Mrs. Stephanie Herring is a dedicated teacher who loves her job at Central High School. Her love for English has enabled her to serve as the English Department Chair, along with teaching AP Literature and French. She graduated with honors from North Clayton High School. She then attended Clayton State for one year, and then transferred to the University of Georgia, where she became friends with Mrs. Monica Smith, who is also an English teacher at CHS. After graduating with a degree in French from UGA, Mrs. Herring then went on to pursue her masters in English from the University of West Georgia. She went on to receive a leadership degree from Samford University. She is married to Adam Herring, and they have one daughter, Isabella, who is eight years old. Mrs. Herring not only has a passion for teaching, but also for Pirates of the Caribbean and Disney World. Her favorite hobbies include traveling and reading. The students enjoy her enthusiasm in the classroom and love her awesome AP writing assignments, which they anxiously anticipate every month. The class of 2012 is proud and honored to dedicate this yearbook to...

Farm Day

On Monday students at Central High School slipped on their boots, hats, and overalls. They also brought along their pigs and cows for a day on the farm.

Twin Day

On Tuesday many different sets of twins came to Central to celebrate a fun week of Homecoming.

Movie Day

On Wednesday each grade showed its spirit by dressing up as a different movie series: Freshmen: Indiana Jones; Sophomores: Toy Story; Juniors: Pirates of the Caribbean; Seniors: The Lion King

Tacky Day

Someone call the fashion police! On Thursday the students at Central High School lost their sense of style.

Which upperclassman has influenced you the most?

Jacob Barnes is most influenced by his older brother, Connor Barnes, who is a junior here at CHS. Connor is influential to Jacob by helping him adjust to the high school life.

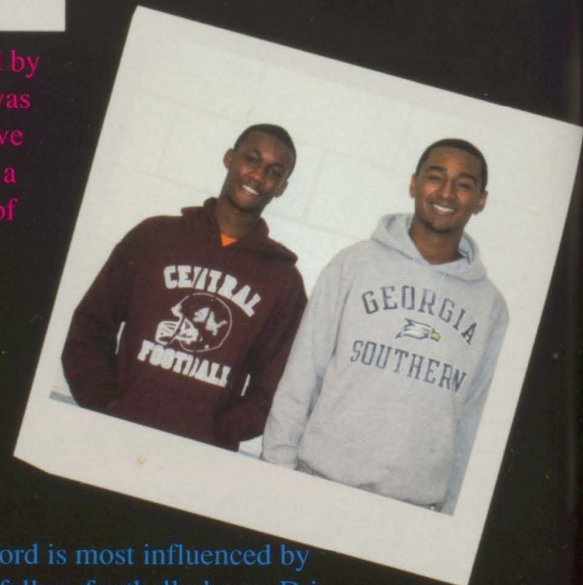

Haley Harrison is most influenced by fellow cheerleader, sophomore Makaylin Taylor. Makaylin welcomed Haley on to the team with open arms and has been a great encouragement through out the season.

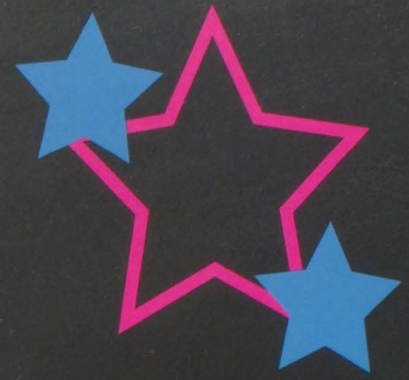

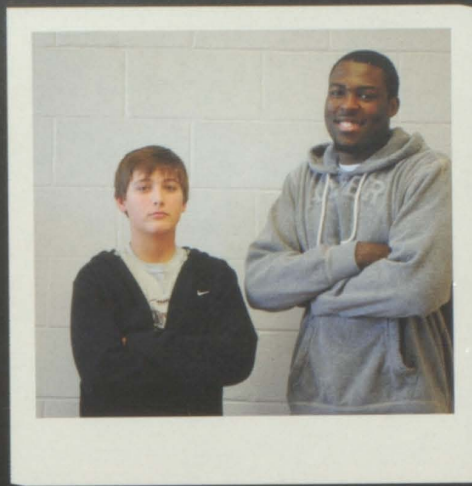

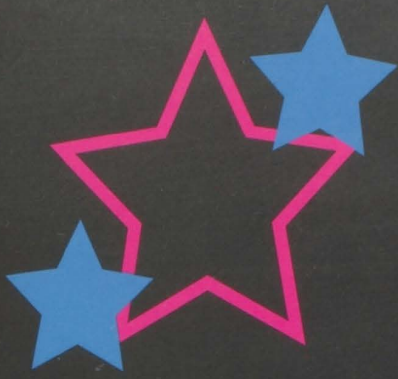

Taylor Funk is most influenced by junior Alison Jiles. Not only was she encouraging and supportive behind the plate, but she was a good role model in the field of academics.

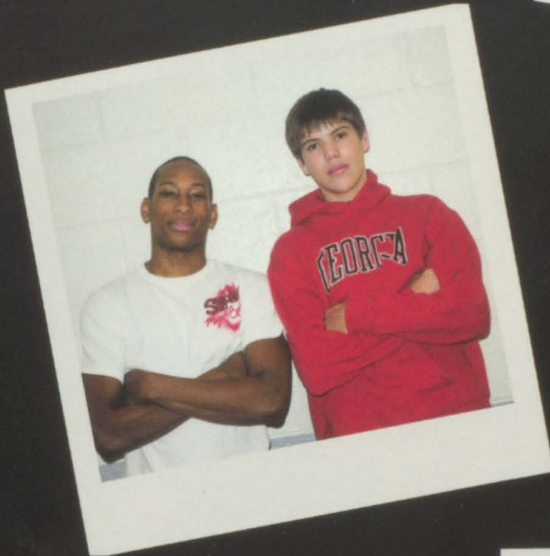

Shannon Noles is most influenced by Sophomore, Diana Nunez. Diana has always been there and supported her through her freshmen year.

Taye Fulford is most influenced by senior and fellow football player, D.J. Vaughn. D.J. has been an excellent leader on the field and a great mentor to Taye as a freshmen.

Brannon Fowler is most influenced by senior and fellow football player, Pat Gamble. Pat was a huge role model to Brannon on and off the field. He also taught Brannon a lot of skills and techniques about football.

Adam Kinnard is most influenced by fellow basketball player and junior, Stephan O'Neal. Stephan has always motivated Adam on the court and in the classroom with his academics.

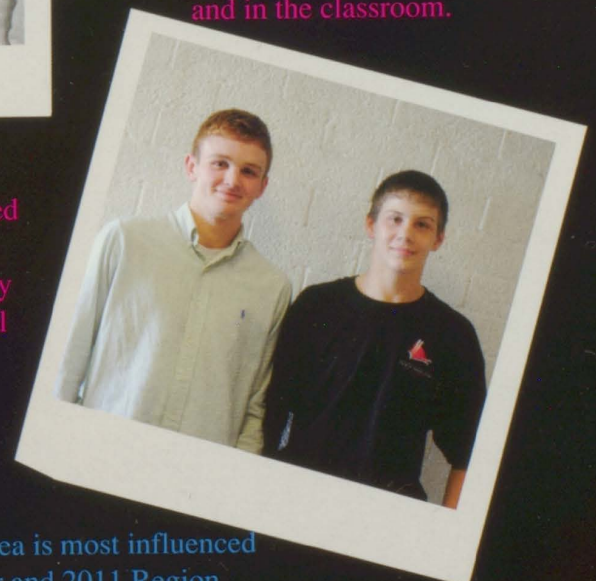

Lexi Mitchell is most inspired by section leader and senior, Rachel Brock. Rachel has been a big help this year to Lexi by helping her make the transition from middle school band to the Central High School Marching Pride. Rachel has taught Lexi how to balance being a top performer in the band and in the classroom.

Haley Sims (left) and Silvey Rosser (right) is most influenced by senior, Alli Eidson. Her friendly and helpful personality welcomed them to high school and also to the softball team.

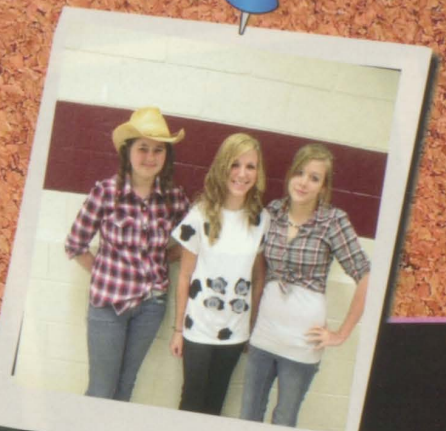

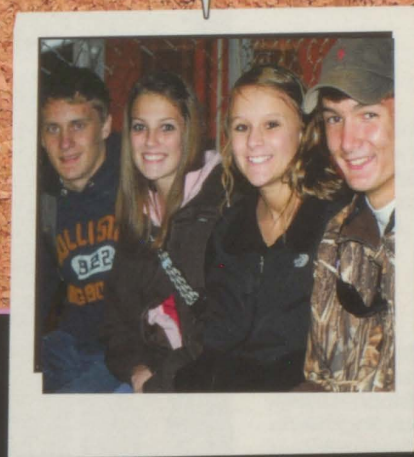

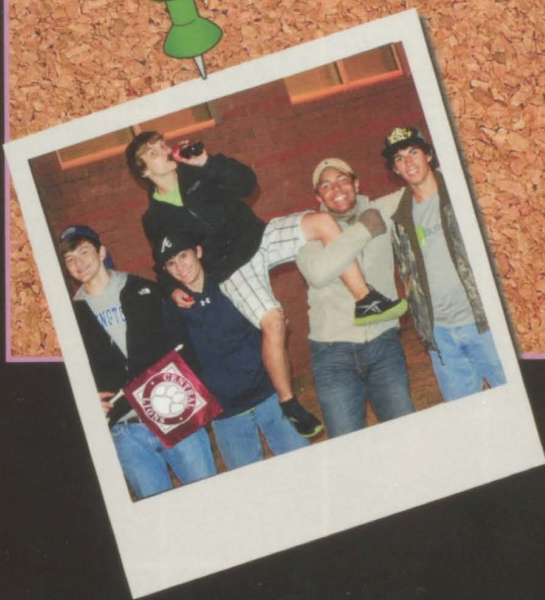

Jacob Lane is most influenced by cousin and senior, Ethan Lane. Ethan has a lovable personality and has always been kind to upcoming freshmen and made them feel welcome.

Levi Huckbea is most influenced by senior and 2011 Region Champ Wrestler, Richard Spinks. Richard encourages and pushes Levi to be a better wrestler.

Dear Central High School, Thank you for...

Bethany Shirley, Katie McIntyre, and Jake Brown take a break from welding to smile for the camera.

CJ Chambers sings a solo in the Fall Chorus Concert.

Shanese Bonner waits for her name to be called at the Pep Rally.

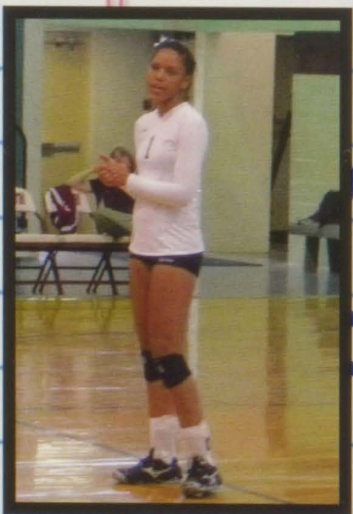

A group of students enjoy an exciting day in math class.

Thank you for all the great memories made at sporting events, extracurricular activities, during Homecoming Week, and even in class.

Kayley Holloway smiles while typing a paper in the Media Center.

Elena Mincy stands on the court anxiously waiting for the volleyball game to begin.

During Homecoming Week Michael Silver, James Phillips, and Pat Gamble represent the Senior class in Tug-o-war.

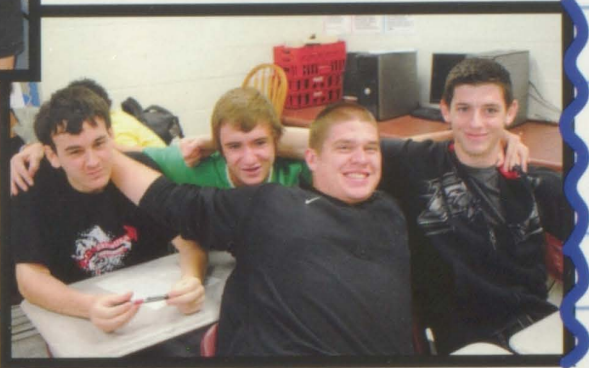

Arianna Simien, Kimberlee Smith, Alex Pelaez and Caleb Spinks take a break from school while eating their lunch.

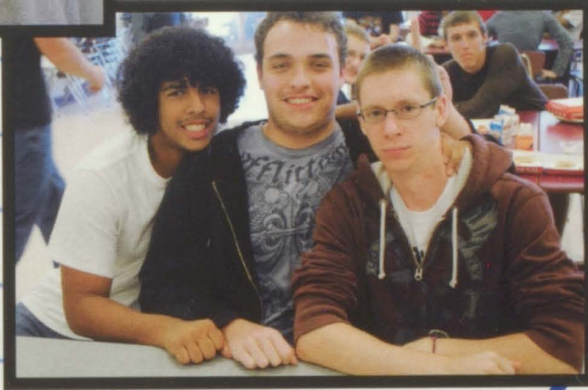

Kimberly Allums and Sara Pate enjoy their senior year together as friends.

Thank you for bringing us together with our friends.

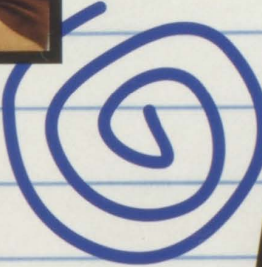

Chase Cook, Zach Ealey, Damien Ivey, and Dakota Mauldin finish a project in British Literature.

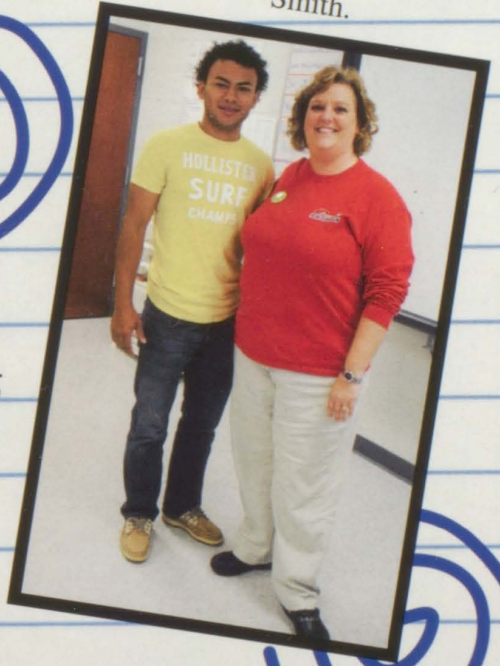

Javier Ruiz, Danny Williamson, and Dillon Kabina hang out in the cafeteria after finishing their lunch.

Mrs. Beers enlightens her physics class with her vast amounts of knowledge.

Thank you for a great faculty and staff that supported us and helped us become better individuals.

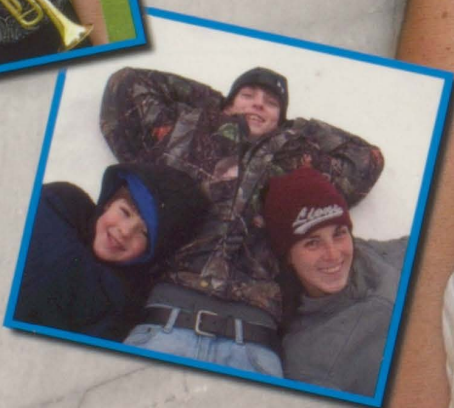

Love,

Mr. Ponder grades some papers while waiting for his class to return.

Just for today I will step over the laundry,
I won't clean the house nor do the dishes.
We will go to the park to play and laugh.
I'll leave the phone turned off so we can
Blow bubbles in the backyard. Just for today,
I will not yell once, not even a tiny grumble..
When you draw on the wall. I'll join in and we
Will paint a tree and even write your name on
The wall so it will be there forever.
Just for today, I won't worry about tomorrow,
For today is the only thing that matters as
I hold you tight and never want you to go away.
I love you very much and we all are very proud
Of what you have accomplished thus far. We will Continue to be proud no matter what life throws
Your way. Remember to smile, love, and dance.
Love you... Mom, Mark, and Karley

I can't begin to tell you
Just how loved you are
I can't believe how time as flown
And how you've come so far

Forgive me when I stop and stare
And tears fall from my eyes
Time flew by so quickly
Sure took me by surprise

Now here you stand before me
A respectful, honest man
Strong-willed and determined
Who always says, "I can"

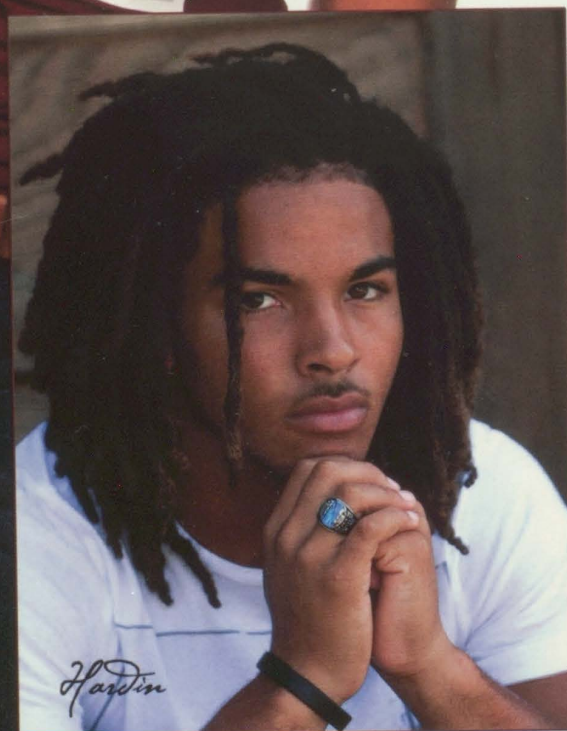

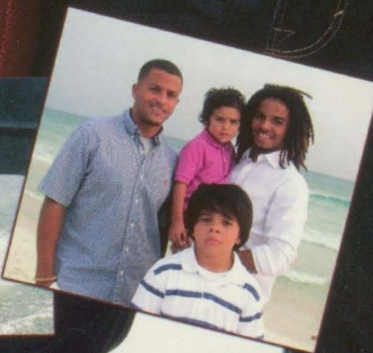

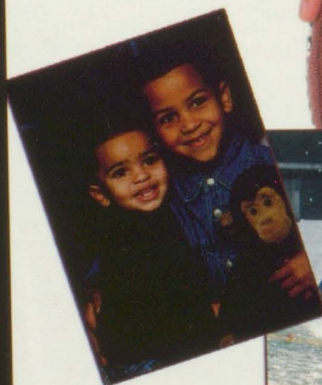

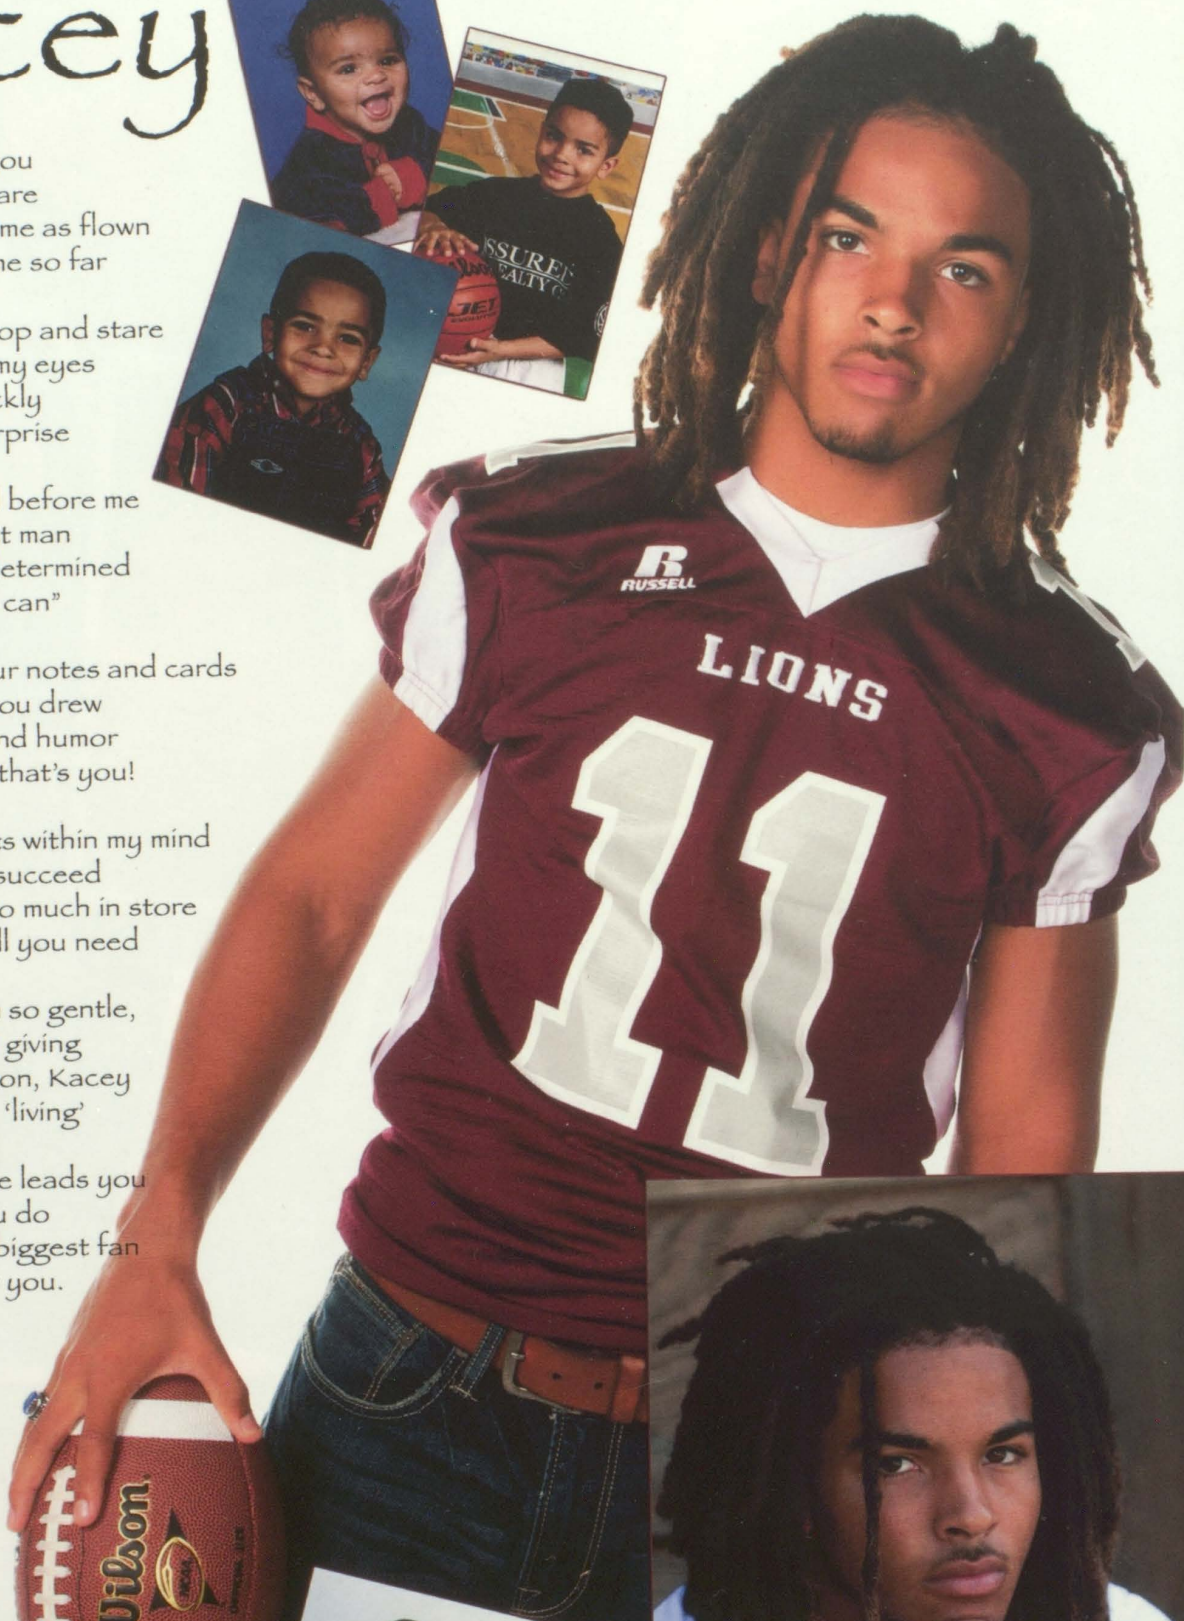

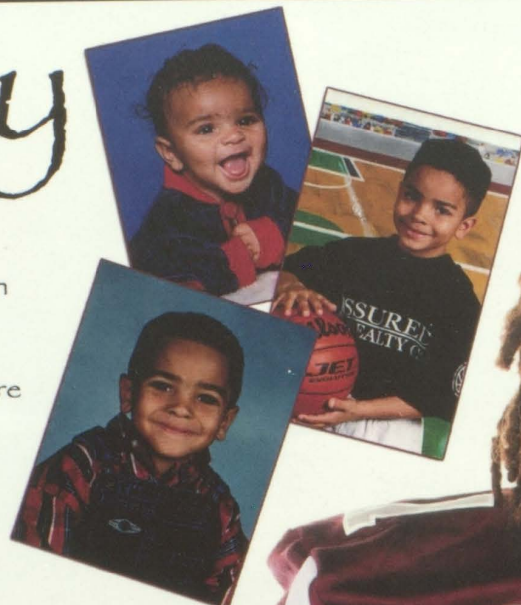

I flip through all your notes and cards
And pictures that you drew
Recall your quips and humor
'unique', dear son, that's you!

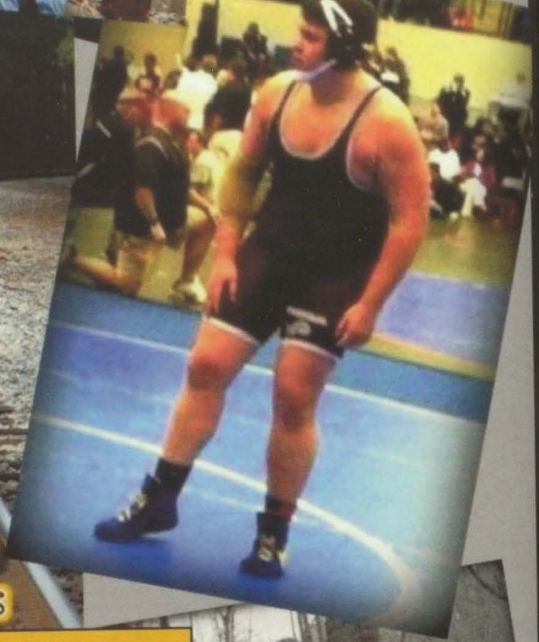

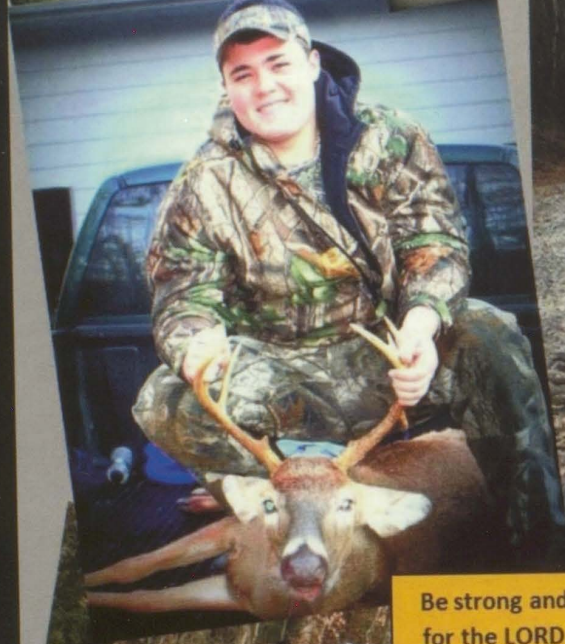

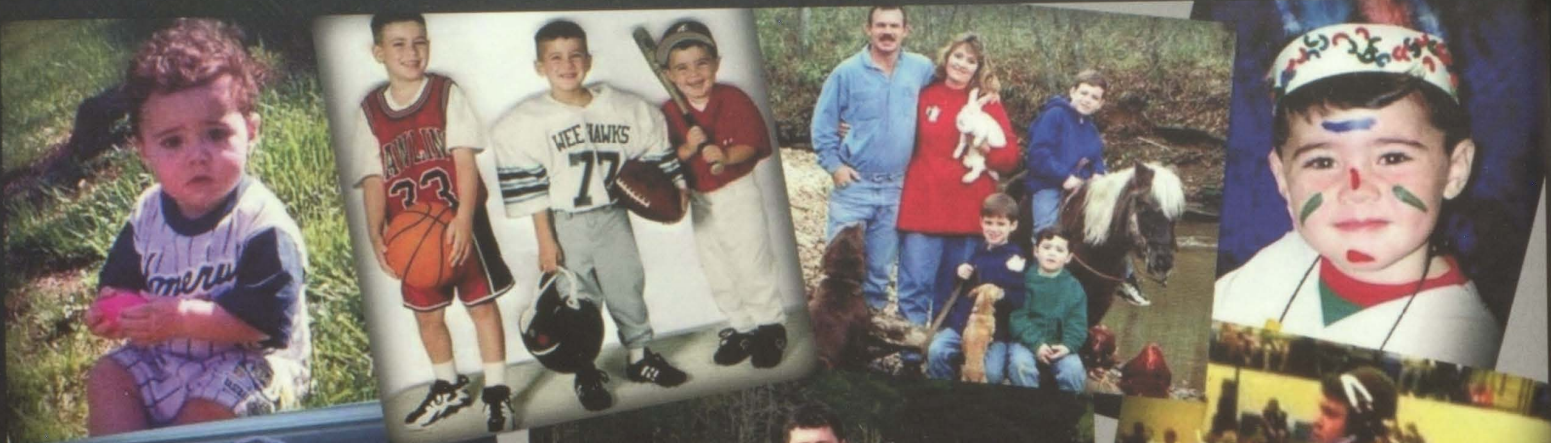

There are no doubts within my mind
That you'll indeed succeed
Your future holds so much in store
But 'that smile' is all you need

You've always been so gentle,
So loving, kind and giving
Having you as my son, Kacey
Is another term for 'living'

No matter where life leads you
No matter what you do
I'll always be your biggest fan
And I'll be here for you.

Promethean Boards and New Administration

Additions definitely took place this year at Central High School! Teachers and students were ecstatic about our new Promethean boards located in each classroom. The new boards provoked and inspired a more challenging education and a clearer understanding of the subject or the lesson being taught. Students were able to grasp the concepts and even dig deeper into the subject of each lesson with the help of this new technology. Teachers enjoyed the helpful tool in the classroom, not only because it helped their students to understand meanings, but because it provided inspiration that sparked learning. Some teachers have even enjoyed their new boards so much that they gave it a name; Mrs. Herring fondly referred to her board as "Behemoth." Pictured is Mr. Grubbs and his new board (Top).

The administration was new and in action everywhere this year. They worked hard every day to keep the school functioning properly. Their leadership characteristics were known throughout the campus and were an inspiration to many. They were committed and dedicated to their job and to this school, which was very evident throughout the year. Without this outstanding authority in our school, nothing would have been possible. Pictured are Mrs. Dana Harman, principal, Mr. Benjie Cole, Assistant Principal, and Mr. Marcus Minnifield, Assistant Principal (Right).

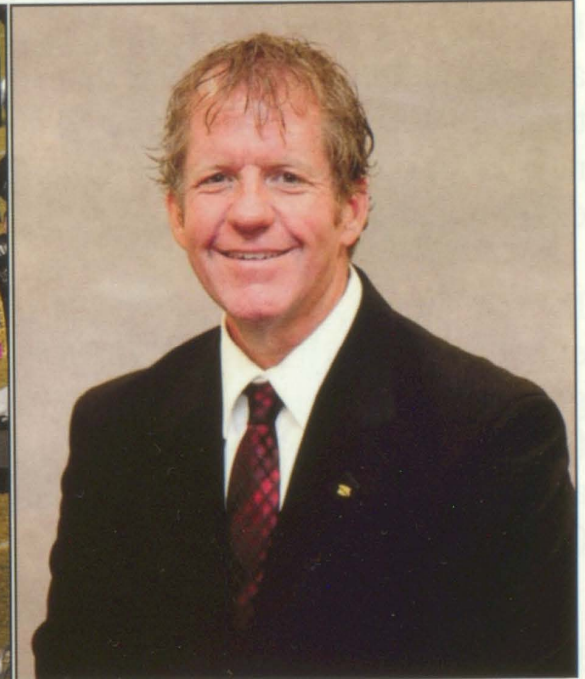

The new Central High School sign, located in front of the school, was another addition that students and faculty enjoyed. The sign helped onlookers know what was happening throughout the school (Right). Construction took place on campus as workers tirelessly labored on new tennis courts and a new roof for the Old Gym (Far Right).

Amphitheater and Dunkin Donuts

For the first time ever, Carrollton has an amphitheater located on Adamson Square! The City Council approved of the demolition of the Skinner Building on Bradley Street to make room for the the theater and park. Performers and artist will perform a numerous amount of acts and concerts that will be held there. The community is excited about this new addition and can't wait to see this project excel in the future (Top Right).

Dunkin Donuts is America's favorite everyday, all-day stop for coffee and baked goods. Many students and faculty members find it very convenient to stop by before or after school to pick up a tasty treat for the day (Middle Right).

32 degrees is where you can spot a lot of our students after school. Their variety of tasty yogurt makes for a delicious snack (Right).

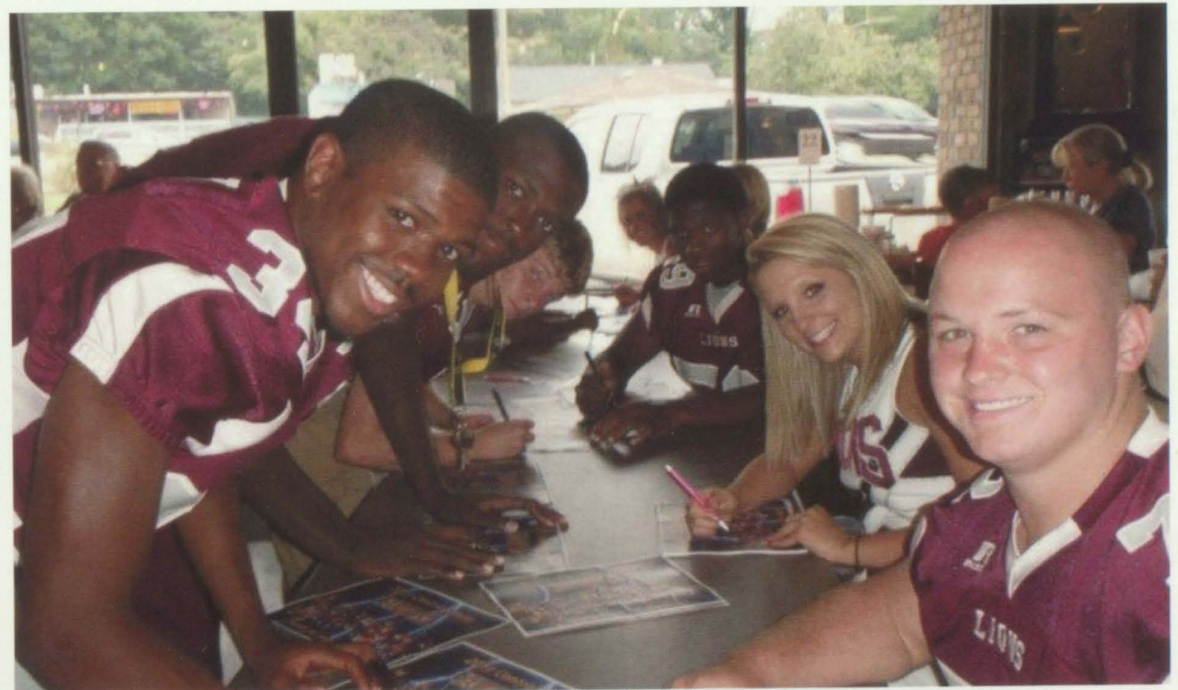

Lizard Thicket is the new store that young girls flock. You are very likely to see many girls sporting the cute wardrobe around campus. Guys, if you can't think of a gift for a girl, you can never go wrong with a Lizard Thicket gift card (Far Right).

Community Noteworthy News

In the exciting time of spring, many boys make their way to the Squire Shop to get fitted for a tux for prom. Every year the Squire Shop displays a poster with boys attending the community schools to model their tuxedos. This year senior Blaine Carter was selected to hit the runway as our Central model. (Left)

American Pie Pizzeria has stretched out its helping hand to host our Central Spirit Nights, where they donated a portion of all sales to our athletic program (Above).

The Lazy Donkey is a hot spot during the week and on the weekends here in Carrollton, Georgia. Their delicious Mexican dishes are a great reason to meet up with friends. Many students from CHS have their birthday parties there. It is also a tradition to have your picture taken on the statue of the donkey located in front of the restaurant (Left).

In Loving Memory of Taylor Brooke McKee

Taylor,

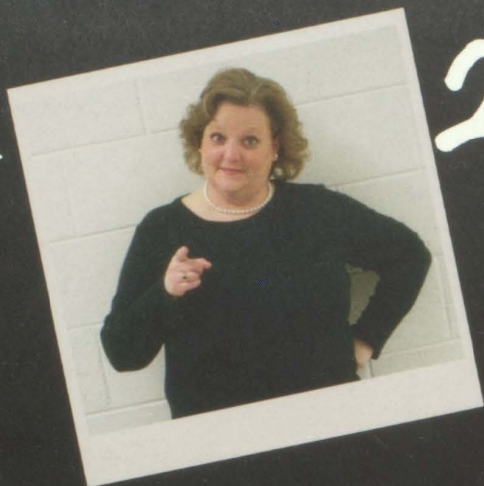

She was a very smart and beautiful girl. She had an impact on everyone's life in some way. Taylor was the girl everyone knew and loved, and if you didn't know her she would instantly brighten your day. She had some crazy ways to make people laugh, and if someone was having a bad day she would always make their day better. She loved God and was a church going girl. Taylor loved to ride four wheelers, laugh, sing, have fun, and she was not scared to get a little muddy. She was a down to earth country girl and had an attitude that no one could ever replicate. Taylor was always smiling, and no one could ever bring her down. She had a smile that could light up the whole room. If someone didn't like her, she looked at it as just another person "hatin'." We had a lot of crazy memories together, and we were always the ones that everyone could hear in the halls. There was not a single day that we were apart. Most of our memories were outside of school, but we made some special ones in school. Coach Cowart's class was always memorable, and there was never a dull moment with us in there. She never doubted herself, and she was confident enough to be who she truly was. I wish everyone could have had the chance to get to know her like I did because she made my life and the memories we had the best. She will always be my best friend, and she will never be forgotten. Taylor Brooke, we all miss and love you so much!

*Your Best Friend,
Ashlee Frazier*

Mrs. Smith has dedicated herself to being the best yearbook adviser ever. It was a joy to come in every day greeted by her welcoming and loving smile. Her door was always open to anyone who needed anything, or just anyone who stopped by to say hello. Her inspiring personality always drove us to do our best. It has been an honor and joy to have her as this year's yearbook adviser.
