten young men eager to learn a new system. The challenge of learning a new style of basketball was a difficult adjustment for any young student athlete. Freshman Spencer Hassler stated, "It takes a lot of hard work and determination because the practices are the hardest."

Coach Neil Capps stated, "I feel that I have ten young men that have made strides in accomplishing their goals. The future of CCHs Basketball will be bright with these quality young men."

Hard work, dedication, time, and effort were just a few expectations for the cheerleaders. All three cheerleading squads, Varsity, Junior Varsity, and Freshmen, started the year with summer practices at 6:00 in the morning. The girls also held a summer cheerleading camp for elementary students.

All of the cheerleaders seemed to be very close this year. Senior Heather Eberhart stated, "Cheerleading is great All of the girls are sweethearts and I love them all! I am going to miss them after graduation."

Junior Melissa Rose stated, "Whether it is a football or basketball game, the cheerleaders are always there doing a great job cheering on the team. This years squads worked really hard. Senior Nicole Pennington remarked, "My senior year was the best year ever. We have all grown so close and become the best of friends."

For Micah Barnwell being one of the four seniors was an honor. He led the team placing second at regionals and qualifying for state for the third year in a row. He finished the season by saying, "This was a good senior year. Fairwell and Godspeed to all of you."

The season closed with the team finishing sixth in the region.

"We had a good team this year. This being my senior year I had set high goals. Good Luck to next year's team. GO JETS! ", says Senior Jimmy Dale.

"That hill was steep!" states senio Micah Barnwell.

Run For Fun

This years Lady Jets Cross Country team was by far the largest ever. Coach Ray Myers stated, "This was our first year to have a full girls' team at all of the meets and our ladies ran as hard as their coach. I was proud of all their hard training and discipline. They are all fine ladies."

Many of the girls were extremely close with their times finishing right behind one another at the meets. While only a few of the girls returned this season, many newcomers ran for their first time. Junior Alissa Durso said, "I was nervous to be on a team. But I had a lot of fun running for CCHS and being on a sports team."

The Shot Heard 'Round the Track

With new coach Rocky Zazzaro taking over the track team, the season looked promising. There was a strong new team and expectations were high. "I think we will have a good season. We were 13-5 last year," proclaimed junior Chad Dotson. Hopeful about the season, junior Larry Hannah added, "We're going to have a good season. We have a lot of guys off the football team running for us this year." Pictured right, Jimmy Dale remarked, "This year's season will be a lot stronger than last year. I believe with a new coaching staff pushing us hard, we will have much more than just a winning season!"

Sprinting the 400 meter dash, Senior Kirk Evans says, "The running events are intense, but I loved the competition."

Running the 3200 meter race, Senior Micah Barnwell says, "Our season went well and we had one of the strongest teams I have ever seen. I'll miss everyone while in college. Thanks to everyone I've met along the way!"

The Intensity Before the Shot

The ladies track team had a successful season. They had a lot of participation, and were looking forward to the upcoming season. Sophomore Cami Vincent said, "Track is a very fun thing to be involved in, not only do you get in shape you're always around the great people running with you." They believed the new track resulted in their great success because they had a place to practice that had realistic conditions. Junior Andria Russel said, "High jump and track are a lot of fun and when you apply yourself, you can reach great heights." The season ended with 11 wins, 5 losses, and 1 tie. Junior Rachel Brown said, "I love competing in track. It really gets you in shape fast and you spend time with your friends."

Junior varsity and freshmen football was a way to give younger varsity players game experience. Freshmen James Kimbrell said, "It was really fun Because I got to hit people a lot." They played three or four games in a season. Coach Rock said, "JV games are a way to get our players more experience. Winning or losing is not as important as getting better."

Students loved to come to the football games to cheer for the JV team. Chad Austin, a varsity football player, said, "I love to go to the JV football games because I can tell them what they are doing wrong because they will never be as good as me. "The football players were always learning more to get better. Sophomore, Jake Houston said, "JV football gives you experience you need to play on the varsity level."

Great teams made intramurals the best we've had. Senior Chad Austin said, "Intramurals were fun because we were the best and everybody wanted to be like my team, especially Nathan Hillis and Matt Cravers." With all the competition, intramurals were very heated. Intramurals also gave the players time to spend with their friends. Junior Joe Long said, "I like to play basketball with all of my friends." Intramurals was also a great way to relieve the everyday stress that we all experience. Senior lvy Hillis said, "Basketball is a great way to relieve stress that girls give us." Intramurals was also a great way to show off your skills. Junior Justice Graham said, "Hendi (the great basketball king) taught me how to play." So with all of that skill, the intramurals were definintely exciting. Junior Jared Norwood said, "I love basketball. It is awesome! Dunking the ball is the best feeling ever!"

The Men's soccer season proved to be a great season. Coach Zimmerman stated, "Even though we lost some key players, we have a strong nucleus of seniors, as well as some powerful underclassmen. The season will be extremely exciting although we lost some important senior players. We have some up and coming seniors ready to stand up and take charge For example, JustinKnaebel stated, "I think if we play as a team, we'll be unstoppable." But even though this soccer team played well as a team, they had some tough rivals to beat, such as Bradley county, McMinn county and many more. Senior Ryan Clearman stated, "We have a great team so we should be contenders."

VOICES OF THE FUTURE

For most students, the school year was a time to spend time with friends and romantic interests. For others, it was a time to play sports, to get involved with churches and clubs, and to volunteer in the community. Seniors started inquiring about future careers, whether it was higher education or starting work straight out of high school. Underclassmen concentrated on getting their driver's licenses and their first after-school job.

Seniors spent the year anticipating their graduation and planning their futures. Many of the seniors planned to start their higher education at a community college, and then transfer to a larger college or university. Sarah Bush remarked, "My plans after high school are to go to Roane State and then move on to a university, preferably Harvard!" Underclassmen were starting to think about getting their driver's licenses and a good job. Junior Joanna Neal said, "I drove a car I had never driven before to get my license, and I passed. It was such a good feeling to get it! I was proud of myself."

Many students were involved with sports. Whether it was football, basketball, soccer, or cheerleading, students flocked to see their classmates perform. Sports served to push students to do better in their classes in order to stay on their team. Senior cheerleader Amelia Hall said, "Cheerleading is a blast! It is a big commitment, but it has great rewards...."

Some dedicated students listened to their community by volunteering with the FAST (Families And Schools Together) program. The program served the children of the area elementary schools by reading to them and tutoring them after school. HOSA advisor Sheila Bartlett commented, "HOSA students are dedicated to community service. We are presently participating in FAST, Teens Against Tobacco Use (TATU), CPR day at Kroger, and the American Heart Association's Heart Walk." Junior Kiesha Brown said, "The FAST program is a really great program, helping kids understand their work more clearly."

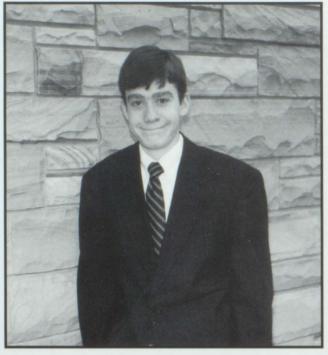

Sophomore Dustin Lester, shown with Elizabeth Buckner, says, "Biology is really cool. I was the King DNA, and I pretty much put things in order, like telling them where to go to make the eye color and stuff."

We all tried to succeed in life no matter what our skills or interests might be. As we traveled throughout life, we continued to strive for a higher plane of success. Although our ambitions might be different, all could be grouped into the one goal for success. When we strived to reach that goal, we found the best motivation suited to our personality that would help us obtain the goal for success.

The motivation that helped me to succeed was the commitment to always do my best. There was a big difference between doing my best and being the best. If we proceeded throughout life feeling good about ourselves only when we won an award or only when we received first place in a contest, we would live a very unfulfilled life.

Instead of basing my success in life on how others feel about what I did, I based my success on whether or not I felt I had done my best. Since I could never do better than my best, doing my best gave me a feeling of self-fulfillment. Like Andrew Carnegie said, "I believe that the true road to prominent success in any line is to make yourself master of that line.

Attending Cumberland County High School has been the highlight of my life. High school has proved to be exciting and the many classes enjoyable. I was pleased with the last four years and shall cherish my memories forever. It was a privilege to be a member of the graduating class of 2001, and I was deeply honored to be the salutatorian. I was able to attain this distinction through hard work, and with the help and encouragement from many wonderful people.

I would like to thank my dedicated teachers for their help, patience, and inspiration. I would like to acknowledge my friends for always being there for me. Without the help of these many wonderful people, the struggle to graduation would have been more difficult. Finally, I would like to give God all the glory. For without Him, none of this would have been possible. He was the guiding light of my life.

Seniors Talk...Classes

"My senior year has been the best year I have had at this school, but it has also been the most stressful!" Erika Hagy says, shown here during faculty day in Economics class.

While the Josten's technician givesthe class an important lecture on how to use the software in Yearbook, senior Jenna Gentile poses for a picture. "I really didn't think Joey had film in the camera. We were all so bored that pretending to be a famous super-model kept me awake. And who is to say I don't have the looks?!"

Graduation

We started as nervous freshmen. worked our way to sophomores, juniors, and finally seniors. There were many events throughout the school year that seniors looked forward to. but probably the most exciting was graduation. Sarah Brown commented, "I can't wait to graduate and get away from the dress code." Graduation was a major event in a senior's life, but it was also a little scary to know we did not have to come back to high school ever again. Ivy Hillis stated, "I really look forward to graduation. Even though I am an eighteen year old guy, I will probably shed a few tears. " Some people considered this a sad experience. Others were excited to leave and start a new life. Pamela Miller stated, "I think that graduation will be great. I will miss the fun times in high school, but I will be more than happy to leave this place."

Commitment

Commitment was a big issue among high school students this year. Just ask these couples.

Junior Alisha Qualls says, "It's really hard to stay committed in high school, but in the end you will be glad you did."

"Commitment is THE formula to a successful relationship because when hard times fall, the relationship will make or break based on commitment," replies Junior Matt Miller.

Junior Kira Farris says, "Commitment is when two people are true to each other through thick and thin, and being able to trust each other with all their hearts."

Junior Ivy Gardner replies,"When things go wrong, it will work out in the end if you are truly committed."

You Talkin' 'Bout me?!

Samantha Nail says, "Gossip is a major issue at the high school. That is where most people get their information and most of the Joseph Long says, "Gossip is the root of all evil. Naw. I like to time it is not right. "

Cassie Yitatoe says, "I think gossip is a so ridiculous. It seems that all people have to do anymore is talk about others to make themselves look good."

what, everybody is going to gossip Chandra Adams says, "No matter gossip and everyone likes to, too. It pleases me greatly to hear about other people's personal lives."

Tr. I know uneer Joanna Neal says, "As a peer mediator, I know gossip causes a lot of problems. We all need to start lifting each other up instead of putting each other down."

In Memory of Our Sweet Lady April Jeanette Lindsey

The Gift of God is Eternal Life. Romans 6:23

April's family is thankful for her loving friends.

We are here today to celebrate April's life. We are here as a testament to her impact on our lives. You have been her classmates; you have worked beside her; you have shared memories of 4-H together and you came to love her through the band and church activities. Some of you maybe didn't even get to meet her but have only heard of her. Some of you have laughed with her, cried with her, shared your hopes and dreams with her. And in the past week you have prayed for her.

May we leave today with a warmth in our heart knowing that April, our friend and loved one is alive with Jesus forever and we leave a better person for having been loved by April.

Freedom Rings

Freedom ... was it worth the price of responsibility? To most students it was a totally different environment. No lines to go to the restroom and seats were not assigned in the cafeteria. That was just the beginning of the changes that took place when students started high school. Freshman Trista Wright said, "In high school we have a lot more freedom and we are able to act our age instead of being treated like ten year old students. We have more space for our privacy and we are able to talk about more things." Having more freedom also meant having more responsibility, and learning how to handle it. Freshman Alejandra Tolliver said, "I like freedom at High school because we....make our own choices and....be responsible."

Screaming Rivals vs. Best Friends

Is it difficult to make the change from playing on an elementary team to playing on a high school team? Logan Smith, basketball player, said, "It feels wierd playing with people you've played against all your life but when you get to know them, it's just as fun." Hard feelings were not a problem when the freshmen came together to playon one team. Jennifer Rose Davis soccer and basketball player, said,"Now that we are all together, being rivals feels like it was never there we are all very close as basketball players and as friends."

Faculty

The staff was comprised of over 150 members. Administration, teachers, and support staff all worked together to make the school function at peak efficiency. When asked about the faculty Heather Eberhart remarked, "It seems like the faculty this year was the best so far. They all seem to work together and have a strong bond with each other."

A new program, The Renaissance Program, was chaired by assistant principal, Dr. Janet Brooker. Members of the committee included: Linda McDuffee, Calvin Kemmer, Kathy Hassler, Jane Parris, Kay Blakely, Kim Herring, and Jill Lay. "The Renaissance program was started to reward students for their grades." Dr. Brooker stated. Working hard to keep this program afloat was very difficult. "All the money for this program had to be raised. None of the money was just given to the program." Dr. Brooker remarked.

Rewarding students was just one of the many things that the faculty tried to do for the students. Clubs were an activity teachers sponsored to get the students active in extracurricular activities. The Garden Club, Math Club, Beta Club, HOSA, and other club sponsors worked hard to keep their activities interesting and creative. Garden Club sponsor Ms. Jane Way remarked "We are working on an exciting project to place CCHS Street banners on Miller bypass in front of the school. This is one of the activities we get the students to help out with to get them involved." In addition to being club sponsors each teacher also sponsored a class. With this came the responsibilities of selling Kroger Cares, float duty, planning dances, planning and helping build basketball and football floats.

Every faculty member worked long hours, many into the night. Spending more time at school than at home was one of the sacrifices that many faculty members chose to make. Mrs. Brenda Wyatt stated, "Spending time at school is one of the sacrifices you have to make in order to perform your job. The end result is bringing a yearbook for the student body and knowing that my classes have been prepared for college or for work."

INFLUENTIAL VOICES

In order for the yearbook staff to fund its coffers, the staff sold ads and collected donations. Funding for the yearbook was not provided by the school system; thereby making The Plateau self-supporting, a small business in its own right.

Being on the staff of The Plateau was a great opportunity for students, not just because they learned computer skills like PageMaker 6.5 and PhotoShop, but because they learned valuable business skills like interviewing techniques, telephone etiquette, proper receipt writing, proper contract writing, and bookkeeping. Senior, Jason Jackson exclaimed, "I didn't realize how organized the Business Manager had to be. Ms. Wyatt expected me to keep a spreadsheet with all the financial information at her fingertips. It took me a while, but I finally did it."

Students were required to make telephone appointments with their contact person at a chosen business. After the appointment was made, the student would visit that business and make his/her sales pitch. Senior Jenna Gentile said, "Selling ads can be pretty hard if you're dealing with someone who doesn't have a sense of humor and expects teenagers to keep a straight face and be serious. That's why I tryto sell to people I know because it is less stressful and they know what to expect from me. For those of you who bought from me, thanks for putting up with my confusion." When the student returned to school, he/she was required to give the contract, receipt copy, and check or cash to the advisor.

The Plateau Staff would like to thank the businesses who participated by buying a yearbook ad. Being able to create a book of memories was made possible by the power the community gave us when its businesses supported our effort by buying ads. Senior Sarah Bush said, "...The businesses being so involved has only shown me how much support they give us. I am not the only one appreciative of their efforts."

Senior Jason Jackson quotes, "With the businesses so involved, it has shown me how much support they give us. I am not the only one who is so appreciative of their efforts."

Cooper, Jessica

While appearing to study her assignments, Crystal Davis states, "Paul, Jim, and I are Ms. Wyatt's best students. She wouldn't know what to do without us. I bet that she will sure miss us snoring along with the beat of her radio."

Josh Wilson states, "As club president (of the guitar club), I felt the need of a club dedicated to the style of metal. I created this club so it's purpose will stand for years to come. After I leave, the presence of metal will befelt echoing through the schools halls."

Newspaper

The Jet Contrail may seem to be an average school newspaper, but when you meet the people behind it, you find out the truth. Entering the Journalism/Newspaper classroom is to enter the beehive of CCHS, with busy bees flying about to collect the honey, or news of the school. The advisor/queen bee, Sandra Purcell said, "This has been a productive year with a hard working staff."

Productive indeed. The Jet Contrail published six issues, including two in-depth issues. Editor-in-Chief bee Emilie Udell noted, "I had to sting a few of the new staff writers for not meeting deadlines, but for the most part, each issue was completed on time." Photography Editor/Honeycomb Photographer Jeremy Atkinson said his favorite part of the newspaper was "...the finished product. Seeing my beeline... er... byline was very rewarding."

So if you hear some buzzing on Bee-wing, don't worry. It's just the busy bees of the Jet Contrail collecting the honey each day.

"Being News Editor for The Jet Contrail was really trying at times. We had some good discussions about yoo-hoo and egg McMuffins. Lots of love to Emilie!" remarks Junior Corey Shepherd.

Emilie Udell
Editor-In-Chief
"You are not a true journalist unless you infuriate people. Some articles we wrote this year made people angry, and that made me proud to be Editor-In-Chief."

Jamie Touton
Sports Editor
"Newspaper can be summed up in one question, 'To write or not to write?" And the answer is WRITE! And when you think you're done you write some more!! Then take a picture."

Jeremy Atkinson
Photography Editor
"Being Photography Editor of the Newspaper has been really great.
There is nothing like seeing your picture and stories in the paper. It is really great."

Phillip Authier
News Editor
"I really like the class. Being an editor is a good opportunity for increasing my writing and people skills. It is a good experience for anyone intereste in writing."

Sarah Hawes
Features Editor
"Newspaper has been a blast. I have learned so much and made great friends. It's wonderful being a part of something so important."

Courtney Holmes, Emilie Udell, Kylene Gill, Jeremy Atkinson, Philip Authier, Jeremy Wyatt, Chad Eanes, Tyler Barnwell, Chris Poland, Matthew Findley

Courtney Holmes
Copy Editor
"Being copy editor is helping me recognize and use journalistic style. I'm thinking of majoring in journalism, so this position helps immensely, and I am getting experience that I can use."

Tyler Barnwell Web Master "We're crazy, crazy rock stars. All of us. The paper is just a coverup for our rock star lives."

Jeremy Wyatt
Opinion Editor
"The paper has been a very hallenging experience, especially an editor, but it is a road I must travel. Maybe I'll turn some heads with writing on my way."

"Being on thenewspaper staff is an exciting experience. I have learned so much from Ms.Purcell." States Junior Lacy Abbot.

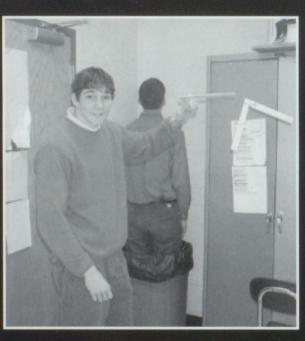

Yearbook

Lauren Lewis- Co-Editor

Q: What was the most rewarding thing about being in yearbook? A: Seeing the results of all our hard work at the end of the year.

Q: How do you think the experience of being an editor will help you in the future? A: Being the co-editor has taught me leadership skills, responsibility, and how important meeting deadlines is in the real world.

Q: How well did you work with the advisor? A: Ms. Wyatt has been great. She has helped me out so much and I value the things that she has taught me.

Seen here Jimmy Dale perfects his tricks on the whifferdill, the new toy made from yearbook tools. Behind him Joie Lyle... well, we really don't know what he's doing.

Lauren Lewis
Co-Editor
"Yearbook i s a great experience! Being CoEditor is a lot of responsibilty but it is also very rewarding. It is wonderful being a ble to see the results at the end of the year."

Erin Neidig Co-Editor "When trouble arises ... there is always one individual who perceives a solution and is willing to take command. Very often that individual is crazy...."

Jason Jackson
Business Manager
"You know, this year has been the most fun in yearbook. Sure, it was stressful, but seeing pages you have created in a finished book really makes you proud."

Jimmy Dale Sports Co-Editor "The real reason I took the class was I had a secret crush on Ms. Wyatt. Shh, don't say anything! Oh, by the way, never take a laxative and a sleeping pill at the same Jenna Gentile Copy Editor "Yearbook is actually a pain. I hate deadlines Hopefully the finished product will be worth it. I made some really nutty friends that will hopefully stay with me forever. Through it all this has been a great experience."

B.J. Gullickson
Technology Assistant
"Yearbook was a blast! Working on all the computers got a little tiring at times, but it was worth it in the end."

Heather Smith
Proof Editor
"Being Proof Editor was a great honor. At times it was stressful but in all I had a blast. Ms. Wyatt you're the greatest!"

Joanna Neal Assistant Business Manager "I have learned a lot having been in earbook this year. Working with the staff was fun and full of surprises."

Joie Lyle
Sports Co-Editor
"Yearbook was the coolest class.
Not only did we get to make our yearbook, we also invented new toys, such as the wifferdill. I can't wait until next year."

Jessica Strait Clubs Co-Editor "Yearbook was great. You get to learn more about your creative style"

Gwen Caruthers
Artist
"Yearbook was great. It is one of the things I'll miss about high school... I really enjoyed being able to join in on the creation of a wonderful yearbook."

Seen here, Leigha Koutecek, Heather Eberhart, and Jenna Gentile look to a magazine for last minute layout ideas while Ashley Moseley and Joie Lyle think about all the work they have to do.

Jamie Touton
Clubs Co-Editor
"Producing a yearbook is a tough job, but somebody has to do it.
When everything gets done and you know it's good it can be very self rewarding."

Rachel Wood
Academics Co-Editor
"Being in yearbook this year has been a positive experience. I feel honored having a part in making this year's book look the best!"

Chandra Adams
Academics Co-Editor
"Putting the yearbook together was a lot of fun. Deciding what goes in it and designing the cover was great."

WE SPOKE, BUT WERE WE HEARD?

The new Mr. Hodges came out in droves for faculty day. Mr. Paul Hodge, Principal, remarks, "Obviously I have been a good influence for these people."

We survived the school year with help from parents, teachers, and friends, but did we really listen? Were our struggles for self-image, for a separate identity, and for our own personal space our own, or did those trials also happen to teens around the country? If so, why did those struggles seem so personal? Senior Nathan Cokes said, "It is my belief that students worldwide have many similar problems. Teenagers have very tough decisions to make, and on top of this, they must also balance the activities of everyday life. I also believe that the toughest action for any student to undertake is to strive for what they have been taught..., not what is the best for their personal well-being. Adolescents want to be the most attractive and the most popular because it is what our society puts a strong emphasis on...."

While school work and studying was taxing, making new friends proved to be easy to make over the internet. Students met new people in chat rooms and made friends worldwide. But, did those friendships endure like the face-to-face friendships made at school and in the community? Junior Tori Brown said, "I personally love chatting in chat rooms, but I would much rather have real friends to be around to comfort me and to listen to me when I need a hug. Computers can't do that."

Perhaps, it would be naive to present the year as perfect. Each student had triumphs and frustrations regardless of his or her status as athlete, student, or club/organization member. It became apparent that listening to each other, to parents, to teachers, and to coaches was important when tests were failed, plays on the court and on the field were missed, lines were flubbed, and relationships didn't always blossom. Senior Landon Davis concluded, "All of these things require communication in order to work. Listening is an important part of communication. Without listening nothing would work."

COLOPHON

The cover of the 2001 Plateau was designed by Gwen Caruthers, who also provided much of the artwork inside. The advisor was Brenda Wyatt and the coeditors were Lauren Lewis and Erin Neidig. The Plateau was Published by Jostens, Clarksville, Tn. The Plateau was sold for $45 a copy. It was designed using Adobe Pagemaker 6.5, Adobe Photoshop, and Yeartech Pro. The delivery date was Spring 2001. Contract photography was by Superior School Services, Inc. The cover was Cordova grain with Gold Foil 380 (matte laminate) and process color 317.

We would like to devote special thanks to Art Sanderson and his students for school photography, to Mr. Paul Hodge, Mr. Hollis Bolin, Dr. Janet Brooker, Ms. Nancy Hyder, Mr. J.D. Atkinson, Ms. Jane Way, Ms. Janet Stone, and to all teachers and support staff. We would also like to thank Mr. Harold McGehee and Mr. Jason McGeHee from Jostens.
