

How Attendance Will Be Documented

There will be varying methods of communication between the school and student to document attendance. These methods include:

- An attendance form will be provided at the beginning of the quarantine (emailed to student and parent or picked up in person) and parents will document the days of instruction that the student was quarantined. This form must be returned and given to the attendance clerk upon the student's return to school.
- Student/School communication may occur via Remind, phone calls, emails, Zoom, etc.
- Work may be submitted in various ways, depending on the teacher's directions, which may include: Uploaded into Google Classroom, attachments in emails, hard copies, etc.
 - For high school students: With the above attendance documentation, test exemptions will be granted as normal.
